Sausalito Reshaping Image Of Police

By ALAN JONES

The stereotyped image of the dumb, sometimes sadistic policeman is being scientfiically stamped out in a unique Sausalito psychiatric program.

Sausalito — as several other cities have done — four years ago set up a psychiatric pre-hiring interview for police candidates. It weeds out those who want to become policemen for the wrong reasons.

Two years ago, Sausalito went a step further and set up an in-service psychiatric training program, the only police department in the country to do so.

In recent months, national attention has begun to focus on the Sausalito program and it may become a nationwide model.

The program has a two-edged impact — it gives officers deeper insight into their unconscious feelings and reactions, and lets consultant psychiatrist Edward E. Shev make a continuing evaluation of the men to add to his first findings about them in their pre-hiring interviews.

There was opposition and even hostility within the department when the psychiatric sessions — suggested by Shev and authorized by the city council — started, from Chief Edward S. Kreins on down. But Kreins said yesterday his reservations about the program melted as he saw its results, and so has the opposition of even those men who most strongly objected.

"I didn't like the idea," Capt. James Wright admitted. "I didn't want the public feeling we were a bunch of nuts down here that needed a department psychiatrist.

"I changed my mind."

The in-service program consists of one mandatory session a month with Shev for all 27

Youth Foils Dynamite Blast In Marin City

Deputies, Building Saved

Two unidentified men last night tried to blow up the sheriff's Marin City substation with seven sticks of dynamite.

Three deputies were in the substation when the attempt was made at 10:55 p.m.

The try was thwarted when a 19-year-old Humboldt State College student noticed two persons trying to light the bundle of dynamite at the base of the trailer which houses the substation office on Donahue Street near the entrance to Marin City.

MALE ADULTS

The two men involved, identified by the student only as male Negro adults, escaped into a vacant lot behind the substation, sheriff's Lt. Ellis L. Seibert said.

The student, whom deputies declined to identify other than to say he was not a Marin County resident, had been working on his car in the Chevron gas station adjacent to the substation last night.

The youth told deputies that when he turned on his headlights to test them, he saw the two men trying to light something near the trailer.

RAN OFF

When he yelled, "what are you doing?" the two men ran off into a vacant lot. The student then ran over to the dynamite, pulled out the fuse and yelled a warning at the three deputies inside the trailer, Seibert said.

Deputies immediately ran out to search for the men. While combing the vacant lot, the deputies heard one shot fired from a distance, Seibert said.

He said the deputies could not say if the shot had been fired at them.

A search of the area failed to uncover the men, Seibert said.

He said the sticks of dynamite were taped together with masking tape and placed in a plastic bag. A detonator and 56 inch fuse were attached.

The fuse was partially burned but apparently had been out when the student pulled it out. Seibert speculated the men had been having trouble getting the fuse to burn.

HHH: No 'Security Gap'; Nixon Cites Peace Tactics

Holds Johnson Aides Working Behind Scenes

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon said today he has learned that top Johnson administration officials "have been driving very hard for an agreement on a bombing halt" in Vietnam, "accompanied possibly by a cease-fire in the immediate future."

The Republican presidential candidate issued a statement saying that "all Americans will welcome a bombing halt provided it will, in the long term, save American lives and not cost American lives." (See page 38 for other Nixon statements.)

'CYNICAL ATTEMPT'

Nixon said he had been told—he did not say by whom—that a spurt of activity in search of a Vietnam agreement was "a cynical, last-minute attempt" by President Johnson to salvage the candidacy" of Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic nominee.

"This I do not believe," Nixon said.

He said he has found Johnson always "impartial and candid" in dealing with the major presidential candidates about Vietnam.

"In every conversation I have had with him," said Nixon, "he has made it clear that he will not play politics with this war."

DECLINES COMMENT

White House press secretary George Christian declined to comment when asked about Johnson's alleged "last-minute attempt" for peace on Humphrey's behalf.

Christian also would not comment on whether such allegations would harm peace negotiations in Paris.

Nixon said progress toward peace "is far more important than any political campaign could possibly be." He said he would "continue to do all that I properly can to facilitate the President's pursuit of agreement. . ."

Nixon said that Johnson, as president, must be the nation's only foreign policy spokesman.

In view of the delicate Paris talks, he added. "I believe ev-

Hubert Accuses Foe Of 'Playing Politics'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey denied today Richard Nixon's allegation that Democratic administrations permitted a "security gap" and accused his Republican opponent of "playing politics with our national security."

"Mr. Nixon's statement is among his most irresponsible to date," the vice president said in a statement in reply to a Nixon radio speech last night. (See story, page 38.)

Humphrey, winding up a two-day campaign swing through California, said Nixon "is advocating an increasing militarization of American life and American foreign policy."

BLASTS NIXON

Humphrey said, "I call upon Mr. Nixon to withdraw his ill considered charges" and consult with the men, military and civilian, "who understand the hard demands of our security, our survival and the pursuit of peace."

In his statement, Humphrey listed Nixon charges and made his replies.

He said Nixon said that the U.S. had a 30 per cent advantage over the Soviet Union in bombers eight years ago but that now the Russians are 50 per cent ahead of the United States.

DESCRIBES FORCE

The fact is, said Humphrey, "today we have over 500 heavy strategic bombers and over 600 tankers; the USSR has only about 150 heavy bombers and 50 heavy dual tanker-bomber aircraft."

Humphrey said that by Nixon's statements the former Republican vice president "has threatened to bring down the whole fragile architecture of peace, of retreat from the insanity of the arms race that has been so carefully constructed by the administrations of presidents Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson.

Humphrey, in an intensive week of campaigning, has helped raise an estimated $1.5 million to fuel the last stage of his campaign.

Humphrey plans to use the money for a heavy schedule of television appearances and ad-

Clifford Denies Any Arms Lag

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford acknowledged today the Soviet Union has narrowed the nuclear missile gap but claimed "we have today a substantial military superiority over the Soviet Union."

The Pentagon chief replied to allegations by Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon that Democratic administrations had created a "security gap" by following what Nixon called a doctrine of arms parity.

Clifford read to a news conference previously secret figures showing the Soviet Union now has 900 intercontinental ballistic missiles. This is 154 fewer than the U.S. arsenal and a Russian increase of 180 since a year ago.

At the same time, Clifford said the Soviets have 75 to 80 submarine-launched nuclear missiles compared with 656 U.S. Polaris submarine missiles.

Although the Soviet total is still far behind the American force, the Soviets have more than doubled their sub-launched missiles in the last year, he said.

But Clifford contended the real test of relative U.S.-Soviet nuclear power lies in the number of nuclear weapons that can be delivered on target.

In this area, he said, the United States outstrips the Soviet Union 4,206 to approximately 1,200.

He included here bombs which would be carried by 646 B52 and B58 intercontinental bombers, compared with an es-

Alioto Puts Forward Regional Tax Reform

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

BERKELEY — San Francisco Mayor Joseph L. Alioto late yesterday agreed to postpone his city's commuter tax — if other Bay Area counties and cities can agree on a plan for regional tax reform to present to the Legislature.

The agreement was reached at an unannounced meeting in the mayor's office with a special committee of the Association of Bay Area Governments, and disclosed last night at the regular meeting of ABAG's executive committee. (See another ABAG story, page 21).

Alioto's agreement to postpone the tax from Jan. 1 to April 1 will depend on the success of a conference between Alioto and ABAG officials 2 p.m. Nov. 8 in ABAG's offices here in the Hotel Claremont, the special committee reported.

The mayor's agreement stipulates he will ask the San Francisco Board of Supervisors to delay imposition of the 1 per cent income tax if the conference "generates meaningful negotiations" on "regional tax plans that would lead to relief for the real property taxpayer of the region."

Alioto won approval of the tax from his supervisors on the ground that all Bay Area citizens have to share San Francisco's responsibility and financial burden as the region's core city. His city provides urban services to commuters who work there, he argued, and San Francisco bears the brunt of caring for the region's poor.

Marin Supervisor John F. McInnis, a member of the "special subcommittee for special events" that met with Alioto, told the Independent-Journal that postponement of the tax would extend also to any other tax proposed for commuters by San Francisco.

McInnis explained that if the commuter tax is overturned in a court test that has been brought by several Bay Area counties, including Marin, Alioto then probably would impose a tax on all persons employed in San Francisco. San Francisco residents, however, would get credit for the income tax on their property

LIMA, Peru (AP) —The United States recognized today the new military revolutionary government that swept to power Oct. 3 in a a coup d'etat that ousted President Fernando Belaunde Terry.

Cinerama Buys Out Blumenfeld

Blumenfeld Theaters chain, operated as a family business more than half a century, has been sold to Cinerama Corp. of New York in a $5 million-dollar stock transaction.

Since the death of Max Blumenfeld, who founded the business in 1917, the theater chain has been conducted as a partnership of his four sons, Joseph, Abe, Nathan and Jack, and their sister, Mrs. Bess Glazer. All are residents of Marin County, except Abe Blumenfeld who moved to San Francisco about two years ago.

Not included in the sale to Cinerama is Blumenfeld Enterprises, a corporation which owns and operates shopping centers, bowling alleys and other ventures.

Joseph Blumenfeld, head of the family-owned business said that Blumenfeld Theaters will continue to be operated under the same name by the Blumenfelds but as a wholly owned Cinerama subsidiary. The chain consists of 30 theaters, mostly in Northern California, 10 of them in Marin.

The Marin theater group consists of seven indoor theaters, two drive-in theaters and the new Cinerama I on which construction has just started in Corte Madera.

Blumenfeld said Cinerama, which controls a wide-screen film process, also owns other motion picture theaters and its purchase of the Blumenfeld chain will result in expanding the circuit.

Student's Bomb Rocks Tam High

An explosion, set off by a 17-year-old Tamalpais High School senior, rocked the school yesterday during the lunch hour, breaking 16 windows, but not injuring any of a large crowd of nearby onlookers.

The blast at 12:55 p.m. rattled windows in homes in the neighborhood and set off a rash of calls to the police department from residents.

The youth, a Southern California resident who had been living with his uncle in Mill Valley for the past six weeks, was booked into Marin County Juvenile Hall as beyond parental control and for the bombing attempt.

He was also suspended from school for 10 days, according to Principal Robert H. Prather.

Mill Valley police said the youth was sent back to his mother in Southern California early this morning. His father is a master sergeant in the Army, stationed in Korea.

The explosive was identified by staff at the Presidio in San Francisco as a "simulator projectile" used by the Army as a substitute for hand grenades during training.

The device is dangerous and can injure anyone within 15 feet of it, police said.

Police said the youth threw the device into a crowded

LBJ's A Grandfather Again—It's A Girl

WASHINGTON (AP) — A squalling, ruddy girl with black hair was born today to Lynda Bird Robb, touching off a round of free cigars handed out by beaming grandfather and father.

The father, Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb, was in his tin-roofed office of the 1st Marine Division's supply section in Vietnam.

Robb's first reaction? "It's a tradition here," he said. "Outstanding' is the word we use."

"Very happy" were the words Johnson used to describe the family. The 24-year-old mother "seems to be quite normal and relaxed about it all," he said.

The little girl, who weighed 7 pounds, 8 ounces and measured 20 inches long, wasn't named. Asked what names were under consideration, Robb replied, "I'll have to let Lynda answer that one, since she's had custody for the last nine months."

Three Navy doctors and two anesthesiologists attended the birth at 12:03 a.m.

Within a half an hour, Robb had a telephone call from Lt. Gen. Lewis Walt, Marine deputy commandant, informing him of the birth.

Walt volunteered to take Robb the first pictures of the baby when the general goes to Vietnam tomorrow, the President said.

Lynda entered the hospital at 8:20 p.m. last night, about two hours after labor started. Her mother and 21-year-old sister, Luci Nugent, went along on the eight-mile drive from the White House.

Lynda spent just 15 minutes in the delivery room.

Lynda had a regional block anesthetic and was conscious throughout. Luci, who provided the first presidential granchild, —Patrick Lyndon Nugent—16 months ago, said her sister "was totally alert the whole time."

The whole family went to see Lynda and the baby after the birth and the President laughingly told reporters, "We would still be there talking to her except that the doctor thought they ought to go through some procedures."

As he President and Mrs. Johnson munched some of the celebration candy, they confided they had hoped their second grandchild would be a girl.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Archbishop's Removal Sought

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—A group of 51 priests has asked for the removal of Archbishop Robert E. Lucey, the spiritual leader of 500,000 Roman Catholics in Texas.

Rev. Michalski

The priests disclosed at a news conference yesterday that their request was sent to Pope Paul VI and other Catholic leaders more than a month ago.

"We are doing it out of love for the church and concern for the people," said the Rev. Louis R. Michalski, 31, spokesman for the group.

Father William Killian and Father Sherrill Smith were banished recently to a Catholic retreat in New Mexico, and the priests cited this instance at their news conference.

Rev. Lucey

Also cited as reasons for the request were the archbishop's age, the transfer of priests who had been outspoken and the archbishop's refusal to recognize the 160-member association of priests in the archdiocese. All 51 priests are association members.

Father Michalski said there was no malice intended in the priests' request. Archbishop Lucey, he said, "has been a real giant" during his 52 years as a priest and 27 years as an archbishop, "but we feel we need a person more responsive to the needs of this particular age."

Anti-Singapore Try

JAKARTA (AP) — The Indonesian government today launched a drive to send exports direct to consumer nations rather than routing them through Singapore. The government's appeal to local shippers was in retaliation for Singapore's execution of two young Indonesian marines who bombed a Singapore building and killed three persons.

Wedding Plans Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's granddaughter, Barbara Anne Eisenhower, 19, says she will be married Nov. 16—a month before her brother David marries Julie Nixon.

In a telephone interview published in today's Washington Post, Miss Eisenhower said she and Fernando Echavarria-Uribe of Bogota, Colombia, will be married in a "small, very private'' ceremony in Pennsylvania. She lives in Phoenixville, Pa.

Immediately after the wedding, she told the Post, she and her husband will go to Bogota, where he works for an insurance company.

GI Killed In Korea

SEOUL (AP) — One American soldier was killed and five others were wounded Wednesday in a clash with North Korean troops along the demilitarized zone, the Army announced today.

The dead soldier was identified as Pfc. David Leroy Turner, of Elizabeth, Ill.

Five-Day Week Set

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Government workers in Peru will begin working a five-day week Nov. 1, ending the centuries-old practice of working Saturdays, the two-week-old military government decreed yesterday.

The civil servants will still work just as many hours per week, however. The work day now will run from 7:45 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and from 3 to 6 p.m.

Refugee Airlift

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — An airlift of Czechoslovak refugees to new homes in the United States got under way from Vienna today.

Mutiny Charged

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A mass mutiny charge was placed against 27 soldiers yesterday for conducting a sit-down strike at the San Francisco Presidio stockade earlier this month.

In addition, the 27 men refused a direct order from the stockade commander to return to their barracks and some eventually had to be carried inside, an Army spokesman said.

GIs Win Asylum

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Sewden granted asylum today to 10 more American servicemen. It raised to 115 the GIs who have left their military posts and been taken in by this neutral nation on ''humanitariam grounds."

An Aliens Commission spokesman said a total of 169 run-away Americans, both from the armed forces and draft dodgers, have applied for asylum. Some of these have left Sweden but others have their applications pending in the commission.

Among Californians granted asylum were:

Diamond Ryan, 26, Long Beach and Danni Leonette, 27, Los Angeles.

Welded Studs Solve Slick Bridge Problem

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UPI) —Only one accident has occurred in wet weather on the Market Street bridge, an open steel deck span over the Susquehanna river here, since 450,000 skid-reducing steel studs were welded to it a year ago, the Pennsylvania Department of Highway reports.

During the three-and-one-half years before the studs, designed and manufactured by Omark Industries, were applied, there were 15 wet-deck accidents, 14 of them involving one car.

Lindsay In TV Appeal To Halt School Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay has appealed anew to the teachers' union to move toward accommodation in its strike that is keeping more than a million pupils out of public schools. He said the rising tide of racial tension "could peril the peace of the city."

Urging the 55,000-member United Federation of Teachers to "leave its intransigent position" and end the walkout, the mayor said in a television address: "A spirit of naked racial hostility is spilling beyond the bounds of the school dispute."

Nor was there any progress reported on ending the work slowdown by 32,500 unionized policemen and firemen over wage demands. Five smaller unions warned they would oppose any move to end their present salary parity with the police and firemen.

In the school tieup, the State board of regents discussed the crisis with State Education Commissioner Dr. James E. Allen Jr. at a meeting in Albany. The regular monthly session continues today.

A group of 22 state legislators from the city asked Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to call a special session in Albany "to suspend the New York City Board of Education." They urged its replacement by a "temporary commission that would work for a cooling-off period, and which would be empowered to reopen the schools."

Rockefeller has steadfastly refused to intervene.

In another development the city board of elections warned that the intensifying labor strife may make it "impossible" to hold the Nov. 5 presidential election.

Maurice J. O'Rourke, a board commissioner, said citizens might have to cross teacher picket lines to enter polling places in schools if the strike continues. "If that happens, I can envision a situation where the results of the election will be enjoined, where we may have to have a new election."

Ancient Romans played a game similar to soccer. So did the Chinese, Aztecs and Polynesians.

Marin City Council Seeking More Control

Marin City Council voted last night to ask Marin County supervisors to designate the council as the planning agency for Marin City.

It was another step toward the council's avowed purpose to give Marin City residents a say in development of their community.

Council members stressed the need for review of the Marin City master plan, which is about 10 years old.

The council also is preparing to apply to the Department of Housing and Urban Development for a two-year planning grant to plan long range and short range development.

Emory C. Curtis, director of the technical and planning staff of Plan of Action for Challenging Times, consultant to the council, last night reviewed proposals for immediate action.

Under law enforcement, the council could work with the College of Marin to have young men from the area take law enforcement courses, he said.

Urban beautification could include a variety of projects ranging from cleaning up a vacant area to developing a play area, Curtis noted.

There also could be a home improvement program with journeymen and young men working on repair jobs, a project that would create jobs, he said.

Curtis also listed various federal agencies to which the council could apply for funds to carry out proposed programs since the council, without taxing power, has no funds of its own.

A transporttion program on a small scale, possibly jitney buses to meet the community's needs could be started, Curtis said.

Marin City residents must be used "to the fullest extent possible" in the planning and implementation of the plans, he stressed.

Curtis said he hasn't yet calculated the amount of the planning grant to be sought. The fees to be paid PACT, a non-profit consultant firm from San Francisco, are to be included in the grant, and won't come from the community.

Council members also learned that the name they selected when they voted to become a nonprofit corporation, "Marin City Council Inc." didn't meet state approval, and they will have to pick a new name.

Board Member Collie Gaines explained the name was rejected because it carried the impression that it represented a municipality, which Marin City is not.

The Marin City Council Also:

BOOKKEEPING — Agreed to contract with the Marin County Housing Authority to provide bookkeeping service which will be necessary when funds are available.

NEW MEMBER — Named Perison Knighten, a representative of the cooperative apartments, as the 13th council member, thereby bringing the council up to full strength.

PAY COMPLAINT — Agreed to investigate a report that a Marin County Housing Authority employee, scheduled to receive a 25-cent-an-hour raise, has received only a 10-cent boost.

RENTAL BASIS — Heard a complaint from a resident that public housing rents are based on gross income rather than on net income, and therefore residents are paying more than 25 per cent of their take-home pay for rent.

MAINTENANCE — Agreed to investigate complaints that the Oak Knoll apartments are in need of paint and more maintenance employees.

Mickey Hargitay Saves Snake Act

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—When "Torita," an exotic dancer, fell to the stage gripped in the coils of her boa constrictor, patrons at the El Rancho night club suddenly realized it wasn't part of the act.

To the rescue came muscleman Mickey Harigitay, 41, aslo a performer at the club. He uncoiled the 12-foot reptile from the torso of the dancer, whose real name is Donna Watson, 21.

"It took all my strength," puffed the former Mr. Universe and onetime husband of the late Jayne Mansfield.

St. Augustine, Fla., was founded by Menendez in 1565.

Marin City Youth Program Extended

The Marin City youth program, administered by Mrs. Collie Gaines, will continue through March 31, the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council has decided.

The council voted Wednesday to appropriate $20,000 to continue serving approximately 150 young persons in cooking, sewing, arts and crafts and recreational and cultural programs.

Study Asked On Preventing Delinquency

Representatives of four groups dealing with juvenile problems recommended last night a study of ways to prevent delinquency in Marin.

The study would take a special look at the drug problem and weigh creation of a youth service bureau, according to James D. Adams, chairman of the joint committee of representatives of the Marin Juvenile Justice Commission, the delinquency prevention commission, Allied Juvenile Agencies of Marin and the Bay Area Social Planning Council.

The study should be undertaken by the delinquency prevention commission, the group said.

Young persons attending the meeting—which concluded the committee's work — supported the idea of a drug clinic in Marin.

Sports Car Stolen

A 1959 Triumph TR-3 convertible, black and blue with California license WHG 231, owned by Donald G. Duryee of 180 Bret Harte Road, was stolen yesterday from the San Rafael High School parking lot, San Rafael police said today.

Council Neither Backs, Nor Opposes Tam Bonds

A Tamalpais High School District trustee, seeking support of the district's $10.9 million bond proposal, ran into sharp questioning last night before the Marin City Council, which neither endorsed nor opposed the issue.

Council member Ronald Foster asked trustee Bettye Wallace how the district could justify building a high school in Tiburon when it has land in Marin City.

The district proposes to build two new high schools, one in Tiburon and one in San Geronimo Valley with the bond funds.

Mrs. Wallace explained that the district also has land in Tiburon and there are 800 students in the Tiburon area, while there are about 200 students in the Marin City area.

Mrs. Wallace said when the Marin City site was obtained it was expected that enrollment in the area would increase to the point where construction would be warranted, but "the number of students here never materialized."

Council member Collie Gaines said she didn't see how the proposed construction would benefit Marin City.

Mrs. Wallace said a part of the funds would go toward a classroom building at Tamalpais High School, where the majority of Marin City students, attend. She also noted that Marin City students could have the option of attending Tamalpais, Redwood or the Tiburon high school.

Mrs. Gaines said unless bus service were provided, the students wouldn't really have a choice.

After a brief discussion about the possible use of the 32-acres in the center of the community owned by the district, Rev. Samuel L. Banks Jr., council chairman, suggested that be discussed at a later meeting.

After Mrs. Wallace left the council took no action on her request for endorsement of the bond proposal.

'Peanuts' Cartoons Will Be Auctioned

Original drawings by Charles Schultz, creator of "Peanuts," will go on the auction block along with other items Nov. 2 at a carnival at Old Adobe School on Old Adobe Road in Petaluma.

A flea market, games, refreshments and drawings are also planned. The events will run from 1 to 4 p.m.

Marinwood Halloween Parade Set

Marinwood's third annual Halloween costume parade and judging will start at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at the community center tennis court area.

"There is no age limit for costume entries," said William A. Gordon, recreation director. The parade and judging are sponsored by the Funsters, senior citizens group, and the community center.

Judging the costumes will be Mrs. Adele Requet, Mrs. Josephine Hutchinson, and Mrs. Elizabeth Boissevain.

On Oct. 31, Halloween, a spook house will be set up at the center from 3:30 to 6 p.m. Tiny tots, aged 5 and under, will be entertained separately at a "ghost town" puppet show, presented by Paul Jaquette of 505 Quietwood Drive, and Peter Stang of 515 Quietwood Drive.

Time To Change

Daylight Saving Time will end at 2 a.m. Sunday. To return to Pacific Standard Time, clocks should be set back one hour before retiring Saturday night.

San Anselmo Chamber Plans Yule Decor

The San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce board yesterday agreed to put up Christmas street decorations shortly after Thanksgiving, William Franchini, president, said today.

He said the city council has appropriated $835 toward the decorations, and businessmen will add to this fund. The chamber board will meet again at 12:15 p.m. Thursday at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

Laos Prince Reports Bomb Halt Plans

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—The United States has informed the Laotian government it intends to halt its bombing of North Vietnam but that no date has been fixed, Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma said today.

Souvanna said in an interview he was informed of the U.S. plans Tuesday by U.S. Ambassador William H. Sullivan.

The prince said Sullivan told him American planes would stop bombing North Vietnam but that no date for the halt has yet been agreed upon with the North Vietnamese.

(Diplomatic sources in European capitals have described the Washington-Hanoi talks as in a delicate stage with the United States apparently demanding proof of Hanoi's willingness to de-escalate the war before there is any bombing pause.)

Souvanna did not say whether such a bombing halt would also affect U.S. air missions over Laos. The United States flies both bombing and "armed reconnaissance" flights over Laos but admits only to the reconnaissance flights.

In Saigon, U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker today conferred an hour and 45 minutes with President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam in what may have been an allied effort to line up strategy for the diplomatic duel with Hanoi.

The Saigon Post, a newspaper aligned with Thieu, said the two men's seventh meeting in 10 days was a "decisive" attempt to iron out differences on dealing with Hanoi.

Prather said the explosion "really scared us." Mill Valley Police Officer Rodney Sheran, who was in the school's parking lot at the time, described it as one of the loudest explosions he had ever heard.

Police categorized the bombing as "malicious mischief." They said the youth gave no reason for throwing the explosive.

which was believed to have been set destroyed the Marin City substation building. After about a year in a small building on Tennessee Valley Road, the substation was moved to its present location in the trailer.

The last major incident in Marin City occurred in July 1967, when more than 40 youths, over half of them armed, roamed the area in the worst outbreak of violence in Marin City's history.

Disclosed he has ordered the Navy to develop a new nuclear submarine designed to operate more quietly than any vessel of its kind.

In a campaign speech last night, Nixon claimed that in 1960, at the end of the Eisenhower administration, the United States had a 50 per cent lead in land-based intercontinental ballistic missiles.

This is the first time in the current presidential campaign Clifford has become involved in the give-and-take, a marked contrast from four years ago when then-Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara fired volley after volley at Republican critics of administration defense policies.

vertisements in an effort to overcome the lead the polls give his Republican rival, Richard M. Nixon.

He was to be in San Jose at noon for a talk with San Jose State College, before flying on to Las Vegas, Nev. A revised schedule cut short other campaigning scheduled in the Bay Area.

The reason giving for canceling a day's campaigning in the San Francisco-Oakland area was a labor dispute involving employees at the Fairmont Hotel where the Humphrey entourage planned to stay. Humphrey would have had to cross a picket line to enter the hotel.

Canceled by the sudden schedule switch was a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner in San Francisco tonight. The tickets had already been sold but a campaign spokesman said the money for them is not included in the $1.5 million raised this week.

Pentagon Chief Wary Of Seeing Peace Hints

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford said today it is too soon to attach special significance to the reduced scale of fighting in South Vietnam. (See story on war in Vietnam, page 9.)

Clifford told a news conference the United States knows 30,000 to 40,000 North Vietnamese troops have moved out of South Vietnam. Some have gone to Laos, others to Cambodia and still others to North Vietnam, he said.

But some 80,000 North Vietnamese troops still remain in the South, he emphasized.

Noting there were 1,500 men killed in action last week—100 Americans, 200 South Vietnamese and 1,200 of the enemy forces—he declared, "I do not know that this is a lull in the fighting."

President Johnson, at his news conference yesterday, also was hesitant to use "lull" to describe the Vietnam situation.

Clifford said that after the Tet offensive early this year and another offensive in May, there was a similar period of withdrawls and reduced fighting.

"It is too soon to attach any significance," he said.

Clifford also rejected a suggestion that a military victory has been won in Vietnam.

As for peace prospects, he said Johnson has directed his Cabinet to refrain from comment on developments in the Paris preliminary peace negotiations.

"I know the President is pursuing every avenue and he is not leaving a stone unturned in the search for peace," Clifford said.

Clifford added that while the preliminary negotiations are going on, Johnson has directed there be no reduction of U.S. bombing in the limited areas of North Vietnam where it is now taking place.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Constitution And Censorship

One city wanted to curb "sexy" movies unsuitable for children. It set up a nine-citizen board to screen and label them "suitable" for youngsters. A theater would be fined if it showed "not suitable" films to those under 16. But a movie house could challenge the labels in court.

A theater owner did challenge the ordinance as a violation of his right to free speech. He also claimed it was too vague. The U.S. Supreme Court agreed with the owner and set aside the ordinance.

The Constitution protects movies as "free speech" just like newspapers, books, and plays. To be valid, such a law must set forth clear constitutional standards on censorship.

Advance censorship standards are too hard to write and are challenged as too vague. Few "review boards" have ever withstood a court attack. Voluntary boards, however, or ones that have no teeth generally get by.

In another case, the military labeled a bar "off limits" — not suitable for military personnel. A bar owner went to court and challenged the requirement that he post the "off limits" sign.

The court agreed; the owner was entitled to some hearing, and a chance to answer the military before it acted.

The state does have a well-recognized legal duty to protect children. Laws against selling obscene material to children are valid. What is "obscene," however, is usually judged by adult standards, namely, that it appeals mainly to "prurient interest and lacks redeeming social value."

Special standards for children often run into attack. During World War II, Nebraska passed a law banning the teaching of German to children. The Supreme Court said there was not enough danger to make such courses unlawful for youngsters.

Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

Czechoslovakia Intervention Hurts East-West Trading

BONN, Germany (GF) — The intervention in Czechoslovakia by Moscow and its closest allies has also dealt a blow to East-West trade. And West Germany will be one of the most severely hit of the western trading partners. For the last several months, trade between the Germans and Czechoslovaks had been riding a renaissance.

During the first six months of this year, Czechoslovakia sold $48.25 million worth of goods to the Federal Republic, an increase of fully 30 per cent over the same period last year. In the other direction, the West Germans exported $69 million in goods to Czechoslovakia, up 13 per cent from last year.

The favorable showing made by Czechoslovak exports, slightly closing the balance gap between the two countries, was largely due to the removal of some import restrictions by West Germany on goods plus a gigantic flux of German tourists to Czechoslovakia in the wake of the liberalization program there.

The new economic arrangements between Moscow and Prague, however, are expected to brake the first six months' trend. According to the agreements, Czechoslovakia will be required to largely increase its shipments of machinery and technical installations to the Soviet Union.

Coupled with domestic needs for these items, it means Czechoslovakia would have to rely largely on textiles and agricultural products for trade with the West. However, such products will be much more difficult to sell in the West than so-called "hardware."

There is little doubt the Czechoslovaks would like to continue improving the trade picture with the West and officials in Prague have offered assurances that economic contacts to all countries will indeed continue.

But at the same time, it is pointed out that the possibilities for cooperation within COMECON, East Europe's image of Western Europe's Common Market, have not been exhausted — a nice way of saying the Czechoslovaks will be compelled to contribute a greater share into the East European trade bowl.

Deliveries to the Soviet Union alone this year are slated to rise to 15 billion crowns ($2 billion, based on the official exchange rate).

Subdivision Study Session In Fairfax

The Fairfax City Council and Planning Commission last night held a preliminary study of a proposed revised subdivision ordinance prepared and presented by Werner von Gundell of the Marin County planning department.

No decisions were reached. City Clerk Mrs. Francis Lestanguet was told to set up another joint meeting date for further discussion and for study of proposed zoning ordinance revisions.

Attack On Uses Of Lab Rats To Be Ignored

NEW YORK (UPI) — The chances are the science of psychology will pay very little attention to the newest attack on the scientific worth of the white rat, as it did to past ones.

Multitudes of them are in use in psychology laboratories and millions have been used over the past 50 years to build and test theories concerning the behavior of other creatures, especially human beings.

INVESTMENT NOTED

The newest attacker, Dr. Robert B. Lockard, a psychologist of the University of Washington, noted psychology's huge investment in this docile rodent.

To abandon it now as a "laboratory tool" would mean confessing that "millions of man-hours and dollars" had been spent on the wrong beast, he said. This in turn, would bring into question "many of the products of psychology" as a science, Lochard pointed out.

Nevertheless, the white rat is not even representative of rats, much less of the animal kingdom in general, Lockard said in a technical journal of the American Psychological Association.

NOT LIKE ANCESTOR

He detailed how it differs in body chemistry and in temperament from the brown, Norwegian rat of which it was a freak, albino offshoot that became a toy of animal breeders in the 19th Century.

Since then it has been selectively bred in droves and the result is that it is an utterly unique animal the like of which never existed in nature. Furthermore, Lockard added, it will be a different animal 50 years from now than it is now, due to laboratory selective pressures.

At best, the white rat is "the degenerate remains" of nature's rat and "it is at least a waste of time, if not outright folly, to experiment" with such a creature. In Lockard's opinion, "Psychology has enough embarrassing incidents such as 'studying' anti-predator response to hawk shapes by domestic white leghorn chickens."

UNLIKE PRIMATES

As for using white rat studies in extrapolations to people, rodents are quite remote in evolution from primates, of which people are one, he said.

"They are not some sort of preserved form of ancestrial stock from which many other animals and their behavior evolved," Lockard said.

For scientific "rat runners who would like results broadly applicable to 'higher mammals,' principally humans, an animal in a better ancestral position is the Solendon, a primitive insectivore thought to resemble the basic stock from which a number of mammalian lines, including primates, evolved," Lockard suggested.

But as other critics of the white rat have argued before him, concentrating on one kind of animal "provides too narrow a view of behavior, leading to a science of 'rat learning' and neglecting most other behaviors," he said.

"Behavioral science presumably aims to analyze and understand all behaviors of anything that behaves, taking a truly broad and scientific approach to the vast array of, phenomena about us," Lockard added.

Drinking Companion Complains Of Robbery

Eugene D. Chesterman of 31 Carmelita Avenue, Mill Valley, complained to sheriff's deputies yesterday that some men he was drinking with the night before offered him a ride, then robbed him when he fell asleep.

Chesterman, who could not recall the name of the San Rafael bar where he sipped his brew, told officers he awoke alongside the waterfront in Peacock Gap. His wallet, watch, cash and keys were missing, he said.

COMMUTE

Members of the special committee stressed that the agreement with Alioto would not stop the court test of the tax.

The special committee was set up by the executive committee at its September meeting when the Alameda County Board of Supervisors asked ABAG to oppose the commuter tax.

The chairman of the special committee, Alameda County Supervisor Joseph P. Bort, told the executive committee it was "far too early to come out with any specific suggestions" on a regional tax revision plan. To consider details of such a plan before the meeting with Alioto "would be premature," said Bort.

If the first meeting is successful, then a series of further public meetings probably will be held, he said.

Bort, noting the Legislature has failed for years to come up with a property tax relief plan, said the time had come "to try to tackle this locally, and then take a plan to the Legislature."

"A pattern for a solution, not a solution itself" should be what comes out of the Nov. 8 meeting, said McInnis.

Jeremy F. Cave of Boardwalk No. 1, Larkspur, told Mill Valley police someone stole his 1965 Volkswagen while it was parked in front of 601 Throckmorton Avenue sometime between 8 a.m. and 4:44 p.m. yesterday. Police said Cave had left the keys in the unlocked car.

Minorities Get Craft Training, But Actual Jobs Still Scarce

Despite broadened training opportunities for minorities in construction trades, the end of the rainbow — jobs — is still largely invisible.

This was the thrust of a report to the Marin County Human Rights Commission last night by representatives of labor, management and federal and state employment and apprenticeship agencies.

The commission, which sought a progress report on entrance of minorities into trades since a meeting of the groups two years ago, learned that training programs were underway through each of the trade unions, but that jobs were generally scarce.

Commissioner Richard Hardin acknowledged the training efforts, but wondered: "Are we whistling Dixie in terms of giving jobs and letting them earn a living?"

Herman J. Hale, district director of the state Division of Apprenticeship Standards, said that 2,500 carpenters were at work in Marin two or three years ago, but that about 1,500 were employed full time now.

Robert V. Nugent, an official of Local 3 of the Operating Engineers Union in San Rafael, reported a large number of men in his local out of work.

Harding said he has read of a nationwide shortage of skilled labor, but "they can't get jobs locally."

"It seems we're not going to provide employment," he added, but we can still get training for them."

The group decided to attempt to obtain a list of unemployed persons interested in construction trades for use in filling training slots.

Austin J. Thompson, executive director of the human rights department, said that 21 agencies were working on manpower in Marin — without coordination.

The commission, exploring entrance procedure to preapprenticeship training programs, wondered whether many applicants, apparently skilled, were being dropped because of failure to pass a mathematics and English aptitude test.

"Let's quit kidding ourselves; the problem is not with the unions and the employers but with the minororities coming out and applying for a job," said Ray White, executive manager of the Redwood Empire Sheet Metal and Air Conditioning Contractors Association.

He said he had sent 150 notices of a pre-apprenticeship test for the sheet metal trade to Bay Area schools, groups representing minorities and employment officials, but got no response. White said he finally recruited three applicants himself.

"A lot of minority people applied for so long and got turned down," said Commission Chairman James Quiett. "They're going to need a lot of coaxing."

Suspect Faces Hit-Run Charge

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— A suspect was arrested yesterday in the hit-run death two weeks ago of a 14-year-old boy. The boy's death was believed to have provoked several firebombings in the Hunters Point district last week.

Renato Arturo Larkin, 23, was arrested after police located what they believed to be the death vehicle in a garage next to his home. The car was badly damaged.

Bryant Wallace, a student at Woodrow Wilson High School, was hit as he walked home from a school dance. His body was dragged 280 feet by the car.

Pumpkins Help Senate Hopeful

Supporters of the Republican candidate planted pumpkin seeds on 17 acres near Metcalf's home at Mukilteo, Wash.

When the pumpkins were small Metcalf's name was scratched on them with strips of tin.

The full grown pumpkins now have Metcalf's name emblazoned in big letters on their sides.

The world's biggest fish is a whale shark. Curously, the 40-foot monsters feed on microscopic plankton and tiny fishes.

Sirhan Case Gag Rules Opposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Los Angeles district attorney prosecuting Sirhan Bishara Sirhan for the alleged assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy has asked the Supreme Court to ease restrictions on newsmen covering the case.

Sirhan, 24, stands trial Dec. 9 on charges of murdering Kennedy in Los Angeles last June following the New York senator's California Democratic presidential primary victory.

Los Angeles County Dist. Atty. Evell J. Younger petitioned the high court yesterday to consider whether restrictions on reporters amounts to a violation of the First Amendment and fosters circulation of rumors.

EDITORIAL HUDDLE AT SONOMA STATE

College President Slates Discussion On Trustees' Worry Over Marijuana Series

Sonoma State College officials, members of the publications commission and editors of the newspaper "Steppes" were to meet late this afternoon to discuss the two articles on growing marijuana that caused a stir at Wednesday's meeting of the California State College trustees.

President Ambrose R. Nichols Jr. said he called the meeting to discuss general matters of public responsibility in dealing with controversial matters such as marijuana.

Nichols said he felt the commission and editors should have a first-hand report on the discussion that took place at the trustees meeting. He declined to say if he planned to censure the students.

At the meeting at Fresno State College, Trustee Dudley Swim called for disciplinary action against Michael Funke, Steppes editor, but got no support from other regents.

The articles, reprinted from the San Francisco State College newspaper, appeared Sept. 23 and Oct. 3 and gave step-by-step instructions in the cultivation of marijuana.

Editor Funke said he didn't know what to expect from today's meeting, but said he would resist all efforts to censor his newspaper. "We have a fine college president who stays away from censorship," he said. "I don't expect our freedom will be challenged."

Funke, a junior sociology major from San Mateo, said he published the articles "because I thought it was a feature that would interest a fairly large majority of the student body."

He declined to estimate the number of drug users on campus, but said, "If the percentage is as low as 15 to 20 per cent, it was still worth using."

Funke said he considered the articles well written and filled with satire. "We received only one letter objecting to the articles, and that was from a student," he said, noting the faculty and administration looked at the stories with humor.

Included in the Sept. 23 edition was a front page picture of two men identified as Sonoma County narcotics agents and carrying the admonition, "beware of the friendly stranger."

Funke said this was also part of the newspaper's service to the student community that uses drugs.

He said he thought the stir caused at the trustee's meeting was a continuation of their being "up-tight" over the Berkeley disturbances and the actions of Black Panther leader George Murray at San Francisco State College.

BOREDOM SOLUTION

Lady Aquanauts For The Future?

LONG BEACH (AP)—Officers of the Navy's Sealab 3 think they have the answer to one of the great problems facing men who will spend long weeks at great depths under the sea.

The problem: boredom when they're not working.

The answer: female aquanauts.

The intriguing situation arose at a news conference yesterday as officials disclosed technical problems have delayed lowering of the 57-foot-long Habitat until mid-November or later.

Five teams of eight or nine men are scheduled to spend 12 days each in the cylindrical sea hut at a depth of 600 feet near San Clemente Island off the Southern California coast.

On their return to the surface they will have to spend six days in decompression chambers, getting rid of atmospheric gases forced into their tissues by pressures 19 times that at the surface.

During that period one of their big problems will be boredom, as it will be for future undersea workers in mining and drilling operations.

Capt. Grady H. Lowe, commander of the Naval Undersea Warfare Center at nearby Pasadena, suggested that the best solution would be female as well as male aquanauts.

Capt. George F. Bond, medical officer for Sealab 3 and its forerunners, said the Navy has no plans to use women in any deep-diving occupation, "but I see no reason why they could not do the work."

"I think this may come very soon," he said, "as coeducational academic institutions go more and more into oceanography."

Former astronaut Scott Carpenter, a Navy commander who spent a record 30 days in Sealab 2 at a depth of 205 feet off La Jolla in 1965, disagreed with Bond's observation that female aquanauts probably are not needed "at this time."

"That," said Carpenter, "depends entirely on your viewpoint."

Francisco Carrasco Salas, 36, convicted killer of a Sacramento County deputy sheriff, has become the 84th man on San Quentin Prison's condemned row and the 85th person under death sentence in the state.

Salas, of Santa Rosa, who killed deputy Kenneth B. Royal June 7, was sentenced to death Tuesday and arrived at the prison Wednesday.

Richmond Span Has More Users, Revenue

Traffic on the Richmond-San Rafael bridge increased to 5,515,943 vehicles for the year ending July 31, the state Division of Bay Toll Crossings has announced. Total the previous year was 5,059,753 vehicles.

Bridge gross revenue increased to $4,692,409 compared to $4,294,817 the previous year.

Charles Michals is chairman of Marin County Republican Central Committee.

Span Board Shelves Bus Fare Boost

A proposed hike in bus fares from the present 13 cents to $1 today was shelved for 90 days by the finance committee of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District.

Marin County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney told the committee that any fare hike "undoubtedly will fall directly on the commuters, not on Greyhound."

The proposal was made Oct. 11 by Director Stephan C. Leonoudakis of San Francisco. He objected that although bus fares were cut from $1 to 13 cents per bus per trip in February, 1965, patronage has not increased.

The 1965 cut was won by former Marin bridge Director Thomas D. Hardcastle of Novato to forestall a fare hike for passengers sought by Greyhound.

Leonoudakis said that a state Public Utilities commissioner today told him a bridge fare hike for buses would not justify another increase in passenger fares.

Maloney, however, said "I'd hate to have to try another fare case before the PUC and lose 4-1 with Mr. Leonoudakis' contact dissenting."

(Greyhound has already been granted two rate increases for commuter buses in Marin this fall.)

The motion by Director William Moskowitz of San Francisco to shelve the matter passed 6-3. The majority of directors agreed that before such an increase is considered they should have in hand the bus transit plans being prepared for them by the district's former chief engineer Arthur C. Jenkins of Berkeley. That report is due in mid-December.

Child Burn Victim In Poor Condition

Scott R. Spencer, 4-year-old son of Mrs. Mary E. Johnson of 8 Adrian Way, Santa Venetia, was reported still in poor condition today in Marin General Hospital's intensive care unit.

The child was badly burned Wednesday when his 6-year-old brother set fire to a rubbish pile around him.

Quarterly Transport Meetings Proposed

The Marin Citizens Transportation Committee is considering quarterly meetings instead of motnhly meetings, using subcommittees to keep in touch with various phases of transportation.

This was discussed last night at a meeting at the Civic Center, but no action was taken, according to Charles C. Swensen of Sleepy Hollow, who presided.

NAMED AIRMAN — A/1C David A. Dickson, an automatic flight control specialist with the 78th Communications and Electronics Squadron, has been named airman of the month for Hamilton Air Force Base. Hippie Gets Onto Payroll, Off Relief

A 21-year-old hippie, who obtained welfare from Marin County on condition he find a job, has carried out his instructions.

Mrs. Lillian Inke, vocational services supervisor in the department of public social services said the young man, of Gate 5 Road in Sausalito, obtained a $60-a-week job as leather worker on Oct. 10, two days after Marin County supervisors gave him two weeks to earn his own living.

The superivsors decided that the young man, whose name was withheld, would be paid general relief at the rate of $38 per week until he received his first paycheck.

"He got his first paycheck on Oct. 18, and general relief payments stopped that day," reported Mrs. Inke. "We referred him to the job and he went to work right away."

Mrs. Inke said work training counselors had a "hunch" the man would find a job because he had worked at yard work jobs before he applied for general relief.

"We look at all applicants seeking relief as individuals with individual problems, but always with the effort to make them responsible," said Mrs. Inke. "When we get any person who appears irresponsible, we force them to show good faith," she explained. "We say get registered at all the employment agencies, establish an address, and seek employment, and you know, some kids actually say, 'that's too much trouble' and walk away."

Valenti Says Film Curbs Long In Effect

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The film industry's new system of self-regulation, effective Nov. 1, was initiated "long before . . . all the hue and cry" about violence in movies, says the president of the Motion Picture Association of America.

Jack Valenti, in San Francisco for the opening of the city's film festival, said yesterday that the welfare of children was "uppermost in mind while officials were fashioning the program."

Actually, he said, emotional discussion has been outrunning sound judgment in recent years.

Valenti related some of the guide lines:

Evil, sin ,crime and wrongdoing shall not be justified.

Indecent or undue exposure of the human body shall not be presented.

However, actual censorship is not planned, Valenti said.

TWO NEW HIGH SCHOOLS?

Tam Bond Issue Wanted Mainly To End Crowding At Preps Now

(Second of Three Articles)

The main thrust of Tamalpais High School District's $10.9 million bond proposal is to finance two new high schools, one at Tiburon and the other at San Geronimo Valley.

Passage of the bonds would provide $4.5 million for a new high school in San Geronimo Valley, $6.3 million for a new school at Tiburon and $1.3 million for renovation and construction at the three existing high schools, Redwood, Sir Francis Drake and Tamalapis.

These amounts total $12.1 million, with the difference between this total and the $10.9 bond proposal to be met by allocation of $1.2 million in district reserves.

The San Geronimo Valley School would reduce overcrowding at Drake, where portable classrooms are serving as classrooms because the enrollment is 1,725 and the school's capacity, 1,475.

The Tiburon high school would reduce overcrowding at Redwood High, which has an enrollment of about 2,450 with a capacity of 2,100.

The San Geronimo Valley School would be scheduled for completion in 1970 and the Tiburon school in 1972. Each would be constructed to accommodate 800 students initially, but designed eventually to accommodate 1,500.

Tiburon high would be located near the middle of the Tiburon peninusla on 51.7 acres of land already purchased by the district above Belveron Gardens. The school would have four buildings in the first phase: a main building housing classrooms, administration offices, the student center and a library; a little theater building; a building for music and art; and a gymnasium for boys and girls.

The student center would include a canteen, room for student government offices and activities, and a store. There would be 18 regular classrooms and 12 laboratories including facilities for science, industrial arts, art and music, and homemaking, according to plans. Although the existing three high schools have swimming pools, none is included for Tiburon.

Also, the physical education fields and courts would be restricted to the minimal requirements for sports.

Style of the buildings, some multi-story, would blend with the hilly site. Parking for 242 vehicles is planned.

San Geronimo's high would have only the essentials for athletic fields and courts. It would have no swimming pool in the early phase. The buildings would be a boys' and girls' gymnasium and student center; a little theater and music building; classrooms and administration office building; and a library and study center.

Construction would be single story with low roofs in keeping with the rural motif. Parking space would be provided for 242 vehicles. Construction would be completed in 1971.

The bond committee declared that difficulties will arise in getting Fairfax students to the school, but pointed out that all of Tiburon is farther from Redwood High than Fairfax is from San Geronimo, and all of Sausalito is farther from Tamalpais High. A recommendation that assistance in arranging transportation for Fairfax students to San Geronimo has been agreed to by the district board.

(Last of this series will appear tomorrow, covering renovation plans for existing high schools.)

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —The Apollo 7 astronauts met with experts again today to continue detailed discussion of many phases of their 11-day space flight.

Onassis Ship Readied For Honeymoon Cruise

NIDRION, Greece (UPI)—The 48 crewmen and four stewardesses of the great white yacht Christina stored freshly slaughtered pigs and packed fruit in the hold and today readied for the delayed honeymoon cruise of Aristotle and Jacqueline Onassis.

The deisel engines of the 325-foot former Canadian Navy frigate quietly throbbed as the $3 million vessel awaited the orders of the couple married Sunday on Onassis' Skorpios Island.

Onassis, 62, gave instructions for a sailing expert yesterday before he made a brief trip to Athens on business. His bride, the former Jacqueline Kennedy, 39, remained in her stateroom, ignoring the four man bouzouki band that serenaded the Christina from a fisherman's boat.

Twice Mrs. Onassis tried telephoning her new husband during his short absence. The calls failed to get through. But today the cruise delayed by bad weather and the honeymooners' cruise was prepared.

Young crewmen had hoisted aboard the pork and fruit from this fishing village of 600, to add to the supplies loaded in freezers when the Christiana pulls into a major port twice a year for filling larders.

Tank-Carried GIs Smash Reds' Fort

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. infantrymen hopped atop tanks and smashed into a North Vietnamese fortress in the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ), military spokesmen said today. The Americans killed 65 Communists and suffered no losses.

It raised to 177 the North Vietnamese troops killed in two days of American strikes into the buffer zone between North and South Vietnam. Not one American was killed in the fighting.

In a search of the area later the Americans seized 2,300 pounds of rice, 100 pounds of medical supplies, 25 mortars and 850 rounds of small arms ammunition.

To the south, South Korean infantrymen searching a network of natural caves near South Vietnam's central coast reported killing 89 Communists in another major action yesterday.

American B52 bombers stepped up their strikes on Communist troop concentrations and storage areas across the nation, flying 122 missions yesterday and early today. They struck targets in all four quarters of South Vietnam.

The U.S. command said two U.S. Navy destroyers spotted seven North Vietnamese supply boats on radar and blasted them out of the water 15 miles north of coastal Dong Hoi Wednesday night. The U.S. vessels were not identified.

In Saigon, South Vietnamese spokesmen attempted to end speculation that the government's plan to release 140 Nort Vietnamese and Viet Cong prisoners was related to the latest peace overtures.

"There is no connection at all between the release and negoations in Paris," a spokesman said.

Early today Communist gunners shelled a bunkers and jail in the city of Hoi An 20 miles south of Da Nang with mortars and rockets, wounding four Vietnamese.

UTRECHT, Holland (UPI)—Dutch parents annually spend $35 on clothing and footwear of their children up to 15 years of age. Nearly half that amount goes for the three pairs of shoes the kids use up on the average.

Indictments On Monopoly Of Quinine

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department announced today the indictment of 15 U.S. and foreign companies and eight top executives on charges of monopoly and conspiracy in the sale and distribution of quinine and quinine products.

The indictment, with widespread international implications, was returned by a grand jury in the U.S. District Court for the Seventh District of New York.

Two large U.S. drug companies and one smaller American importer are included in the charges.

Six of the companies are based in the Netherlands, three in West Germany and two in Great Britain and one in France.

The American firms involved are Rexall Drug and Chemical Co., Los Angeles; Mead Johnson and Co. of Evansville, Ind., and New York City and R. W. Greef and Co. Inc., a New York City importer.

Harry Y. de Schepper, president of R. W. Greef, was the only executive of the U.S. firms named in the indictment.

All are charged on three counts under the Sherman Anti-trust Law and include restraint of trade, monopoly and conspiracy to commit monopoly.

Driver, Young Hitchhikers Injured In Corte Madera

Four persons, including three hitchhikers, were injured when a car sideswiped a power pole in the 200 block of Corte Madera Avenue about 6 p.m. yesterday, Corte Madera police said today.

The driver, Harry Marvin Cassidy, 25, of no known address, was booked in Marin County Jail for investigation of felony drunken driving involving the injuries.

Police said Cassidy and Michael French, 23, of 1555 Central Road, Novato, apparently gave a ride near Tamalpais High School to James Howland Robinette, 18, of 210-A Redhill Avenue, San Anselmo; Robert Grant, 19, of 90 Greenhill Road, and Harriet Hockin, 14, of 405 Ash Street, both of Mill Valley.

Traveling north on Corte Madera Avenue, Cassidy lost control and slammed the car's right side against the pole, officers said. They added that Miss Hocklin left the scene, but later came to police headquarters and was taken to Marin General Hospital for treatment of a scalp bump.

Grant was reported in fair condition at the hospital today with a broken pelvis. French was treated for a face cut and Robinette was treated for a forehead cut and shoulder bruise, hospital attendants said.

Cassidy was held in lieu of $1,125 bail and scheduled for appearance in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Wheels Stolen

Four heavy-duty tires and wheels were stolen Wednesday night or early yesterday from a semi-trailer owned by American Moving and Storage of Marin, 160 Paul Drive, San Rafael police said today. The wheels were valued at more than $300.

Police Car Found, But Where's Driver?

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — San Diego police found one of their white and black patrol cars before anyone realized it was missing. The car, keys in the ignition switch and an almost full tank of gas, was found parked behind a bar in suburban Mission Gorge.

Before taking the car back to the central station officers made a quick radio check and determined that no officer was missing. Officers believe that someone walked into the police garage and drove off in the car.

Marin Dining And Wining

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Site Of Old Fleur De Lys Now A Fine Place To Learn Wines

The little restaurant that was once the Fleur de Lys, on the south slope of San Anselmo's temperamental and unpredictable Red Hill, still evokes fond memories in many Marin diners.

When you could afford it, it was an ideal spot to while away several evening hours, sipping, supping and conversing in complete comfort and relaxation. I think that after the Fleur de Lys closed, some of the heart went out of the place and was never quite revived by succeeding restaurateurs.

But the present Cafe Bon Vin of wine expert Fred Cherry seems to promise a worthy sequel to the original operation. In fact, it would be difficult to imagine any other location in the county quite so suitable for Fred's particular "thing."

In some ways it has an advantage over the Fleur de Lys. For one thing, if you play the game as it is meant to be played, you know in advance exactly what will be your maximum cost — $12.25 per person plus tax and tip. Order extra food and drink if you like, but I can see no point in it — unless you decide to buy some of Fred's wines for home consumption at regular store prices.

The full 10-course meal at $7.50 gives you all you can eat and the accompanying wines for each course at $4.75 (total) amount to well over a quart per person — if you need to justify these servings in sheer quantity.

But to let it rest there doesn't tell the entire sory. Each course is a distinctive presentation in itself, beautifully prepared by chefs Benni Veideland and Gus Persson. (I just learned that Gus is Benni's father-in-law).

Sauces are delicate, seasoning subtle.

Waiter Jim McClure and his counterpart on weekends, Don Madden, perform skillfully in serving. This is a meal that stretches — so take your time.

You have to be interested in wines to get the most enjoyment out of Cafe Bon Vin. I didn't say experienced. You can get the proper experience here at minimum cost.

For example, if you have ever been caught up in that old argument about which wines are better — European or California —you can find out here. And no matter which way you have voted in the past you are in for some surprises.

During the meal, except for the aperatif, wines are served two at a time to drink through two courses. These are one European wine and one California wine, calculated to be the closest match possible. Remember, these are all high quality vintages, some not generally available in the stores nor even in the wine shops.

And this reminds me, holiday gift packages of three special (not necessarily expensive) wines will be available for purchase here this season. Make up your own assortment or let Cafe Bon Vin advise you. If you wish to make a daytime call for this purpose, phone first. There should be someone on hand during the afternoons.

A REOPENING of the Path Finders Tea Room at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross is planned for election day, Nov. 5, setting the schedule for a regular series of Tuesday luncheons open to the public. Hours are from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Reservations are suggested for opening day.

New eating area is in the Magnolia Room, which has been redecorated and has more tables as well as a larger kitchen than were in the original Octagon House location across the path.

A different menu is planned for each week. Luncheon tab is $1.50, including tax and tip, with profits going toward upkeep of the center.

For a preview, visit the Fall Flower Festival at the center tomorrow or Sunday when the Path Finders will serve a luncheon featuring a sandwich and salad plate, fancy dessert and coffee.

THERE ARE TWO new Basque dishes on the recently revised menu at Le Chalet Basque in Santa Venetia — Croquettes Basquaise and Azou-Ria Basque. These translate into ground chicken, truffles and a sauce financiere for the first — and a filet of lamb with eschalots, pimentos, mushrooms and tomatoes, with a Madeira gravy for the second.

As a suggestion, order one of Raymond Coscarat's native Navarra dry Basque wines with these. Available in red, white and rose.

And for steak eaters, a table companion at our last meal here (also a restaurant commentator, from out of town) confided that his New York was cooked as close to perfection in timing as he had ever experienced. Since he's a confirmed steak eater I take this as good authority.

There are a number of fine beef, veal and lamb dishes on he menu — traditional, French and Basque. Chef Bernard Epstein never seems to be at a loss for ideas.

AT BOB'S OF MARIN —Winsome Dori Green sings and plays Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights at the piano-bar.

Le Chalet continues to grow in stature and add new improvements. The bar is now fully carpeted. The upper dining room has some new refinements, too, but don't pin me down as to exactly what they are. It's the over-all effect that counts.

Midweek evenings the lower dining room is available for parties and dinner meetings.

A BIG FAVORITE at Bill and Adolph's West End Villa Rafael is the "Teriyaki Bones" served at the table as hors de'oeuvres. These are ribs marinated for four or five days before cooking. The demand is so heavy don't be dissappointed if you find the night's supply exhausted the first time you ask for them. Just try again.

New maitre d' at West End is Bill's son Ron, replacing Harry Auda, who has left. Aside from his talents with a capon flambe or flaming steak Diane, Ron's artistry includes many crab louie and salad preparations. And he's already starting to work out a decoration theme for Thanksgiving.

THE ARK in Sausalito has taken on new life, with a reopening on Friday and Saturday nights from 9 p.m. to 6 a.m., featuring rock dance music.

New operator Fred Ambrose has been in Marin about a year. Before that he was at Squaw Valley. His preference is a renaming to the Charles Van Damme, the old ferryboat's original designation.

Featured in the night-long entertainment this weekend are five acts: Clover, Circus, Immaculate Contraction, Grasshopper and folk artist Dwain Storey. Admission is 50 cents. Served are hot dogs, cokes, coffee and the like — no alcoholic beverages.

A Sunday jam session is planned.

ALTHOUGH THANKSGIVING is more than a month away, it's not strange to find some restaurants already planning their menus for that day. I know that Sabella's is and shouldn't be surprised if Thanksgiving selections besides the grand old bird are already chosen. Sabella's Thanksgiving dinner will be from 1 to 9 p.m.

DOMINIC'S Musee d'Art International is featuring the works of artists George Braque, Johnny Friedlander and J. J. J. Rigal next week. The show will carry on through Nov. 24. In addition, oil paintings by other prominent French and Italian artists are on display.

Prop. 9 To Be Debated Nov. 3

A discussion on Proposition 9 on the Nov. 5 ballot will be sponsored from 9 to 11 a.m. Nov. 3 by the Marin County Jewish Community Center on North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia.

Proposition 9 would limit property taxes and the uses to which they could be put. Benjamin P. Bonelli of Tiburon of the Marin Property Owners constitutional amendment committee, will speak for the proposition. Dr. William J. Filante of San Rafael, president of the Northern California Extension, Henry George School of Social Science, will speak in opposition.

The discussion will be open to the audience.

Seminar On Drugs, Narcotics Slated

Sonoma State College extension program will sponsor a weekend teachers' workshop on "Drugs and Narcotics" Nov. 8 to 10 in the cafeteria of Napa College.

Headed by Harlen Smetzer, consultant on child welfare and attendance in the Napa County Schools office, the workshop will emphasize current drug use problems. Those interested in attending should reach Smetzer by Thursday.

Hillcrest Hospital Addition Gaining

Solid progress on construction of the new wing at Hillcrest Hospital was reported last night at the Petaluma Hospital District directors meeting at the hospital.

Administrator Loree Smith said the permanent roof is now on the new wing that will house four private rooms for cardiac patients and four other rooms for intensive care as well as a modern nursing station.

Originally scheduled for completion on Nov. 10, the building will probably be finished soon after the first of the year, Mrs. Smith said. She also noted that bid calls for landscaping work will be sent out this month, and will include the strip between the existing building and the new intensive care unit.

The Petaluma Hospital District Directors also:

PURCHASED — Approved the purchase of a criss-cross grid for the existing X-ray department at a cost of $350.

CONVENTION — Heard reports on the recent convention of the Association of District Hospitals in Santa Barbara from Directors Clyde Nelson Jr., Albert P. Behrens Sr. and Mrs. Smith.

TOURS — Heard that Petaluma school students had toured the nursery and medical records departments.

'California' Result Of Spanish Fiction

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The name "California" was taken from a 15th century Spanish novel which described it as a mythical island near the Garden of Eden.

In the novel, "Las Sergas de Esplandian," California was inhabited by beautiful, Amazon-like women and contained gold and precious stones.

$6.5 Million Transfusion To Cal Expo?

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Legislators were told yesterday it would take another $6.5 million to keep the shaky California Exposition in business next year.

Alfred D. Stalford, chairman of the Private Cal Expo Corp., told the Assembly Committee on Governmental Organization and the Senate Government Efficiency Committee that only a "major advance of funds" could save the exposition.

The legislators showed little enthusiasm, but agreed to study the matter further after the November election.

When Stalford asked the legislators to allocate another $6.5 million for the fair or "bulldoze the whole damn thing down" Assemblyman Lester A. McMillan, D-Los Angeles, replied: "That wouldn't be a bad idea."

Stalford said the extra money would go for completion of exhibits and other attractions, including an amusement center that is expected to be popular.

TV Watchdog System Bids Opened For Jail

The cost of installing a closed circuit television system in the new county jail in the Hall of Justice at Civic Center will run somewhere between $33,000 and $43,000.

That was the range of three bids opened yesterday by Doug Edelen, county purchasing agent.

Reeves Electronic of San Francisco submitted the lowest base bid, $33,258.25. Radio Corp. of America in Los Angeles bid $35,912, and Motorola of Menlo Park, $43,530.

Each company was also asked to bid on the cost of servicing the TV system. Reeves said its annual cost of servicing would be $4,750, RCA $5,752, and Motorola $11,100.

The county estimate on the cost of the TV system and servicing was about $52,000.

Nineteen cameras will be installed in various locations inside the jail so that the dayrooms, bunk rooms, recreation area and hallways can be monitored from a central location.

Edelen said the bids are being studied by the county communications department before a recommendation is made to the board of supervisors.

Edelen also opened two bids on the shelving for the new law library in the Hall of Justice. W. R. Ames Co. of Milpitas submitted a base bid of $8,194; and Library Bureau of Remington Rand Co., San Francisco, $8,260.

Checks Range From Huge To Humorous

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—The U.S. Army Aviation Materiel Command, St. Louis, wrote 139,080 checks during fiscal 1968, ranging from $16,064,161 (m) to a penny.

Innocent Plea To Attack Charge

Airman 1/C Walter Bill Simmons, 35, of 670 Norman Drive, Novato, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to a charge of committing statutory rape on the 16-year-old daughter of a retired Air Force colonel.

The girl said the offense occurred in Air Force housing in Ignacio July 21, according to the district attorney's office.

Simmons was told to return to court Oct. 26 for a preliminary hearing.

Changing A Policeman's Image

policemen, one or two drop-in sessions scheduled at random and voluntary, and individual counseling by Shev when an officer seeks it.

The sessions are free-wheeling affairs somewhere between seminars and bull sessions which probe the men's attitudes toward lawbreakers, minority groups, police work, and each other, guided by probing questions from Dr. Shev.

By understanding the psychological reasons behind their feelings, police can react more suitably to situations they meet on duty, Kreins said. "I think it's prevented some situations where there would have been violence," he said.

The initial sessions two years ago were primarily lectures by Dr. Shev followed by a question period to air problems within the department and let officers evaluate the problems they encounter.

As hostilities lessened and acceptance grew, the sessions became informal general discussions with only an occasional lecture.

Police have had a large extra dose of the program the past week, recreating it in special sessions last Friday and Tuesday for network television cameras.

Tuesday's session, filmed by the National Broadcasting Co., was a typical discussion, Kreins said, although the men were a little dry of topics since that meeting followed so closely on another.

The officers — 19 showed up before the session ended — showed nervousness at first by being over-casual, but soon settled into serious discussion with Dr. Shev.

In two and a half hours of talk, unobtrusively guided by Dr. Shev, the crowded squad room crackled with comments, sometimes blunt and sometimes guarded, ranging over dozens of targets.

In more or less sequential order, the men talked about the Olympic racial incidents, American racism, the nature of prejudice, interracial experiences, police permissiveness and where its limits should lie.

Also the problem of enforcing laws one disagrees with, police feelings about arrests, the discretion officers have, archaic laws, inadequate support services in Marin; centralizing Marin police, delivering warrants in the dead of night, the civil rights of defendants, the guilt-ridden suspect, the incurable mentally ill, and capital punishment.

"As the talk flowed, Shev would insert questions or statements to draw out meanings beneath the surface, but always in a low key manner so the speaker was not called on to defend his self-esteem but to find what he really felt.

"There's a lot I disagree with in the penal code," one patrolman said. "Marijuana, for example. From what I've read . . . it's no worse than alcohol. I'd love to try it, but I won't as long as it's illegal, or then I couldn't arrest persons who were using it."

"You're really talking about the addictive personality," Shev said. He outlined the Freudian oral stage of development which underlies addiction, which he said could be manifested in drugs, alcohol, gluttony or even driving fast cars.

The talk shifted to discretion in making arrests. "How do you feel about facing a situation you don't agree with?" Shev asked.

"I feel crummy sometimes," a sergeant said. "I know it's not against the law to have human feelings . . . I don't like to see people squirm or cry when I arrest them."

"Like statutory rape," another sergeant said. "It's ridiculous. A male of 15 seduces a 17-year-old girl and he's committed a felony."

It was clear that Sausalito's young policemen — the average age is 27 — don't always hold traditional police attitudes.

That is part of what the program is all about. The goal is "to recruit and train officers who will develop a humane approach to the problems of law enforcement," Kreins said in an article last spring in The Police Chief, national professional magazine.

It was that article, plus talks by Kreins and Shev at California law enforcement meetings, which began drawing attention to the program. A few weeks ago, Time magazine mentioned the program in a roundup article on police throughout the country, and that stirred the TV networks' interest.

Sausalito police are gratified by the national attention, but more interested in spreading the psychiatric program locally.

Kreins said he has outlined the Sausalito system at meetings of Marin police chiefs and some chiefs have expressed interest although "nobody's breaking down the door" to follow suit.

"I think a lot of them would like to go into this program if they could figure out how to sell it to their managers or councilmen," Kreins said.

Kreins said a federal grant may be available under an omnibus anti-crime bill which would allow other cities in Marin to start the program at no cost.

The cost in Sausalito is budgeted at $1,200 this year, including prehiring interviews at $45 apiece and the only other cost a token fee to Shev for the training sessions.

As for department effectiveness, Kreins said the record speaks for itself. While arrests have tripled in two years, the felony rate has dropped and there have been no complaints of overpolicing. "We haven't had a complaint against an individual officer in two years," he said.

At the same time, department turnover has dropped to near zero. The 27-member department includes 21 hired since Kreins took over as chief three years ago, all after a psychiatric interview. And no one hired since the start of the psychiatric interview system has quit the force.

The department has never hired a man against Shev's recommendation, Kreins said, and has rejected six to eight applicants on his recommendation.

In all, only 4 to 5 per cent of applicants are hired, he said, 60 to 70 per cent failing the initial written examination and others failing oral or physical tests, the interview, or background checks.

Besides spreading the psychiatric program to other police departments, Kreins said Sausalito hopes to expand its own programs to encounters between officers and various elements of the community such as the conservative "hill people," Marin City residents, hippies or newsmen.

After Tuesday's session, Shev called in the television crew and urged them into conversation about press-police relations.

The psychiatric sessions will be seen on two networks at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow. NBC will show its film on the Frank McGee Report, and the Columbia Broadcasting System will show last Friday's session on the Howard Mudd-Walter Cronkite news show.

In addition, more filming is scheduled Monday for TV Channel 44 and San Francisco's KPIX for showing at a later date.

Baar Backs McCarthy's Hippie View

Louis H. (Bud) Baar, candidate for Marin County supervisor in the Fourth District, has endorsed proposed state and federal legislation to empower police to round up hippies and lock them in hospitals "for medical care."

The proposal was made Wednesday by Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, who said in a statement to the press that he was preparing amendments to the state and federal constitutions to eliminate the "menace" posed by hippies.

McCarthy's proposed legislation, said Baar, "is 100 per cent in accordance with my views." Baar made his endorsement of McCarthy's stand at a coffee for him Wednesday night at the Greenbrae home of Mrs. Nancy Cozzo.

Noting that hippies are particularly evident in the Larkspur, San Geronimo Valley and West Marin portions of the Fourth District, Baar termed their presence "a disgrace, and something should be done about it as soon as possible." He said, "I will do what I can, if elected, to eliminate this."

McCarthy said he also would introduce legislation to require schools to devote "a specific number of hours" to showing students the danger of drugs.

McCarthy did not explain how police would be empowered to lock up hippies "as health hazards to the community."

button
(to give you a choice)

Throughout the ages it has always been difficult finding the right words or a meaningful way to say something special to that someone special.
Now we offer you two of the easiest ways of communication:

1. With Wells silver and gold jewelry for both men and women.
2. With an "I AM LOVED" button. It's free of charge here at your "I AM LOVED" headquarters. It says a lot, too.

The button will never replace Wells "I AM LOVED" jewelry in precious metals. But it does serve as a gentle reminder until the real thing comes along.

San Marin Group Backs Street Bonds

The San Marin Improvement Association last night supported the $3 million Novato street bond issue Nov. 5 and opposed the city's purchase of the San Marin club.

The general membership, at its quarterly meeting, voted by about 5 to 1 to support the bond issue after presentations by James Duckworth of the Citizens for Better Streets Committee, and Clifford Temps, acting public works director, according to publicity chairman Ronald Q. Lewton.

Lou Wilkes Johnson, chairman of the Novato Parks and Recreation Advisory Commission, presented plans to ultimately purchase the San Marin club as a city recreational facility. Members opposed purchase by 3 to 1, Lewton said.

The San Marin Improvement Association also:

BUS — Heard a report from Wayne Bulette, chairman of the bus committee, that the special commute bus would begin its run on Nov. 1, picking up passengers in San Marin and going down Novato Boulevard and South Novato Boulevard and then nonstop into San Francisco. This will be done whether there are enough passengers to make it a paying proposition or not, Bulette said. Eastshore lines in San Francisco will run the chartered bus.

MEMBERSHIP — Voted to open membership to renters in the area. This will necessitate a change in the bylaws which will come before the association at its next quarterly meeting at 8 p.m., Jan. 30.

CHRISTMAS — Named Gilbert Moncayo chairman of the association's youth activities committee to organize a Christmas party for children.

YOUTH PROGRAM —Heard a report from Rev. Arthur W. Sorensen of All Saints Lutheran Church of an open house for youths each Friday from 7 to 11 p.m. at the church at San Marin Drive and San Carlos Way.

Sausalito Baby Found Dead In Bed

The 2-month-old son of a Gate Six couple died early today in his mother's bed, apparently from natural causes.

The child, Ian Louis Setterberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Setterberg, was found dead at 7:30 a.m. by his mother.

Mrs. Setterberg called the Sausalito Fire Department for aid but resuscitation attempts failed to revive the child.

The baby had been dead for approximately two hours, according to Deputy Coroner Keigh Craig. Craig said Mrs. Setterberg had fed the baby at 2 a.m. and taken him to bed with her and found him dead when she awoke.

An autopsy report is pending.

Mrs. Settersberg said the child had been ill and she had an appointment with a doctor today for a checkup.

The Settersbergs have one other child, Sean, 20 months.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Frank J. Keaton's mortuary in Sausalito.

Worse Than Cold

UNION, N.J. (UPI)—"Cures" of the common cold through the ages have included rubbing the chest with skunk grease, drinking stolen milk, putting turpentine on the tip of the tongue and burning feathers in the bedroom, according to researchers for the makers of a drug product (Coricidin D).

Police Whistle Is Officer's Armor

In an exchange of shots with a gunman during a jewelry store robbery, Helton, 24 was hit in the leg by one bullet. A second bullet hit the metal whistle in Helton's pocket over his heart. The bullet bounced away, causing only a flesh wound. Doctors siid the second shot could have been fatal.

U.C. Student Body Leader Calls For Boycott Of Classes Monday

BERKELEY (AP) — The student body president of the University of California called today for a classroom boycott by students — the latest development in three days of student disturbances.

"We'll try a boycott for a while this afternoon and probably move on to a strike on Monday," Charles Palmer declared, adding that a strike would include picketing as well.

There was no immediate reaction to his announcement from the 27,000-member student body.

Palmer's announcement followed a threat yesterday by Berkeley campus Chancellor Roger Heyns to expel students involved in "reckless assaults on the freedom of others and on the university."

An estimated 500 law enforcement officers moved onto the campus at dawn yesterday and, under a hail of taunts and some bricks, tore down barricades erected by students who staged a 15-hour sit-in at Moses Hall.

Seventy-six demonstrators were arrested on charges of disturbing the peace, trespassing and malicious mischief.

On Tuesday night, 121 protesters were arrested after a peaceful sit-in at nearby Sproul Hall, the administration building of the nine-campus university. Of those, 118 pleaded guilty to charges of trespassing and failure to disperse and were fined $125 each. Three pleaded innocent and face trials.

The demonstrators had made several demands — the main one being college credit for a course in which Black Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver has been lecturing.

Palmer said the strike threat was directly linked to the Cleaver protest.

Heyns said 59 of the 76 arrested at Moses Hall would be suspended.

Recommendations will be made to the committee on student conduct that the 59 be expelled, he said.

Steps are being taken, Heyns said, to obtain payment for damage from students involved in the Moses Hall sit-in.

Cooperation also is being given, he added, for prosecution of pending criminal cases in connection with the trouble.

"Resolution ot conflicts through confrontation and destruction is not acceptable in a university and will not succeed," Heyns said.

Meanwhile, Gov. Ronald Reagan, campaigning in the Midwest for Richard M. Nixon, issued a statement through his Sacramento office which said the governor was "convinced more than ever that appeasement and capitulation to persons intent on breaking our rules on our campuses only strengthen the prospects for greater confrontation."

The statement said Reagan wished "to compliment the Berkeley administration for its response to organized attacks on campus operations and facilities by a violent few."

But a group of 75 Berkeley professors issued a statement saying they believed the university could have avoided the sit-in and mass arrests "if it had not been under intolerable political pressures."

The university's board of regents acted very unwisely and were guilty of "disruptive interference in the university's educational program" in ordering no credit be given for the

Well-Traveled Thief Arrested In Japan

India's Phones Are Socialistic

NEW DELHI (AP) — The common man is not alone in suffering from frequent telephone breakdowns in India.

Even the phones in the homes of Prime Minister Indira Gandhi and Home Minister Y. B. Chavan were "dead" for two hours because of a local breakdown one night, an announcement said.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

Independent-Journal Historian Florence Donnelly traces the colorful history of another Marin County community in tomorrow's I-J Marin Magazine. This time her subject is Fairfax. It is a fascinating story that goes back to the days of Lord Charles Snowden Fairfax and his beautiful wife, Ada, and before. It is a story, too, of a duel of a funicular railroad, of a sanitorium, and of years of steady and solid growth and progress.

Marin County feels a special attachment to the late and great architect Frank Lloyd Wright. This is because of the presence of the Wright-designed Civic Center in the county. Now Marin has another link with Wright. A Marinite is the author of a newly published book about one of Wright's great masterpieces, the Imperial Hotel of Tokyo. You can read about it in tomorrow's issue of the Marin Magazine.

Marin Women

Delegates Discuss Soviet Trip

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Russia's educational system is what will eventually topple the present Soviet regime. This was the most striking opinion of six of the delegation of 60 outstanding American women business, professional and community leaders, who have returned from a three-week tour of Russia, Hungary and Czechoslovakia.

One of the great triumphs of the Communists in Russia was giving education to the masses, but its very success, the women agreed, is what is going to defeat them, for the young people are on the move, questioning of what they hear over the BBC and Voice of America. This is possible because jamming is not totally effective, they said.

How can the leaders be so stupid as not to realize this? All they want is power and knowledge this minute — especially scientific power and knowledge, the women believe.

SOME OF THE things they admired about the educational system were the excellence and dedication of the teachers, the eagerness to learn of the children and the early testing of aptitudes to be developed in special schools. There was disagreement as to whether or not there was too much regimentation, with some maintaining that there was and others believing that while discipline was rigid in classes, there was more freedom outside classes.

Existence of juvenile delinquency is not admitted, they said, but anti-social behaviour is called "hooliganism," and punishment consists of shaving culprits' heads and making them work extra shifts.

A woman-to-woman diplomatic mission originating from invitations from the Soviet Women's Committee of Moscow and Leningrad and the Czechoslovakian Women's Union, the delegation was non-political and non-sponsored, with each woman paying her own way.

THE SIX WOMEN interviewed were prominent Bay Area members of the tour party who expressed their opinions and described their experiences at a luncheon given at her home in Sausalito by Mrs. Constant M. Van Vlierden, one of the group known for her activities in promoting better international relations, who had worked closely with leader Bernice Behrens in organizing the tour.

The other five women were Mrs. George Osborne Wilson, author of seven published biographies and wife of an executive of Standard Oil Company of California; Mrs. George A. Davidson, a native of Russia and widow of a director and vice president of Standard Oil of California; Mrs. Roland Pierotti, wife of the executive vice president in charge of international banking for the Bank of America; and Mrs. Lee Stubbs Penland, San Francisco attorney admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court and a member of the California Youth Authority; and Mrs. Gerald Karski, artist and wife of the president of the Motion Picture Service Company of California.

The women were surprised to have children approach them in Moscow with offers of black market money deals and learned that when they gave them gum or ball point pens, they quickly got the private enterprise idea of selling them at a profit. When they were asked to stop giving the children gum, they complied.

THE AMERICAN WOMEN felt that everywhere they went the women of the three countries visited sincerely welcomed them, though only in Czechoslovakia did they seem to be free to be entirely honest. Nevertheless, the six women attending the luncheon said they believed that they were able to see and hear things other than propaganda or what was carefully planned.

They learned, for example, that a building near the Kremlin supposed to be a library or museum secretly had a seven-story prison under ground for political prisoners.

Possibly the delegates' most exciting experience in Russia occurred in the dining room of a Moscow hotel after a performance by the Philippine Ballet. Mrs. Eugenio Puyat, a member of the tour party and an American Filipino married to a Philippine banker, taught the delegation how to toast the dancers in a Philippine language, and they in return sang "California, Here I Come", a Russian song in the Russian language and a Philippine song.

They said the whole dining room soon caught the spirit and everybody wept. The impact of the scene on the Russians was tremendous in view of the fact that the Philippine people had received their freedom from the United States. One Russian soldier and his girl got up and bowed to the American women.

"WE WERE A GREAT lesson to everyone," Mrs. Van Vlierden said, "because they could not understand how we could get out of our country and go anywhere we wanted to go when we pleased." The United States Department of State in fact, had not been in favor of the trip for fear it would be used for propaganda purposes.

The American women were surprised in one encounter with two doctors from the Ukraine who said that Ukrainians are different from the rest of the Russians. In Kiev the women found the people more friendly and even saw some signs of private enterprise. They agreed that the farther west the delegation proceeded, the more friendly the people were. There was a pall over Moscow, they felt until they left for Kiev.

Another surprise was finding that they could attend churches, especially the Catholic and Baptist. No person under 18 is permitted to attend churches, which consequently are full of older people. Under some strange reasoning that all other Protestant churches are

THE GROUP of Americans had a laugh during their first meeting with the Soviet Women's Committee in Moscow, who issued an invitaton to the 60 outstanding women to visit the USSR. At left are Mrs. Cecil Poole of San Francisco, wife of the U.S. Attorney for Northern California district, and Mrs. Leslie N. Shaw, wife of the postmaster of the city of Los Angeles, who often answered Russians' questions about the racial oppression in America.

Donald B. Strauses Visit Marin Briefly

By MOLLY MARIN

It was a brief but busy visit in Belvedere for Mr. and Mrs. Donald B. Straus of New York. They stayed with Mrs. Straus' mother, Mrs. Harry B. Allen. Reason for the California trip was an address given by Straus, president of the American Arbitration Association, whose headquarters are in New York City, at the Comstock Club in Sacramento on Monday. Their stay was also the occasion for reunions for the former Beth Allen with family members and friends. Mrs. Allen gave a dinner party for them at her Belvedere home; Mr. and Mrs. David Allen had a family excursion on their yacht, The Privateer on Saturday; Mrs. Lucille Boole entertained at dinner at her home in Belvedere on Sunday night; and Monday evening Mrs. Straus' aunt, Miss Helen Bridge of Belvedere, had a gathering at the family ranch, The Vineyards in the Napa Valley.

Mrs. William Fleming of Belvedere honored Beth Straus at a luncheon. Guests included Mrs. Richard M. Sims Jr., Mrs. R. M. Joses and Mrs. Darcie Barrows of Belvedere, Mrs. William Brooke of Dutch Flat and Mrs. Lee Hamilton of Orinda.

Saturday evening the Strauses had dinner in San Francisco with old friends, Judge and Mrs. Robert Drewes and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mann.

Donald and Beth left for New York Tuesday. Their son David A. Straus is remaining in Belvedere, while instructing in the School of Architecture at the University of California. He is living in his grandmother's ark in Belvedere — one of the arks which is destined to become a part of the permanent historical exhibit at the San Francisco Maritime State Historic Park at the Hyde Street Pier in San Francisco.

MONDAY AFTERNOON Mrs. John F. Hadden of San Rafael hosted a luncheon for a few friends at San Francisco's Oreste's Restaurant in honor of her sister, Mrs. Edward E. Maddox, who is leaving next week for a tour of the Bahamas.

A NUMBER OF Marin women are planning to attend the WAIF International luncheon Tuesday at the Fairmont Hotel.

Mrs. Paul Stanley of Susalito and Mrs. Stanley White of San Rafael have each invited guests to make up a table of 10.

Also planning to attend are Mesdames Herbert Lawrence, Donald Devoto, David Dooley, Arthur Morse, James Potts, Earl Brown, George de Urioste and Kleve Johnson of Mill Valley; Theodore Rosenberg, Ernest Ongaro and Gene Vayssie of San Rafael; John Clark of Tiburon; Matthew Dooley and William Patterson of Sausalito; B. W. Cantor, Stephen Schulte, Frank Lee and John Davis of Corte Madera; Francis Greg and Lawrence Mayer of Kentfield; Jay Walsh of Larkspur; Robert Kerner of Belvedere; Donald Ongaro of Fairfax; James Collins, Hal Caulfield and James Reese of Greenbrae; and Chester Mac Phee Jr. of Ross.

Reader Backs Letters Written In Defense Of Young People

DEAR HELEN:

Reading the letters from "Tired of It" and "Rob" who showed how young people were shoved around in stores, I thought I'd let you know what happened to our kids.

We try to teach our children respect for their elders, but after seeing how they are treated, I wonder. Consider this: Our kids were in line at a hamburger stand. Adults kept shoving ahead of them. Finally I took a straight pin out of my purse and gave our daughter instructions to stick the next person who pushed them out of line. I made sure everyone in the line heard what I said! It worked, but when they got to the window, the waitress ignored them and actually asked the man behind them for his order! I reported her, but the manager couldn't care less and said so.

At the delicatessen I came up behind two young girls who had been waiting there quite a while. The clerk jumped right to my order, and I told her the girls were first. She said, "They don't want anything, they're just hanging around." The girls told me they hadn't even been asked what they wanted. So the clerk grudgingly fixed their order, and then refused to wait on me.

It happens even at the post office. Children, taught politeness, stand back, and adults take advantage.

Teen-agers and young adults control the spending of about 76 per cent of the circulated money in the United States. It's high time businesses woke up to the fact and treated them with the respect due intelligent, honest and well-behaved customers. They deserve the same rights and courtesy as so-called adults

— Mrs. F.F.K

DEAR HELEN:

Please print this for "Puzzled Mother" who wants to show relatives and friends that her handicapped child should be treated normally and not be over-protected.

When I was a baby I got polio and it left my legs crippled. My parents never babied me. They ignored all the people who told them to pamper the "poor little thing."

Instead I was treated just as any normal child. I was never allowed to get out of doing something because of my handicap. If I fell down, my folks didn't come running. They would say, "Be careful next time," and let me get up by myself.

This may sound mean, but believe me, I am very glad they treated me so. Though I still wear a brace, I never let it bother me. I live exactly as anyone else. If someone says, "Poor thing," I ignore them and do everything in my power to prove how wrong they are.

There's a difference between love and pity. My parents were very wise. I'm sure "Puzzled Mother" will continue to be, in spite of "advice."

B.B.

DEAR HELEN:

I met this wonderful man who often talked about the Catholic Priesthood, but I never thought he meant it.

Now he has actually left me to fulfill his desire. I love him very much. What can I do?

—ALONE

DEAR ALONE:

If he loves his religion more, there isn't anything you can do but bow to the inevitable. In the next two years, he'll find out whether he is suited for the priesthood. Let the decision be entirely his.

Shoppers Will Find Good Buys

WASHINGTON (UPI) — USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports that weekend shoppers will find excellent supplies of meat and poultry, good to fair supplies of meat and poultry and good to fair supplies of fresh vegetables and fruit in food stores and supermarkets.

In all areas displays of broiler-fryer chickens and turkeys should be more than adequate to meet the selections of all shoppers. Beef roasts and steaks and ground beef are again in excellent supply, while pork features appear for nearly all pork items offered: bacon, boston butts, chops, ham, roasts and smoked picnics. Fish buys to watch for are canned pink salmon and fresh fish fillets and steaks, according to the U.S. Department of the Interior.

Fresh vegetables in good supply in all areas are cabbage, carrots, celery, onions and potatoes. Fresh vegetables in good supply in some areas are green beans, cucumbers, lettuce, squash and tomatoes. Apples should be in good supply in all areas. In fair supply in some areas are bananas, grapes and pears.

West (Arizona, California, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Washington, Wyoming):

Eggs are down in all West Coast markets. Poultry is steady in all markets with only whole and cut up ready-to-cook chicken fryers slightly higher in Portland.

Butter prices are firm in all markets.

Both fresh and smoked pork prices are uneven with fresh loins down in San Francisco and Portland. Boston butts are down in Portland and spareribs down in Portland and in San Francisco. Smoked hams are down in San Francisco and sliced bacon is up in Portland.

Wholesale prices on beef, calf and lamb remain steady. Fruits and vegetables in best supply include apples, bananas, grapes, pears, carrots, celery, cucumbers, lettuce, onions and tomatoes.

Greenbrae P-TA Has New Leader

Strengthening the whole development of the child is the purpose of the Greenbrae Parent-Teacher Association under the direction of its new president, Mrs. Dan P. Dougherty of Greenbrae. This is done through a good relationship between parents and the school, believes Mrs. Dougherty.

Grade level coffee hours, for parents with the teacher, are planned to familiarize them with the completely non-graded program soon to be in effect at Greenbrae. A family life series will begin in January with parents and children invited to participate. Six speakers will be presented through cooperation with the other two P-TAs in the Kentfield School District.

Mrs. Dougherty carries her interest in children into her duties when she teaches at the First Presbyterian Church church school. She is also active in the Marin Association for Mental Health, PEO and the Couples Club of her church.

Mr. and Mrs. Dougherty have lived in Marin County 15 years and are the parents of three children: David, 10, and 8-year-old twins, Philip and Katie.

Norma Daugherty has been a member of the P-TA eight years and has served as recording secretary and as art chairman. Tennis, bridge, cooking and playing the piano are also interests of the new president but she enjoys most any kind of family trip or outing.

Assisting Norma with P-TA duties this year are Mesdames John Koster and Lana Walker, vice president; Edward Burke, corresponding secretary; Dan Williams, recording secretary; Thomas Kirkbride, treasurer; Bradford Giles, historian; James Egger, parliamentarian; and Bernard Blumberg, publicity.

IN SELF DEFENSE

Speed Is Best Defense Against Attacker

OTTAWA (AP) — An article on self-defense for women in the current edition of The Canadian Nurse tells how a woman should react if, despite her precautions, she finds herself confronted by a thief, rapist or murderer.

Mrs. A. L. Graham of Ottawa, an editorial assistant for the publication, says police departments differ in their opinions about what a woman should do in individual situations. But they generally agreed she should surrender her possessions without resistance, while fighting like a tiger when her life is at stake.

Mrs. Graham warns, however, that it is illegal in places to carry an offensive weapon or anything designed to be used as a weapon. As well, a weapon could be easily wrested from a woman and turned against her.

For her article, she has drawn on information in a dozen publications dealing with the subject.

"As a woman, your most lethal weapon is speed," Mrs. Graham writes.

"If you think your assailant means business, your only chance is to defend yourself quickly and decisively.

"Use your hands like bear claws and aim for his face; gouge his eyes with your fingernails; blind him and make him scream with pain by twisting a finger in his eye.

"Convert anything that is handy into a weapon and aim for the most accessible area of his body. If you are smoking, jab your lighted cigarette into his face; if you are carrying a heavy purse, swing at his face or lower abdomen; if it is raining, use your umbrella like a bayonet.

"Do not threaten him. Strike. You are dealing with a brute and treat him as such."

Warming to the subject, Mrs. Graham goes on:

"If he grabs you from behind, drive your head back into his nose; if he grabs you by the hand, feint struggle against the main part of his hand and then use the lifesaver's trick of jerking against his thumbs with a quick, decisive motion."

Dr. Tadeuyz Grygier, director of the University of Ottawa's criminology center, is quoted in the article as saying that the individual most likely to commit murder is a person of low intelligence and education, with a general lack of control over his impulses.

Delegation Returns From Woman To Woman Non-Political Trip To Russia

"persecutors," the Baptist churches are the only Protestant churches approved, they said.

Beauty parlors were fair in quality of work, they thought, though there is no such thing as an appointment, and the same equipment is used on all customers without sanitary precautions.

The same lack of sanitation was noted in a new 5,000-room hotel in Moscow, and maintenance was lacking.

IN HUNGARY THE six women said the feeling was ambivalent, friendlier than in Russia but not like Czechoslovakia, where the friendship seemed very genuine and sincere. The people were better dressed in Hungary, and there were more things to buy in the stores than in Russia. The Hungarians greeted them by presenting a rose to each member of the delegation, and in Budapest they were followed by news TV cameras.

One or their most memorable experiences was in Prague, where at the airport they saw Russian soldiers stationed at both ends of the field. Two Australians on the plane commented that they didn't know whether the American women were "60 of the bravest women in the world or 60 nuts."

On talking with Czech women, delegates learned that many of the Russian soldiers had thought they were being sent to Germany and were dismayed when they landed in Czechoslovakia. One woman told them the men had no one to care for them and had to eat raw potatoes and mushrooms.

THE CZECH WOMEN wanted very much to know the Americans, they said, and felt that the trip was one of the most wonderful things to let them know that the American people care and want peace. They said, "Thank you for your courage in coming to us in our time of trouble. Please come back when our country is normal."

In Prague one of the Americans gave her coat to a maid in a hotel because she seemed to need one so much.

This was the general spirit of the tour, for the American women were not always on the receiving end of entertaining. They had women of the countries they visited as guests at luncheons and dinners and gave them some gifts. Among the interesting women members of the British parliament they entertained at dinner in London was Lady Dora Gaitskill, wife of the late Lord Hugh Gaitskill, who is now one of England's representatives at the United Nations.

She summed up the whole idea of the trip, they felt, when she commented, "I would like to say, ladies, that the thing is that the home should be the center of a woman's life, but not her boundary."

Stew Notes

Adding vegetables to a meat stew near the end of the cooking time is a familiar practice. For an interesting flavor variation, do as some French chefs do and add the vegetables at the beginning. Brown the meat, add water to barely cover, and then add chopped onions and celery leaves, sliced carrots and celery. By the time the meat is tender, the vegetable flavors will have cooked right into the meat. They'll make a delicious gravy, too.

She Backs 'Quiet' Revolution

Mrs. Margot Higgins, a widow and a grandmother, has found a new career at age 60 as a nutritionist for CARE, the overseas aid agency.

Now that her three children are grown, her former career as a homemaker is completed.

The new one enables her to apply her knowledge and experience to CARE's world-wide program to feed 28,000,000 people in 33 countries.

Mrs. Higgins' interest in nutrition began when she was married in 1930. Remembering her experiences as a child in England during World War I, she decided to learn the science of nutrition so that her children would be healthy.

"When I was in elementary school in Derby, lunch consisted of two slices of bread which were weighed," she said. "It was made of some starchy filler and tasted awful. We had constant colds. Most of us were always sniffly and anemic."

Since she already had an honors degree in French from the University of London, Mrs. Higgins enrolled in a two-year program in nutrition at London Polytechnic College.

In 1939, the young mother and her family left England, came to the United States and settled near New Orleans during World War II. Three limiting conditions then, she said, were rationing of meats, fats and canned goods; meat shortages and food prejudices.

"There was enough if you knew food values and substitutes. Informed people bought calves' heads or pigs' feet, which were ration-free. Many didn't realize the food-value of the local poor people's diet of red beans and rice," she pointed out. "A knowledge of nutrition is invaluable in a hardship situation."

CARE's millions of beneficiaries are all in hardship situations. Some are refugees; some are victims of earthquakes, flood, famine or other disaster, but most suffer the continuing hardship of inefficient farming methods, harsh climate, poor soil and low-yielding seeds.

CARE food is distributed in emergencies to relieve immediate needs and in long-term programs to improve living conditions coordinated with self-help projects in health, education and economic development.

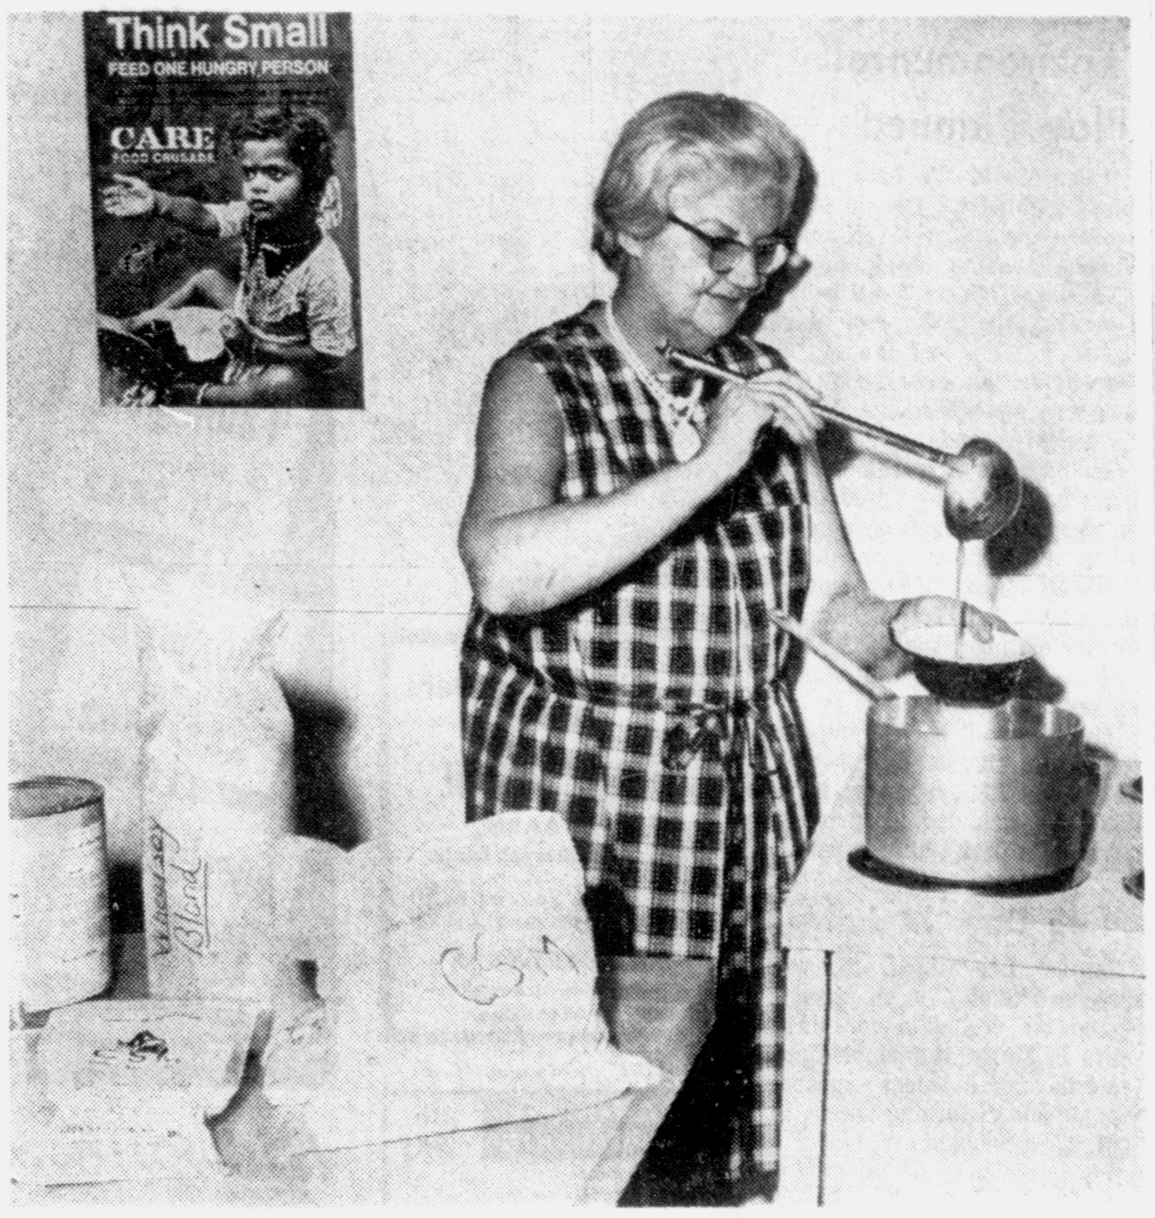
The current CARE Food Crusade provides a way for American donors to send 6,000,000 food packages overseas for $1 each. One of the most important long-term programs is to improve the mental and physical development of 20,000,000 school children by improving their diet.

Every day, the children are given meals, made with combinations of milk powder, flour, wheat, vegetable oil and CSM, a formula of corn meal, soy flour and milk powder. The meals are made to resemble local dishes as closely as possible. Mrs. Higgins collects and adapts these recipes from CARE missions in Asia, Africa and Latin America.

"New foods must be put in familiar clothes," she explained, "because of all prejudices, those about food are the strongest and even more so among people who can least afford them. People accustomed to rice, for example, would find it difficult to accept wheat or corn."

Even the name of a food is important, Mrs. Higgins noted. She recalled an incident in Turkey when children were served frankfurters. They were told that in America the dish is called hot dogs. When this was translated into Turkish, sicak kopek, the children were horrified. Quickly realizing the blunder, the American counselor told them it was just a nickname and that hot dogs were really the purest of beef.

"Feeding school children is like an investment in the future," the CARE nutritionist explained. "Certainly, they will be healthier adults, but immediate results can be seen too. They become more alert; they learn more quickly; and they resume a normal growth pattern. You might call it the 'quiet revolution.' "



SOMETHING'S COOKING at CARE, and the cook is CARE's nutritionist, Mrs. Margot Higgins, a grandmother who began a new career at age 60. She is finding a way to fit CSM, a high-protein food, into a local recipe of India. CSM is a combination of corn meal, soy flour and non-fat dry milk, which is one of the foods distributed by CARE to 28 million people in 33 countries.

Headache Bands Cause No Pain

Some women are wearing headache bands because they go well with their '20s and '30s revival fashions. Others wear them to identify with Pocahontas because red-blooded Indian fashions, complete with suede, fringe and beads, have come back with the hippie kick.

Nobody yet has come up with a substantial reason why those bandages around the forehead are called "headache" bands. Do they cause a pain? or prevent one.

Like the eyepatch they are without purpose or meaning other than that they are fashion.

'WEST SIDE STORY' RETURNS

Arlington Burial Not For Jackie

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon says it would take some rule bending for Jacqueline Onassis to be buried in Arlington National Cemetery beside her former husband, John F. Kennedy.

The Defense Department, pressed for space in the cemetery, adopted last year a rule making a widow ineligible for burial in the cemetery if she remarries.

Furthermore, said the Pentagon, Kennedy's children are eligible for burial in the cemetery only until they become 21.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The Council's findings are from California and National P-TA magazines and the "Film Report" of the Film Estimate board. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael or Mill Valley libraries.

FAMILY

"The Two of Us" — A tender French film gently mocks prejudice. The film is beautiful, funny, but above all else a moving experience.

ADULTS AND TEENS

Five Card Stud — Involved story of western vengeance and suspense is played by a name cast. Some of dialogue is quite suggestive.

Heart Is a Lonely Hunter — A rather sad story about a deaf-mute who in his loneliness touches the lives of many. Compassionate tale is tenderly told and played with rare perception.

No Way to Treat a Lady — Farcical melodrama about a woman strangler, showcasing multiple talents of Rod Steiger as an impersonator. Well supplied with macabre humor.

Salt and Pepper — With emphasis on violence, spoofing all the spy spoofs, this farce makes ample use of escape gadgets, comic sleuthing, broad gags and casual bedroom activity.

West Side Story — Brilliant fusing of drama, ballet and music, against backdrop of poverty and racial tension. New York's jungle warfare between teen-age gangs is menacing and alive.

BORDERLINE
(Some say Adults Only)

The Collector — A young mentally deranged man captures beautiful young girl. Plot tortures audience as the diabolical, repulsive fiend works out his social and sexual frustrations on his innocent victim.

The Graduate — This satirical comedy is subject to various interpretations. Young man from college becomes involved in a torrid affair . . . scenes of night club entertainer distateful.

How Sweet It Is — Comedy revolves around a group of hippy-oriented youth on a European tour. Confused ethics, tasteless dialogue and very sexy love scenes keeps this film out of a different classification.

ADULTS ONLY

The Fox — Based on novel by D. H. Lawrence. Lesbian theme handled tastefully but scenes of passion are explicit.

Good, Bad and the Ugly — Italian made western glutted with ugly violence and murder. Bizarre score and unsparing photography accentuate the films' brutality and offensive situations.

I Love You, Alice B. Toklus — This satire makes free love and drugs seem the life of happiness.

'Environmental' Play Planned

"The World We Live In," a play adapted by Dennis Moyer from the Karel Kapek Czechoslovakian production of "The Insect World," will be produced by the College of Marin drama department in December, Robin Jackson, director, announced.

Natural sounds, smells and other features of real life will be included in the production, Jackson said, which he described as "environmental theater."

Margo Jones will choreograph the play, and Terry McNeill, former arranger for the Sopwith Camel, has been commissioned to write original music.

The play will be presented in the Studio Theater at 8:30 p.m. Dec. 6-8 and 11-14, and matinees will be scheduled if there is enough demand, Jackson said.

45 Days In Jail

Samuel Lee Royal, 25, was sentenced to 45 days in jail and placed on probation for three years in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for indecent exposure Sept. 19 and disturbing the peace Sept. 17 in Sausalito.

ABAG Panel Rejects Hub's Lack Of Quorum Question

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY —San Anselmo City Council's protest that the Association of Bay Area Governments' general assembly meeting last month was illegal because no quorum was present was politely rejected last night by ABAG's executive committee. (Another ABAG story, page 1.)

Committee members unanimously approved a motion by Marin Supervisor John F. McInnis to thank the council "for bringing this matter to our attention," and to have a policy drawn on how to determine at future assembly meetings whether a quorum is present.

Present assembly bylaws allow the chairman to declare a quorum on the basis of the registration for an assembly meeting, but the executive committee agreed this should be changed to require a quorum based on a roll call.

ABAG's attorney ruled at the September meeting that enough delegates were present to vote, but San Anselmo City Councilman James F. Reed disputed the ruling and had the council protest the assembly meeting.

Reed cast the only dissenting vote in a 43-1 vote at the assembly meeting on approval of policy recommendations to guide final preparation of a Bay Area regional plan.

The executive committee of the Association of Bay Area Governments also:

MEETINGS — Voted to poll ABAG members on their reaction to proposals that the general assembly meet three or four times a year, instead of semi-annually, to increase members' interest in attending assembly meetings.

AUDIT — Allocated $2,500 for additional auditing and legal services to help recover the $511,000 of ABAG funds stolen earlier this year by ABAG's former assistant director, Thomas N. Truax. ABAG already has spent $4,500 to auditing and legal services in the effort to recover the funds.

PROPOSITIONS — Declared its opposition to Proposition 9 and support of Proposition 1-A on the Nov. 5 general election ballot.

MARIN — Endorsed Marin County's application for a federal urban planning assistance grant of $63,618 toward the $175,621 cost of the first phase of a countywide planning program. The federal government requires that ABAG review such applications.

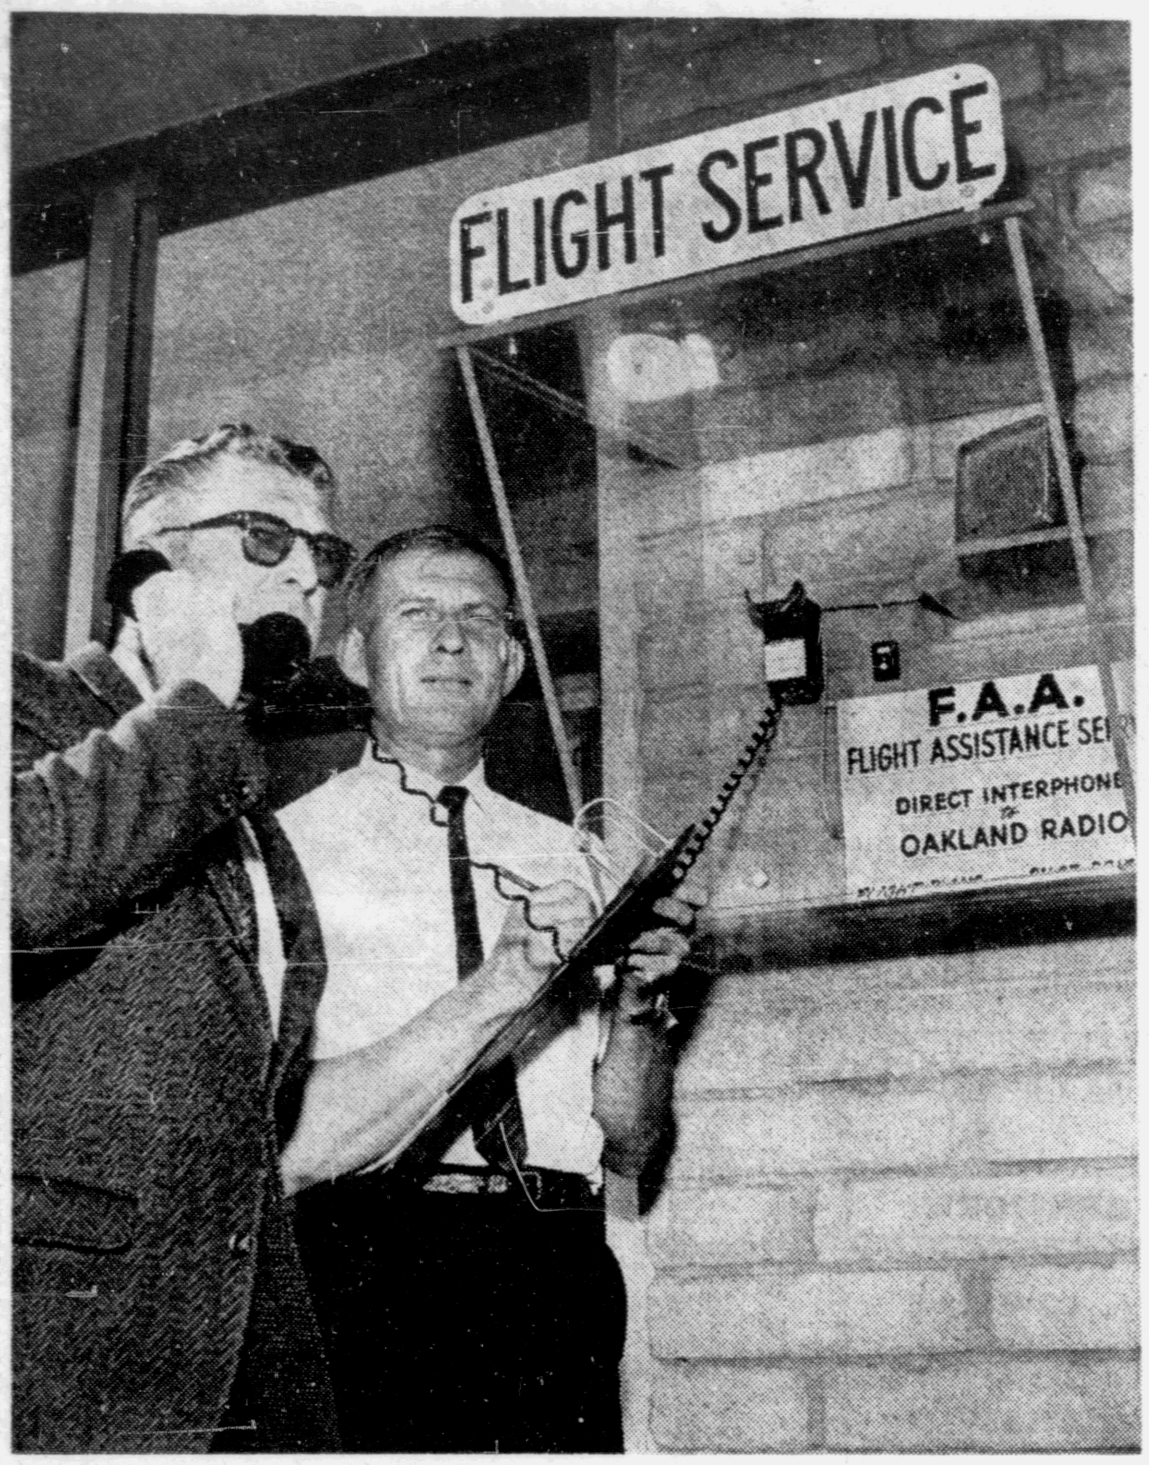
Marin Airport Enters New Era



WEATHER REPORT — Francis F. Torr, airport manager, gets a direct telephone weather report from Oakland on the line which is also used for filing flight plans, while Walter Hazelgrove, assistant manager, stands by.

Supervisor Gnoss Has His Day Today

Marin County's airport, north of Novato, was to be dedicated as Gnoss Field at 3 p.m. today in honor of Novato Supervisor William A. Gnoss, heralding a new era at the airport.

In keeping with the aeronautic aspect of the event, a mid-air ribbon cutting ceremony was scheduled with a small plane flying through a ribbon suspended in air by balloons.

Gnoss, whose persistent efforts led to airport development, and Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, were to be in the plane.

The program included the unveiling of a memorial plaque containing the names of county supervisors and aviation commissioners.

The plaque, reading across its top, "Gnoss Field Facility, Marin County Airport System," was mounted on an eight-ton boulder brought to the field from dead man's curve on Lucas Valley Road.

An F-106 fighter plane from Hamilton Air Force Base was to make a low pass over the field while planes from the Civil Air Patrol, Marin Aviation and Navair Inc., operators at the field, joined in a fly-by.

Clausen and Ernest N. Kettenhofen, chairman of the Marin supervisors, were scheduled to address the gathering, and the Hamilton Air Force Band to play.

After the ceremonies there was to be open house conducted by the two base operators of hangars and other facilities, and a display of light planes.

The airport was started 18 years ago when Harry Tollefson started the east-west runway, and taught flying as the Tollefson Flying Service.

In 1959 Marin County made an agreement with William Q. Wright, owner of the land, and Tollefson, to operate it as a county airport.

In 1966 the county purchased the land for the present airport for $126,560 from Wright. Work was started on the present $310,687 facility in June 1967. During construction, pilots expressed concern about the deep ditches at the side of the runway, but these were later leveled out to eliminate that danger, airport manager Francis E. Torr said.

The county purchased Tollefson's contract and he moved his flying service from the county airport in July of this year.

Last month the state transportation agency made a grant of $5,000 for additional land acquisition, $7,400 for additional aircraft parking and $1,500 for a safety fence.

"This airport facility will be developed in stages with the runway extended and lighted, a cross wind runway constructed and lighted and a traffic control tower all eventually constructed," said Torr, speaking of future plans for the airport.

BUSY HANGAR—Working at the Marin Aviation hangar are (from the left) Richard Duste, company president; David Hayden, service manager, and Rick Duste.

Parole Officer In Prison To Learn Chaplain's Job

By ALAN JONES

Parole Officer Elijah L. Owens said goodby to his family last November and signed himself into San Quentin Prison for a year — as a Protestant chaplain.

Owens, a Methodist minister for 17 years, changed places with Chaplain George R. Tolson, who took over Owens' caseload of 40 parolees in Long Beach.

It was the first such exchange in San Quentin's history and possibly in the state. As Owens explained, the problem was to find someone qualified for both jobs.

Owens took on the chaplaincy, he said, aiming for one of two futures — as prison chaplain or in creating a new role in penology: the parole chaplain.

Owens will complete his year at San Quentin this week, a year in which, according to senior chaplain Byron A. Eshelman, he has "earned a real spot in the hearts of the men."

Until a year ago, Owens was a full-time parole officer in Long Beach and pastor of the Free Methodist Church in nearby Orange. Before entering parole work four years ago, he was a social worker for the Los Angeles County welfare department.

On coming to San Quentin, "I wondered how the men would think of me, a parole agent," Owens said, "but I've been very well received." That included his reception by six of his former parolees who have returned to prison. All six have visited him, and didn't seem to bear any ill will for their new sentences, Owens said.

The year inside the walls, he said, has given him a better understanding of "the fears of the men on the inside," and a new appreciation of the San Quentin staff.

"I've confirmed what I always believed," he said. "It's most important to be fair and to be interested in everyone concerned."

Owens is living in bachelor quarters at the prison, not wanting to disrupt his family twice in a year. He commutes to Long Beach about two weekends a month to see his wife and two daughters, he said.

His daily routines include counseling 500 men a month, conducting Sunday services for an average attendance of 150 men and serving as go-between for inmates and outside agencies to help them or their families. The most frequent calls are for help with family problems, Owens said.

Owens has outlined his plan for a parole chaplaincy in a letter to department of corrections officials. Several functions could be handled by a combined pastor-parole officer, he said.

He said the chaplain would provide an "official but non-authoritarian" figure parolees could turn to when they fear contact with a regular parole officer. The chaplain would carry through religious help given inside the prison, and could help the parolee find work, counsel his family, visit jailed parolees, visit with families of inmates and serve as liaison to ex-convict groups such as the Seventh Step Foundation or Yokefellows.

The chaplaincy would add spiritual treatment to other facilities available for the parolee. "We must treat the whole man," he said, "not ignore his spiritual nature."

Whether his dream of a parole chaplaincy comes true or not, Owens will return to his parole work next week with a new insight into the forces and factors that have shaped his parolees during their prison terms. Tolson will return to San Quentin with new understanding of what prisoners will face on the outside.

Their experience may help prevent a few of San Quentin's inmates from crossing the law's path again and returning to the big lockup.

Mexican-American Talk Is Scheduled

Lino Lopez, director of the Mexican-American Services Agency in San Jose, will speak on "Problems of Education of the Mexican-American" at Sonoma State College Wednesday at noon in front of The Commons.

Lopez has been working under a Rosenburg Foundation grant to study problems of Mexican-Americans in San Jose, according to Candido Morales, president of the sponsoring Chicano Club at the college.

Dogs From Petaluma Among Starving Ones

Animals sold by the City of Petaluma were among those found starving at a Berkeley laboratory animal supply firm in a raid Saturday night by police and state humane officials.

Charges of animal cruelty were brought against Daniel Owyang and Peter M. Zamboanga, co-owners of the A.Z.O. Research Association. Officials reported finding 47 starving dogs in 20 filthy cages, 20 cats in 12 cages and white laboratory mice running loose.

Officials said they found cats eating bodies of dead cagemates and one Humane Society spokesman called the scene a "backyard Buchenwald." Ten of the animals had to be destroyed.

"When they first approached us to sell them our animals, Police Chief Larry D. Higgins made a check into the background of each man and found them both to be clean," City Mgr. Robert H. Meyer said.

"The U.S. Department of Agriculture makes checks of these animal supply firms every two weeks and didn't report anything irregular to us until last week when they recommended we stop the practice," he said, noting the sales were stopped immediately. The dogs brought the city $2 each.

"There were other firms that offered us more, but this seemed like one of the best suppliers since some of their customers were the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Standford Research Institute," Meyer said. He said animals that were sold had been kept at the local shelter a minimum of five days and would have been destroyed.

Zamboanga and Owyang pleaded not guilty Monday in Berkeley-Albany Municipal Court and were freed on $550 bail each.

Terra Linda Rec Manager Will Resign

Jacqueline O'Dwyer, business manager-secretary of the Terra Linda Recreation and Park District, announced yesterday she will resign Oct. 31.

District directors will meet at a special session at 8 p.m. today at the Terra Linda Community Center to name a successor.

Mrs. O'Dwyer's resignation confirmed rumors that she was the topic of discussion at a sudden closed meeting held at 1:30 a.m. on Oct. 9. At that meeting, a decision was apparently made to ask for Mrs. O'Dwyer's resignation.

Mrs. O'Dwyer acknowledged that she had been asked to resign. Asked whether she would request a hearing, she said, "It wouldn't be worth the effort. I tried to work with them (the directors) but it has not worked out." She did not comment further.

Rumors circulating in the community indicate that a Terra Linda housewife has been tapped to succeed Mrs. O'Dwyer.

Mrs. O'Dwyer is the latest in a series of district officials who have been dismissed or resigned under fire.

Since William A. Gordon (now recreation director in Marinwood) quit in January of 1966, Terra Linda has had six recreation directors alone.

U.N. DAY SPEAKER

Youth Rebellion Portends Fascism, Clergyman Fears

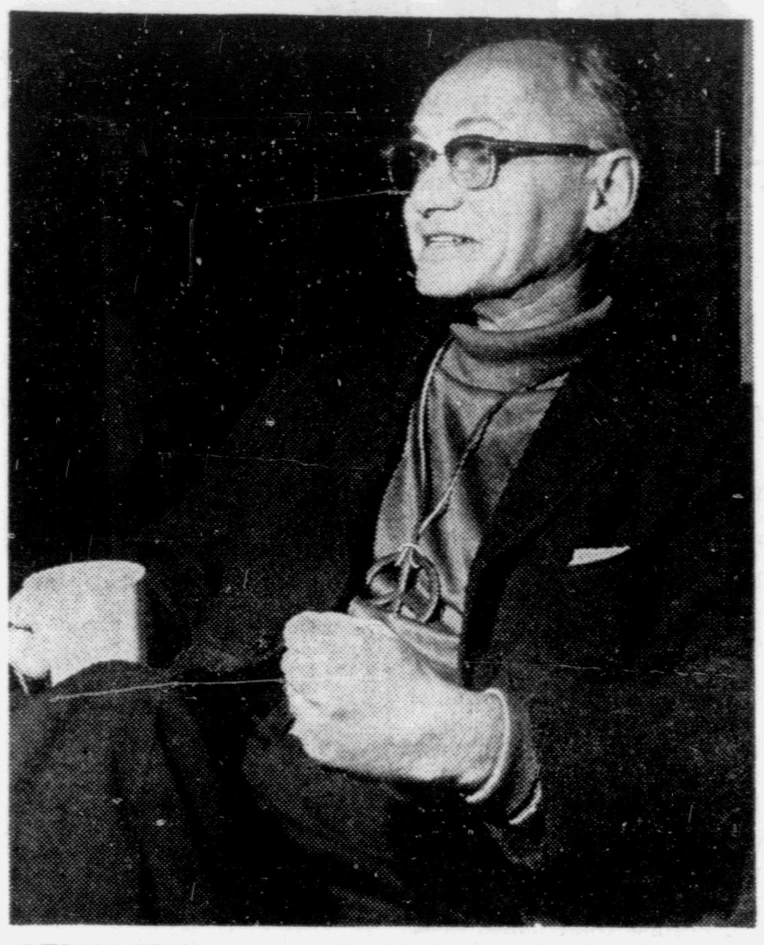
By DAVID DIETZ

Youth's stormy resistance to the Establishment will lead soon to a "pro-fascist" period in American society, a United Church of Christ official believes.

Rev. Willis Elliott, a high-ranking secretary in church headquarters in New York City, predictetd yesterday the "imprisonment of people like me who are radicals in speech and assembly."

Dr. Elliott (he holds a Ph.D. from the University of Chicago) is in Marin County to address the annual dinner of the Marin County Chapter of the United Nations today, United Nations Day. The dinner will be at 7 p.m. at the Unitarian Church in Terra Linda.

Dr. Elliott did not know when the pro-fascist period would start, but said it would be a brief, retaliatory "effort to suppress freedom of speech and assembly."



RETALIATION?—Rev. Willis Elliott of the United Church of Christ sees a fascist period coming in America as a result of the youthful rebellion. (Independent-Journal photo by Bob Hax)

Calling himself an "evangelical radical," Dr. Elliott offered views which may or may not find support among members of the United Nations Association tomorrow.

Some of these views are:

1. "I have been for Ho (Chi Minh) since 1945. He is the most viable leader among the Vietnamese. He is what I call a rice Communist; he is seizing upon communism for a purpose. He has no more use for chairman Mao than LBJ has."

2. "We need to learn repentance (on Vietnam). Our real motives are as a sinning, powerful nation, although we are now a self-righteous, powerful nation."

3. The youthful rebellion is the "most exciting thing going on in America today."

Dr. Elliott, who also identifies himself as a teacher, author and "dialoguer" with black militants and hippies, said he has visited numerous hippie residences since coming to California.

While invited to address the United Nations group, Dr. Elliott actually is between teaching assignments at the University of California at Berkeley.

"Youth is asking itself, 'What sort of society would I want to fit into and how do I use my energies to get that type of society,' " said Dr. Elliott, who believes he is able to communicate with rebellious blacks and whites because "I'm as turned off of the society as they are, although I live in it."

He considers armed militancy by blacks "saber rattling" and sees the "threat of violence" as a force for change in the American society.

"There is no need for bloodshed," he said. "God has given us the resources."

Real Estate Board Backs Proposition 9

Directors of the Marin County Real Estate Board have endorsed Proposition 9 (Watson Amendment), the controversial tax relief measure before the voters Nov. 5.

Their action came at a special session Tuesday. Directors said property owners who own only 15 per cent of the total wealth of the state pay nearly 80 per cent of the tax burden and this trend must be reversed.

The proposition, which would limit property taxes to 1 per cent of market value and phase out the use of property taxes for schools and welfare services, is reasonable, the directors contended.

"Schools must be provided a wider tax base rather than being dependent upon the over-taxed property owner for support at the polls," the board said.

Directors also contended that Proposition 9 could be put into effect without increasing sales or personal income tax rates.

Vandals Hit House In Petaluma Tract

Vandals broke a large window and smeared stucco mud on the outside of a house under construction in the East Park development of Petaluma Wednesday night, police reported.

Steven Kunselman, of the development firm, said damage was estimated at $60 to the house on Orinda Drive.

COOL CHECK PASSER

Wanted Man Poses For His ID Picture

Not many criminals are obliging enough to pose for official pictures, but a man suspected of passing at least seven stolen payroll checks in Marin did just that, according to San Rafael police.

Police said the suspect was using a temporary driver's license as check-cashing identification, but had to pose on Aug. 26 for his picture for a permanent license at the Corte Madera Department of Motor Vehicles office in order to get the temporary license.

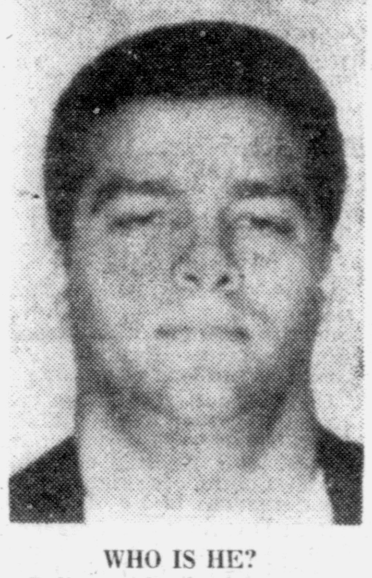
The suspect started with stolen identification papers and checks.

Identification was that of Raymond N. Maes of Sacramento, whose car and identity papers were stolen in June. The checks were stolen from United Fork Lift Associates and Broadway Manor Restaurant both in San Francisco.

On Aug. 26, the phony Maes applied for the new driver's license, saying he had lost the old one. He gave a false San Rafael address.

Next day, he went to the San Rafael address, and asked if his temporary license had been delivered there by mistake. The occupant had returned it to the postman, so he coolly went to the post office and picked it up there.



WHO IS HE?
Police seek check-passer

Armed with the temporary license, he began cashing checks from $76 to $127 in Mill Valley, Tamalpais Valley, Tiburon, Bel Aire, San Rafael and Novato.

On Oct. 10, a liquor store clerk recognized his bad check — the suspect had passed one like it a few days before at a Novato liquor store belonging to the same chain. The check artist escaped on foot, but more trouble was waiting.

A story of the Oct. 10 incident appeared in the Independent-Journal next day, and on Oct. 12, "Maes" showed up again in Novato and tried to cash a check at the D and L Market, 850 Grant Avenue.

Clerk John Dent had read the I-J, and seized the suspect to hold him for police. In the struggle, the suspect escaped but Dent had ripped free his shirt, his wallet and a sandal.

Police found the temporary driver's license in the wallet, and with it got a picture of the bogus Maes from the Department of Motor Vehicles in Sacramento.

The wallet also contained the real Maes' identification except for three credit cards still missing.

There have been no reports of further check-cashing attempts by the suspect since the Oct. 12 scuffle, Souza said.

Novato police said the suspects picture will be shown at a Nov. 6 meeting of check investigators for the Bay Area in hope of tracing him.

COLLEGE BUILDING COSTS GOING UP

New Estimates For Kentfield, Novato Campuses Increase Ante By $6.9 Million

By ROSS DAVIS

New construction for College of Marin and the proposed north campus near Novato will cost almost $6.9 million more than the earlier $27.4 million estimate, it was learned last night by the citizens' committee appointed to review Marin Junior College District finances.

The result, trustees were told, means an ultimate shortage of more than $22.5 million for the entire project — including complete development of the Kentfield and Novato campuses — and a need to raise about $8 million locally to undertake the first phase of construction.

Dale E. Fleming, director of planning and research, said the newly released figures disclose that the capital improvement costs for both campuses through 1981 now are calculated to total $34,270,800.

This, he said, entails $13,895,500 for construction at the College of Marin at Kentfield, and $20,375,300 for the north campus.

The latter includes nearly $14 million for its first phase, expected to be completed in 1972, and a second phase of $5.7 million in 1976-77. About $6 million of first phase funds would come from state and federal sources, he said.

Fleming said the $27.4 million estimate was one presented the district board last spring by Management and Economics Research Inc., educational consultants after a study and projections for the college. That estimate, however, has been increased to the $34.3 million because of higher costs in almost all phases, according to Fleming.

These include cost of buildings, renovation, utilities and site development, parking, and site acquisition, he said. "We just know more now than we did then," Fleming added.

In the fresh look at campus planning, he told the 11 attending members of the 15-member committee that the 10-year, 35-cent override tax will bringin $9,966,500 through 1972, when it expires. This, plus $1,645,600 that the district will have as cash balance by the end of this fiscal year, is $22,658,700 short of the $34.3 million needed, Fleming said.

The primary concern of the committee, he said, will be recommending to the board of trustes how the shortage can be rectified.

The 35-cent override tax passed by a narrow vote June 5, 1962. Dr. William K. Ramstad, executive secretary for the committee and former college president, told the group last night that one solution could be a bond issue.

Fleming said the Novato campus is expected to open with an initial capacity of about 1,600 students, and to handle 3,500 students by 1980. About $6 million of the needed $14 million in the initial stage can be expected from outside sources including state and federal funds, he said. The remainder must be raised locally.

Fleming added that the $34.3 million estimate includes expected inflation costs of 4 per cent a year.

The committee, named by the district board to come up with recommendations for the future of the two campuses, also discussed attendance and tuition for nondistrict residents at College of Marin.

Dr. Ramstad said there are about 4,400 daytime students this year at College of Marin. Norman Bird, district business manager, said no tuition is charged residents of the district or residents attending the college but from another district. He said tuition is charged for students from out-of-state and for residents of California not living within a junior college district.

Prompted by questions from member Jean Enemark about residence requirements, Dr. Ramstad said a recommendation that the board take a "good look" into the legal requirements could be a worthwhile function of the committee.

Rex T. Silvernale, committee chairman, said the next meeting to review the cost of operation at College of Marin will be at 8 p.m. Nov. 14 at the Bank of Marin, San Rafael.

Drunken Driving Fines Given Out

Three persons were fined and given probationary periods in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving offenses on county roads.

Vincent Conrad Luebbers, 49, of 200 Bolinas Avenue, Apt. 27, Fairfax, was fined $100 and given six months of probation.

George Lee Crawford, 33, of 1142 Elm Street, Novato, was fined $150 and placed on probation for six months.

Patricia Ann Kennedy, 38, of 76 Paseo Way, Greenbrae, was fined $200 and place on six months of probation.

Cyclist Injured In Mill Valley

A Mill Valley youth was injured yesterday when the motorcycle upon which he was riding collided with a car on a narrow Mill Valley hillside street.

Treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut left arm was Patrick duPree, 21, of 115 La Goma Avenue.

Police said DuPree was riding down Eleanor Avenue at 4:20 p.m. when he rounded a curve and collided with a car driven by Audrey Wilton, 40, of 215 Tamalpais Avenue, Mill Valley.

HAZY COVER MAY VANISH BY TOMORROW

The smoky, hazy blanket covering much of Marin yesterday and today was due to light winds and cool ground air and may vanish tomorrow.

The Weather Bureau predicted less haze and westerly winds from 10 to 20 miles per hour for tomorrow.

That's not really smog in the air, according to the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, which yesterday recorded an oxidant reading of .10 in San Rafael. Ted McHugh, information officer for the district, said that was not a high reading.

Teener Held On Gun, Dope Paraphernalia

Marin sheriff's officers, aided by a county supervisor, arrested a 17-year-old San Rafael boy who had a pistol and narcotics equipment in front of the courthouse last Friday, they announced today.

Inspector Charles Prandi of the juvenile division said he had heard earlier that the boy was carrying the pistol. When he saw him in a truck that afternoon, he stopped him, he said.

As the boy was denying knowledge of a pistol, Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen walked up and told Prandi he had seen the boy throw a packet from the truck to the courthouse lawn.

The supervisor led them to a discarded bulb syringe and needle, Prandi said. A search of the boy's jacket produced an Italian-made Berretta pistol, he said.

The boy was booked at juvenile hall.

Novato Teachers Press Pay Demand

The negotiating council of Novato teachers reaffirmed its demand last night for an 8 per cent salary increase, but agreed to discuss with the teachers of the district any offer made by the district trustees.

The council met for nearly two hours with school officials and three members of the Novato Unified School District board with no sign of a quick solution.

The meeting opened a series of separate and joint meetings by the parties during the next four days.

There has been no open threat of a strike, and Donald White, president of the negotiating council, said today it is the policy of the 450 members of the Novato Teachers Association not to strike.

School trustees said they would meet sometime this weekend to make an offer to the teachers. Supt. James G. Bunker has said that, with extra state funds, by adding an amount from reserves and by slicing the 1968-69 budget, the district would have $241,500 to give teachers and classified employees a 4 per cent increase.

The 8 per cent increase would cost the district $456,655, according to the teachers association, and raise the present scale of $6,000 to $12,750 to $6,480 to $13,770.

Classified employees are seeking a 5 per cent raise.

"The teachers have had it; they wouldn't even accept a 7.5 per cent increase," said Gregg de Gear, a member of the negotiating council.

Another member, George de Tuncq, said the district should eliminate bus transportation and not open San Marin High School this year to provide raises. He represents the 25 members of the more militant American Federation of Teachers on the council.

In past years, the Novato school board has made up its budget and then put extra money into teachers' salaries. Last year the teachers were granted an 11 per cent increase, and the annual step increases for this year amount to 3.9 per cent, Bunker said.

Trustee Lenora Dougherty asked council members if current negotiations would be helped if the board agreed to set a salary schedule before adopting the budget next year.

De Tuncq said he was "tired of playing the game of shells and peas because the teachers never guessed what shell the pea was under. This year they (the teachers) are throwing it away and playing a new game — their game."

Bunker said the district is paying 85 to 86 per cent of its operating budget in salaries, and that De Tuncq knew that there were certain fixed costs which had to be met.

The teachers are scheduled to consider this weekend's pay proposals by trustees at a general meeting at 2:30 p.m. Monday in the Novato High School gymnasium. School will be dismissed earlier.

The negotiating council will meet again with administrators and trustees at 4 p.m. Tuesday in the school administration building, with a meeting of the trustees to follow at 8 p.m. in Marion School.

Gnoss Predicts 80 Pct. Vote

Election Day should produce a better than 80 per cent voter turnout, County Clerk George H. Gnoss predicted today.

Gnoss based his prediction on absentee balloting so far, which he said had reached nearly 4,000.

"There's quite a bit of county interest in the gun ordinance, and on the national level," he said.

An 80 per cent turnout of the county's 96,695 registered voters would send 76,356 to the polls.

The total vote in the 1964 general election was 77,263, or 88.8 per cent of registered voters.

Once Upon a Time . . .

20 years ago, the first owners had their pick of Belvedere's choicest sites. They picked two lots on the East side of the island with a fabulous view and sunshine almost all day long. It took eleven months to construct this fine home, much more time to complete the landscaping and extensive rock work. There are four bedrooms, 2½ baths plus maid's room and bath, a huge lanai or family room, dining room, and a choice of pool sites. A large view deck and a huge stone patio form a grand entertainment area.

Trustees Shelve Panther Decision

FRESNO (AP) — California State College trustees have delayed until late this year any further action on George Murray, Black Panther minister of education and a teacher at San Francisco State College.

Trustees learned yesterday that the campus faculty and administration are conducting a new investigation of Murray. A few hours earlier, Murray had received scattered applause in a militant speech to a Fresno State College rally.

"Burn the flag to a crisp . . . flush it down a sewer," Murray told an audience that dwindled from about 1,800 to some 600 before he finished speaking.

President Robert R. Smith of San Francisco State told a reporter yesterday that he plans to make a statement on Murray's status next week.

The first public announcement of the faculty-administration investigation of Murray came from trustees Chairman Theodore R. Meriam of Chico.

"It would be inappropriate for this board to take any action today which might interfere with the process of that investigation," Meriam told the trustees, meeting on the opposite side of of the campus from the outdoor amphitheater where Murray spoke.

Trustees voted last month to ask Smith to reassign Murray to duties other than teaching. Smith refused, and emphasized that Murray was entitled to the same due process of investigation and hearing granted any faculty member.

In other action yesterday, trustees voted to ask Gov. Ronald Reagan and the Legislature for $285.5 million in state operating funds for 1969-70.

The board also cast an indecisive 8-8 vote on controversial plans for a student union building at San Francisco State. Meriam said the plans, already modified, will be reviewed again.

In his talk, Murray called trustees "a racist board." But he made no effort to confront the governing board for the 19-campus college system.

"We are slaves," Murray told the audience. "The only way to become free is to kill the slave masters."

Among "slave masters" listed by Murray were "the board of education, the state house, the White House, the Pentagon, the Supreme Court and the Chase Manhattan Bank."

Gas Station's Money Taken In Petaluma

Thieves stole $146 in cash, checks and credit slips from the Douglas gas station, 532 East Washington Street, Petaluma, sometime Wednesday night, police reported yesterday.

Donald De Carli, manager, said the money was in a Bank of Marin money bag and was stolen from the station boffice between 6:30 and 10:30 p.m.

Burglary Sentence: Six Months In Jail

William Thomas Miller, 33, of Santa Rosa, was sentenced to six months in the Sonoma County Jail yesterday after pleading guilty to burglarizing Sonoma Joe's restaurant, Petaluma, Sept. 23. He was caught inside the restaurant, empty-handed.

Judge Joseph P. Murphy Jr., Sonoma Superior Court, denied Miller's request for probation.

New Tragedy For Honored GI Mother

WUERZBURG, Germany (AP) — For the third time within a year, the U.S. Army has sent word of tragedy to Mrs. Pascal Poolaw Sr., chosen the 1968 Mother of the Year by the United Services Organization—USO.

A spokesman for the U.S. 3rd Infantry Division said today that notification had been sent to Mrs. Poolaw in Apache, Okla., of the death of her son, Pfc. Lindy W. Poolaw, 20.

The son died Wednesday at the Landstuhl Army Hospital of head injuries suffered when he was struck by an automobile last Saturday night, the spokesman said. Pfc. Poolaw reportedly had been walking along a highway near the south German village of Rottendorf when the accident occurred. He had been assigned to a 3rd Infantry Division unit at Wildflecken.

Lindy Poolaw had served previously in Vietnam where his father was killed and an older brother lost a leg.

The father, 1st Sgt. Pascal Poolaw, a wounded and decorated Veteran of World War II and Korea, died of wounds in Vietnam last Nov. 7.

His son, Pascal Jr., 25, lost a leg after being wounded by mine fragments near Loc Ninh.

Another son, Donnie, 21, also has served in Vietnam and a fourth son, Lester, is serving with an Army unit in Germany.

Guilty Verdict In Burglary At Market

PITIES BRIGHT STUDENT

Assemblyman Peeks Into L.A. School

LOS ANGELES (AP) —A white assemblyman from wealthy San Mateo County masqueraded for two weeks as a substitute teacher at a predominantly Negro high school and wound up feeling sorry for the smart students.

Discussing the experience yesterday, Leo J. Ryan of South San Francisco said he was surprised at the handicaps which hold back able youngsters.

Ryan, a former teacher and school administrator, is chairman of the Legislature's Joint Committee on Teacher Credentialing Practices. Only top officials at Jefferson High School knew his true identity.

"Perhaps the smart ones could get through school anywhere," the assemblyman said. "But I found out they also are held back by the educational system because of handicaps they start out with and never overcome.

"Something is wrong with the education they are getting."

Ryan offered several suggestions for improving minority schools.

He said such schools must be identified and assigned teachers with special qualities. Such teachers, he said, should draw premium pay and be given more free time to improve themselves.

He also called for an improvement in teaching aids, reduced size of classes and for universities to have classes in Negro history.

He said he was expected to teach geography in a room that had no maps on the walls and no globes to teach latitude. Some of books, he said, "should be long gone from all schools or revised as soon as possible."

The assemblymen told newsmen his purpose in undertaking the two-week experiment was to obtain an understanding of the problems in minority schools. He said he wanted to be able to explain them to "the well-intentioned majority which remains in honest ignorance."

Driver Injured As Cycle Slides Into Parked Car

Cyril Hsu Sia, 24, of 22 Eagle Rock Road, Alto, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with a concussion and cut scalp received when his motorcycle slid into a parked car yesterday in Tamalpais Valley, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said the accident occurred at 1:50 p.m. on Shoreline Highway near the Fireside Inn when a car driven by Victoria Brady, 22, of San Francisco, started a left turn in front of Sia's oncoming motorcycle.

Sia braked, the motorcycle hit gravel and overturned, sliding into a parked car owned by Robert Neill of 665 Northern Avenue, Mill Valley.

The highway patrol cited Miss Brady for failing to yield the right of way and cited Sia for driving without glasses.

$50 Bike Stolen

A bicycle valued at $50 was stolen yesterday from a pickup truck owned by Carl S. Dover of 113 Mono Avenue, Fairfax, while it was parked behind Dover's American Family Steak House at 411 Third Street, San Rafael police said today.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

Mrs. N. writes: "My husband constantly rubs the end of his nose with his finger, hand, or forearm. Most of the time John is not conscious of doing this and gets upset when I bring it to his attention. He claims that his nose itches, but I think it must be a bad habit. Why does he persist, and how can the maneuver be controlled?"

PERHAPS Mrs. N. should believe her spouse when he says he is rubbing his nose because of itchiness.

But more important, why does it itch? The nasal membranes may be too dry or irritated by a mild infection.

The problem may stem from an unsuspected allergy. A variety of measures are used to alleviate the symptoms. Some victims scratch with the hand, others twitch the nose or facial muscles. Still others bat their eyelids or scratch their soft palate with the tongue.

A FOOD ALLERGY is likely, provided there is no local abnormality or disease. This type of allergy is common and perhaps the itchy nose is one of the more bizarre manifestations. Allergens include egg, wheat, corn, milk, peas, nuts, fish, onions, white potatoes, chocolate, and certain fruits. These are commonly eaten edibles, and it may be very difficult to detect the culprit.

Sensitivity to dust, molds, or medications may be causative. In other words, the itching resembles a mild form of hay fever.

OUR READER also may be correct in assuming that hubby's problem is a nervous habit. Some people tug an ear lobe or pick at their fingers or nails while conversing with others, watching TV, or reading a novel.

Nervousness must be considered, especially if this man rubs or twitches his nose when tense or under stress. By the same token, it should disappear when he is relaxed or sleeping. As an alternative, she might give him a Chinese rubbing stone to keep his fingers busy.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

BLUE BABY'S FUTURE

Mrs. B. writes: If surgery on a blue baby has been successful, can the family plan on a normal life for her — or only nearly so?

REPLY

This depends on the nature of the defect. Ask the surgeon if the child will be normal. If not, plan a modified regimen for her. She should be allowed to grow and develop with the fewest possible restrictions. Thus, she will not go through the emotional trauma of thinking she is different and will not become a cardiac cripple.

CLEANING TEETH

I. I. writes: Is it possible to clean every nook and cranny of the teeth with a toothbrush?

REPLY

Food particles that lodge between the teeth are difficult to remove with a brush. It is here that dental floss and the new irrigating devices are most useful. These sprays are especially effective when used after thoroughly brushing the teeth, either with a regular type of brush or those that are electrically operated.

MENOPAUSE TIMETABLE

A reader writes: At what age do the majority of women go through the change of life?

REPLY

Today, 50 is the average. In the past 47 was commonly quoted. Better nutrition, fewer serious illnesses in childhood, and better health deserve the credit.

BEER TO ALCOHOLISM

A. C. writes: Could drinking five bottles of beer Monday through Friday, and 12 each on Saturday and Sunday lead to alcoholism?

REPLY

Yes, because it is easy for a heavy beer drinker to switch over to hard liquor.

Today's Health Hint — The youngster should brush the teeth regularly.

CHARGES 'SECURITY GAP'

Nixon Pledges Pentagon Reshuffle

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, indicting Democratic handling of national defense, pledges a major reorganization of the Pentagon, more influence for top military officers, and more missiles, warplanes and nuclear submarines, if elected.

The Republican presidential candidate, in a nationwide CBS radio broadcast last night, accused the administrations of John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson of "creating a security gap for America"—a phrase reminiscent of Kennedy's 1960 contention that the presidency of Dwight D. Eisenhower had created a missile gap. (See another story, page 1.)

In his most extensive discussion to date of defense policy, Nixon argued that the military decisions of the Kennedy and Johnson teams have put the nation in such straits that by 1970 or 1971 it might even face a "survival gap."

Unless he's elected on Nov. 5, Nixon says, Americans might discover "that we are irretrievably behind in the most critical areas in a few years."

Nixon flew to New York last night after touring 157 miles through eastern Pennsylvania, making four formal appearances and eight impromptu stops.

The GOP candidate will be in New York three more nights. Tonight he makes a live television broadcast to 10 states and the District of Columbia. Tomorrow he will be driving to rallies in suburban New Jersey. And on Sunday he will appear live on the CBS-TV "Face the Nation" program—his first appearance before a panel of reporters on television since 1966.

In his radio speech Nixon said that "in recent years our country has followed policies which now threaten to make America second best both in numbers and quality of major weapons."

The nominee said that the United States under Democratic administrations has gone from first to second in bombers, first to second in tactical aircraft, has virtually lost a 50 per cent advantage in intercontinental ballistic missiles and is steadily losing its advantage in nuclear submarines.

He also pledged to:

Initiate a major reorganization of the Department of Defense to correct its overcentralization and streamline its top-level overstaffing."

"Restore ready access of our top military professionals to the president of the United States."

WALLACE

NEW YORK (AP)—George C. Wallace, protected by the heaviest police detail assigned any candidate this year, received thunderous cheers in Madison Square Garden from supporters who drowned out the boos of hecklers in a tumultuous rally last night.

Unbothered by the dissidents inside, and apparently unaware of several thousand demonstrators outside, the third-party presidential candidate, appearing with his running mate, Curtis E. LeMay, listened with obvious relish to waves of cheers from a less than capacity crowd.

The evening was easily the emotional highpoint thus far in the Wallace campaign and the crowd was one of the most responsive Wallace has attracted.

Whisked into the arena through a side entrance under a heavy police guard, Wallace did not see the scuffles between pickets and police outside.

At one point, mobs pushed through barricades and pelted police with eggs, tomatoes, rocks and bottles. Police said 25 persons were arrested inside and outside and charged on various disorderly conduct counts. One policeman and four other persons were treated for minor injuries.

An estimated 3,000 police were deployed to handle the demonstrators.

Those hecklers who managed to get into the arena were given tickets by Wallace aides when it became apparent the 20,000 seat arena would not be filled. The crowd was estimated at 14,000.

Wallace had planned to outline the national defense plank of his American Independence Party platform, but ignored the text and instead repeated now-familiar views on demonstrators, law and order and national security.

His pledges to restore law and order, and the Vietnam War militarily if negotiations fail, throw Communists out of defense plants, repeal open housing legislation and other promises brought the adoring crowd to its feet time and again.

LeMAY

NEW YORK (AP) — Gen. Curtis E. LeMay says he's been a Republican "all of my life," but became the American Independent party vice-presidential candidate because he believed the GOP "had changed at the top to a mere reflection of its Democratic opposition."

LeMay, who appeared with the third party's presidential candidate, George C. Wallace, at a Madison Square Garden rally last night, drew an exhuberant reception when he appeared with his wife on the platform

LeMay came here for the rally after a day spent campaigning in New England. In East Hartford, Conn., he denied charges by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy that the American Independent Party is directed by extremist groups.

MUSKIE

The Democratic vice presidential candidate made nine speeches in his 250-mile swing through towns affected by the decline of the coal mining industry.

He said the unemployment rate in the region was 12.5 per cent at the end of the Eisenhower-Nixon administration in 1960 and said the Democratic administrations in the years following cut unemployment in Pennsylvania.

Muskie said Richard M. Nixon "wasn't good enough then, and he isn't good enough now."

Nixon was campaigning in the same area but the two candidates never saw each other.

Muskie was to return to New England today, flying to Burlington, Vt., Manchester, N.H. and Portland, Maine.

AGNEW

ST. PAUL, Minnesota (AP) — Republican vice presidential candidate Spiro T. Agnew has begun a retreat from his optimistic prediction that a breakthrough in the Vietnam peace talks is imminent.

In an apparent effort to anticipate announcement from the White House of some agreement in the negotiations, the Maryland governor had told two separate rallies yesterday morning that "it's fully expected that some breakthrough in the Paris peace talks will be reflected, possibly later today or tomorrow."

Both Agnew and Richard M. Nixon have admitted that any major move toward peace in Vietnam would help the chances of the Democrats.

Shortly after President Johnson told a news conference yesterday afternoon that no Vietnam breakthrough was imminent, Agnew began to reverse his optimistic forecasts. He said his original optimism was based purely on speculation.

REAGAN

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — California Gov. Ronald Reagan went to bat for Michigan's Republicans at a $100-a-plate dinner last night and said GOP vice-presidential candidate Spiro T. Agnew has suffered at the hands of newsmen.

"I think kind of a job has been done of Ted Agnew," Reagan said.

"The Ted Agnew I know from governors' conferences is a darn good, sound straight person with good ideas."

Agnew was quoted recently as saying in a Detroit broadcast interview, "To some extent, if you've seen one slum, you've seen them all."

He also stirred controversy when he was quoted as referring to a newsman traveling with him as a "fat Jap."

Reagan said he was concerned with "this constant creating of an image of him, as if he puts his foot in his mouth and reverses himself."

The California governor said a personal check showed "he (Agnew) was not quoted as he should have been." He did not elaborate.

Turning to the attack, Reagan described Democratic presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey as similar to the "hot air machines" used to dry hands in rest rooms.

RAFFERTY

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Republican U.S. Senate candidate Max Rafferty last night said any state college or University of California official who offers amnesty to student protestors should be fired.

In a tough speech ranging from campus rebels to looters in riot areas, Rafferty offered no quarter to those who break the law.

And, looters who fail to heed a policeman's warning should be considered the same as those who commit "arson or assault," Rafferty told 250 persons at an Association of Industrial Advertisers dinner.

However, Rafferty stopped short of urging police to shoot any looters who fail to heed a warning to stop.

The state Superintendent of Public Instruction was scheduled to fly today to Omaha, Neb., for a speech to the Nebraska State Education Association. He planned to return to Sacramento tomorrow, where he will rest Sunday before resuming his campaign Monday in the Los Angeles area.

Rafferty's reference to amnesty for students came as a result of present disturbances on the Berkeley campus.

CRANSTON

SANTA BARBARA (UPI) — Democratic Senate nominee Alan Cranston's message to restless students is to keep their protests within legal bounds or expect to pay the penalty.

He told a statewide university radio audience yesterday he sympathized with some of the student goals but rejected the use of force to gain them.

The former state controller said University of California officials are acting "properly" in arresting students who occupy buildings on the campuses.

He gave his views in a question and answer program originating at the campus radio station here and carried by U.C. stations at Berkeley, Los Angeles, Riverside and Davis, and at the University of Southern California and San Francisco and Sacramento State Colleges.

After a series of appearances here, the Democratic candidate returned to Los Angeles to attend a dinner for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

He took a half day off from his campaign schedule today to prepare for appearances tonight in Contra Costa County.

MRS. SHELL

I-J Special Report

LOS ANGELES — Mrs. Barbara M. Shell, prominent Los Angeles Republican and wife of Joseph C. Shell, today endorsed Alan Cranston, Democratic nominee for the U.S. Senate.

Her conservative husband ran for the GOP nomination for governor against Richard M. Nixon in 1962, and in 1966 and 1967 worked for San Rafael cosmetics tycoon William Penn Patrick.

Mrs. Shell said she would vote for Nixon, but also for Cranston. She praised Cranston's "intelligence and experience," and said "he has a businessman's approach to governmental problems."

The announcement of her endorsement of Cranston, released by Californians for Cranston, did not mention his GOP opponent, Max Rafferty.

Shell and Patrick parted ways in August 1967, reportedly because Shell was embarrassed and unhappy over Patrick's extreme brand of conservatism.

FBI Fingerprint Expert Facing Slap On Ray Talk

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — George Bonebrake, a senior FBI fingerprint expert, has been ordered to show cause Dec. 6 why he should not be held in contempt for allegedly violating orders prohibiting out-of-court comments on the James Earl Ray case.

Judge W. Preston Battle of Shelby County Criminal Court said it was impracticable to hold the hearing before Ray goes on trial Nov. 12 for murder in the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Battle, who will preside at Ray's trial, has issued stringent orders sharply restricting discussion of the case by anyone connected with it. Bonebrake is expected to be a key prosecution witness.

The judge cited Bonebrake upon the recommendation of a committee of seven attorneys he had set up to watch over pretrial news. The committee had advised Battle it believed Bonebrake "has actual knowledge of the aforesaid orders, decrees and injunctions issued by this court . . . there is strong cause to believe that respondent George Bonebrake is in contempt."

Bonebrake was cited for comments he made about his fingerprint investigation. The comments were published in the Wichita, Kan., Beacon.

Battle earlier held Ray's attorney, a private investigator for the defense and two Memphis newspaper reporters in contempt of the pretrial orders on discussion of the case.

Tape Recorder Gone

Sky Weather Eye Works 24 Hours

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (UPI) —The name Nimbus, given to one of the nation's most successful series of weather satellites, comes from the Latin, meaning "rainstorm." Since 1964 U.S. space centers have launched three Nimbus satellites. Now being readied for scheduled launching in May 1969 is the Nimbus B-II, being built by the General Electric Space Systems organization here.

The new "weather eye," weighing 1,260 pounds, will be able to photograph the earth's surface day or night, using infrared sensors to "see" weather conditions on the darkness-shrouded side of the planet.

Rather Warm Day

DEATH VALLEY (UP)— At Greenland Ranch here, a shade temperature of 134 degrees Fahrenheit was registered on July 10, 1913. This is the second highest heat record in the world—the highest, 136 degrees, was at Aziaia, Libya.

BART Financial Woes Worsening

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The financial deficit of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District has increased from $144 million to $146 million in recent weeks and is growing by $1.5 million each month, officials say.

If the situation continues into 1969, director H. R. Lange of Oakland said yesterday, costs will soar to $3 to $4 million extra per month.

This, he said, involves a "bare bones" estimate which includes no closed-citcuit television surveillance for passenger security at stations and no covered walkways at station entrances.

After receiving the gloomy report, the BART directors voted to authorize a committee to meet with Gov. Ronald Reagan about the financial problem.

Halloween Costume Parade Scheduled

The Peacock Gap Homeowners Association will sponsor a Halloween costume parade for children 12 and under at 4 p.m. Oct. 31.

The parade will begin at Riviera and San Marino drives and proceed to the clubhouse at the Peacock Gap Country Club, where prizes for the best costumes will be awarded and hot dogs served. The parade only will not be held in case of rain.

Poll Finds Public Shuns Bay Sports

STANFORD (AP) — Because they fear pollution, a quarter of the 3.6 million persons in San Francisco Bay Area refuse to swim in the bay, a Stanford University professor estimated today.

Prof. Gene Willike based his estimate in a report of a public opinion poll he had taken.

Projecting the survey, he said probably at least one million persons believe that bay fish are contaminated by pollution and unsafe to eat.

Although there is serious pollution in some places, he said, "there appears to be no good reason why large areas of the bay should not be used more intensively for swimming—particularly the region between the San Mateo Bridge and the Richmon-San Rafael Bridge."

on Vietnam

The "Phase-in Phase-out Concept", developed by Don Clausen to solve our present dilemma in Vietnam is now receiving serious and favorable consideration from our responsible national leaders. Called by William Randolph Hearst, Jr. the "best blueprint for ending the war and winning the peace", the plan calls for the creation of Free Asian security forces that would be injected into the ground war to replace a like number of American fighting men . . . on a carefully conceived, methodical and realistic timetable.

As one editorial summed up Don's plan: "It changes our philosophy that the U.S. must fight brush fire wars all over the world . . . It would force countries taking our money and troops for protection to make substantial contributions of their own. It would ease the threat of a major war . . . It would bring American troops back home and ease the tremendous financial strain on our country. We would not be walking away from our commitments. Our compliments to our Congressman Don Clausen for taking the lead with a positive action program to solve the Vietnam dilemma."

U.S. Cagers Go For Gold; More Controversy

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The United States' rag-tag basketball team goes for the gold tonight, while new controversies and charges of fixed wrestling matches arose in these trouble-ridden 19th Olympic Games.

The American gold medal production slowed considerably yesterday—two in swimming — but the margin over Russia increased.

Carl Robie, Drexel Hill, Pa., scored an upset victory in the men's 200-meter butterfly and Debbie Meyer, Sacramento, collected her third gold medal with an Olympic record 9:24.0 in the women's 800-meter freestyle.

88 MEDALS

That pushed the U.S. collection of golds to 37 and a total of 88. Russia, meanwhile, managed only one gold, giving them 16 for the Games and a total of 53.

The United States will be favored in two of the three swimming finals tonight, but the attention will be riveted on the American basketball team's game with Yugoslavia for the Olympic title.

The game will be telecast live to the United States by ABC-TV. (Channel 7, 8 p.m.).

The team, shunned by such collegiate standouts as Lew Alcindor, Elvin Hayes and Don May, has been forged into a tightly knit, precision crew by Coach Henry Iba.

The United States hasn't lost a game, much less the gold medal, since the sport was introduced into the Olympics in 1936, but Iba's team faces a major challenge in the Yugoslavs, who gained the finals by beating Russia.

Three new controversial issues broke yesterday.

Sweden was stripped of its bronze medal in modern pentathlon.

The Olympic Organizing Committee announced that only six representatives from each country will march in the closing ceremonies, a break in tradition.

The U.S. Olympic Committee continues to investigate rumors of under the counter payoffs by manufacturers to athletes to use and display the manufacturers' products.

Sports

And a Dutch cycling team masseur, Sjeng Collard, was sent home to Holland for giving the cyclists vitamin pills against the orders of his national delegation.

"We found certain medicines in his room," said assistant Chef ce Mission Paulus Lut. "We held a meeting and decided he be sent home for going against orders."

Sweden had to give up its bronze medal in modern pentathlon because one team member, Hans Gunnar Liljenvall, was found to have exceeded his alcohol intake before the shooting event. France was awarded the medal.

The Organizing Committee gave no reason for its action in curtailing the number of athletes to march in the closing ceremonies, but it appeared the group wanted to avoid any disorders at the breakup of the ceremonies.

Many athletes objected vehemently.

Jesse Owens, who won four gold medals in the 1936 Games and here as a special member of the U.S. Olympic Committee, was equally dismayed.

"I haven't heard the reasons they made this decision," Owens said, "but I'm sure they must be good ones. Yet, I can't help thinking something important is being lost.

HIGHLIGHT

I've seen every Olympic Game since I participated and have always considered the closing ceremonies, from the human standpoint, the real highlight."

Evans said his charge of thrown wrestling matches "is not sour grapes, because freestyle wrestling is wrapped up. But things were done which never should have been done and something should be said about it.

"I don't mind bad decisions or inferior refereeing jobs, but throwing matches is too much."

Scoring in freestyle wrestling is built on a bad point system. A wrestler is awarded four bad points if he loses by a pin, three for a loss by a decision, two for a draw, one for winning by decision and none for a pin. Six bad points and he's out.

'MAKING DEALS'

"Countries—but I won't name them—threw matches to each other. Coaches were making deals in the third round to take care of each other in different weight classes," Evans said.

"Deals are made before the matches. In order to keep certain wrestlers alive and in competition, one would quit to the other so he wouldn't pick up his sixth bad point."

The United States picked up all its medals in the four swimming events, while Russia suffered a couple of disappointments. Their only gold came in women's team foil, and they were edged out of two others, by Japan in men's gymnastics and by West Germany in equestrian team dressage.

Robie, the 200-meter butterfly winner who labeled himself a "fringe member" of the American swimming team, said he "felt very confident about winning it after the U.S. trials because no one else seemed to be swimming that well." His time was 2:08.7.

Jet-Age Football For Flying Father

PROUD POP — Robert Alvarado fo San Anselmo had a unusually hectic schedule today in order to watch his two sons play football.

Rapid Robert flew to Los Angeles this morning to watch son number one, Don, play for the Stanford frosh against UCLA.

The, rushing from Westwood to the L.A. airport, he was to catch a 5:30 p.m. flight back to San Francisco, followed by a hectic drive to Kentfield to catch son number two, Dave, play for Drake High against Redwood at 8 o'clock.

Incidentally, there was a double local angle to the Stanford-USC frosh encounter last weekend. First, it marked the coaching debut of former Redwood star Jim Troppmann at Stanford and the little Injuns treated him to a thrilling 30-20 victory over the Trobabes.

Scored First Touchdown

The victory was doubly satisfactory in that Don Alvarado, the former Drake High all-everything, scored Stanford's first touchdown on an eight-yard pass. Stanford completed only four passes, but all four were to Alvarado at flanker, good for 62 yards.

AMIGO—I received a Tarjeta Postal Lito en Mexico yesterday. I think that means post card.

Collins has witnessed many big sports events over the years—both indoors and out—but he rated American Bill Toomey's victory in the decathlon last Saturday as "The greatest sports spectacle ever."

Moved By Decathlon Event

Don was particularly moved by the final decathlon event in which Toomey clinched the gold medal. "It was dark and raining," he writes, "and two closest rivals right on Toomey's heels all the way to the end of the last race. Most people had left the stadium, but Joanne, our two kids and I stayed to the end. The Mexicans have been perfect. So friendly."

MARIN MISERY—Hey, our Chamber of Commerce had better look into the matter. Our picturesque hills here in the Bounty County are getting a bad reputation.

Coach Don Vick of DeAnza College in Cupertino, whose cross country team was meeting College of Marin here today, rates the Marin course as ". . . the toughest in our conference. It's a mountain goat course. You run uphill and when you feel you have it licked, you run uphill somemore."

Congrats To Young Champs

It marked the Drake team's first title in 15 years of Warner football. The team celebrated the occasion by dumping all eight coaches into the San Rafael High swimming pool after the game.

Drake plays the Tamalpais Junior Indians in the regular season finale tomorrow, 4 p.m., at Tam High, if you'd like to see the champs in action. But don't go near the pool.

Tigers Are Still Far Behind Packers

NEW YORK (AP) — The Detroit Tigers can buy fur coats for their wives out of their $10,936.66 winning World Series shares but they still are way behind the pro football players.

Each Green Bay Packer pocketed $22,950.96 for winning two games, the National Football League championship and the Super Bowl. There were 40 full shares of $15,000 each for the Super Bowl winner.

The variable factor in baseball's World Series pool has sparked a movement to set a guaranteed winning and losing share for each series, regardless of the size of the ball park.

For example, the St. Louis Cardinals got only $8,314.81 for winning over the Boston Red Sox last year when they played four games in Fenway Park with its limited capacity of 35,000. This year, with games at their own Busch Stadium drawing 54,692 and Tiger Stadium in Detroit with a capacity of 53,634, the Cardinals got $7,078.71 for a full losing share.

If the Red Sox in old Fenwary Park ever get into a Series with Philadelphia (33,608), Pittsburgh (35,000), Chicago (36,644) or Cincinnati (29,603), before they get new parks built in some of those cities, you will hear screaming and moaning from the players about their cut of the action.

The players, of course, participate in the money from only the first four games. Two per cent off the top, after the commissioner's 15 per cent, goes to the two fifth-place teams. The rest of the player pool—60 per cent of the receipts of the first four games—goes to the first, second, third and fourth place teams.

In 1969 when each major league will have divisional playoffs, a different formula probably will be adopted for sharing Series cash. It is possible this may be the time for the guaranteed winning and losing share. The records are held by the Los Angeles Dodgers, $12,794 for winning in 1963 and $8,189.36 as losers in 1966.

The splits for the clubs down to fifth place varied according to the number of shares and partial shares.

A full share of the San Francisco Giants' fourth straight runner-up finish was worth $1,969.14. Second money was $1,904.59 for Baltimore in the American League, including one-half share to ex-Manager Hank Bauer.

Third money was $1,290.48 for Cleveland in the American and $1,267.89 for the Chicago Cubs in the National. Fourth place full shares were $632.48 for Cincinnati in the National and $593.42 for Boston in the American.

The New York Yankees, who used to live it up every winter on full winning shares, happily settled for fifth place and $243.59. Fifth was worth $228.51 for each Atlanta Brave in the National.

Nicklaus Sets Course Record In Aussie Golf

PERTH, Western Australia (AP) — Big Jack Nicklaus carded a magnificent 64 to break the course record by two strokes in the second round of the Australian Open Golf Championships today.

The American star played well after a medicre 71 yesterday and the round included eight birdies and an eagle.

His performance today, eight under par, broke Australian Peter Thomson's four-year-old course record of 66 and put Nicklaus in a first place tie with Australia's Billy Dunk. Both are at 135, nine under par.

The next best is Gary Player of South Africa at 136 and Australian Ted Ball at 137.

Nicklaus went out at 33, picking up 3 birdies, and quickly went five under when coming home with birdies on the 12th and 13th holes.

While Nicklaus blasted his way around the course, Dunk fired another brilliant sub par round, recording a four-under 68 to add to his previous 67.

Thomson was the only leader to crash his round. He got a steady 36 going out but had a disastrous seven on the par four 15th to finish with 37 for a seventh place tie.

Woman Fires Las Gallinas Hole-In-One

Mrs. Ted Steiger fired a genuine hole-in-one at Las Gallinas then went on to beat one of her own witnesses in the second round of the club handicap championspip tournament yesterday.

Mrs. Steiger got her hole-in--one on the 65-yard third hole using a nine iron while Mesdames Bernard Campbell, M. E. Schutte and George Yamamoto watched. Mrs. Steiger went on to defeat Mrs. Campbell on the 18th hole.

At Marin Country Club, Mrs. Hal White took hole-in-one honors with a shot 28 inches from the hole on the 15th. Low gross honors went to Mrs. Dick Warrington at 84 and Mrs. Robert Rich, with a 95-25—70, took low net honors.

The results:

Pro Golfers Smashing Par

COSTA MESA (AP) — Former amateur champion Deane Beman, who gave up a lucrative insurance business to take a fling at professional golf, may regard his new career as something of an insurance risk today.

The 30-year-old Bethesda, Md., pro of only a year led the way into the second round of the 110,000 Haig National Open Tournament with an initial flourish of 64—seven strokes under par and a putting mark of 19 which equalled the PGA record for 18 holes.

SLIM LEAD

But Beman was only one stroke in front. Challenging from four strokes or less back were such threats as Billy Casper, Chi Chi Rodriguez, Al Geiberger, Bruce Crampton, Bob Rosburg and others.

Play is over the short 6,650-yard, par 36-35—71 Mesa Verde Country Club course, where yesterday 61 of the 150 players fractured par.

Beman's 19 putts tied a record shared by Rosburg, Bill Nary and Randy Glover. He might have broken the mark but his ball went in and out of the cup on the final hole.

As Beman humorously put it talking later to Rosburg, "I almost got you but I lipped out on the 18th."

TIED

Casper, after playing straight par for nine holes, finished with 33-35—68 and a tie with six lesser known pros. Rodriguez' 67 put him in a tie with four others.

Beman, who won the U.S. Amateur crown in 1960 and 1963, and the British Amateur in 1959, knocked in putts that ranged from seven feet to a chip shot that flew in from 35 in his 33-31—64 effort. He had four birdies on each nine.

It's Same Story For Oaks: Barry Leads Way To Win

SANTA MARIA (AP) — What the Los Angeles Stars are trying to prove with a new name, new uniforms, a new home, a new coach and some new players, the Oakland Oaks are proving with just one new man on the team.

But to the Oaks, Rick Barry is more than just another player —he's the man with the key to the team's success in the American Basketball Association.

He proved it again last night, pouring in 37 points to pace the Oaks to a 137-126 victory over the Stars in an exhibition game.

Last year, as the Anaheim Amigos, the losers were a flop both on the scoreboard and at the gate. With their own regular season play not yet underway, the Stars have yet to prove themselves at the gate. But on the court they have hardly shown improvement, winning but one of seven preseason games.

The Oaks last year were even worse on the court than the Amigos. But Barry has reversed that trend, leading Oakland to a 3-0 record this year in regular season play. The Stars play their first regular season game Oct. 30, hosting the New Orleans Buccaneers.

Seals To Host Unbeaten Canadiens

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Seals, who started a road trip in last place in the National Hockey League's West Division and ended it at least temporarily in first, are home tonight to face the formidable Montreal Canadiens at 8 o'clck.

Montreal has yet to lose a game and, with a record of 4-0-1, is second only to the Chicago Black Hawks in the league's East Division.

The Seals, who lost 6-1 to the New York Rangers Wednesday night, begin a six-game home stand against the Stanley Cup champion Canadiens.

"We played four games in five nights," said Seals' Coach Fred Glover after the road stand "but we won two of them and we beat supposedly the best teams in each division."

PARTY BOSS BREZHNEV NOT HAPPY

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's top leader, Communist Party Chief Leonid I. Brezhnev, expressed displeasure today over the performance of the Soviet Olympic team in Mexico City.

Addressing the Soviet Youth Organization, Brezhnev said, "The international standards of our sports must be improved. These days we all follow the Mexico Olympics, and we have watched the performance of our team.

"Our sportsmen," he added, "did not manage to achieve all they wished. The struggle was really very difficult and we welcome the winners who came back home with Olympic medals."

Fights Last Night

PORTLAND, Maine—Irish Beau Jaynes, 130, Lowell, Mass., outpointed Durango Kid, 130, Puerto Rico, 10.

LOS ANGELES—Lenny Brice, 117½, Los Angeles, stopped Roberto Alvarez, 115, Guadalajara, Mexico, 10.

Rauch Fears Cincy Defense

OAKLAND (AP) — John Rauch, the Oakland Raider coach, says the Cincinnati Bengals are the best expansion team yet and he particularly fears their defense.

Rauch, whose Raiders host Cincinnati Sunday, said yesterday that "they've been getting very good line play, both against the rush and against the pass."

While not so high on the Bengal offense, he said Cincinnati quarterback Dewey Warren looked sharp last week. Warren is a rookie from Tennessee.

Yugoslavs Miss Point With Happy Celebration

MEXICO CITY—It was the most disgraceful thing I have ever seen in sports. I mean, you can take Tunney's long count, the stripping of Jim Thorpe's medals, pushing Dempsey back into the ring, Schmeling winning on a foul. They were just forgivable pranks compared to this.

The Yugoslav basketball team had just defeated Russia, 63-62, for a sure silver medal. And there they were rolling on the floor, crying, laughing, pummeling each other on the back kissing, hugging, singing, dancing, waving . . .

THEY WERE HAPPY, for crying out loud!

Now, if there's anything we have learned about these Olympics, it's that Baron de Coubertin was only part right. It's not the winning, it's the taking part — in protest.

I MEAN, what about the political prisoners in Belgrade? What about the poor people? What about Trieste? What about Khrushchev? Tito? Mijhailovic? What about the Archduke Ferdinand? Is Montenegro getting a full break? What about the injustices of or to the Croats? The Serbs? What about the Hapsburgs? World War II? The partisans?

SHOULDN'T THEY have at least donned bloody gloves? Or held Puma shoes aloft? Isn't the Olympics a podium of protest? What's the matter with these guys? Whatta' they think they are — SPORTSMEN, for heavens sakes! Politicians, baby! That's the ticket today. The Olympics is a place to redress wrongs. Never mind beating Russia in basketball. Beat them in the newsreels, television.

THE OLYMPICS is a place where a guy might come out any day now wearing a bed sheet and saying, "I would like to say a few kind words on behalf of the Ku Klux Klan." Or where a German might show up on the victory stand and begin screaming "Heil Hitler!"

Of course, the Yugoslavs can be forgiven. God did not gift them abundantly in basketball skills. They make up in awkwardness what they lack in technique. The game was not really built for them. Their arms are too short, their feet are too slow. They don't have to be careful lest they scrape the ceiling when they jump.

UNDER THE circumstances, they're glad to be in the Olympic Games at all. They got very little help from nature. They won't be going home to any million-dollar contract. A couple of guys on the team are already 31 years old. Two others are 30. The silver medal they get (unless they beat the U.S. for the gold) may be the only metal of any worth ever to come into their families. They won't go home to be heroes if they protest. They'll go home to be dead.

The Olympic basketball competition, except for the U.S.-Russian games of late, has always looked like Saturday night at the YMCA — the skins vs. the shirts. Some countries look as if they recruit teams from streetcar conductors.

THE U.S. was hard-pressed by Senegal, for instance. Hard-pressed to stay awake, that is. They had to struggle to keep a straight face when Brazil showed up in canary yellow-and-green candy-striped uniforms, as heavily foliaged above the lips as Turkish cavalrymen. In strawhats, they would have looked like a barber shop quartet.

They played the game as it it was a scavenger hunt. They got the ball only every half-hour or so. Half their baskets were scored from the foul line. They were good at dribbling — except when they had the basketball. To them, the game was just Greco-Roman wrestling with a ball.

IT WAS feared, when this tournament started, that the U.S. teams would suffer from altitude—not the presence of it, the lack of it. Lew Alcindor didn't try out for the team — not because he was afraid he wouldn't make it, but because he was afraid he would. Besides, he has not yet recognized the country.

There was the additional peril that Lew Alcindor at 7,500 feet would go around with snow in his hair or have to fight off nesting eagles.

Well, I am sure it will come as a relief to Lew to know he wasn't needed. Spencer Haywood, Charley Scott, Calvin Fowler and JoJo White were sure as hell needed. And were here.

ANYWAY, IT would be an embarrassment to our lordly knights of the court, who have spent lifetimes hearing "We're No. 1!" to hear a sellout throng of Mexicans in paroxysms of delight as their basketball team vanquished a moderately ept Spanish team, 73-72, to move into the rarified atmosphere of the "5-to-8" bracket. "We're No. 8!" is not exactly the kind of a cheer to bring duck bumps to an American skin but the Mexicans think it is great.

THERE IS also the period that the Yugoslavs might win Friday night — and spoil it all by looking happy. Or, good God! Grateful.

137 Average, And Pow! A 264 Game

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Not when he started off one of his games with eight straight strikes and had quite a few of the bowlers craning their necks on his ninth frame. He hit on the Brooklyn side and the six-pin wobbled, but stood.

He picked up the spare and then spared again in the 10th frame for a 264 game, high league game of the week in Marin County Bowling.

Penny Conti, the gal who rolled her first 600 series last week at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael, a 614, liked the feeling.

She came back with a 257 game — which included 10 strikes — and went on to a 643 series in the Ladies 615 Classic. And she was only subbing! Her first game was 197 and her last one 189.

Walt Moreno, that former All American junior college basketball player (College of Marin, 1948), just about summed it up after rolling an even 600 in the 840 Scratch at Nave Lanes:

"I finally roll a 600 and six other guys beat me." That's the way it was, as there were seven scores over the 600 mark in that "fun" league, led by (yep) Terry De Young's 258-676 and Ron Baccei's 223-651. There were also Don Lane, 253-643; Tom Jensen, 226-611; Bob Leveroni, 257-607, and Bill Bernades, 236-606.

THIS AND THAT — Ray Miller of the 905 Classic had high series score at Country Club with his 679, and it included a 245 game and a 242. He came back with a 657 in the Lutheran Late League . . . Bob Quezada was top man in the 670 Scratch League at Country Club, 657 . . . Hilda Dednick came close to a triplicate in the Hi-Lo's League, 121-120-120 . . . Rich Bottarini, 173 average, rolled himself a 258 game in the Mixed Mates League . . . When Bill Kelly rolled a 604 in the Weekenders League at Country Club Bowl it was the first time over that mark . . . Anne Baccei had a 246 game (and 592 series) in the Sleepers League to show she wasn't ready for night-night . . . Phil Phillips of the 840 Scratch, after picking up the 4-6 split, came back the following week to bang down the equally hard 4-6-10.

STRIKES TO SPARE — The Women's 500 Club is holding its first tournament tomorrow, 2 p.m. at Country Club Bowl . . . In the Friday Nite Leftovers at Nave Lanes, Betty Halloran, 141 avg., bowled 581 series to help the Cagwin and Dorward team to a high game standing of 836, more than 200 pins higher than average . . . Nancy McPherson, 13, led the juniors at Country Club Bowl, 200-517 . . . Larry Gaffney's 635 series, high at Greenbrae Lane, was in the Mixed Mates League . . . Mitzie Brown converted the 4-7-10 split in the Marin County Mixed Travel League and Dave Malinoff did good on the 6-7 . . . In the Novato Sportsmen's Bowling League, Royal Druba had an all-spare game, 180, and Bob Lackford picked up the 5-9-10 split . . . Lester Wallace of the Monday Men's Handicap League at Nave Lanes picked up the 4-7-9-10 split.

DOWN THE LANES — Next game Mary Smiley bowls just couldn't be a 160, after rolling 157-158-159 in the Classy Lassies at Nave's, the same day Jean Twillman was picking up the 6-7 split . . . Pat Campblell rolled a 209 to headline action in the Agent's 1108 League . . . Over in the Washday League at Nave Lanes, first time over the 200 plateau went JoAnne Goldsmith, 211, and Lola Utley, 202 . . . It was first time over 500 for Enes Mager of the Bowlerettes League at Country Club, 505; trying for a record of sorts in that league was Clare Graham, eight (8) splits in a row . . . Nancy Greyerbiehl picked up the 4-7-10 in the Lutheran Early League . . . Lu Latson had a near-triplicate in the Mixed Mates at Greenbrae, 144-142-144, while Jackie Madden was showing 'em how to bowl, 234 game.

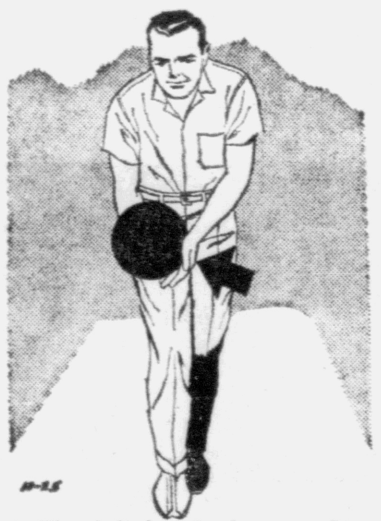
BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



The left hand plays an important role for a right-handed bowler. It should move forward on the pushaway, bearing the bulk of the weight of the ball as long as possible. As the left hand drops away, however, the transition of weight to the right hand should be smooth.

Goalie's Frightening Job In Arena Of Frozen Fear

By HERB MICHELSON

OAKLAND — The most frightening job in all of Christendom (next to driving an explosives truck) has to be tending goal in hockey.

Parents of any lad aspiring to major league sports success should instantly detract him from thoughts of puck-stopping. I am constantly amazed that anyone wishes to play this position. Those who do obviously have death wishes.

They chiefly come from Canada — as what hockey player in the pro ranks doesn't? — and most likely got their start because they couldn't afford skates to play in frozen pond pickup games in their youth.

"HEY KID, yes you without skates," one can hear the kids saying. "You play goalie today cause you won't have to move around much."

Hah!

It's also true that large, beefy fellows who lack skating speed and/or stick-handling agility find providence in minding the little net. And they wind up getting stuck with a professional goalie's job if they prove proficient.

They could, of course, refuse and take up a more flaccid post like sky diving, but by time of maturity the amateur goalie is trapped with the glitter and glamour of Stanley Cup talk.

YET, THE goalie never outgrows his basic fear: Being smashed on the noggin with a puck traveling about 100 miles per hour.

Worry? Most of them are scared to death.

THERE IS one aging, but still stout-hearted National Hockey League goalie who literally throws up in the dressing room moments before taking the ice for a game. And he does this before every game.

He does not have ulcers. He has not eaten bad food. He is frightened.

The time comes for many goalies when they have what we'd popularly call a nervous breakdown. It's really an enlarged fear syndrome — and they withdraw beyond conversation and commiseration. This happened to one NHL netminded a year ago. He simply vanished for a few days, turned up, talked of quitting and napped for a while before going back to an arena of frozen fear.

GOALIES ARE historically hockey's most superstitious characters. Charlie Hodge of our dear Oakland Seals is always the last off the ice between periods and at game's end. It's quite possible he wants to make sure he won't be alone when he reaches the dressing room.

Charlie, the Seals' most beloved figure by fans, was set down this week by new coach Freddie Glover. Glover watched Charlie fidgeting during early losses and decided his goalkeeper was a bit too nervous.

BUT HODGE, 35 and a veteran of 19 hockey seasons, is always nervous. He is still competent — but the fear is expressed in nerves, in pleas to defensemen for help. He is only 5-6, weighs only 160. He deserves help.

After Glover substituted Gary (Suitcase) Smith for Charlie, the Oaklands won a couple. Smith is 6-4 and weighs 215. He lacks Hodge's quick moves but manages to block more of the goalmouth area because of his bulk.

HODGE IS the better goalie, though. He has been the Seals' best piece of merchandise. He'll return — nervous and fidgety. But he'll return.

Cal Bears Host Syracuse; Stanford Treks To UCLA

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Football coaches in the Pacific-8 Conference were in unanimous agreement on at least one point before the season began, to wit:

The conference was one of the best balanced in years and so-called breathers might leave a favorite breathless.

Last week more than proved the point.

The pressure of the championship run for the Rose Bowl eases a bit this week with only two conference games on the slate.

Stanford is at UCLA and Oregon State visits Washington State.

In non-conference engagements California hosts Syracuse at 1:30 in Berkeley, Idaho plays at Washington, Oregon entertains Utah and no one has to worry about unbeaten Southern California. No. 1 in the nation. The Trojans take the week off.

Stanford, after throwing a tremendous scare into Southern Cal, walked into a supposedly underdog Cougar at Washington State and settled for a 21-21 tie at Spokane.

Stanford Coach John Ralston, viewing the contest with UCLA, warned that the Bruins could be expected to rebound from their 39-15 walloping by California's Bears.

California can expect a rugged afternoon against Syracuse, which was idle last week. For basis of comparision, Syracuse took care of UCLA earlier in the campaign, 20-7.

The independent game of the week finds San Jose State at the home of the nation's No. 1 college division team, San Diego State.

Duck Hunters: Got A Hankering To Hunker Down Among Rocks?

STEVENS

The morning's mail brought a note from a "regular reader" asking if it is a fact that it is illegal to hunt ducks from a moving boat—that it was necessary to detach the outboard and place it in the boat.

It is still illegal to shoot from a moving boat, but the law has been modified to allow the outboard motor as is. t must be turned off, however.

The "regular reader" asks where he can go without belonging to a club — a place where there is at least a 50-50 chance of getting a limit of ducks.

I could, of course, mention dozens of areas where the reader would be at some spot in the line of flight. But the writer asks where he can go to hunt not too distant from his home (he lives in Martinez) and that is funny, because he is only a half-hour away from an area I hunted for many years — inside the rock wall across from Rodeo or Crockett.

A couple dozen decoys and the ability to sit perfectly motionless among the large rocks that form the Rock Wall is needed.

It happens that a hunter is smack in the middle of a favored flight of ducks.

The hunter drives to Rodeo and attaches his outboard motor to one of Frank Joseph's big, comfortable skiffs. He's better scout out the area, because he will be leaving Rodeo while it is still dark. Also it may be very foggy. It is almost impossible to miss the Rock Wall if you hold a straight course from Rodeo.

You don't take a stance in the rocks on the open side of the wall; you drive around the point of the wall and drive along the INSIDE of the rocks. You will be in fairly shallow water. You fasten the skiff onto one of the rocks, set out at least 24 decoys then hunker down among the rocks. Always take your spot where it's not too uncomfortable and always stay below the bay side of the wall. The birds will fly over where you are ensconced. A small flight comes winging over your spot. You freeze; the birds will circle and come in; then is when you rise and take aim.

I hope some of my readers will get an urge to hunker down among the rocks and have an unusually interesting experience.

Phillips To Fill In For Johnson

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — Mel Phillips may be filling in for Jimmy Johnson at cornerback for San Francisco Sunday when the 49ers play the Lions at Detroit.

Coach Dick Nolan said yesterday that because of injuries he may use Phillips instead of Jimmy Johnson to guard against the pass catching of Earl McCullouch, the Lion rookie from Southern Cal.

"Mel is excellent on man-to-man coverage," the coach said.

McCullouch, Nolan said "of course has great speed and also has great hands. He's a tremendously quick starter."

McCullouch was a world record holder in the high hurdles.

San Francisco is 3-3 in the National Football League and Detroit is 3-2-1.

New Controversy Hits The Olympics

SPITZ LAST

Martyn Woodroffe of Great Britain was second and John Ferris, Sacramento, was third. Mark Spitz, America's world record holder in the event, was suffering from a respiratory ailment and finished last.

Miss Meyer, who also won the 200- and 400-meter freestyles, scored by 20 meters over teammate Pam Krause, Pompano Beach, Fla., with Maria Teresa Ramirez of Mexico third.

Debbie, 16, said she would continue competing for at least one more year "and maybe four. I might compete in the Munich Games—if I can make the team," she said.

Ada Kok of Holland won the women's 200-meter butterfly in 2:24.7, followed by Helga Lindner of East Germany and Ellie Daniel, Elkins Park, Pa.

Australian Mike Wenden set an Olympic record at 1:55.2 in winning the men's 200-meter freestyle. Don Schollander, Jacksonville, Fla., was second and John Nelson, Pompano Beach, Fla., third.

CLOSER

It was even closer in men's gymnastics. Japan's Saweeo Kato scored a near perfect 9.90 in floor exercises, the final event, and took the men's all-around title with 115.90. Russia's Mikhail Voronin was second with 115.85.

Japan also took the men's team title with 575.90 points and Russia was second with 571.10.

The United States also put three boxers in tomorrow's finals. They are heavyweight George Foreman, Pleasanton, who will fight Russia's Ionas Chepulis, lightweight Ron Harris, Canton, Ohio, and featherweight Alberto Robinson, Oakland.

Middleweight Alfred Jones, Detroit, lost a wildly booed semi-final decision to Christopher Finnigan, Great Britain, even though he knocked Finnigan down once and battered him constantly in all three rounds.

Bulldogs Host Salesian; Novatans Face Toughie

Two Marin County Athletic League football teams head outside the league tonight. One will be trying to add to an already impressive record, the other hopes to come out of a four-game tailspin.

San Rafael 1-4 on the season, hosts Salesian of Richmond, at 8 o'clock tonight. Novato, the league's only unbeaten, untied team at 5-0, travels to Santa Clara's Buck Shaw Stadium to take a crack at usually powerful Bellarmine of the Catholic Athletic League.

San Rafael has a victory over Marin Catholic, but since then has lost to Montgomery, Terra Linda, Drake and Novato. The Bulldogs will have backup and long-throwing quarterback Bruce Nave out of action with a broken collarbone.

Novato, with a showdown match against Terra Linda coming up, will take few chances against Bellarmine. Slightly ailing fullback Tom Zechlin will be out and any starter who sneezes might wind up on the sidelines. But the Hornets also have the incentive of an unbeaten season to shoot for, with victories over Petaluma, Montgomery, Redwood, Tamalpais and San Rafael.

Redwood, Drake Vie Tonight

Two football teams on small downers try to rejuvinate their forces when they clash at College of Marin tonight at 8 o'clock.

Redwood, riding a two-game losing streak but reasonably healthy, and Drake, tagged with its first Marin County Athletic League loss last week by Terra Linda, collide in a Tamalpais District rivalry.

Despite the 20-0 loss to the Trojans, the Pirates will change very little against Redwood. Which means they'll throw a pack of backs and some hopefully good throwing by quarterback Ed Harrington against the Giants, mixed in with what is statistically the best defense in the league. Only this time they're hoping it will run smoother.

AT HELM

The Giants, with quarterback Jim Peters at the helm and fullback Pete Richter in the starting lineup, could present problems. At 0-2 in the league, they have little to lose except pride.

The Pirates can't afford another loss if they hope to repeat as co-champions or any kind of champions. Out for the Giants this week is top scorer George Adams and tackle Phil Simpson.

"Richter is the back I most fear in the league," Pirate coach Bob Franceschini said. "They're big, and they're strong and they may be due. But we're not down after last week. We were just beaten, and that was that."

"We're ready to explode." Redwood coach Bob Franceschini said. "They're big, and they're strong and they may be due. But we're not down after last week. We were just beaten, and that was that."

Terra Linda Tests Tam's Explosiveness Tomorrow

It will be an ancient, traditional football struggle — explosive offense, big line against ice-solid defense and quick, hard-hitting linemen.

It will be Terra Linda High School against Tamalpais and you get only one guess which is which. Tomorrow at College of Marin at 1:30 p.m.

Quite surprisingly, after a season in which they lost all their league games, the Indians (1-1) find themselves right in the middle of a football race. And a loss tomorrow would put them right out of it again.

The Indians will throw an impressive and varied offensive challenge against the Trojans, the likes of which they haven't faced since their 21-21 tie with South San Francisco.

LEAGUE LEADER

Tam quarterback Don Mackin is probably the best in the league at his position. He performs well under pressures, can throw crossfield, long and short, in the pocket or on the run. He leads the league in every department and has thrown for nine touchdown passes. And he can run, as witness his 80-yard run from scrimmage that iced Tam's victory over Redwood last week.

The running attack centers around Luther (one-step-he's-gone) Brown, a 9.9 runner with beautiful moves, and Dave Hector, a shifty, solid fullback.

The big question for the Indians will be their line, which will have to hold up to protect Mackin. It's certainly big enough with 255-pound Verdean Herbel at tackle for starters.

"They haven't got that many outstanding individuals," he said. "But they work real well together as a team. If they have a weakness, it's hard to exploit or find."

The Trojans, after an uneven start, seem to have found themselves in their old shutout fashions, winning their last two starts via the shutout route, staying mostly on the ground and reverting to the championship style of last year. It's a style that's been very successful in two and one half years, resulting in a 19-3-1 record so far.

The defense is probably the best in the league with hardly any real stickouts, except possibly for tackle Carl Hicks and linebakcer John Dohn. But they will have to get to the Indians quick and early.

Sausalito Reshaping Image Of Police

By ALAN JONES

The stereotyped image of the dumb, sometimes sadistic policeman is being scientfiically stamped out in a unique Sausalito psychiatric program.

Sausalito — as several other cities have done — four years ago set up a psychiatric pre-hiring interview for police candidates. It weeds out those who want to become policemen for the wrong reasons.

Two years ago, Sausalito went a step further and set up an in-service psychiatric training program, the only police department in the country to do so.

In recent months, national attention has begun to focus on the Sausalito program and it may become a nationwide model.

The program has a two-edged impact — it gives officers deeper insight into their unconscious feelings and reactions, and lets consultant psychiatrist Edward E. Shev make a continuing evaluation of the men to add to his first findings about them in their pre-hiring interviews.

There was opposition and even hostility within the department when the psychiatric sessions — suggested by Shev and authorized by the city council — started, from Chief Edward S. Kreins on down. But Kreins said yesterday his reservations about the program melted as he saw its results, and so has the opposition of even those men who most strongly objected.

"I didn't like the idea," Capt. James Wright admitted. "I didn't want the public feeling we were a bunch of nuts down here that needed a department psychiatrist.

"I changed my mind."

The in-service program consists of one mandatory session a month with Shev for all 27

Alioto Puts Forward Regional Tax Reform

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

BERKELEY — San Francisco Mayor Joseph L. Alioto late yesterday agreed to postpone his city's commuter tax — if other Bay Area counties and cities can agree on a plan for regional tax reform to present to the Legislature.

The agreement was reached at an unannounced meeting in the mayor's office with a special committee of the Association of Bay Area Governments, and disclosed last night at the regular meeting of ABAG's executive committee. (See another ABAG story, page 21).

Alioto's agreement to postpone the tax from Jan. 1 to April 1 will depend on the success of a conference between Alioto and ABAG officials 2 p.m. Nov. 8 in ABAG's offices here in the Hotel Claremont, the special committee reported.

The mayor's agreement stipulates he will ask the San Francisco Board of Supervisors to delay imposition of the 1 per cent income tax if the conference "generates meaningful negotiations" on "regional tax plans that would lead to relief for the real property taxpayer of the region."

Alioto won approval of the tax from his supervisors on the ground that all Bay Area citizens have to share San Francisco's responsibility and financial burden as the region's core city. His city provides urban services to commuters who work there, he argued, and San Francisco bears the brunt of caring for the region's poor.

Marin Supervisor John F. McInnis, a member of the "special subcommittee for special events" that met with Alioto, told the Independent-Journal that postponement of the tax would extend also to any other tax proposed for commuters by San Francisco.

McInnis explained that if the commuter tax is overturned in a court test that has been brought by several Bay Area counties, including Marin, Alioto then probably would impose a tax on all persons employed in San Francisco. San Francisco residents, however, would get credit for the income tax on their property

Blumenfeld Theaters chain, operated as a family business more than half a century, has been sold to Cinerama Corp. of New York in a $5 million-dollar stock transaction.

Since the death of Max Blumenfeld, who founded the business in 1917, the theater chain has been conducted as a partnership of his four sons, Joseph, Abe, Nathan and Jack, and their sister, Mrs. Bess Glazer. All are residents of Marin County, except Abe Blumenfeld who moved to San Francisco about two years ago.

Not included in the sale to Cinerama is Blumenfeld Enterprises, a corporation which owns and operates shopping centers, bowling alleys and other ventures.

Joseph Blumenfeld, head of the family-owned business said that Blumenfeld Theaters will continue to be operated under the same name by the Blumenfelds but as a wholly owned Cinerama subsidiary. The chain consists of 30 theaters, mostly in Northern California, 10 of them in Marin.

The Marin theater group consists of seven indoor theaters, two drive-in theaters and the new Cinerama I on which construction has just started in Corte Madera.

Blumenfeld said Cinerama, which controls a wide-screen film process, also owns other motion picture theaters and its purchase of the Blumenfeld chain will result in expanding the circuit.

Youth Foils Dynamite Blast In Marin City

Deputies, Building Saved

Two unidentified men last night tried to blow up the sheriff's Marin City substation with seven sticks of dynamite.

Three deputies were in the substation when the attempt was made at 10:55 p.m.

The try was thwarted when a 19-year-old Humboldt State College student noticed two persons trying to light the bundle of dynamite at the base of the trailer which houses the substation office on Donahue Street near the entrance to Marin City.

MALE ADULTS

The two men involved, identified by the student only as male Negro adults, escaped into a vacant lot behind the substation, sheriff's Lt. Ellis L. Seibert said.

The student, whom deputies declined to identify other than to say he was not a Marin County resident, had been working on his car in the Chevron gas station adjacent to the substation last night.

The youth told deputies that when he turned on his headlights to test them, he saw the two men trying to light something near the trailer.

RAN OFF

When he yelled, "what are you doing?" the two men ran off into a vacant lot. The student then ran over to the dynamite, pulled out the fuse and yelled a warning at the three deputies inside the trailer, Seibert said.

Deputies immediately ran out to search for the men. While combing the vacant lot, the deputies heard one shot fired from a distance, Seibert said.

He said the deputies could not say if the shot had been fired at them.

A search of the area failed to uncover the men, Seibert said.

He said the sticks of dynamite were taped together with masking tape and placed in a plastic bag. A detonator and 56 inch fuse were attached.

The fuse was partially burned but apparently had been out when the student pulled it out. Seibert speculated the men had been having trouble getting the fuse to burn.

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon said today he has learned that top Johnson administration officials "have been driving very hard for an agreement on a bombing halt" in Vietnam, "accompanied possibly by a cease-fire in the immediate future."

The Republican presidential candidate issued a statement saying that "all Americans will welcome a bombing halt provided it will, in the long term, save American lives and not cost American lives." (See page 38 for other Nixon statements.)

'CYNICAL ATTEMPT'

Nixon said he had been told—he did not say by whom—that a spurt of activity in search of a Vietnam agreement was "a cynical, last-minute attempt" by President Johnson to salvage the candidacy" of Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic nominee.

"This I do not believe," Nixon said.

He said he has found Johnson always "impartial and candid" in dealing with the major presidential candidates about Vietnam.

"In every conversation I have had with him," said Nixon, "he has made it clear that he will not play politics with this war."

DECLINES COMMENT

White House press secretary George Christian declined to comment when asked about Johnson's alleged "last-minute attempt" for peace on Humphrey's behalf.

Christian also would not comment on whether such allegations would harm peace negotiations in Paris.

Nixon said progress toward peace "is far more important than any political campaign could possibly be." He said he would "continue to do all that I properly can to facilitate the President's pursuit of agreement. . ."

Nixon said that Johnson, as president, must be the nation's only foreign policy spokesman.

In view of the delicate Paris talks, he added, "I believe ev-

Hubert Accuses Foe Of 'Playing Politics'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey denied today Richard Nixon's allegation that Democratic administrations permitted a "security gap" and accused his Republican opponent of "playing politics with our national security."

"Mr. Nixon's statement is among his most irresponsible to date," the vice president said in a statement in reply to a Nixon radio speech last night. (See story, page 38.)

Humphrey, winding up a two-day campaign swing through California, said Nixon "is advocating an increasing militarization of American life and American foreign policy."

BLASTS NIXON

Humphrey said, "I call upon Mr. Nixon to withdraw his ill considered charges" and consult with the men, military and civilian, "who understand the hard demands of our security, our survival and the pursuit of peace."

In his statement, Humphrey listed Nixon charges and made his replies.

He said Nixon said that the U.S. had a 30 per cent advantage over the Soviet Union in bombers eight years ago but that now the Russians are 50 per cent ahead of the United States.

DESCRIBES FORCE

The fact is, said Humphrey, "today we have over 500 heavy strategic bombers and over 600 tankers; the USSR has only about 150 heavy bombers and 50 heavy dual tanker-bomber aircraft."

Humphrey said that by Nixon's statements the former Republican vice president "has threatened to bring down the whole fragile architecture of peace, of retreat from the insanity of the arms race that has been so carefully constructed by the administrations of presidents Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson.

Humphrey, in an intensive week of campaigning, has helped raise an estimated $1.5 million to fuel the last stage of his campaign.

Humphrey plans to use the money for a heavy schedule of television appearances and ad-

Clifford Denies Any Arms Lag

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford acknowledged today the Soviet Union has narrowed the nuclear missile gap but claimed "we have today a substantial military superiority over the Soviet Union."

The Pentagon chief replied to allegations by Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon that Democratic administrations had created a "security gap" by following what Nixon called a doctrine of arms parity.

Clifford read to a news conference previously secret figures showing the Soviet Union now has 900 intercontinental ballistic missiles. This is 154 fewer than the U.S. arsenal and a Russian increase of 180 since a year ago.

At the same time, Clifford said the Soviets have 75 to 80 submarine-launched nuclear missiles compared with 656 U.S. Polaris submarine missiles.

Although the Soviet total is still far behind the American force, the Soviets have more than doubled their sub-launched missiles in the last year, he said.

But Clifford contended the real test of relative U.S.-Soviet nuclear power lies in the number of nuclear weapons that can be delivered on target.

In this area, he said, the United States outstrips the Soviet Union 4,206 to approximately 1,200.

He included here bombs which would be carried by 646 B52 and B58 intercontinental bombers, compared with an es-

Student's Bomb Rocks Tam High

An explosion, set off by a 17-year-old Tamalpais High School senior, rocked the school yesterday during the lunch hour, breaking 16 windows, but not injuring any of a large crowd of nearby onlookers.

The blast at 12:55 p.m. rattled windows in homes in the neighborhood and set off a rash of calls to the police department from residents.

The youth, a Southern California resident who had been living with his uncle in Mill Valley for the past six weeks, was booked into Marin County Juvenile Hall as beyond parental control and for the bombing attempt.

He was also suspended from school for 10 days, according to Principal Robert H. Prather.

Mill Valley police said the youth was sent back to his mother in Southern California early this morning. His father is a master sergeant in the Army, stationed in Korea.

The explosive was identified by staff at the Presidio in San Francisco as a "simulator projectile" used by the Army as a substitute for hand grenades during training.

The device is dangerous and can injure anyone within 15 feet of it, police said.

Police said the youth threw the device into a crowded

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Oct. 25, the 299th day of 1968 with 67 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1854, in the famed "Charge of the Light Brigade," 670 members of the British Cavalry, fighting in the Crimean War, attacked a heavily fortified Russian artillery post and were wiped out.

In 1936, the fascist governments of Germany and Italy formed the "Rome-Berlin" axis.

In 1963, the government of the Dominican Republic was toppled in a bloodless coup.

In 1966, 33 men were killed when fire broke out aboard the American carrier Oriskany off Vietnam.

A thought for the day—American author Ridgley Torrence once said: "God gave them youth, God gave them love, and even God can give no more."

EAST'S TRICKS

East took the first two tricks with the queen and ace of hearts and continued with the king of hearts. South ruffed with the king of spades, and West threw two low clubs on the second and third hearts.

South drew two trumps, and West discarded the deuce of diamonds, South came to the obvious conclusion: West, with 11 cards in the minor suits, had discarded first from his longer suit. Therefore West had started with six clubs and five diamonds.

Preparing for a possible squeeze of West, South led a diamond. East refused the first diamond but took the next diamond and then led a third diamond to remove any possible threat in that suit.

COMPLETE COUNT

By this time South had a complete count on East's hand. East had started with six hearts since West had been unble to follow suit to the second heart; East had precisely three spades, since West had started with only one; East held either three or four diamonds. This left room for only one club at most in the East hand.

RUFFS ROUND

South ruffed the third round of diamonds in the dummy and drew the last trump. Then he led the ace of clubs, hoping that East could follow suite with the ten or the queen.

As it happened, East followed with the ten of clubs, which South knew to be a singleton. South could then lead the jack of clubs for a marked finesse making his game contract.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠ K Q J 10 5
♥ J 4
♦ 9 5 3
♣ A J 6.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

The hand is not quite worth an opening bid (although some experts would bid one spade bcause they like to open light). The jack of hearts is not really worth counting (although it is better than a deuce). If you had A-Q-6 of clubs and two smaller hearts, your point count would be the same but you would open the bidding with one spade rather than pass.

LBJ's A Grandfather Again—It's A Girl

WASHINGTON (AP) — A squalling, ruddy girl with black hair was born today to Lynda Bird Robb, touching off a round of free cigars handed out by beaming grandfather and father.

The grandfather, President Lyndon B. Johnson, announced the birth himself to newsmen at suburban Bethesda Naval Medical Center.

The father, Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb, was in his tin-roofed office of the 1st Marine Division's supply section in Vietnam.

Robb's first reaction? "It's a tradition here," he said. "Outstanding' is the word we use."

"Very happy" were the words Johnson used to describe the family. The 24-year-old mother "seems to be quite normal and relaxed about it all," he said.

The little girl, who weighed 7 pounds, 8 ounces and measured 20 inches long, wasn't named. Asked what names were under consideration, Robb replied, "I'll have to let Lynda answer that one, since she's had custody for the last nine months."

Three Navy doctors and two anesthesiologists attended the birth at 12:03 a.m.

Walt volunteered to take Robb the first pictures of the baby when the general goes to Vietnam tomorrow, the President said.

Lynda entered the hospital at 8:20 p.m. last night, about two hours after labor started. Her mother and 21-year-old sister, Luci Nugent, went along on the eight-mile drive from the White House.

Lynda spent just 15 minutes in the delivery room.

Lynda had a regional block anesthetic and was conscious throughout. Luci, who provided the first presidential granchild, —Patrick Lyndon Nugent—16 months ago, said her sister "was totally alert the whole time."

The whole family went to see Lynda and the baby after the birth and the President laughingly told reporters, "We would still be there talking to her except that the doctor thought they ought to go through some procedures."

As he President and Mrs. Johnson munched some of the celebration candy, they confided they had hoped their second grandchild would be a girl.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Archbishop's Removal Sought

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—A group of 51 priests has asked for the removal of Archbishop Robert E. Lucey, the spiritual leader of 500,000 Roman Catholics in Texas.

Rev. Michalski

The priests disclosed at a news conference yesterday that their request was sent to Pope Paul VI and other Catholic leaders more than a month ago.

"We are doing it out of love for the church and concern for the people," said the Rev. Louis R. Michalski, 31, spokesman for the group.

Father William Killian and Father Sherrill Smith were banished recently to a Catholic retreat in New Mexico, and the priests cited this instance at their news conference.

Rev. Lucey

Also cited as reasons for the request were the archbishop's age, the transfer of priests who had been outspoken and the archbishop's refusal to recognize the 160-member association of priests in the archdiocese. All 51 priests are association members.

Father Michalski said there was no malice intended in the priests' request. Archbishop Lucey, he said, "has been a real giant" during his 52 years as a priest and 27 years as an archbishop, "but we feel we need a person more responsive to the needs of this particular age."

Anti-Singapore Try

JAKARTA (AP) — The Indonesian government today launched a drive to send exports direct to consumer nations rather than routing them through Singapore. The government's appeal to local shippers was in retaliation for Singapore's execution of two young Indonesian marines who bombed a Singapore building and killed three persons.

Parliament In Lull

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II ended the present session of Parliament today after 360 days. She will open the new session Wednesday, two days before she is scheduled to leave for a visit to South America.

De Gaulle In Turkey

ANKARA (UP) — President Charles de Gaulle arrived today for a five-day visit to Turkey. He is the first French head of state ever to visit this nation in the eastern Mediterranean.

Wedding Plans Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's granddaughter, Barbara Anne Eisenhower, 19, says she will be married Nov. 16—a month before her brother David marries Julie Nixon.

In a telephone interview published in today's Washington Post, Miss Eisenhower said she and Fernando Echavarria-Uribe of Bogota, Colombia, will be married in a "small, very private" ceremony in Pennsylvania. She lives in Phoenixville, Pa.

Immediately after the wedding, she told the Post, she and her husband will go to Bogota, where he works for an insurance company.

GI Killed In Korea

SEOUL (AP) — One American soldier was killed and five others were wounded Wednesday in a clash with North Korean troops along the demilitarized zone, the Army announced today.

The dead soldier was identified as Pfc. David Leroy Turner, of Elizabeth, Ill.

Five-Day Week Set

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Government workers in Peru will begin working a five-day week Nov. 1, ending the centuries-old practice of working Saturdays, the two-week-old military government decreed yesterday.

The civil servants will still work just as many hours per week, however. The work day now will run from 7:45 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and from 3 to 6 p.m.

Refugee Airlift

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — An airlift of Czechoslovak refugees to new homes in the United States got under way from Vienna today.

A charter flight with 169 refugees who fled the Soviet-led invasion of their homeland in August took off for New York an hour late because of fog.

Most of those on board were intellectuals.

Picasso Turns 87

CANNES, France (UPI) — Pablo Diego Jose Francisco de Paula Juan Nepomuceno Crispin Crispiniano de la Santisima Trinidad Ruiz Piacasso observed his 87th birthday today as he usually does. By trying to ignore it.

The artist the world knows as Pablo Picasso lives in seclusion in a Rivera villa behind locked gates.

As on past birthdays, newsmen were simply told Picasso was out.

Mutiny Charged

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A mass mutiny charge was placed against 27 soldiers yesterday for conducting a sit-down strike at the San Francisco Presidio stockade earlier this month.

In addition, the 27 men refused a direct order from the stockade commander to return to their barracks and some eventually had to be carried inside, an Army spokesman said.

GIs Win Asylum

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Sewden granted asylum today to 10 more American servicemen. It raised to 115 the GIs who have left their military posts and been taken in by this neutral nation on "humanitariam grounds."

An Aliens Commission spokesman said a total of 169 run-away Americans, both from the armed forces and draft dodgers, have applied for asylum. Some of these have left Sweden but others have their applications pending in the commission.

Among Californians granted asylum were:

Diamond Ryan, 26, Long Beach and Danni Leonette, 27, Los Angeles.

Welded Studs Solve Slick Bridge Problem

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UPI) —Only one accident has occurred in wet weather on the Market Street bridge, an open steel deck span over the Susquehanna river here, since 450,000 skid-reducing steel studs were welded to it a year ago, the Pennsylvania Department of Highway reports.

During the three-and-one-half years before the studs, designed and manufactured by Omark Industries, were applied, there were 15 wet-deck accidents, 14 of them involving one car.

Lindsay In TV Appeal To Halt School Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay has appealed anew to the teachers' union to move toward accommodation in its strike that is keeping more than a million pupils out of public schools. He said the rising tide of racial tension "could peril the peace of the city."

Urging the 55,000-member United Federation of Teachers to "leave its intransigent position" and end the walkout, the mayor said in a television address: "A spirit of naked racial hostility is spilling beyond the bounds of the school dispute."

Nor was there any progress reported on ending the work slowdown by 32,500 unionized policemen and firemen over wage demands. Five smaller unions warned they would oppose any move to end their present salary parity with the police and firemen.

In the school tieup, the State board of regents discussed the crisis with State Education Commissioner Dr. James E. Allen Jr. at a meeting in Albany. The regular monthly session continues today.

A group of 22 state legislators from the city asked Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to call a special session in Albany "to suspend the New York City Board of Education." They urged its replacement by a "temporary commission that would work for a cooling-off period, and which would be empowered to reopen the schools."

Rockefeller has steadfastly refused to intervene.

In another development the city board of elections warned that the intensifying labor strife may make it "impossible" to hold the Nov. 5 presidential election.

Maurice J. O'Rourke, a board commissioner, said citizens might have to cross teacher picket lines to enter polling places in schools if the strike continues. "If that happens, I can envision a situation where the results of the election will be enjoined, where we may have to have a new election."

Ancient Romans played a game similar to soccer. So did the Chinese, Aztecs and Polynesians.

Marin's Construction Rises In September

Marin County construction activity continued to gain in September, according to the Marin County Chamber of Commerce, with the total value of building permits issued reaching $5,298,715.

The figure represented only a 3.6 per cent increase over August permits, but showed a gain of 14.8 per cent when compared with September of last year. For the nine months of 1968, total permits of $41,369,583 were 22.9 per cent over the corresponding period of 1967.

Biggest September gains over August were shown in commercial construction ($1,318,865 against $764,487). Residential construction ($3,376,406) and miscellaneous permits including those for public buildings ($604,444) were down slightly from August figures.

More than one-third of residential construction value was in the San Rafael incorporated and adjoining incorporated areas to the north ($1,333,294). Novato incorporated and unincorporated areas provided $847,800; Larkspur, Greenbrae and Kentfield $525,124; Tiburon $499,300; Mill Valley $373,000; Sausalito $75,000; Ross $45,000; and West Marin $88,800. All residential construction except for $742,629 was for single family homes.

Principal commercial construction was in San Rafael: $926,250. Corte Madera had $150,000 and San Anselmo $126,900. Novato figures totaled $53,100. Larkspur $36,000. Sausalito $1,815. Tiburon $1,100 and unincorporated Mill Valley $200. West Marin had $23,500 in commercial construction.

Market Shuts Higher After Active Trading

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed higher today. Trading was active.

The final level was the best of the day as a spurt of buying followed rumors of a possible move toward Vietnam peace over the weekend. The rumors, though nebulous, were enough to persuade many to be "long" on the market rather than "short," as a precaution.

Early softness in blue chips was gradually overcome as selective buying, buoyed by new hopes that over the weekend some positive peace news might develop, got under way.

Phelps Dodge, whose shareholders approved a 2-for-1 stock split, advanced about 2½. The company also raised its dividend.

Higher third-quarter earnings boosted sentiment.

Gains of a point or so were made by Swift, Uniroyal, Commonwealth Edison, Du Pont, Polaroid, Royal Dutch, Standard Oil of California, Standard of Indiana and Texaco.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Multiple Watches

NEW YORK (UPI) — The one-watch man appears to be going the way of the one-car family. A nationwide market profile of individuals who acquired Accutron electronic timepieces in 1967 discloses that better than three-quarters of them own two or more watches in running order.

THE WEEK IN BUSINESS

Famed Nieman-Marcus To Join With Big Broadway-Hale Chain

An agreement has been reached between Broadway-Hale Stores, Inc., of Los Angeles and Neiman-Marcus Co. of Dallas to join forces.

Under the agreement, Neiman-Marcus would become a wholly-owned subsidiary of Broadway-Hale but would continue to function as a completely separate entity with its present management and its own board of directors.

It is proposed that Neiman-Marcus stockholders receive approximately $50 per share at present market value in a tax-free exchange involving Broadway-Hale securities. Total price on the 784,000 shares of Neiman-Marcus stock would amount to about $39 million.

Broadway-Hale, comprising 46 stores is the West Coast's largest department store operation and owns a majority interest in the Emporium Capwell Co. Neiman-Marcus operates high-fashion specialty stores in Dallas, Fort Worth and Houston.

FORD MOTOR CO. consolidated net income for the third quarter was $72.1 million or 66 cents a share — compared with a consolidated loss of $73.9 million or 68 cents a share for the 1967 period. Consolidated net income in the first nine months was 462.6 million or $4.23 a share, compared with last year's $193.2 million or $1.67 a share.

CARPENTER OFFUTT PAPER, INC. is the new name resulting from the recent merger in which Commericial Paper Co., San Francisco acquired the assets, inventory and receivables of Wilson-Rich Paper Co., formerly a division of Potlatch Forests, Inc.

PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC CO. operating revenues reached $241.5 million for the third quarter of 1968 — 7.7 per cent above last year. Earnings per share of common stock were 62 cents, compared to last year's 60 cents. Revenue for the 12 months ended in September reached $978.6 million, up from $942.4 million a year ago.

TELEDYNE, INC., Los Angeles and Trinity Universal Insurance Co., Dallas, Tex., have agreed in principle on Teledyne acquiring Trinity in exchange of Teledyne convertible preferred stock for Trinity Universal common. Teledyne manufactures electronic products. Trinity Universal specializes in property and casualty insurance.

PACIFIC SOUTHWEST AIRLINES is acquiring ValCar Corp. in an exchange of an initial issue of 33,160 shares of PSA's common stock for all of the outstanding stock of ValCar. ValCar is engaged in the automobile rental business and serves all the California cities served by the airline.

GULF OIL CORP. has reported a 9.9-per cent increase in its consolidated net income for the first nine months of 1968. Earnings of $463.6 million compared with those of $421.7 last year and set a new Gulf record for the period. Earning are equal to $2.23 a share, based on a two-for-one stock split in September. Comparable earnings for the 1967 period were $2.03 a share. Gulf directors have declared a quarterly dividend of 37.5 cents per share payable Dec. 10.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Here's A Good Beginning On Portfolio For Growth

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I bought several stocks to increase my capital but as yet no luck. Are these worth holding: Cities Service costing 45; American Hospital Supply, 35; Consolidated Natural Gas, Campbell Soup and Del Monte, each 28½? — A.S.

A. All are worth holding. You've started a growth portfolio at attractive purchase levels.

Cons. Natural Gas may remain slow because its high yield — over 6 per cent — is incompatible with the growth you want. There's potential here from offshore gas developments (Louisiana) but earnings reflect government regulation of gas rates.

Cities Service should benefit from a moderate stake in the Arctic Slope oil fields, a somewhat larger interest in California offshore drilling and diversification into chemicals.

Am. Hospital Supply has been temporarily slowed down marketwise by an increase of 1.8 million common shares from a secondary offering to finance new construction and retire bank loans.

Del Monte and Campbell Soup have been contending with higher prices for fruits and vegetables but each is gaining in its effort to counteract rising costs by improved operating efficiencies.

Q. Now 80 years old, I'm living in a residence club costing $300 a month. My $160 pension must be supplemented by regular withdrawals from $20,000 in a savings and loan institution. I want to leave something to a kind relative. How can I stretch what little I have? — M.M.

A. Are you sure your living arrangements are the most economical available to you? If you can't cut this expense, you should temper your thinking about an inheritance for your relative. Your needs take priority.

Some long-term bonds yield 6.5 per cent, but this return would not fill the gap. My final suggestion is a refund annuity. The guaranteed return would be higher than from any other safe investment because it includes part of your principal. Any unused portion would be paid to your beneficiary. I'd leave $5,000 available for emergency and consult an insurance salesman about the guaranteed return from a $15,000 contract.

Marin City Council Seeking More Control

Marin City Council voted last night to ask Marin County supervisors to designate the council as the planning agency for Marin City.

It was another step toward the council's avowed purpose to give Marin City residents a say in development of their community.

Council members stressed the need for review of the Marin City master plan, which is about 10 years old.

The council also is preparing to apply to the Department of Housing and Urban Development for a two-year planning grant to plan long range and short range development.

Emory C. Curtis, director of the technical and planning staff of Plan of Action for Challenging Times, consultant to the council, last night reviewed proposals for immediate action.

Under law enforcement, the council could work with the College of Marin to have young men from the area take law enforcement courses, he said.

Urban beautification could include a variety of projects ranging from cleaning up a vacant area to developing a play area, Curtis noted.

There also could be a home improvement program with journeymen and young men working on repair jobs, a project that would create jobs, he said.

Curtis also listed various federal agencies to which the council could apply for funds to carry out proposed programs since the council, without taxing power, has no funds of its own.

A transporttion program on a small scale, possibly jitney buses to meet the community's needs could be started, Curtis said.

Marin City residents must be used "to the fullest extent possible" in the planning and implementation of the plans, he stressed.

Curtis said he hasn't yet calculated the amount of the planning grant to be sought. The fees to be paid PACT, a non-profit consultant firm from San Francisco, are to be included in the grant, and won't come from the community.

Council members also learned that the name they selected when they voted to become a nonprofit corporation, "Marin City Council Inc." didn't meet state approval, and they will have to pick a new name.

Board Member Collie Gaines explained the name was rejected because it carried the impression that it represented a municipality, which Marin City is not.

The Marin City Council Also:

BOOKKEEPING — Agreed to contract with the Marin County Housing Authority to provide bookkeeping service which will be necessary when funds are available.

NEW MEMBER — Named Perison Knighten, a representative of the cooperative apartments, as the 13th council member, thereby bringing the council up to full strength.

PAY COMPLAINT — Agreed to investigate a report that a Marin County Housing Authority employee, scheduled to receive a 25-cent-an-hour raise, has received only a 10-cent boost.

RENTAL BASIS — Heard a complaint from a resident that public housing rents are based on gross income rather than on net income, and therefore residents are paying more than 25 per cent of their take-home pay for rent.

MAINTENANCE — Agreed to investigate complaints that the Oak Knoll apartments are in need of paint and more maintenance employees.

Mickey Hargitay Saves Snake Act

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—When "Torita," an exotic dancer, fell to the stage gripped in the coils of her boa constrictor, patrons at the El Rancho night club suddenly realized it wasn't part of the act.

To the rescue came muscleman Mickey Harigitay, 41, aslo a performer at the club. He uncoiled the 12-foot reptile from the torso of the dancer, whose real name is Donna Watson, 21.

"It took all my strength," puffed the former Mr. Universe and onetime husband of the late Jayne Mansfield.

St. Augustine, Fla., was founded by Menendez in 1565.

Marin City Youth Program Extended

The Marin City youth program, administered by Mrs. Collie Gaines, will continue through March 31, the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council has decided.

The council voted Wednesday to appropriate $20,000 to continue serving approximately 150 young persons in cooking, sewing, arts and crafts and recreational and cultural programs.

Study Asked On Preventing Delinquency

Representatives of four groups dealing with juvenile problems recommended last night a study of ways to prevent delinquency in Marin.

The study would take a special look at the drug problem and weigh creation of a youth service bureau, according to James D. Adams, chairman of the joint committee of representatives of the Marin Juvenile Justice Commission, the delinquency prevention commission, Allied Juvenile Agencies of Marin and the Bay Area Social Planning Council.

The study should be undertaken by the delinquency prevention commission, the group said.

Young persons attending the meeting—which concluded the committee's work — supported the idea of a drug clinic in Marin.

Sports Car Stolen

A 1959 Triumph TR-3 convertible, black and blue with California license WHG 231, owned by Donald G. Duryee of 180 Bret Harte Road, was stolen yesterday from the San Rafael High School parking lot, San Rafael police said today.

Council Neither Backs, Nor Opposes Tam Bonds

A Tamalpais High School District trustee, seeking support of the district's $10.9 million bond proposal, ran into sharp questioning last night before the Marin City Council, which neither endorsed nor opposed the issue.

Council member Ronald Foster asked trustee Bettye Wallace how the district could justify building a high school in Tiburon when it has land in Marin City.

The district proposes to build two new high schools, one in Tiburon and one in San Geronimo Valley with the bond funds.

Mrs. Wallace explained that the district also has land in Tiburon and there are 800 students in the Tiburon area, while there are about 200 students in the Marin City area.

Mrs. Wallace said when the Marin City site was obtained it was expected that enrollment in the area would increase to the point where construction would be warranted, but "the number of students here never materialized."

Council member Collie Gaines said she didn't see how the proposed construction would benefit Marin City.

Mrs. Wallace said a part of the funds would go toward a classroom building at Tamalpais High School, where the majority of Marin City students, attend. She also noted that Marin City students could have the option of attending Tamalpais, Redwood or the Tiburon high school.

Mrs. Gaines said unless bus service were provided, the students wouldn't really have a choice.

After a brief discussion about the possible use of the 32-acres in the center of the community owned by the district, Rev. Samuel L. Banks Jr., council chairman, suggested that be discussed at a later meeting.

After Mrs. Wallace left the council took no action on her request for endorsement of the bond proposal.

'Peanuts' Cartoons Will Be Auctioned

Original drawings by Charles Schultz, creator of "Peanuts," will go on the auction block along with other items Nov. 2 at a carnival at Old Adobe School on Old Adobe Road in Petaluma.

A flea market, games, refreshments and drawings are also planned. The events will run from 1 to 4 p.m.

Marinwood Halloween Parade Set

Marinwood's third annual Halloween costume parade and judging will start at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at the community center tennis court area.

"There is no age limit for costume entries," said William A. Gordon, recreation director. The parade and judging are sponsored by the Funsters, senior citizens group, and the community center.

Judging the costumes will be Mrs. Adele Requet, Mrs. Josephine Hutchinson, and Mrs. Elizabeth Boissevain.

On Oct. 31, Halloween, a spook house will be set up at the center from 3:30 to 6 p.m. Tiny tots, aged 5 and under, will be entertained separately at a "ghost town" puppet show, presented by Paul Jaquette of 505 Quietwood Drive, and Peter Stang of 515 Quietwood Drive.

Time To Change

Daylight Saving Time will end at 2 a.m. Sunday. To return to Pacific Standard Time, clocks should be set back one hour before retiring Saturday night.

San Anselmo Chamber Plans Yule Decor

The San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce board yesterday agreed to put up Christmas street decorations shortly after Thanksgiving, William Franchini, president, said today.

He said the city council has appropriated $835 toward the decorations, and businessmen will add to this fund. The chamber board will meet again at 12:15 p.m. Thursday at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

The British Navy used canned food as far back as 1813.

Incumbent Congressmen Both Deserve Re-Election

Reapportionment last year placed most of the county in the Sixth District, represented by Republican William S. Mailliard of San Francisco. Mailliard is now seeking re-election, and opposing him is Democrat Philip H. Drath of San Rafael, who lost his party's nomination to Thomas T. Storer in the old First Congressional District two years ago.

RESIDENTS of West Marin, North Marin and South Sonoma are still in the First District; and they also have one familiar candidate: the incumbent, Republican Donald H. Clausen of Crescent City.

There appears little doubt of the outcome in either district. The incumbents look like shoo-ins, though Drath may give Mailliard a better run for his money in the Sixth District than Graham is likely to give Clausen in the First.

This is, we think, as it should be.

MAILLIARD HAS performed creditably for his district during 16 years in the House of Representatives. His greatest interest is in the merchant marine — which has at least peripheral bearing on Marin County. He also serves on the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Mailliard (who, incidentally, was born in Marin County) has mostly gone along with the administration in his votes on Vietnam — but not entirely happily. He describes it as "a very unpleasant situation which we probably should never have gotten into."

This is rather typical of Mailliard's moderate approach to most issues. He reserves his strong words of condemnation for administration spending programs, which he feels have dissipated the nation's wealth to little purpose.

Drath is thoroughly dedicated to peace — a dedication with which we certainly cannot quarrel. This has carried him, however, to some extremes in willingness to concede almost anything to North Vietnam to get the war over.

In his current campaign, Drath has made extreme statements also on other issues, seeming to follow more and more the highly questionable line of the "New Left."

CONGRESSMAN CLAUSEN has been Marin and Sonoma's representative since he won a special election following the tragic death of Rep. Clem Miller.

He has concentrated his attention principally on local matters of benefit to his district — Point Reyes National Seashore, Redwoods National Park, the Tiburon Oceanographic Research Center, etc.

He, also, has gone along with the administration on Vietnam — to a point that causes his opponent, Graham, to label him a "superhawk."

Just what Graham stands for is hard to determine. His campaign has consisted principally of attacks on Clausen. He wants a negotiated peace in Vietnam — but Clausen has said he does, too.

Mailliard and Clausen both have the experience. Neither has been a "rascal" who should therefore be turned out. The Independent-Journal endorses both for re-election.

The Most Important Factor

Assuming that Marinites wish to continue to live in a county where nature is at their doorstep, amid a multitude of wild animals and birds, it might be well for them to remind themselves from time to time why we are so blessed with wildlife. Then we can take the necessary steps to insure that the situation continues.

Habitat is the most important factor in maintaining a wild animal population. This means that adequate cover in the form of rarely disturbed bushes, shrubs and trees must remain, that fields where grasses grow waist high in the spring must be permitted to remain to provide nests for many wild creatures. The bushes, trees and grasses provide a basis of food and a breeding ground for the wildlife.

Marin may become much more densely populated by humans, but this need not squeeze out the birds and other animals.

Santa Cruz Incident May Bring Change In University Control

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The display of bad manners, heckling, and actual physical assault displayed by a group of students and professors at the University of California regents meeting in Santa Cruz recently is virtually certain to result in strong repercussions when the state Legislature meets next January.

Already there have been indications that a drive will be made in the Legislature for a new constitutional amendment for submission to the people in 1970. Although this proposed amendment has not as yet taken concrete form, it is assumed its purpose will be to revise completely the structure for government of the university. Under the present structure, it is a law unto itself, with the board of regents answerable to no one.

GOV. RONALD REAGAN has added his voice to the growing concern over the disturbances, declaring:

"The people have not turned this institution over to the faculty to rule by insubordination, or the administrators to rule through appeasement and capitulation, or to the students to rule by coercion.

"The regents show disdain and deliberate unconcern for the interests of the people, some through timidity, some with an apparent lack of understanding of the urgent nature of the university's problems, and by some who clearly feel accountable to no one at all.

"Our very cultural values of good taste, fair play, freedom to speak, and academic freedom are being distorted, turned upside down, and even destroyed."

IT IS REASONABLY clear that the cancerous growth of dissonance won't be halted as long as administrators temporize with the problem and apply minor slaps on the wrist instead of positive action.

Consequently, many legislators feel that the time for a change is overdue.

It would appear that the time is long-past due when the university administration should say to the handful of dissidents that if they want to remain in the institution and acquire an education, they are welcome if they obey the rules of society, and if not, they can get out and stay out. Such action would redound to the benefit of the vast majority of students who attend the university for the purpose of acquiring an education, and also make a lot of taxpayers happy.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Storer Record On Tax Saving

I think the following comments need to be made about your editorial of Oct. 14 regarding Supervisor Tom Storer, who is up for re-election:

1. Marin County's budget is up just 5.5 per cent over last year, whereas the San Rafael city budget, about which Storer's opponent has had something to say, jumped 9.6 per cent.

2. You failed to mention that Storer was instrumental in getting his fellow supervisors to make a formal pledge to freeze the county's tax rate at this year's budget hearings. They did this, and stuck to it, because of constant pressure from Storer.

3. The county planning department budget, which you cited, is just about the only one where Storer did not wield an axe. This was because of the large cut proposed by Supervisor (John F.) McInnis would have saved an owner of a $30,000 home in Marin precisely $1.58 a year. Storer believes that Marin residents want good planning and are willing to pay $1.58 a year for it. This belief is one of Storer's value judgments which most Marinites share.

MICHAEL R. PEEVEY
San Rafael

(Editor's note: Reader Peevey does not give the source of his figures on budget increases. Official figures prepared by County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell show the Marin County budget for the current fiscal year is 6.6 per cent above last year's. Figures prepared by City Finance Director James H. McCown show the San Rafael budget is up 10 per cent over last year's. As to tax rates, the county reduced its tax rate this year by 3 cents; the City of San Rafael reduced its rate by 4 cents.)

Conservation League Role Questioned

Would the Marin Conservation League please explain why they bypassed the Nowell plan meetings and hearings on Richardson Bay, held before the Marin Planning Commission and the Board of Supervisors, only to send Mary Summers, former Marin County planning director, to shoot down the plan when it came before the Bay Conservation and Development Commission?

What was the Conservation League's purpose in allowing busy county officials to devote months of careful consideration to the Nowell plan and give it their blessing, if the conservationists were opposed to it? Why didn't they register their protest promptly, where it should have been registered — before our planning commission and the supervisors?

Many columns of newspaper space in your paper and other Marin publications have been given to the Nowell Richardson Bay Plan and certainly the Conservation League knew what was going on. . . .

To what extent do the conservationists believe they represent the thinking of the general public of Marin County? It would be interesting in these days of poll taking to learn the reaction of Marin voters. . . .

It is my understanding that this Nowell development will be carefully controlled by Marin County authorities; will clean up Richardson Bay; will help create deep water in the bay and will add materially to our assessment rolls with resultant tax benefits to all of Marin.

Basically the choice belongs with the residents of Marin, but individual property rights must be respected. Thus Richardson Bay becomes an issue of money. Do the taxpayers assume the burden of buying it and take it off the tax rolls, or do we encourage the owner-developers to do an outstanding job and profit along with them?

Motorcycle School Not As Expected

I recently had the misfortune of attending a motorcycle training school conducted by the Marin County Motorcycle Association. I say misfortune because it was not at all which I had been told to expect. I expected to see slovenly disheveled people, the kind we all hear about, but in actuality there were doctors, lawyers, dentists, people from normal walks of life; people like you and I. I expected to see long hair streaming over black leather jackets. I could find no long hair and found leather jackets are clothing recommended as protection against the elements and not necessarily a symbol of hostility. I fully expected to be charged an exorbitant fee so they might be better able to finance their often read about orgies and beer busts but there was no charge and I found they held wiener bakes and chicken fries as club outings. Now I ask you, what's left if you go to a motorcycle meeting and don't see what you are told to expect? I guess what's left are the few renegade and outcast clubs such as the Hell's Angels and rather infamous Grim Reapers who seem to receive all the publicity.

I was appalled to find the association members were dedicated people contributing their time and machines to further what I found is a clean, stimulating sport both on the highway and in the field. . . .

I feel these people are a fine credit to society and that their efforts should receive general recognition.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A RUGGED LITTLE light weight pugilist was asked if his parents had a hand in toughening him up when he was a youngster. "Did they ever!" chuckled the pugilist. "My ma used to whomp me with a cat-o'-nine-tails till I hollered for mercy. Then she'd pat me on the head and say sweetly, 'Now just you wait till your pappy gets home!' "

H. Allen Smith recalls the time a reform mayor of Gotham initiated a big clean-up campaign. One of his stints was to set up a special trash can in Times Square and wire it for sound. A small transmitter-receiver was hidden in the can, with an operator with a mike stationed in a window over-looking the square.

Several intrigued reporters were watching when a lady threw an old newspaper on the sidewalk. The trash can admonished her, "That's not the way to keep New York clean, lady. What's your name?" The lady shot one startled look at the can, then snapped, "I don't talk to trash cans" — and strode away.

Nixon Campaign Rolls Smoothly –But Is It Going Anywhere?

CAMPAIGNING WITH NIXON IN NEW YORK — Richard Nixon's campaign is a marvel of perfection. It is organized down to the last Nixonette, the last round of cheering and applause, the last press release put out precisely on schedule.

That may, in fact, be its greatest weakness. The apparatus is so large, so impressive, so costly that the man himself tends to be obscured by the machine. Seeing him plain is like peeling away the leaves of an artichoke to be rewarded at long last by the small, tender heart.

It is a lengthy process and whether the voter will pursue it in these last two weeks of the contest is an unanswered question on which a lot turns.

IN THE CURRENT jargon, Nixon may have peaked. That is to say he has gone on for so long cautiously treasuring his large lead over a rival whose campaign has been diffuse, confused and uncertain that almost everybody has had enough of the balancing act. And it is too late for an abrupt change of pace and style.

But, granted a still-substantial Nixon lead, to one observer this does not seem to be the Nixon problem. Even more than the polls show, it appears at this point, voters are undecided. You hear people saying, "I don't really like either one of them." Whether they will vote for Nixon or Hubert Humphrey or stay home on election day, this last push will determine.

FOR THE NIXON managers the most sensitive point is that the candidate is saying nothing or next to nothing on the issues. In refutation they have put out a book of 194 printed pages carefully indexed and collated, a triumph of organization such as the Humphrey campaign could not dream of achieving. This encyclopaedic volume covers nearly 300 issues or sub-issues on which Nixon has spoken, beginning with the announcement of his candidacy in February in New Hampshire.

He has said a great deal. He has made sweeping promises. The word transform recurs again and again in this campaign bible. He is for building up America's missile power in order to negotiate from strength with the Soviet Union; for a bigger nuclear navy; for an anti-ballistic missile system; for educational programs such as Head Start and Follow Through, expanded if that seems wise; for Social Security benefits geared to go up with rising prices; for educational development and vocational training for the urban and the rural poor.

But with all this, as he says over and over in what has inevitably become "the speech," he is for lower taxes. In relation to the incredibly difficult tasks the next President faces it could be that he has said too much rather than too little. Expectations among his followers will be raised too high as he flies over the mountain peaks of trouble, putting the blame, in the oldest campaign tradition, on the party in power.

FOR A REPUBLICAN who expects to be President there is a terrible object lession in this great, groaning city. A Republican mayor, John V. Lindsay, televising like a dream, bright with promise for the future, is being destroyed by circumstances that seem entirely beyond his control. A witch's brew of racial hatred has come out of the issue of control of the school system and a third strike by the teachers' union has closed down the schools with no end in sight.

A police slowdown in a dispute over wages puts the rudiments of law and order — merely keeping the clogged streets partially open — in jeopardy. The taxing power divided between the state and the city is stretched almost to the point of diminishing returns. A Republican governor, Nelson Rockefeller, having brought down a torrent of abuse on his head when he intervened to avert disaster in the garbage strike last winter, is silent.

IT WAS IN New York that Nixon made his education speech. He advocated returning control over federal aid to state and local governments through bloc grants. Understandably he did not involve himself in the morass threatening to engulf Lindsay. That would be asking too much of any candidate.

Yet in the face of the ordeal of New York the simple formula of local control, with one a glancing reference to alienation and tension in city school systems, seemed hardly adequate. It is a formula that has little relevance to what threatens in America's largest city — not merely a breakdown in the school system but, as Lindsay fears when he expresses in private his black pessimism, street fighting growing out of the hatreds boiling up around the school conflict.

The object lesson is, above all, in what this crisis suggests about how — and by whom —the United States can be governed in the years ahead. It suggests that a little humility from both candidates might be in order.

Local Polls Of Interest As Campaign Nears End

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Local polls in some areas show Vice President Humphrey beginning to move up in the presidential race, but they continue to show GOP candidate Richard Nixon with a commanding lead.

Sponsors of local polls and surveys are the first to stress that they produce ''raw'' statistics from random sampling of voters which may lack the sophistication of the professional polls. Generally speaking, however, the local polls do collect a much larger number of votes.

SCRANTON, PA. — Since late September Humphrey has been moving up in the telephone poll conducted for the Scranton Sunday Times by a market research firm. Last Sunday's results, showed Nixon with 47 per cent of the vote and Humphrey with 40 per cent.

Over the seven week period of the Scranton poll, Nixon has been getting a little more than 58 per cent of the vote. Humphrey has averaged a little less than 35 per cent, and the Wallace overall vote has averaged about 3 per cent.

One of the surprises in last week's results was that the undecide vote, which has averaged only 4 per cent over seven weeks, jumped to 11 per cent.

YPSILANTI, MICH. — Following up on its survey of local political leaders, which showed Wallace as a "formidable" candidate just before the campaign's midpoint, the Ypsilanti Press has been interviewing voters in its own poll. The paper has also been asking readers to mail in a printed preference ballot.

In mid-October the paper's personal polling, conducted at a different location each day and at a different time, showed Humphrey almost even with Wallace, who had run second to Nixon in the early interviewing. Nixon continued to lead comfortably with not quite 45 per cent of the voters interviewed.

In the newspaper's mail poll, however, Wallace was the leader, with a large lead over Nixon and Humphrey in that order.

Laos Prince Reports Bomb Halt Plans

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—The United States has informed the Laotian government it intends to halt its bombing of North Vietnam but that no date has been fixed, Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma said today.

Souvanna said in an interview he was informed of the U.S. plans Tuesday by U.S. Ambassador William H. Sullivan.

The prince said Sullivan told him American planes would stop bombing North Vietnam but that no date for the halt has yet been agreed upon with the North Vietnamese.

(Diplomatic sources in European capitals have described the Washington-Hanoi talks as in a delicate stage with the United States apparently demanding proof of Hanoi's willingness to de-escalate the war before there is any bombing pause.)

Souvanna did not say whether such a bombing halt would also affect U.S. air missions over Laos. The United States flies both bombing and "armed reconnaissance" flights over Laos but admits only to the reconnaissance flights.

In Saigon, U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker today conferred an hour and 45 minutes with President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam in what may have been an allied effort to line up strategy for the diplomatic duel with Hanoi.

The Saigon Post, a newspaper aligned with Thieu, said the two men's seventh meeting in 10 days was a "decisive" attempt to iron out differences on dealing with Hanoi.

In a campaign speech last night, Nixon claimed that in 1960, at the end of the Eisenhower administration, the United States had a 50 per cent lead in land-based intercontinental ballistic missiles.

This is the first time in the current presidential campaign Clifford has become involved in the give-and-take, a marked contrast from four years ago when then-Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara fired volley after volley at Republican critics of administration defense policies.

He was to be in San Jose at noon for a talk with San Jose State College, before flying on to Las Vegas, Nev. A revised schedule cut short other campaigning scheduled in the Bay Area.

The reason giving for canceling a day's campaigning in the San Francisco-Oakland area was a labor dispute involving employees at the Fairmont Hotel where the Humphrey entourage planned to stay. Humphrey would have had to cross a picket line to enter the hotel.

Canceled by the sudden schedule switch was a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner in San Francisco tonight. The tickets had already been sold but a campaign spokesman said the money for them is not included in the $1.5 million raised this week.

Pentagon Chief Wary Of Seeing Peace Hints

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford said today it is too soon to attach special significance to the reduced scale of fighting in South Vietnam. (See story on war in Vietnam, page 9.)

Clifford told a news conference the United States knows 30,000 to 40,000 North Vietnamese troops have moved out of South Vietnam. Some have gone to Laos, others to Cambodia and still others to North Vietnam, he said.

But some 80,000 North Vietnamese troops still remain in the South, he emphasized.

Noting there were 1,500 men killed in action last week—100 Americans, 200 South Vietnamese and 1,200 of the enemy forces—he declared, "I do not know that this is a lull in the fighting."

President Johnson, at his news conference yesterday, also was hesitant to use "lull" to describe the Vietnam situation.

Clifford said that after the Tet offensive early this year and another offensive in May, there was a similar period of withdrawls and reduced fighting.

"It is too soon to attach any significance," he said.

Clifford also rejected a suggestion that a military victory has been won in Vietnam.

As for peace prospects, he said Johnson has directed his Cabinet to refrain from comment on developments in the Paris preliminary peace negotiations.

"I know the President is pursuing every avenue and he is not leaving a stone unturned in the search for peace," Clifford said.

Clifford added that while the preliminary negotiations are going on, Johnson has directed there be no reduction of U.S. bombing in the limited areas of North Vietnam where it is now taking place.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Constitution And Censorship

One city wanted to curb "sexy" movies unsuitable for children. It set up a nine-citizen board to screen and label them "suitable" for youngsters. A theater would be fined if it showed "not suitable" films to those under 16. But a movie house could challenge the labels in court.

A theater owner did challenge the ordinance as a violation of his right to free speech. He also claimed it was too vague. The U.S. Supreme Court agreed with the owner and set aside the ordinance.

The Constitution protects movies as "free speech" just like newspapers, books, and plays. To be valid, such a law must set forth clear constitutional standards on censorship.

Advance censorship standards are too hard to write and are challenged as too vague. Few "review boards" have ever withstood a court attack. Voluntary boards, however, or ones that have no teeth generally get by.

In another case, the military labeled a bar "off limits" — not suitable for military personnel. A bar owner went to court and challenged the requirement that he post the "off limits" sign.

The court agreed; the owner was entitled to some hearing, and a chance to answer the military before it acted.

The state does have a well-recognized legal duty to protect children. Laws against selling obscene material to children are valid. What is "obscene," however, is usually judged by adult standards, namely, that it appeals mainly to "prurient interest and lacks redeeming social value."

Special standards for children often run into attack. During World War II, Nebraska passed a law banning the teaching of German to children. The Supreme Court said there was not enough danger to make such courses unlawful for youngsters.

Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

Czechoslovakia Intervention Hurts East-West Trading

BONN, Germany (GF) — The intervention in Czechoslovakia by Moscow and its closest allies has also dealt a blow to East-West trade. And West Germany will be one of the most severely hit of the western trading partners. For the last several months, trade between the Germans and Czechoslovaks had been riding a renaissance.

During the first six months of this year, Czechoslovakia sold $48.25 million worth of goods to the Federal Republic, an increase of fully 30 per cent over the same period last year. In the other direction, the West Germans exported $69 million in goods to Czechoslovakia, up 13 per cent from last year.

The favorable showing made by Czechoslovak exports, slightly closing the balance gap between the two countries, was largely due to the removal of some import restrictions by West Germany on goods plus a gigantic flux of German tourists to Czechoslovakia in the wake of the liberalization program there.

The new economic arrangements between Moscow and Prague, however, are expected to brake the first six months' trend. According to the agreements, Czechoslovakia will be required to largely increase its shipments of machinery and technical installations to the Soviet Union.

Coupled with domestic needs for these items, it means Czechoslovakia would have to rely largely on textiles and agricultural products for trade with the West. However, such products will be much more difficult to sell in the West than so-called "hardware."

There is little doubt the Czechoslovaks would like to continue improving the trade picture with the West and officials in Prague have offered assurances that economic contacts to all countries will indeed continue.

But at the same time, it is pointed out that the possibilities for cooperation within COMECON, East Europe's image of Western Europe's Common Market, have not been exhausted — a nice way of saying the Czechoslovaks will be compelled to contribute a greater share into the East European trade bowl.

Deliveries to the Soviet Union alone this year are slated to rise to 15 billion crowns ($2 billion, based on the official exchange rate).

Subdivision Study Session In Fairfax

The Fairfax City Council and Planning Commission last night held a preliminary study of a proposed revised subdivision ordinance prepared and presented by Werner von Gundell of the Marin County planning department.

No decisions were reached. City Clerk Mrs. Francis Lestanguet was told to set up another joint meeting date for further discussion and for study of proposed zoning ordinance revisions.

Attack On Uses Of Lab Rats To Be Ignored

NEW YORK (UPI) — The chances are the science of psychology will pay very little attention to the newest attack on the scientific worth of the white rat, as it did to past ones.

Multitudes of them are in use in psychology laboratories and millions have been used over the past 50 years to build and test theories concerning the behavior of other creatures, especially human beings.

INVESTMENT NOTED

The newest attacker, Dr. Robert B. Lockard, a psychologist of the University of Washington, noted psychology's huge investment in this docile rodent.

To abandon it now as a "laboratory tool" would mean confessing that "millions of man-hours and dollars" had been spent on the wrong beast, he said. This in turn, would bring into question "many of the products of psychology" as a science, Lochard pointed out.

Nevertheless, the white rat is not even representative of rats, much less of the animal kingdom in general, Lockard said in a technical journal of the American Psychological Association.

NOT LIKE ANCESTOR

He detailed how it differs in body chemistry and in temperament from the brown, Norwegian rat of which it was a freak, albino offshoot that became a toy of animal breeders in the 19th Century.

Since then it has been selectively bred in droves and the result is that it is an utterly unique animal the like of which never existed in nature. Furthermore, Lockard added, it will be a different animal 50 years from now than it is now, due to laboratory selective pressures.

At best, the white rat is "the degenerate remains" of nature's rat and "it is at least a waste of time, if not outright folly, to experiment" with such a creature. In Lockard's opinion, "Psychology has enough embarrassing incidents such as 'studying' anti-predator response to hawk shapes by domestic white leghorn chickens."

UNLIKE PRIMATES

As for using white rat studies in extrapolations to people, rodents are quite remote in evolution from primates, of which people are one, he said.

"They are not some sort of preserved form of ancestrial stock from which many other animals and their behavior evolved," Lockard said.

For scientific "rat runners who would like results broadly applicable to 'higher mammals,' principally humans, an animal in a better ancestral position is the Solendon, a primitive insectivore thought to resemble the basic stock from which a number of mammalian lines, including primates, evolved," Lockard suggested.

But as other critics of the white rat have argued before him, concentrating on one kind of animal "provides too narrow a view of behavior, leading to a science of 'rat learning' and neglecting most other behaviors," he said.

"Behavioral science presumably aims to analyze and understand all behaviors of anything that behaves, taking a truly broad and scientific approach to the vast array of, phenomena about us," Lockard added.

Drinking Companion Complains Of Robbery

Eugene D. Chesterman of 31 Carmelita Avenue, Mill Valley, complained to sheriff's deputies yesterday that some men he was drinking with the night before offered him a ride, then robbed him when he fell asleep.

Chesterman, who could not recall the name of the San Rafael bar where he sipped his brew, told officers he awoke alongside the waterfront in Peacock Gap. His wallet, watch, cash and keys were missing, he said.

COMMUTE

Members of the special committee stressed that the agreement with Alioto would not stop the court test of the tax.

The special committee was set up by the executive committee at its September meeting when the Alameda County Board of Supervisors asked ABAG to oppose the commuter tax.

The chairman of the special committee, Alameda County Supervisor Joseph P. Bort, told the executive committee it was "far too early to come out with any specific suggestions" on a regional tax revision plan. To consider details of such a plan before the meeting with Alioto "would be premature," said Bort.

If the first meeting is successful, then a series of further public meetings probably will be held, he said.

Bort, noting the Legislature has failed for years to come up with a property tax relief plan, said the time had come "to try to tackle this locally, and then take a plan to the Legislature."

"A pattern for a solution, not a solution itself" should be what comes out of the Nov. 8 meeting, said McInnis.

Problem For Bay Watchdogs: In What Sense Is Fill For Birds?

The Mill Valley City Council's discussion Monday of the Nowell plan for 17 acres of fill and development in Richardson Bay again points out the complexity and confusion inherent in the Saucelito Canal dredging project.

The deep water channel, which will run from south of Waldo Point to Mill Valley's small craft harbor in the Project 17 marshlands, is vital to the development of upper Richardson Bay as a yachting area. Mill Valley's two proposed yacht harbors as well as those of the Bothin development and the Shelter Bay apartments are dependent on the dredging of the canal.

Involved in the project are the city, the adjacent property owners, the county, the state (indirectly), the Army Corps of Engineers and the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, among others. Assorted developers and conservationists have also become entangled, mainly by way of the various schemes proposed to dispose of the more than 700,000 cubic yards of bay mud which will be dredged up to create the channel.

THE NEED for fill areas is desperate. If the Saucelito Canal Assessment District cannot find adequate areas within the bay perimeter for the dredging spoils the whole project may go down the drain.

The crucial point is cost. The Army Engineers estimated project cost at $1 million (to be shared by the corps and the assessment district) will be doubled at least if the spoils have to be barged out to sea as suggested by BCDC.

Thus the sudden popularity of the Nowell plan with both the city and the county. It will provide 17 acres for fill, which will accommodate some 70,000 cubic yards of mud. Another 100,000 cubic yards is to be placed on the Bothin property in Richardson Bay, started before the BCDC fill moratorium, and another 100,000 cubic yards at Alcatraz, a BCDC-approved fill area.

ANOTHER PROPOSAL, much less talked about but one that reappears periodically, is the creation of a 35-acre bird island in Richardson Bay on the west side of the Strawberry Peninsula.

The island, which would barely protrude above the water level at high tide, thus creating a sort of marsh area, could accommodate 500,000 cubic yards of spoils.

The proposal was first dreamed up several years ago by the county and has been well publicized. Apparently Marin conservationist weren't listening, however, because only a few weeks ago a mention of the island sent the Mill Valley unit of the Marin Conservation League into a tizzy.

Conservationists, including the National Audubon Society which runs the Richardson Bay wildlife sanctuary, are opposed because the island would set a precedent for further filling of the bay.

It is generally assumed that BCDC is also opposed, although the organization has been careful not to take a stance on the island until it is formally presented as part of the county's Richardson Bay master plan.

ANOTHER VIEW of the island comes from Robert W. Lassen, wild life management supervisor for the state Department of Fish and Game.

Lassen would like to see the island created as a noble experiment in providing new habitats for migrating and local birds. He says it is a great chance to see if such a scheme would really work because, if it does, it might be the answer to the continuing destruction by developers of bird nesting and feeding areas around the bay.

It's an interesting dilemma: The channel will provide the long-sought recreational use of the bay and its shoreline, but in doing so it also may fill a portion of the bay. Will the bird island be merely more bay fill or bay fill for a conservation purpose?

But as another county official involved said: Lassen is a bird man; we have yet to hear from the fish men. The channel fill battle will be a long one, folks.

Pseudo Campaign Sends Forgotten Man Into Spiral Over Spiro

WASHINGTON — As part of his hard-hitting campaign, Republican vice presidential candidate Spiro Agnew has been attacking the pseudo-intellectuals in the United States and blaming them for most of the country's woes.

This has caused a great deal of bitterness among America's pseudo-intellectuals, and it's possible that Agnew's strategy might backfire on him.

Mr. Hillary Hazeltine, president of the Pseudo-Intellectual Antidefamation League, held a press conference last week where he defended the role of pseudo-intellectuals in the United States and warned that if Governor Agnew continued his attacks, he would lose millions of votes.

"WHILE PSEUDO-intellectuals do not usually vote as a bloc," Hazeltine said, "they are very sensitive to criticsim and certainly would not vote for a man who treats them with so much contempt."

Asked how large the pseudo-intellectual vote was in the United States, Hazeltine replied, "It's hard to say, but we're the ones who subscribe to Time magazine, belong to the Book of the Month Club and watch Leonard Bernstein on television.

"We drive Volkswagens and go to foreign films and buy bullfight posters and, sometimes, drink wine with our meals. Agnew is crazy to mess with us."

"Why would he?"

"He probably doesn't even know what a pseudo-intellectual is. We attend filmed lectures on Tahiti and buy tickets to Edward Albee plays, and write letters to the editor of our local newspaper and never miss a PTA meeting and listen to records by Henry Mancini."

Hazeltine contined, "I don't know who Agnew thought he was attacking, but he's stepped on the toes of everyone in this country who quotes David Susskind, who owns a hi-fi stereo record machine and plays contract bridge on Thursdays. We may not watch Ed Sullivan but we do watch the Smothers Brothers and Laugh-In, and whenever Marlene Dietrich sings, we buy the house out."

"THEN WHAT you're saying, Mr. Hazeltine," a reporter said, "is that Governor Agnew unknowingly has made fun of the same people that Richard Nixon is appealing to."

"Exactly. We're the forgotten Americans that Nixon is always talking about. We pay our taxes. We work for our money. We don't get involved in crime. The only thing we're trying to do is improve our minds. We might have gone for Nixon if Agnew hadn't given us all that jazz."

"Why do you think he did it?"

"He probably got all mixed up. What he wanted to do was attack the intellectuals, but he was afraid to do it, so he picked on the pseudo-intellectuals instead. If he had attacked the intellectuals in the United States, he might have lost 53 votes. But when he went after the pseudo-intellectuals, he took on about 10 or 15 million Americans."

"WHAT DOES the Pseudo-Intellectual Antidefamation League plan to do about it?"

"We're going to be fair about it and give Agnew a chance to retract what he said about us."

"Do you think he'll do it?"

"Why not? He's retracted practically everything else he's said."

"And if he doesn't?"

"Then we shall notify our membership through the New Yorker, Atlantic Monthly, Harper's and Playboy that Spiro Agnew is an antipseudo-intellectual and we will warn them that a vote for Agnew is a vote for Lawrence Welk. We'll let our members take it from there."

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Is Supervisor's Pay Justified If Hired Help Makes Decisions?

Fusselman

The gremlins were at it again last Friday. They jumped the Halloween date and put the heading for this column (Discussion of Transportation Problem Started Long Ago) on the Art Buchwald column and the heading for his on mine. Then they put two lines in twice—once where they didn't belong. There is no explaining the gremlins. They're just a pain.

I have been filing a stack of clippings this afternoon (Wednesday); some news stories and some I-J editorials. One story related the recommendation of the Marin County Grand Jury to raise the supervisors from $9,600 a year to $10,800, beginning with 1971. This induces considerable contemplation. When I left the board, we had been getting, for four year, $500 a month. The first of January '65 this was increased by $300 to $800. Now, this recommendation to the Legislature, which undoubtedly will be endorsed by this board before submission, means a jump of $400 a month to $1,200.

The total for all five goes like this: for four years—1961 to '65 it was $30,000 per year then 1965 to '69 it is $48,000, and then beginning with 1971 the shell out for the five will be $54,000. Pretty nice, what?

THESE FIGURES would not be out of line, if the board really worked at the job instead of operating in the grand manner, abdicating and permitting the administrator, with his costly layout, to run the county.

All one has to do is to read the weekly agenda for the board meetings, to see plainly who is making policy and who rubber stamps.

"In these surroundings the answer to the 'welfare problem' is plain. The way to reduce the heavy burden of relief handouts is to spend some of the money training people to become self-sufficient. Presto! Reliefers go to work and get off welfare. The problem is solved.

'You can't say that the elegant and costly surroundings of the supervisors' chambers haven't paid for themselves."

HE SHOWED the shallowness of their thinking, by taking us down to the other end of the hall, where the air conditioning doesn't work so well and the seats aren't so comfortable and get less so as the night wears on while a "task force" tries to see just how the brilliant conclusions of the other end of the hall could be brought into being. The trouble is that the elegant thinking just doesn't groove.

The final budget covering July 1, '68 to June 30, '69 is printed and available. It's a heavy one—weighs over 2.5 pounds. In just a few weeks they will start preparing the one for the '69-'70 fiscal year.

The music goes round and round and it doesn't come out too sweet.

HALLINAN'S CHARGE

Tactical Squad Held A Brutality Vehicle

By ROSS DAVIS

Terence Hallinan, San Francisco attorney injured during a May 21 confrontation with police, yesterday lambasted that city's police tactical squad as a vehicle of brutality rather than enforcer of law.

Speaking before about 70 College of Marin students at the school's weekly Controversy '68 Series, he said San Francisco Police Department's 34-member squad — organized to deal with riots — has abandoned the traditional presumption of innocence until proven guilty.

TRAINING CITED

They are all military veterans, declared he, trained intensively in the arts of judo, karate and baton-wielding. "They ride around looking for an opportunity to use this training." he added. "If they can't find an opportunity, they'll create one."

Hallinan, nicknamed "Kayo" and facing a charge of felony assault on a police officer in the May incident during a sit-in at San Francisco State College, said he knows first-hand about their brutality because he had 16 stitches taken for a head blow from a police weapon.

"Most people in California aren't aware that it is a felony to beat a police officer over the club with your head," he said with a show of humor.

Hallinan, in legal action arising out of the incident, unsuccessfully sought to have San Francisco's Mayor, Joseph Alioto, held in contempt of court recently for calling him a "street hoodlum" and "right-wing extremist."

Hallinan, 31, and formerly of Ross, said San Francisco's error came in permitting a well-functioning police-community relations bureau to be placed under the control of the police department and its precinct captains.

"It went from being the watchdog of the police department to a public relations spokesman" for it, said he.

He said the tendency to form tactical squads using "a military approach as opposed to a law enforcement approach" is spreading across the nation and is already used in Detroit, Chicago, and New York, as well.

The solution to handling riots should be through normal use of police departments and during riot causes such as poverty and discrimination, Hallinan added. "The tactical squad and community-relations approach are opposite," he said, and cannot be compatible.

OTHER CHARGES

He said there have been instances of San Francisco's tactical squad beating women and children without cause, that members have come to regard themselves as opposed to the citizenry. Their procedure, said he, is to pick the first agitator of a gathering, use maximum force in that area, "and, bluntly, beat the hell out of them."

"Who polices the police?", he asked.

Registrar Sees Heavy Turnout

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Approximately 85 per cent of the city's 374,335 voters will turn out to cast votes Nov. 5, according to a new estimate by Registrar of Voters Basil Healey.

"I sense a resurgence of interest, indicated by the large number of persons who have come in to cast absentee ballots or who have written in to request ballots," he said.

Previously Healey had estimated a voter turnout of 83.5 per cent. Yesterday he said the pre-election requests and inquiries for absentee ballots was 50 per cent higher than it was for the June primary.

Minorities Get Craft Training, But Actual Jobs Still Scarce

Despite broadened training opportunities for minorities in construction trades, the end of the rainbow — jobs — is still largely invisible.

This was the thrust of a report to the Marin County Human Rights Commission last night by representatives of labor, management and federal and state employment and apprenticeship agencies.

The commission, which sought a progress report on entrance of minorities into trades since a meeting of the groups two years ago, learned that training programs were underway through each of the trade unions, but that jobs were generally scarce.

Commissioner Richard Hardin acknowledged the training efforts, but wondered: "Are we whistling Dixie in terms of giving jobs and letting them earn a living?"

Herman J. Hale, district director of the state Division of Apprenticeship Standards, said that 2,500 carpenters were at work in Marin two or three years ago, but that about 1,500 were employed full time now.

Robert V. Nugent, an official of Local 3 of the Operating Engineers Union in San Rafael, reported a large number of men in his local out of work.

Harding said he has read of a nationwide shortage of skilled labor, but "they can't get jobs locally."

"It seems we're not going to provide employment," he added, but we can still get training for them."

The group decided to attempt to obtain a list of unemployed persons interested in construction trades for use in filling training slots.

Austin J. Thompson, executive director of the human rights department, said that 21 agencies were working on manpower in Marin — without coordination.

The commission, exploring entrance procedure to preapprenticeship training programs, wondered whether many applicants, apparently skilled, were being dropped because of failure to pass a mathematics and English aptitude test.

"Let's quit kidding ourselves; the problem is not with the unions and the employers but with the minororities coming out and applying for a job," said Ray White, executive manager of the Redwood Empire Sheet Metal and Air Conditioning Contractors Association.

He said he had sent 150 notices of a pre-apprenticeship test for the sheet metal trade to Bay Area schools, groups representing minorities and employment officials, but got no response. White said he finally recruited three applicants himself.

"A lot of minority people applied for so long and got turned down," said Commission Chairman James Quiett. "They're going to need a lot of coaxing."

Suspect Faces Hit-Run Charge

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— A suspect was arrested yesterday in the hit-run death two weeks ago of a 14-year-old boy. The boy's death was believed to have provoked several firebombings in the Hunters Point district last week.

Renato Arturo Larkin, 23, was arrested after police located what they believed to be the death vehicle in a garage next to his home. The car was badly damaged.

Bryant Wallace, a student at Woodrow Wilson High School, was hit as he walked home from a school dance. His body was dragged 280 feet by the car.

Pumpkins Help Senate Hopeful

Supporters of the Republican candidate planted pumpkin seeds on 17 acres near Metcalf's home at Mukilteo, Wash.

When the pumpkins were small Metcalf's name was scratched on them with strips of tin.

The full grown pumpkins now have Metcalf's name emblazoned in big letters on their sides.

Sirhan Case Gag Rules Opposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Los Angeles district attorney prosecuting Sirhan Bishara Sirhan for the alleged assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy has asked the Supreme Court to ease restrictions on newsmen covering the case.

Sirhan, 24, stands trial Dec. 9 on charges of murdering Kennedy in Los Angeles last June following the New York senator's California Democratic presidential primary victory.

Los Angeles County Dist. Atty. Evell J. Younger petitioned the high court yesterday to consider whether restrictions on reporters amounts to a violation of the First Amendment and fosters circulation of rumors.

College President Slates Discussion On Trustees' Worry Over Marijuana Series

Sonoma State College officials, members of the publications commission and editors of the newspaper "Steppes" were to meet late this afternoon to discuss the two articles on growing marijuana that caused a stir at Wednesday's meeting of the California State College trustees.

President Ambrose R. Nichols Jr. said he called the meeting to discuss general matters of public responsibility in dealing with controversial matters such as marijuana.

Nichols said he felt the commission and editors should have a first-hand report on the discussion that took place at the trustees meeting. He declined to say if he planned to censure the students.

At the meeting at Fresno State College, Trustee Dudley Swim called for disciplinary action against Michael Funke, Steppes editor, but got no support from other regents.

The articles, reprinted from the San Francisco State College newspaper, appeared Sept. 23 and Oct. 3 and gave step-by-step instructions in the cultivation of marijuana.

Editor Funke said he didn't know what to expect from today's meeting, but said he would resist all efforts to censor his newspaper. "We have a fine college president who stays away from censorship," he said. "I don't expect our freedom will be challenged."

Funke, a junior sociology major from San Mateo, said he published the articles "because I thought it was a feature that would interest a fairly large majority of the student body."

He declined to estimate the number of drug users on campus, but said, "If the percentage is as low as 15 to 20 per cent, it was still worth using."

Funke said he considered the articles well written and filled with satire. "We received only one letter objecting to the articles, and that was from a student," he said, noting the faculty and administration looked at the stories with humor.

Included in the Sept. 23 edition was a front page picture of two men identified as Sonoma County narcotics agents and carrying the admonition, "beware of the friendly stranger."

Funke said this was also part of the newspaper's service to the student community that uses drugs.

He said he thought the stir caused at the trustee's meeting was a continuation of their being "up-tight" over the Berkeley disturbances and the actions of Black Panther leader George Murray at San Francisco State College.

BOREDOM SOLUTION

Lady Aquanauts For The Future?

LONG BEACH (AP)—Officers of the Navy's Sealab 3 think they have the answer to one of the great problems facing men who will spend long weeks at great depths under the sea.

The problem: boredom when they're not working.

The answer: female aquanauts.

The intriguing situation arose at a news conference yesterday as officials disclosed technical problems have delayed lowering of the 57-foot-long Habitat until mid-November or later.

Five teams of eight or nine men are scheduled to spend 12 days each in the cylindrical sea hut at a depth of 600 feet near San Clemente Island off the Southern California coast.

On their return to the surface they will have to spend six days in decompression chambers, getting rid of atmospheric gases forced into their tissues by pressures 19 times that at the surface.

During that period one of their big problems will be boredom, as it will be for future undersea workers in mining and drilling operations.

Capt. Grady H. Lowe, commander of the Naval Undersea Warfare Center at nearby Pasadena, suggested that the best solution would be female as well as male aquanauts.

Capt. George F. Bond, medical officer for Sealab 3 and its forerunners, said the Navy has no plans to use women in any deep-diving occupation, "but I see no reason why they could not do the work."

"I think this may come very soon," he said, "as coeducational academic institutions go more and more into oceanography."

Former astronaut Scott Carpenter, a Navy commander who spent a record 30 days in Sealab 2 at a depth of 205 feet off La Jolla in 1965, disagreed with Bond's observation that female aquanauts probably are not needed "at this time."

"That," said Carpenter, "depends entirely on your viewpoint."

Francisco Carrasco Salas, 36, convicted killer of a Sacramento County deputy sheriff, has become the 84th man on San Quentin Prison's condemned row and the 85th person under death sentence in the state.

Salas, of Santa Rosa, who killed deputy Kenneth B. Royal June 7, was sentenced to death Tuesday and arrived at the prison Wednesday.

Bridge gross revenue increased to $4,692,409 compared to $4,294,817 the previous year.

Span Board Shelves Bus Fare Boost

A proposed hike in bus fares from the present 13 cents to $1 today was shelved for 90 days by the finance committee of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District.

Marin County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney told the committee that any fare hike "undoubtedly will fall directly on the commuters, not on Greyhound."

The proposal was made Oct. 11 by Director Stephan C. Leonoudakis of San Francisco. He objected that although bus fares were cut from $1 to 13 cents per bus per trip in February, 1965, patronage has not increased.

The 1965 cut was won by former Marin bridge Director Thomas D. Hardcastle of Novato to forestall a fare hike for passengers sought by Greyhound.

Leonoudakis said that a state Public Utilities commissioner today told him a bridge fare hike for buses would not justify another increase in passenger fares.

Maloney, however, said "I'd hate to have to try another fare case before the PUC and lose 4-1 with Mr. Leonoudakis' contact dissenting."

(Greyhound has already been granted two rate increases for commuter buses in Marin this fall.)

The motion by Director William Moskowitz of San Francisco to shelve the matter passed 6-3. The majority of directors agreed that before such an increase is considered they should have in hand the bus transit plans being prepared for them by the district's former chief engineer Arthur C. Jenkins of Berkeley. That report is due in mid-December.

Child Burn Victim In Poor Condition

Scott R. Spencer, 4-year-old son of Mrs. Mary E. Johnson of 8 Adrian Way, Santa Venetia, was reported still in poor condition today in Marin General Hospital's intensive care unit.

The child was badly burned Wednesday when his 6-year-old brother set fire to a rubbish pile around him.

Quarterly Transport Meetings Proposed

The Marin Citizens Transportation Committee is considering quarterly meetings instead of motnhly meetings, using subcommittees to keep in touch with various phases of transportation.

This was discussed last night at a meeting at the Civic Center, but no action was taken, according to Charles C. Swensen of Sleepy Hollow, who presided.

Hippie Gets Onto Payroll, Off Relief

Mrs. Lillian Inke, vocational services supervisor in the department of public social services said the young man, of Gate 5 Road in Sausalito, obtained a $60-a-week job as leather worker on Oct. 10, two days after Marin County supervisors gave him two weeks to earn his own living.

The superivsors decided that the young man, whose name was withheld, would be paid general relief at the rate of $38 per week until he received his first paycheck.

"He got his first paycheck on Oct. 18, and general relief payments stopped that day," reported Mrs. Inke. "We referred him to the job and he went to work right away."

Mrs. Inke said work training counselors had a "hunch" the man would find a job because he had worked at yard work jobs before he applied for general relief.

"We look at all applicants seeking relief as individuals with individual problems, but always with the effort to make them responsible," said Mrs. Inke. "When we get any person who appears irresponsible, we force them to show good faith," she explained. "We say get registered at all the employment agencies, establish an address, and seek employment, and you know, some kids actually say, 'that's too much trouble' and walk away."

Valenti Says Film Curbs Long In Effect

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The film industry's new system of self-regulation, effective Nov. 1, was initiated "long before . . . all the hue and cry" about violence in movies, says the president of the Motion Picture Association of America.

Jack Valenti, in San Francisco for the opening of the city's film festival, said yesterday that the welfare of children was "uppermost in mind while officials were fashioning the program."

Actually, he said, emotional discussion has been outrunning sound judgment in recent years.

Valenti related some of the guide lines:

Evil, sin ,crime and wrongdoing shall not be justified.

Detailed and protracted acts of brutality, cruelty , physical violence, torture and abuse shall not be presented.

Indecent or undue exposure of the human body shall not be presented.

However, actual censorship is not planned, Valenti said.

Hamilton Motorist Hurt In Collision

William Henry Lightner, 31, of the 1902nd Communications Squadron, Hamilton Air Force Base, was treated at the base hospital last night for a cut lower lip after his car hit a truck in a parking lot off Ignacio Lane in Ignacio, the California Highway Patrol said today.

The highway patrol said Lightner apparently turned off the road by mistake at 10:55 p.m. and hit the truck owned by Bobo's Construction Co. Inc. of Ingacio.

TWO NEW HIGH SCHOOLS?

Tam Bond Issue Wanted Mainly To End Crowding At Preps Now

(Second of Three Articles)

The main thrust of Tamalpais High School District's $10.9 million bond proposal is to finance two new high schools, one at Tiburon and the other at San Geronimo Valley.

Passage of the bonds would provide $4.5 million for a new high school in San Geronimo Valley, $6.3 million for a new school at Tiburon and $1.3 million for renovation and construction at the three existing high schools, Redwood, Sir Francis Drake and Tamalapis.

These amounts total $12.1 million, with the difference between this total and the $10.9 bond proposal to be met by allocation of $1.2 million in district reserves.

The San Geronimo Valley School would reduce overcrowding at Drake, where portable classrooms are serving as classrooms because the enrollment is 1,725 and the school's capacity, 1,475.

The Tiburon high school would reduce overcrowding at Redwood High, which has an enrollment of about 2,450 with a capacity of 2,100.

The San Geronimo Valley School would be scheduled for completion in 1970 and the Tiburon school in 1972. Each would be constructed to accommodate 800 students initially, but designed eventually to accommodate 1,500.

Tiburon high would be located near the middle of the Tiburon peninusla on 51.7 acres of land already purchased by the district above Belveron Gardens. The school would have four buildings in the first phase: a main building housing classrooms, administration offices, the student center and a library; a little theater building; a building for music and art; and a gymnasium for boys and girls.

The student center would include a canteen, room for student government offices and activities, and a store. There would be 18 regular classrooms and 12 laboratories including facilities for science, industrial arts, art and music, and homemaking, according to plans. Although the existing three high schools have swimming pools, none is included for Tiburon.

Also, the physical education fields and courts would be restricted to the minimal requirements for sports.

San Geronimo's high would have only the essentials for athletic fields and courts. It would have no swimming pool in the early phase. The buildings would be a boys' and girls' gymnasium and student center; a little theater and music building; classrooms and administration office building; and a library and study center.

Construction would be single story with low roofs in keeping with the rural motif. Parking space would be provided for 242 vehicles. Construction would be completed in 1971.

The bond committee declared that difficulties will arise in getting Fairfax students to the school, but pointed out that all of Tiburon is farther from Redwood High than Fairfax is from San Geronimo, and all of Sausalito is farther from Tamalpais High. A recommendation that assistance in arranging transportation for Fairfax students to San Geronimo has been agreed to by the district board.

(Last of this series will appear tomorrow, covering renovation plans for existing high schools.)

Onassis Ship Readied For Honeymoon Cruise

NIDRION, Greece (UPI)— The 48 crewmen and four stewardesses of the great white yacht Christina stored freshly slaughtered pigs and packed fruit in the hold and today readied for the delayed honeymoon cruise of Aristotle and Jacqueline Onassis.

The deisel engines of the 325-foot former Canadian Navy frigate quietly throbbed as the $3 million vessel awaited the orders of the couple married Sunday on Onassis' Skorpios Island.

Onassis, 62, gave instructions for a sailing expert yesterday before he made a brief trip to Athens on business. His bride, the former Jacqueline Kennedy, 39, remained in her stateroom, ignoring the four man bouzouki band that serenaded the Christina from a fisherman's boat.

Twice Mrs. Onassis tried telephoning her new husband during his short absence. The calls failed to get through. But today the cruise delayed by bad weather and the honeymooners' cruise was prepared.

Young crewmen had hoisted aboard the pork and fruit from this fishing village of 600, to add to the supplies loaded in freezers when the Christiana pulls into a major port twice a year for filling larders.

Tank-Carried GIs Smash Reds' Fort

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. infantrymen hopped atop tanks and smashed into a North Vietnamese fortress in the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ), military spokesmen said today. The Americans killed 65 Communists and suffered no losses.

It raised to 177 the North Vietnamese troops killed in two days of American strikes into the buffer zone between North and South Vietnam. Not one American was killed in the fighting.

In a search of the area later the Americans seized 2,300 pounds of rice, 100 pounds of medical supplies, 25 mortars and 850 rounds of small arms ammunition.

To the south, South Korean infantrymen searching a network of natural caves near South Vietnam's central coast reported killing 89 Communists in another major action yesterday.

American B52 bombers stepped up their strikes on Communist troop concentrations and storage areas across the nation, flying 122 missions yesterday and early today. They struck targets in all four quarters of South Vietnam.

For the second time in as many days, U.S. fighter-bomber pilots capitalized on a break in monsoons over North Vietnam and flew 122 missions against strategic supply targets in the panhandle region below the 19th parallel.

The U.S. command said two U.S. Navy destroyers spotted seven North Vietnamese supply boats on radar and blasted them out of the water 15 miles north of coastal Dong Hoi Wednesday night. The U.S. vessels were not identified.

In Saigon, South Vietnamese spokesmen attempted to end speculation that the government's plan to release 140 Nort Vietnamese and Viet Cong prisoners was related to the latest peace overtures.

"There is no connection at all between the release and negoations in Paris," a spokesman said.

Early today Communist gunners shelled a bunkers and jail in the city of Hoi An 20 miles south of Da Nang with mortars and rockets, wounding four Vietnamese.

Footing The Bill

UTRECHT, Holland (UPI)—Dutch parents annually spend $35 on clothing and footwear of their children up to 15 years of age. Nearly half that amount goes for the three pairs of shoes the kids use up on the average.

Indictments On Monopoly Of Quinine

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department announced today the indictment of 15 U.S. and foreign companies and eight top executives on charges of monopoly and conspiracy in the sale and distribution of quinine and quinine products.

The indictment, with widespread international implications, was returned by a grand jury in the U.S. District Court for the Seventh District of New York.

Two large U.S. drug companies and one smaller American importer are included in the charges.

Six of the companies are based in the Netherlands, three in West Germany and two in Great Britain and one in France.

The American firms involved are Rexall Drug and Chemical Co., Los Angeles; Mead Johnson and Co. of Evansville, Ind., and New York City and R. W. Greef and Co. Inc., a New York City importer.

All are charged on three counts under the Sherman Antitrust Law and include restraint of trade, monopoly and conspiracy to commit monopoly.

Driver, Young Hitchhikers Injured In Corte Madera

Four persons, including three hitchhikers, were injured when a car sideswiped a power pole in the 200 block of Corte Madera Avenue about 6 p.m. yesterday, Corte Madera police said today.

The driver, Harry Marvin Cassidy, 25, of no known address, was booked in Marin County Jail for investigation of felony drunken driving involving the injuries.

Police said Cassidy and Michael French, 23, of 1555 Central Road, Novato, apparently gave a ride near Tamalpais High School to James Howland Robinette, 18, of 210-A Redhill Avenue, San Anselmo; Robert Grant, 19, of 90 Greenhill Road, and Harriet Hockin, 14, of 405 Ash Street, both of Mill Valley.

Traveling north on Corte Madera Avenue, Cassidy lost control and slammed the car's right side against the pole, officers said. They added that Miss Hocklin left the scene, but later came to police headquarters and was taken to Marin General Hospital for treatment of a scalp bump.

Grant was reported in fair condition at the hospital today with a broken pelvis. French was treated for a face cut and Robinette was treated for a forehead cut and shoulder bruise, hospital attendants said.

Cassidy was held in lieu of $1,125 bail and scheduled for appearance in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Wheels Stolen

Four heavy-duty tires and wheels were stolen Wednesday night or early yesterday from a semi-trailer owned by American Moving and Storage of Marin, 160 Paul Drive, San Rafael police said today. The wheels were valued at more than $300.

Police Car Found, But Where's Driver?

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — San Diego police found one of their' white and black patrol cars before anyone realized it was missing. The car, keys in the ignition switch and an almost full tank of gas, was found parked behind a bar in suburban Mission Gorge.

Before taking the car back to the central station officers made a quick radio check and determined that no officer was missing. Officers believe that someone walked into the police garage and drove off in the car.

policemen, one or two drop-in sessions scheduled at random and voluntary, and individual counseling by Shev when an officer seeks it.

The sessions are free-wheeling affairs somewhere between seminars and bull sessions which probe the men's attitudes toward lawbreakers, minority groups, police work, and each other, guided by probing questions from Dr. Shev.

By understanding the psychological reasons behind their feelings, police can react more suitably to situations they meet on duty, Kreins said. "I think it's prevented some situations where there would have been violence," he said.

The initial sessions two years ago were primarily lectures by Dr. Shev followed by a question period to air problems within the department and let officers evaluate the problems they encounter.

Police have had a large extra dose of the program the past week, recreating it in special sessions last Friday and Tuesday for network television cameras.

Tuesday's session, filmed by the National Broadcasting Co., was a typical discussion, Kreins said, although the men were a little dry of topics since that meeting followed so closely on another.

The officers — 19 showed up before the session ended — showed nervousness at first by being over-casual, but soon settled into serious discussion with Dr. Shev.

In two and a half hours of talk, unobtrusively guided by Dr. Shev, the crowded squad room crackled with comments, sometimes blunt and sometimes guarded, ranging over dozens of targets.

In more or less sequential order, the men talked about the Olympic racial incidents, American racism, the nature of prejudice, interracial experiences, police permissiveness and where its limits should lie.

Also the problem of enforcing laws one disagrees with, police feelings about arrests, the discretion officers have, archaic laws, inadequate support services in Marin; centralizing Marin police, delivering warrants in the dead of night, the civil rights of defendants, the guilt-ridden suspect, the incurable mentally ill, and capital punishment.

"As the talk flowed, Shev would insert questions or statements to draw out meanings beneath the surface, but always in a low key manner so the speaker was not called on to defend his self-esteem but to find what he really felt.

"There's a lot I disagree with in the penal code," one patrolman said. "Marijuana, for example. From what I've read . . . it's no worse than alcohol. I'd love to try it, but I won't as long as it's illegal, or then I couldn't arrest persons who were using it."

"You're really talking about the addictive personality," Shev said. He outlined the Freudian oral stage of development which underlies addiction, which he said could be manifested in drugs, alcohol, gluttony or even driving fast cars.

The talk shifted to discretion in making arrests. "How do you feel about facing a situation you don't agree with?" Shev asked.

"I feel crummy sometimes," a sergeant said. "I know it's not against the law to have human feelings . . . I don't like to see people squirm or cry when I arrest them."

"Like statutory rape," another sergeant said. "It's ridiculous. A male of 15 seduces a 17-year-old girl and he's committed a felony."

It was clear that Sausalito's young policemen — the average age is 27 — don't always hold traditional police attitudes.

That is part of what the program is all about. The goal is "to recruit and train officers who will develop a humane approach to the problems of law enforcement," Kreins said in an article last spring in The Police Chief, national professional magazine.

It was that article, plus talks by Kreins and Shev at California law enforcement meetings, which began drawing attention to the program. A few weeks ago, Time magazine mentioned the program in a roundup article on police throughout the country, and that stirred the TV networks' interest.

Sausalito police are gratified by the national attention, but more interested in spreading the psychiatric program locally.

Kreins said he has outlined the Sausalito system at meetings of Marin police chiefs and some chiefs have expressed interest although "nobody's breaking down the door" to follow suit.

"I think a lot of them would like to go into this program if they could figure out how to sell it to their managers or councilmen," Kreins said.

Kreins said a federal grant may be available under an omnibus anti-crime bill which would allow other cities in Marin to start the program at no cost.

The cost in Sausalito is budgeted at $1,200 this year, including prehiring interviews at $45 apiece and the only other cost a token fee to Shev for the training sessions.

As for department effectiveness, Kreins said the record speaks for itself. While arrests have tripled in two years, the felony rate has dropped and there have been no complaints of overpolicing. "We haven't had a complaint against an individual officer in two years," he said.

At the same time, department turnover has dropped to near zero. The 27-member department includes 21 hired since Kreins took over as chief three years ago, all after a psychiatric interview. And no one hired since the start of the psychiatric interview system has quit the force.

The department has never hired a man against Shev's recommendation, Kreins said, and has rejected six to eight applicants on his recommendation.

In all, only 4 to 5 per cent of applicants are hired, he said, 60 to 70 per cent failing the initial written examination and others failing oral or physical tests, the interview, or background checks.

Besides spreading the psychiatric program to other police departments, Kreins said Sausalito hopes to expand its own programs to encounters between officers and various elements of the community such as the conservative "hill people," Marin City residents, hippies or newsmen.

After Tuesday's session, Shev called in the television crew and urged them into conversation about press-police relations.

The psychiatric sessions will be seen on two networks at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow. NBC will show its film on the Frank McGee Report, and the Columbia Broadcasting System will show last Friday's session on the Howard Mudd-Walter Cronkite news show.

In addition, more filming is scheduled Monday for TV Channel 44 and San Francisco's KPIX for showing at a later date.

Baar Backs McCarthy's Hippie View

Louis H. (Bud) Baar, candidate for Marin County supervisor in the Fourth District, has endorsed proposed state and federal legislation to empower police to round up hippies and lock them in hospitals "for medical care."

The proposal was made Wednesday by Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, who said in a statement to the press that he was preparing amendments to the state and federal constitutions to eliminate the "menace" posed by hippies.

McCarthy's proposed legislation, said Baar, "is 100 per cent in accordance with my views." Baar made his endorsement of McCarthy's stand at a coffee for him Wednesday night at the Greenbrae home of Mrs. Nancy Cozzo.

Noting that hippies are particularly evident in the Larkspur, San Geronimo Valley and West Marin portions of the Fourth District, Baar termed their presence "a disgrace, and something should be done about it as soon as possible." He said, "I will do what I can, if elected, to eliminate this."

McCarthy said he also would introduce legislation to require schools to devote "a specific number of hours" to showing students the danger of drugs.

McCarthy did not explain how police would be empowered to lock up hippies "as health hazards to the community."

Marin Women

Delegates Discuss Soviet Trip

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Russia's educational system is what will eventually topple the present Soviet regime. This was the most striking opinion of six of the delegation of 60 outstanding American women business, professional and community leaders, who have returned from a three-week tour of Russia, Hungary and Czechoslovakia.

One of the great triumphs of the Communists in Russia was giving education to the masses, but its very success, the women agreed, is what is going to defeat them, for the young people are on the move, questioning of what they hear over the BBC and Voice of America. This is possible because jamming is not totally effective, they said.

How can the leaders be so stupid as not to realize this? All they want is power and knowledge this minute — especially scientific power and knowledge, the women believe.

SOME OF THE things they admired about the educational system were the excellence and dedication of the teachers, the eagerness to learn of the children and the early testing of aptitudes to be developed in special schools. There was disagreement as to whether or not there was too much regimentation, with some maintaining that there was and others believing that while discipline was rigid in classes, there was more freedom outside classes.

Existence of juvenile delinquency is not admitted, they said, but anti-social behaviour is called "hooliganism," and punishment consists of shaving culprits' heads and making them work extra shifts.

A woman-to-woman diplomatic mission originating from invitations from the Soviet Women's Committee of Moscow and Leningrad and the Czechoslovakian Women's Union, the delegation was non-political and non-sponsored, with each woman paying her own way.

THE SIX WOMEN interviewed were prominent Bay Area members of the tour party who expressed their opinions and described their experiences at a luncheon given at her home in Sausalito by Mrs. Constant M. Van Vlierden, one of the group known for her activities in promoting better international relations, who had worked closely with leader Bernice Behrens in organizing the tour.

The other five women were Mrs. George Osborne Wilson, author of seven published biographies and wife of an executive of Standard Oil Company of California; Mrs. George A. Davidson, a native of Russia and widow of a director and vice president of Standard Oil of California; Mrs. Roland Pierotti, wife of the executive vice president in charge of international banking for the Bank of America; and Mrs. Lee Stubbs Penland, San Francisco attorney admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court and a member of the California Youth Authority; and Mrs. Gerald Karski, artist and wife of the president of the Motion Picture Service Company of California.

The women were surprised to have children approach them in Moscow with offers of black market money deals and learned that when they gave them gum or ball point pens, they quickly got the private enterprise idea of selling them at a profit. When they were asked to stop giving the children gum, they complied.

THE AMERICAN WOMEN felt that everywhere they went the women of the three countries visited sincerely welcomed them, though only in Czechoslovakia did they seem to be free to be entirely honest. Nevertheless, the six women attending the luncheon said they believed that they were able to see and hear things other than propaganda or what was carefully planned.

They learned, for example, that a building near the Kremlin supposed to be a library or museum secretly had a seven-story prison under ground for political prisoners.

Possibly the delegates' most exciting experience in Russia occurred in the dining room of a Moscow hotel after a performance by the Philippine Ballet. Mrs. Eugenio Puyat, a member of the tour party and an American Filipino married to a Philippine banker, taught the delegation how to toast the dancers in a Philippine language, and they in return sang "California, Here I Come", a Russian song in the Russian language and a Philippine song.

They said the whole dining room soon caught the spirit and everybody wept. The impact of the scene on the Russians was tremendous in view of the fact that the Philippine people had received their freedom from the United States. One Russian soldier and his girl got up and bowed to the American women.

"WE WERE A GREAT lesson to everyone," Mrs. Van Vlierden said, "because they could not understand how we could get out of our country and go anywhere we wanted to go when we pleased." The United States Department of State in fact, had not been in favor of the trip for fear it would be used for propaganda purposes.

The American women were surprised in one encounter with two doctors from the Ukraine who said that Ukrainians are different from the rest of the Russians. In Kiev the women found the people more friendly and even saw some signs of private enterprise. They agreed that the farther west the delegation proceeded, the more friendly the people were. There was a pall over Moscow, they felt until they left for Kiev.

Another surprise was finding that they could attend churches, especially the Catholic and Baptist. No person under 18 is permitted to attend churches, which consequently are full of older people. Under some strange reasoning that all other Protestant churches are

THE GROUP of Americans had a laugh during their first meeting with the Soviet Women's Committee in Moscow, who issued an invitaton to the 60 outstanding women to visit the USSR. At left are Mrs. Cecil Poole of San Francisco, wife of the U.S. Attorney for Northern California district, and Mrs. Leslie N. Shaw, wife of the postmaster of the city of Los Angeles, who often answered Russians' questions about the racial oppression in America.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Donald B. Strauses Visit Marin Briefly

By MOLLY MARIN

It was a brief but busy visit in Belvedere for Mr. and Mrs. Donald B. Straus of New York. They stayed with Mrs. Straus' mother, Mrs. Harry B. Allen. Reason for the California trip was an address given by Straus, president of the American Arbitration Association, whose headquarters are in New York City, at the Comstock Club in Sacramento on Monday. Their stay was also the occasion for reunions for the former Beth Allen with family members and friends. Mrs. Allen gave a dinner party for them at her Belvedere home; Mr. and Mrs. David Allen had a family excursion on their yacht, The Privateer on Saturday; Mrs. Lucille Boole entertained at dinner at her home in Belvedere on Sunday night; and Monday evening Mrs. Straus' aunt, Miss Helen Bridge of Belvedere, had a gathering at the family ranch, The Vineyards in the Napa Valley.

Mrs. William Fleming of Belvedere honored Beth Straus at a luncheon. Guests included Mrs. Richard M. Sims Jr., Mrs. R. M. Joses and Mrs. Darcie Barrows of Belvedere, Mrs. William Brooke of Dutch Flat and Mrs. Lee Hamilton of Orinda.

Saturday evening the Strauses had dinner in San Francisco with old friends, Judge and Mrs. Robert Drewes and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mann.

Donald and Beth left for New York Tuesday. Their son David A. Straus is remaining in Belvedere, while instructing in the School of Architecture at the University of California. He is living in his grandmother's ark in Belvedere — one of the arks which is destined to become a part of the permanent historical exhibit at the San Francisco Maritime State Historic Park at the Hyde Street Pier in San Francisco.

MONDAY AFTERNOON Mrs. John F. Hadden of San Rafael hosted a luncheon for a few friends at San Francisco's Oreste's Restaurant in honor of her sister, Mrs. Edward E. Maddox, who is leaving next week for a tour of the Bahamas.

Reader Backs Letters Written In Defense Of Young People

DEAR HELEN:

Reading the letters from "Tired of It" and "Rob" who showed how young people were shoved around in stores, I thought I'd let you know what happened to our kids.

We try to teach our children respect for their elders, but after seeing how they are treated, I wonder. Consider this: Our kids were in line at a hamburger stand. Adults kept shoving ahead of them. Finally I took a straight pin out of my purse and gave our daughter instructions to stick the next person who pushed them out of line. I made sure everyone in the line heard what I said! It worked, but when they got to the window, the waitress ignored them and actually asked the man behind them for his order! I reported her, but the manager couldn't care less and said so.

At the delicatessen I came up behind two young girls who had been waiting there quite a while. The clerk jumped right to my order, and I told her the girls were first. She said, "They don't want anything, they're just hanging around." The girls told me they hadn't even been asked what they wanted. So the clerk grudgingly fixed their order, and then refused to wait on me.

It happens even at the post office. Children, taught politeness, stand back, and adults take advantage.

Teen-agers and young adults control the spending of about 76 per cent of the circulated money in the United States. It's high time businesses woke up to the fact and treated them with the respect due intelligent, honest and well-behaved customers. They deserve the same rights and courtesy as so-called adults

— Mrs. F.F.K

DEAR HELEN:

Please print this for "Puzzled Mother" who wants to show relatives and friends that her handicapped child should be treated normally and not be over-protected.

When I was a baby I got polio and it left my legs crippled. My parents never babied me. They ignored all the people who told them to pamper the "poor little thing."

Instead I was treated just as any normal child. I was never allowed to get out of doing something because of my handicap. If I fell down, my folks didn't come running. They would say, "Be careful next time," and let me get up by myself.

This may sound mean, but believe me, I am very glad they treated me so. Though I still wear a brace, I never let it bother me. I live exactly as anyone else. If someone says, "Poor thing," I ignore them and do everything in my power to prove how wrong they are.

There's a difference between love and pity. My parents were very wise. I'm sure "Puzzled Mother" will continue to be, in spite of "advice."

B.B.

DEAR HELEN:

I met this wonderful man who often talked about the Catholic Priesthood, but I never thought he meant it.

Now he has actually left me to fulfill his desire. I love him very much. What can I do?

—ALONE

DEAR ALONE:

If he loves his religion more, there isn't anything you can do but bow to the inevitable. In the next two years, he'll find out whether he is suited for the priesthood. Let the decision be entirely his.

Shoppers Will Find Good Buys

WASHINGTON (UPI) — USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports that weekend shoppers will find excellent supplies of meat and poultry, good to fair supplies of meat and poultry and good to fair supplies of fresh vegetables and fruit in food stores and supermarkets.

In all areas displays of broiler-fryer chickens and turkeys should be more than adequate to meet the selections of all shoppers. Beef roasts and steaks and ground beef are again in excellent supply, while pork features appear for nearly all pork items offered: bacon, boston butts, chops, ham, roasts and smoked picnics. Fish buys to watch for are canned pink salmon and fresh fish fillets and steaks, according to the U.S. Department of the Interior.

Fresh vegetables in good supply in all areas are cabbage, carrots, celery, onions and potatoes. Fresh vegetables in good supply in some areas are green beans, cucumbers, lettuce, squash and tomatoes. Apples should be in good supply in all areas. In fair supply in some areas are bananas, grapes and pears.

West (Arizona, California, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Washington, Wyoming):

Eggs are down in all West Coast markets. Poultry is steady in all markets with only whole and cut up ready-to-cook chicken fryers slightly higher in Portland.

Butter prices are firm in all markets.

Both fresh and smoked pork prices are uneven with fresh loins down in San Francisco and Portland. Boston butts are down in Portland and spareribs down in Portland and in San Francisco. Smoked hams are down in San Francisco and sliced bacon is up in Portland.

Wholesale prices on beef, calf and lamb remain steady. Fruits and vegetables in best supply include apples, bananas, grapes, pears, carrots, celery, cucumbers, lettuce, onions and tomatoes.

Greenbrae P-TA Has New Leader

Strengthening the whole development of the child is the purpose of the Greenbrae Parent-Teacher Association under the direction of its new president, Mrs. Dan P. Dougherty of Greenbrae. This is done through a good relationship between parents and the school, believes Mrs. Dougherty.

Grade level coffee hours, for parents with the teacher, are planned to familiarize them with the completely non-graded program soon to be in effect at Greenbrae. A family life series will begin in January with parents and children invited to participate. Six speakers will be presented through cooperation with the other two P-TAs in the Kentfield School District.

Mrs. Dougherty carries her interest in children into her duties when she teaches at the First Presbyterian Church church school. She is also active in the Marin Association for Mental Health, PEO and the Couples Club of her church.

Mr. and Mrs. Dougherty have lived in Marin County 15 years and are the parents of three children: David, 10, and 8-year-old twins, Philip and Katie.

Norma Daugherty has been a member of the P-TA eight years and has served as recording secretary and as art chairman. Tennis, bridge, cooking and playing the piano are also interests of the new president but she enjoys most any kind of family trip or outing.

Assisting Norma with P-TA duties this year are Mesdames John Koster and Lana Walker, vice president; Edward Burke, corresponding secretary; Dan Williams, recording secretary; Thomas Kirkbride, treasurer; Bradford Giles, historian; James Egger, parliamentarian; and Bernard Blumberg, publicity.

Pop Should Get Paternity Leave

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mother should not be the only one coddled a bit after baby's birth.

RN, the nurses' magazine, suggests that the father merits a two-week paternity leave from his work so he can be with his wife during childbirth and help later with the housework.

Catherine Marie Oberto has been elected to the Brick Muller Society, freshman spirit group at the University of California. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Americo Oberto of San Rafael.

MEETING WITH the Soviet Women's Committee in Moscow are some of the 60 outstanding American women who toured Russia, Hungary and Czechoslovakia. Front center are Mrs. George A. Davidson, and Mrs. George Osborne Wilson, who are among the six interviewed on their return at the Sausalito home of Mrs. Constant M. Van Vlierden, also a member of the tour.

IN SELF DEFENSE

Speed Is Best Defense Against Attacker

OTTAWA (AP) — An article on self-defense for women in the current edition of The Canadian Nurse tells how a woman should react if, despite her precautions, she finds herself confronted by a thief, rapist or murderer.

Mrs. A. L. Graham of Ottawa, an editorial assistant for the publication, says police departments differ in their opinions about what a woman should do in individual situations. But they generally agreed she should surrender her possessions without resistance, while fighting like a tiger when her life is at stake.

Mrs. Graham warns, however, that it is illegal in places to carry an offensive weapon or anything designed to be used as a weapon. As well, a weapon could be easily wrested from a woman and turned against her.

For her article, she has drawn on information in a dozen publications dealing with the subject.

"As a woman, your most lethal weapon is speed," Mrs. Graham writes.

"If you think your assailant means business, your only chance is to defend yourself quickly and decisively.

"Use your hands like bear claws and aim for his face; gouge his eyes with your fingernails; blind him and make him scream with pain by twisting a finger in his eye.

"Convert anything that is handy into a weapon and aim for the most accessible area of his body. If you are smoking, jab your lighted cigarette into his face; if you are carrying a heavy purse, swing at his face or lower abdomen; if it is raining, use your umbrella like a bayonet.

"Do not threaten him. Strike. You are dealing with a brute and treat him as such."

Warming to the subject, Mrs. Graham goes on:

"If he grabs you from behind, drive your head back into his nose; if he grabs you by the hand, feint struggle against the main part of his hand and then use the lifesaver's trick of jerking against his thumbs with a quick, decisive motion."

Dr. Tadeuyz Grygier, director of the University of Ottawa's criminology center, is quoted in the article as saying that the individual most likely to commit murder is a person of low intelligence and education, with a general lack of control over his impulses.

"persecutors," the Baptist churches are the only Protestant churches approved, they said.

Beauty parlors were fair in quality of work, they thought, though there is no such thing as an appointment, and the same equipment is used on all customers without sanitary precautions.

The same lack of sanitation was noted in a new 5,000-room hotel in Moscow, and maintenance was lacking.

IN HUNGARY THE six women said the feeling was ambivalent, friendlier than in Russia but not like Czechoslovakia, where the friendship seemed very genuine and sincere. The people were better dressed in Hungary, and there were more things to buy in the stores than in Russia. The Hungarians greeted them by presenting a rose to each member of the delegation, and in Budapest they were followed by news TV cameras.

One or their most memorable experiences was in Prague, where at the airport they saw Russian soldiers stationed at both ends of the field. Two Australians on the plane commented that they didn't know whether the American women were "60 of the bravest women in the world or 60 nuts."

On talking with Czech women, delegates learned that many of the Russian soldiers had thought they were being sent to Germany and were dismayed when they landed in Czechoslovakia. One woman told them the men had no one to care for them and had to eat raw potatoes and mushrooms.

THE CZECH WOMEN wanted very much to know the Americans, they said, and felt that the trip was one of the most wonderful things to let them know that the American people care and want peace. They said, "Thank you for your courage in coming to us in our time of trouble. Please come back when our country is normal."

In Prague one of the Americans gave her coat to a maid in a hotel because she seemed to need one so much.

This was the general spirit of the tour, for the American women were not always on the receiving end of entertaining. They had women of the countries they visited as guests at luncheons and dinners and gave them some gifts. Among the interesting women members of the British parliament they entertained at dinner in London was Lady Dora Gaitskill, wife of the late Lord Hugh Gaitskill, who is now one of England's representatives at the United Nations.

She summed up the whole idea of the trip, they felt, when she commented, "I would like to say, ladies, that the thing is that the home should be the center of a woman's life, but not her boundary."

Stew Notes

Adding vegetables to a meat stew near the end of the cooking time is a familiar practice. For an interesting flavor variation, do as some French chefs do and add the vegetables at the beginning. Brown the meat, add water to barely cover, and then add chopped onions and celery leaves, sliced carrots and celery. By the time the meat is tender, the vegetable flavors will have cooked right into the meat. They'll make a delicious gravy, too.

They're just too beautiful

She Backs 'Quiet' Revolution

Mrs. Margot Higgins, a widow and a grandmother, has found a new career at age 60 as a nutritionist for CARE, the overseas aid agency.

Now that her three children are grown, her former career as a homemaker is completed. The new one enables her to apply her knowledge and experience to CARE's world-wide program to feed 28,000,000 people in 33 countries.

Mrs. Higgins' interest in nutrition began when she was married in 1930. Remembering her experiences as a child in England during World War I, she decided to learn the science of nutrition so that her children would be healthy.

"When I was in elementary school in Derby, lunch consisted of two slices of bread which were weighed," she said. "It was made of some starchy filler and tasted awful. We had constant colds. Most of us were always sniffly and anemic."

Since she already had an honors degree in French from the University of London, Mrs. Higgins enrolled in a two-year program in nutrition at London Polytechnic College.

In 1939, the young mother and her family left England, came to the United States and settled near New Orleans during World War II. Three limiting conditions then, she said, were rationing of meats, fats and canned goods; meat shortages and food prejudices.

"There was enough if you knew food values and substitutes. Informed people bought calves' heads or pigs' feet, which were ration-free. Many didn't realize the food-value of the local poor people's diet of red beans and rice," she pointed out. "A knowledge of nutrition is invaluable in a hardship situation."

CARE's millions of beneficiaries are all in hardship situations. Some are refugees; some are victims of earthquakes, flood, famine or other disaster, but most suffer the continuing hardship of inefficient farming methods, harsh climate, poor soil and low-yielding seeds.

CARE food is distributed in emergencies to relieve immediate needs and in long-term programs to improve living conditions coordinated with self-help projects in health, education and economic development.

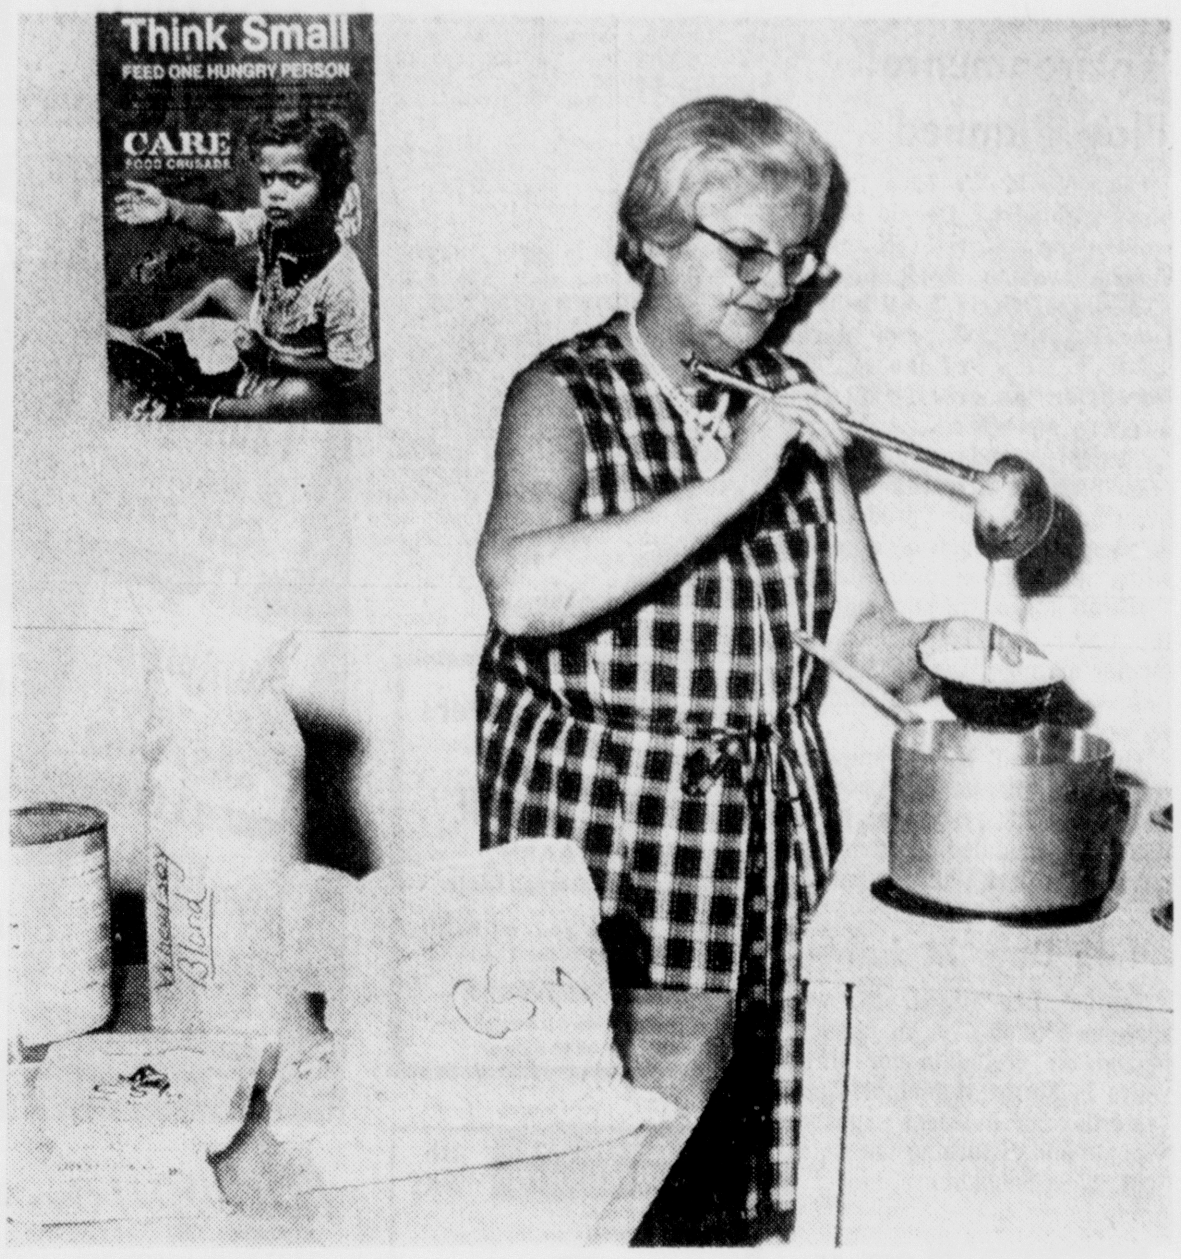
The current CARE Food Crusade provides a way for American donors to send 6,000,000 food packages overseas for $1 each. One of the most important long-term programs is to improve the mental and physical development of 20,000,000 school children by improving their diet.

Every day, the children are given meals, made with combinations of milk powder, flour, wheat, vegetable oil and CSM, a formula of corn meal, soy flour and milk powder. The meals are made to resemble local dishes as closely as possible. Mrs. Higgins collects and adapts these recipes from CARE missions in Asia, Africa and Latin America.

"New foods must be put in familiar clothes," she explained, "because of all prejudices, those about food are the strongest and even more so among people who can least afford them. People accustomed to rice, for example, would find it difficult to accept wheat or corn."

Even the name of a food is important, Mrs. Higgins noted. She recalled an incident in Turkey when children were served frankfurters. They were told that in America the dish is called hot dogs. When this was translated into Turkish, sicak kopek, the children were horrified. Quickly realizing the blunder, the American counselor told them it was just a nickname and that hot dogs were really the purest of beef.

"Feeding school children is like an investment in the future," the CARE nutritionist explained. "Certainly, they will be healthier adults, but immediate results can be seen too. They become more alert; they learn more quickly; and they resume a normal growth pattern. You might call it the 'quiet revolution.' "



SOMETHING'S COOKING at CARE, and the cook is CARE's nutritionist, Mrs. Margot Higgins, a grandmother who began a new career at age 60. She is finding a way to fit CSM, a high-protein food, into a local recipe of India. CSM is a combination of corn meal, soy flour and non-fat dry milk, which is one of the foods distributed by CARE to 28 million people in 33 countries.

Headache Bands Cause No Pain

Some women are wearing headache bands because they go well with their '20s and '30s revival fashions. Others wear them to identify with Pocahontas because red-blooded Indian fashions, complete with suede, fringe and beads, have come back with the hippie kick.

Nobody yet has come up with a substantial reason why those bandages around the forehead are called "headache" bands. Do they cause a pain? or prevent one.

Like the eyepatch they are without purpose or meaning other than that they are fashion.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The Council's findings are from California and National P-TA magazines and the "Film Report" of the Film Estimate board. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael or Mill Valley libraries.

FAMILY

"The Two of Us" — A tender French film gently mocks prejudice. The film is beautiful, funny, but above all else a moving experience.

Where Angels Go Trouble Follows —Highly entertaining. Rosalind Russell is cast as a Mother Superior . . . takes a busload of girls on a long trek across the U. S.

ADULTS AND TEENS

Five Card Stud — Involved story of western vengeance and suspense is played by a name cast. Some of dialogue is quite suggestive.

Heart Is a Lonely Hunter — A rather sad story about a deaf-mute who in his loneliness touches the lives of many. Compassionate tale is tenderly told and played with rare perception.

No Way to Treat a Lady — Farcical melodrama about a woman strangler, showcasing multiple talents of Rod Steiger as an impersonator. Well supplied with macabre humor.

Salt and Pepper — With emphasis on violence, spoofing all the spy spoofs, this farce makes ample use of escape gadgets, comic sleuthing, broad gags and casual bedroom activity.

West Side Story — Brilliant fusing of drama, ballet and music, against backdrop of poverty and racial tension. New York's jungle warfare between teen-age gangs is menacing and alive.

BORDERLINE
(Some say Adults Only)

The Collector — A young mentally deranged man captures beautiful young girl. Plot tortures audience as the diabolical, repulsive fiend works out his social and sexual frustrations on his innocent victim.

The Graduate — This satirical comedy is subject to various interpretations. Young man from college becomes involved in a torrid affair . . . scenes of night club entertainer distateful.

How Sweet It Is — Comedy revolves around a group of hippy-oriented youth on a European tour. Confused ethics, tasteless dialogue and very sexy love scenes keeps this film out of a different classification.

ADULTS ONLY

Good, Bad and the Ugly — Italian made western glutted with ugly violence and murder. Bizarre score and unsparing photography accentuate the films' brutality and offensive situations.

I Love You, Alice B. Toklus — This satire makes free love and drugs seem the life of happiness.

Nevada Smith — This odyssey of hate, violence and cold-bloodedness is laced with scenes of frank sex and sadism.

'Environmental' Play Planned

"The World We Live In," a play adapted by Dennis Moyer from the Karel Kapek Czechoslovakian production of "The Insect World," will be produced by the College of Marin drama department in December, Robin Jackson, director, announced.

Natural sounds, smells and other features of real life will be included in the production, Jackson said, which he described as "environmental theater."

Margo Jones will choreograph the play, and Terry McNeill, former arranger for the Sopwith Camel, has been commissioned to write original music.

The play will be presented in the Studio Theater at 8:30 p.m. Dec. 6-8 and 11-14, and matinees will be scheduled if there is enough demand, Jackson said.

45 Days In Jail

Samuel Lee Royal, 25, was sentenced to 45 days in jail and placed on probation for three years in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for indecent exposure Sept. 19 and disturbing the peace Sept. 17 in Sausalito.

Arlington Burial Not For Jackie

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon says it would take some rule bending for Jacqueline Onassis to be buried in Arlington National Cemetery beside her former husband, John F. Kennedy.

The Defense Department, pressed for space in the cemetery, adopted last year a rule making a widow ineligible for burial in the cemetery if she remarries.

Furthermore, said the Pentagon, Kennedy's children are eligible for burial in the cemetery only until they become 21.

ABAG Panel Rejects Hub's Lack Of Quorum Question

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY —San Anselmo City Council's protest that the Association of Bay Area Governments' general assembly meeting last month was illegal because no quorum was present was politely rejected last night by ABAG's executive committee. (Another ABAG story, page 1.)

Committee members unanimously approved a motion by Marin Supervisor John F. McInnis to thank the council "for bringing this matter to our attention," and to have a policy drawn on how to determine at future assembly meetings whether a quorum is present.

Present assembly bylaws allow the chairman to declare a quorum on the basis of the registration for an assembly meeting, but the executive committee agreed this should be changed to require a quorum based on a roll call.

ABAG's attorney ruled at the September meeting that enough delegates were present to vote, but San Anselmo City Councilman James F. Reed disputed the ruling and had the council protest the assembly meeting.

Reed cast the only dissenting vote in a 43-1 vote at the assembly meeting on approval of policy recommendations to guide final preparation of a Bay Area regional plan.

The executive committee of the Association of Bay Area Governments also:

MEETINGS — Voted to poll ABAG members on their reaction to proposals that the general assembly meet three or four times a year, instead of semi-annually, to increase members' interest in attending assembly meetings.

AUDIT — Allocated $2,500 for additional auditing and legal services to help recover the $511,000 of ABAG funds stolen earlier this year by ABAG's former assistant director, Thomas N. Truax. ABAG already has spent $4,500 to auditing and legal services in the effort to recover the funds.

PROPOSITIONS — Declared its opposition to Proposition 9 and support of Proposition 1-A on the Nov. 5 general election ballot.

MARIN — Endorsed Marin County's application for a federal urban planning assistance grant of $63,618 toward the $175,621 cost of the first phase of a countywide planning program. The federal government requires that ABAG review such applications.

APPOINT — Confirmed appointment of Fairfax Councilman Adelaide Wilson to ABAG's regional planning committee.

Supervisor Gnoss Has His Day Today

Marin County's airport, north of Novato, was to be dedicated as Gnoss Field at 3 p.m. today in honor of Novato Supervisor William A. Gnoss, heralding a new era at the airport.

In keeping with the aeronautic aspect of the event, a mid-air ribbon cutting ceremony was scheduled with a small plane flying through a ribbon suspended in air by balloons.

Gnoss, whose persistent efforts led to airport development, and Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, were to be in the plane.

The program included the unveiling of a memorial plaque containing the names of county supervisors and aviation commissioners.

The plaque, reading across its top, "Gnoss Field Facility, Marin County Airport System," was mounted on an eight-ton boulder brought to the field from dead man's curve on Lucas Valley Road.

An F-106 fighter plane from Hamilton Air Force Base was to make a low pass over the field while planes from the Civil Air Patrol, Marin Aviation and Navair Inc., operators at the field, joined in a fly-by.

Clausen and Ernest N. Kettenhofen, chairman of the Marin supervisors, were scheduled to address the gathering, and the Hamilton Air Force Band to play.

After the ceremonies there was to be open house conducted by the two base operators of hangars and other facilities, and a display of light planes.

The airport was started 18 years ago when Harry Tollefson started the east-west runway, and taught flying as the Tollefson Flying Service.

In 1959 Marin County made an agreement with William Q. Wright, owner of the land, and Tollefson, to operate it as a county airport.

In 1966 the county purchased the land for the present airport for $126,560 from Wright. Work was started on the present $310,687 facility in June 1967. During construction, pilots expressed concern about the deep ditches at the side of the runway, but these were later leveled out to eliminate that danger, airport manager Francis E. Torr said.

The county purchased Tollefson's contract and he moved his flying service from the county airport in July of this year.

Last month the state transportation agency made a grant of $5,000 for additional land acquisition, $7,400 for additional aircraft parking and $1,500 for a safety fence.

"This airport facility will be developed in stages with the runway extended and lighted, a cross wind runway constructed and lighted and a traffic control tower all eventually constructed," said Torr, speaking of future plans for the airport.

HITCH ALMOST OVER

Parole Officer In Prison To Learn Chaplain's Job

By ALAN JONES

Parole Officer Elijah L. Owens said goodby to his family last November and signed himself into San Quentin Prison for a year — as a Protestant chaplain.

Owens, a Methodist minister for 17 years, changed places with Chaplain George R. Tolson, who took over Owens' caseload of 40 parolees in Long Beach.

It was the first such exchange in San Quentin's history and possibly in the state. As Owens explained, the problem was to find someone qualified for both jobs.

Owens took on the chaplaincy, he said, aiming for one of two futures — as prison chaplain or in creating a new role in penology: the parole chaplain.

Owens will complete his year at San Quentin this week, a year in which, according to senior chaplain Byron A. Eshelman, he has "earned a real spot in the hearts of the men."

Until a year ago, Owens was a full-time parole officer in Long Beach and pastor of the Free Methodist Church in nearby Orange. Before entering parole work four years ago, he was a social worker for the Los Angeles County welfare department.

On coming to San Quentin, "I wondered how the men would think of me, a parole agent," Owens said, "but I've been very well received." That included his reception by six of his former parolees who have returned to prison. All six have visited him, and didn't seem to bear any ill will for their new sentences, Owens said.

The year inside the walls, he said, has given him a better understanding of "the fears of the men on the inside," and a new appreciation of the San Quentin staff.

"I've confirmed what I always believed," he said. "It's most important to be fair and to be interested in everyone concerned."

Owens is living in bachelor quarters at the prison, not wanting to disrupt his family twice in a year. He commutes to Long Beach about two weekends a month to see his wife and two daughters, he said.

His daily routines include counseling 500 men a month, conducting Sunday services for an average attendance of 150 men and serving as go-between for inmates and outside agencies to help them or their families. The most frequent calls are for help with family problems, Owens said.

Owens has outlined his plan for a parole chaplaincy in a letter to department of corrections officials. Several functions could be handled by a combined pastor-parole officer, he said.

He said the chaplain would provide an "official but non-authoritarian" figure parolees could turn to when they fear contact with a regular parole officer. The chaplain would carry through religious help given inside the prison, and could help the parolee find work, counsel his family, visit jailed parolees, visit with families of inmates and serve as liaison to ex-convict groups such as the Seventh Step Foundation or Yokefellows.

The chaplaincy would add spiritual treatment to other facilities available for the parolee. "We must treat the whole man," he said, "not ignore his spiritual nature."

Whether his dream of a parole chaplaincy comes true or not, Owens will return to his parole work next week with a new insight into the forces and factors that have shaped his parolees during their prison terms. Tolson will return to San Quentin with new understanding of what prisoners will face on the outside.

Their experience may help prevent a few of San Quentin's inmates from crossing the law's path again and returning to the big lockup.

Mexican-American Talk Is Scheduled

Lino Lopez, director of the Mexican-American Services Agency in San Jose, will speak on "Problems of Education of the Mexican-American" at Sonoma State College Wednesday at noon in front of The Commons.

Lopez has been working under a Rosenburg Foundation grant to study problems of Mexican-Americans in San Jose, according to Candido Morales, president of the sponsoring Chicano Club at the college.

Dogs From Petaluma Among Starving Ones

Animals sold by the City of Petaluma were among those found starving at a Berkeley laboratory animal supply firm in a raid Saturday night by police and state humane officials.

Charges of animal cruelty were brought against Daniel Owyang and Peter M. Zamboanga, co-owners of the A.Z.O. Research Association. Officials reported finding 47 starving dogs in 20 filthy cages, 20 cats in 12 cages and white laboratory mice running loose.

Officials said they found cats eating bodies of dead cagemates and one Humane Society spokesman called the scene a "backyard Buchenwald." Ten of the animals had to be destroyed.

Stray animals at the Petaluma animal shelter had been sold to the firm for the past year.

"When they first approached us to sell them our animals, Police Chief Larry D. Higgins made a check into the background of each man and found them both to be clean," City Mgr. Robert H. Meyer said.

"The U.S. Department of Agriculture makes checks of these animal supply firms every two weeks and didn't report anything irregular to us until last week when they recommended we stop the practice," he said, noting the sales were stopped immediately. The dogs brought the city $2 each.

"There were other firms that offered us more, but this seemed like one of the best suppliers since some of their customers were the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Standford Research Institute," Meyer said. He said animals that were sold had been kept at the local shelter a minimum of five days and would have been destroyed.

Zamboanga and Owyang pleaded not guilty Monday in Berkeley-Albany Municipal Court and were freed on $550 bail each.

Terra Linda Rec Manager Will Resign

Jacqueline O'Dwyer, business manager-secretary of the Terra Linda Recreation and Park District, announced yesterday she will resign Oct. 31.

District directors will meet at a special session at 8 p.m. today at the Terra Linda Community Center to name a successor.

Mrs. O'Dwyer's resignation confirmed rumors that she was the topic of discussion at a sudden closed meeting held at 1:30 a.m. on Oct. 9. At that meeting, a decision was apparently made to ask for Mrs. O'Dwyer's resignation.

Mrs. O'Dwyer acknowledged that she had been asked to resign. Asked whether she would request a hearing, she said, "It wouldn't be worth the effort. I tried to work with them (the directors) but it has not worked out." She did not comment further.

Rumors circulating in the community indicate that a Terra Linda housewife has been tapped to succeed Mrs. O'Dwyer.

Mrs. O'Dwyer is the latest in a series of district officials who have been dismissed or resigned under fire.

Since William A. Gordon (now recreation director in Marinwood) quit in January of 1966, Terra Linda has had six recreation directors alone.

U.N. DAY SPEAKER

Youth Rebellion Portends Fascism, Clergyman Fears

By DAVID DIETZ

Youth's stormy resistance to the Establishment will lead soon to a "pro-fascist" period in American society, a United Church of Christ official believes.

Rev. Willis Elliott, a high-ranking secretary in church headquarters in New York City, predictetd yesterday the "imprisonment of people like me who are radicals in speech and assembly."

Dr. Elliott (he holds a Ph.D. from the University of Chicago) is in Marin County to address the annual dinner of the Marin County Chapter of the United Nations today, United Nations Day. The dinner will be at 7 p.m. at the Unitarian Church in Terra Linda.

Dr. Elliott did not know when the pro-fascist period would start, but said it would be a brief, retaliatory "effort to suppress freedom of speech and assembly."

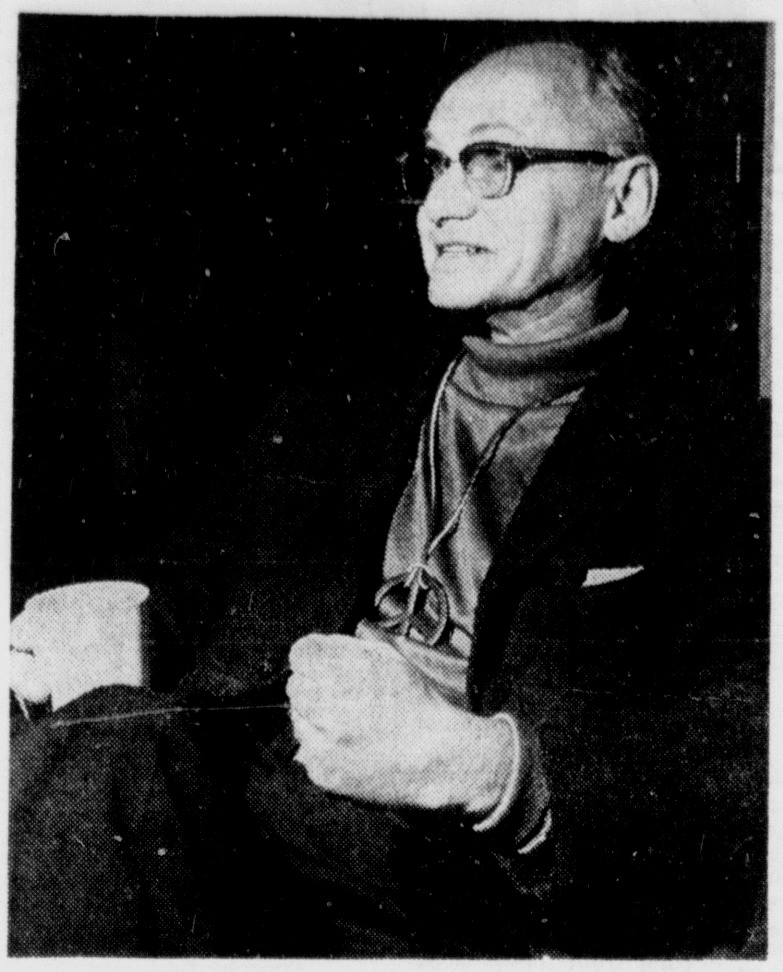
Calling himself an "evangelical radical," Dr. Elliott offered views which may or may not find support among members of the United Nations Association tomorrow.

Some of these views are:

1. "I have been for Ho (Chi Minh) since 1945. He is the most viable leader among the Vietnamese. He is what I call a rice Communist; he is seizing upon communism for a purpose. He has no more use for chairman Mao than LBJ has."

2. "We need to learn repentance (on Vietnam). Our real motives are as a sinning, powerful nation, although we are now a self-righteous, powerful nation."

3. The youthful rebellion is the "most exciting thing going on in America today."



RETALIATION?—Rev. Willis Elliott of the United Church of Christ sees a fascist period coming in America as a result of the youthful rebellion. (Independent-Journal photo by Bob Hax)

Dr. Elliott, who also identifies himself as a teacher, author and "dialoguer" with black militants and hippies, said he has visited numerous hippie residences since coming to California.

While invited to address the United Nations group, Dr. Elliott actually is between teaching assignments at the University of California at Berkeley.

"Youth is asking itself, 'What sort of society would I want to fit into and how do I use my energies to get that type of society,' " said Dr. Elliott, who believes he is able to communicate with rebellious blacks and whites because "I'm as turned off of the society as they are, although I live in it."

He considers armed militancy by blacks "saber rattling" and sees the "threat of violence" as a force for change in the American society.

"There is no need for bloodshed," he said. "God has given us the resources."

Real Estate Board Backs Proposition 9

Directors of the Marin County Real Estate Board have endorsed Proposition 9 (Watson Amendment), the controversial tax relief measure before the voters Nov. 5.

Their action came at a special session Tuesday. Directors said property owners who own only 15 per cent of the total wealth of the state pay nearly 80 per cent of the tax burden and this trend must be reversed.

The proposition, which would limit property taxes to 1 per cent of market value and phase out the use of property taxes for schools and welfare services, is reasonable, the directors contended.

"Schools must be provided a wider tax base rather than being dependent upon the over-taxed property owner for support at the polls," the board said.

Directors also contended that Proposition 9 could be put into effect without increasing sales or personal income tax rates.

Vandals Hit House In Petaluma Tract

Vandals broke a large window and smeared stucco mud on the outside of a house under construction in the East Park development of Petaluma Wednesday night, police reported.

Steven Kunselman, of the development firm, said damage was estimated at $60 to the house on Orinda Drive.

COOL CHECK PASSER

Wanted Man Poses For His ID Picture

Not many criminals are obliging enough to pose for official pictures, but a man suspected of passing at least seven stolen payroll checks in Marin did just that, according to San Rafael police.

Police said the suspect was using a temporary driver's license as check-cashing identification, but had to pose on Aug. 26 for his picture for a permanent license at the Corte Madera Department of Motor Vehicles office in order to get the temporary license.

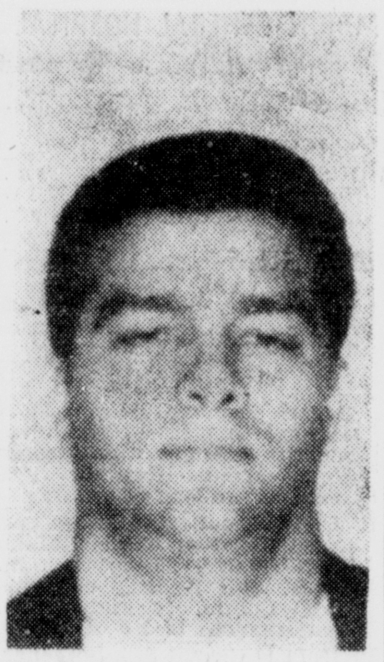
The suspect started with stolen identification papers and checks.

Identification was that of Raymond N. Maes of Sacramento, whose car and identity papers were stolen in June. The checks were stolen from United Fork Lift Associates and Broadway Manor Restaurant both in San Francisco.

On Aug. 26, the phony Maes applied for the new driver's license, saying he had lost the old one. He gave a false San Rafael address.

Next day, he went to the San Rafael address, and asked if his temporary license had been delivered there by mistake. The occupant had returned it to the postman, so he coolly went to the post office and picked it up there.



WHO IS HE?
Police seek check-passer

Armed with the temporary license, he began cashing checks from $76 to $127 in Mill Valley, Tamalpais Valley, Tiburon, Bel Aire, San Rafael and Novato.

On Oct. 10, a liquor store clerk recognized his bad check — the suspect had passed one like it a few days before at a Novato liquor store belonging to the same chain. The check artist escaped on foot, but more trouble was waiting.

A story of the Oct. 10 incident appeared in the Independent-Journal next day, and on Oct. 12, "Maes" showed up again in Novato and tried to cash a check at the D and L Market, 850 Grant Avenue.

Clerk John Dent had read the I-J, and seized the suspect to hold him for police. In the struggle, the suspect escaped but Dent had ripped free his shirt, his wallet and a sandal.

Police found the temporary driver's license in the wallet, and with it got a picture of the bogus Maes from the Department of Motor Vehicles in Sacramento.

The wallet also contained the real Maes' identification except for three credit cards still missing.

There have been no reports of further check-cashing attempts by the suspect since the Oct. 12 scuffle, Souza said.

Novato police said the suspects picture will be shown at a Nov. 6 meeting of check investigators for the Bay Area in hope of tracing him.

COLLEGE BUILDING COSTS GOING UP

New Estimates For Kentfield, Novato Campuses Increase Ante By $6.9 Million

By ROSS DAVIS

New construction for College of Marin and the proposed north campus near Novato will cost almost $6.9 million more than the earlier $27.4 million estimate, it was learned last night by the citizens' committee appointed to review Marin Junior College District finances.

The result, trustees were told, means an ultimate shortage of more than $22.5 million for the entire project — including complete development of the Kentfield and Novato campuses — and a need to raise about $8 million locally to undertake the first phase of construction.

Dale E. Fleming, director of planning and research, said the newly released figures disclose that the capital improvement costs for both campuses through 1981 now are calculated to total $34,270,800.

This, he said, entails $13,895,500 for construction at the College of Marin at Kentfield, and $20,375,300 for the north campus.

The latter includes nearly $14 million for its first phase, expected to be completed in 1972, and a second phase of $5.7 million in 1976-77. About $6 million of first phase funds would come from state and federal sources, he said.

Fleming said the $27.4 million estimate was one presented the district board last spring by Management and Economics Research Inc., educational consultants after a study and projections for the college. That estimate, however, has been increased to the $34.3 million because of higher costs in almost all phases, according to Fleming.

These include cost of buildings, renovation, utilities and site development, parking, and site acquisition, he said. "We just know more now than we did then," Fleming added.

In the fresh look at campus planning, he told the 11 attending members of the 15-member committee that the 10-year, 35-cent override tax will bringin $9,966,500 through 1972, when it expires. This, plus $1,645,600 that the district will have as cash balance by the end of this fiscal year, is $22,658,700 short of the $34.3 million needed, Fleming said.

The primary concern of the committee, he said, will be recommending to the board of trustes how the shortage can be rectified.

The 35-cent override tax passed by a narrow vote June 5, 1962. Dr. William K. Ramstad, executive secretary for the committee and former college president, told the group last night that one solution could be a bond issue.

Fleming said the Novato campus is expected to open with an initial capacity of about 1,600 students, and to handle 3,500 students by 1980. About $6 million of the needed $14 million in the initial stage can be expected from outside sources including state and federal funds, he said. The remainder must be raised locally.

Fleming added that the $34.3 million estimate includes expected inflation costs of 4 per cent a year.

The committee, named by the district board to come up with recommendations for the future of the two campuses, also discussed attendance and tuition for nondistrict residents at College of Marin.

Dr. Ramstad said there are about 4,400 daytime students this year at College of Marin. Norman Bird, district business manager, said no tuition is charged residents of the district or residents attending the college but from another district. He said tuition is charged for students from out-of-state and for residents of California not living within a junior college district.

Prompted by questions from member Jean Enemark about residence requirements, Dr. Ramstad said a recommendation that the board take a "good look" into the legal requirements could be a worthwhile function of the committee.

Rex T. Silvernale, committee chairman, said the next meeting to review the cost of operation at College of Marin will be at 8 p.m. Nov. 14 at the Bank of Marin, San Rafael.

Drunken Driving Fines Given Out

Three persons were fined and given probationary periods in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving offenses on county roads.

Vincent Conrad Luebbers, 49, of 200 Bolinas Avenue, Apt. 27, Fairfax, was fined $100 and given six months of probation.

George Lee Crawford, 33, of 1142 Elm Street, Novato, was fined $150 and placed on probation for six months.

Patricia Ann Kennedy, 38, of 76 Paseo Way, Greenbrae, was fined $200 and place on six months of probation.

Cyclist Injured In Mill Valley

A Mill Valley youth was injured yesterday when the motorcycle upon which he was riding collided with a car on a narrow Mill Valley hillside street.

Treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut left arm was Patrick duPree, 21, of 115 La Goma Avenue.

Police said DuPree was riding down Eleanor Avenue at 4:20 p.m. when he rounded a curve and collided with a car driven by Audrey Wilton, 40, of 215 Tamalpais Avenue, Mill Valley.

HAZY COVER MAY VANISH BY TOMORROW

The smoky, hazy blanket covering much of Marin yesterday and today was due to light winds and cool ground air and may vanish tomorrow.

The Weather Bureau predicted less haze and westerly winds from 10 to 20 miles per hour for tomorrow.

That's not really smog in the air, according to the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, which yesterday recorded an oxidant reading of .10 in San Rafael. Ted McHugh, information officer for the district, said that was not a high reading.

Teener Held On Gun, Dope Paraphernalia

Marin sheriff's officers, aided by a county supervisor, arrested a 17-year-old San Rafael boy who had a pistol and narcotics equipment in front of the courthouse last Friday, they announced today.

Inspector Charles Prandi of the juvenile division said he had heard earlier that the boy was carrying the pistol. When he saw him in a truck that afternoon, he stopped him, he said.

As the boy was denying knowledge of a pistol, Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen walked up and told Prandi he had seen the boy throw a packet from the truck to the courthouse lawn.

The supervisor led them to a discarded bulb syringe and needle, Prandi said. A search of the boy's jacket produced an Italian-made Berretta pistol, he said.

The boy was booked at juvenile hall.

Novato Teachers Press Pay Demand

The negotiating council of Novato teachers reaffirmed its demand last night for an 8 per cent salary increase, but agreed to discuss with the teachers of the district any offer made by the district trustees.

The council met for nearly two hours with school officials and three members of the Novato Unified School District board with no sign of a quick solution.

The meeting opened a series of separate and joint meetings by the parties during the next four days.

There has been no open threat of a strike, and Donald White, president of the negotiating council, said today it is the policy of the 450 members of the Novato Teachers Association not to strike.

School trustees said they would meet sometime this weekend to make an offer to the teachers. Supt. James G. Bunker has said that, with extra state funds, by adding an amount from reserves and by slicing the 1968-69 budget, the district would have $241,500 to give teachers and classified employees a 4 per cent increase.

The 8 per cent increase would cost the district $456,655, according to the teachers association, and raise the present scale of $6,000 to $12,750 to $6,480 to $13,770.

"The teachers have had it; they wouldn't even accept a 7.5 per cent increase," said Gregg de Gear, a member of the negotiating council.

Another member, George de Tuncq, said the district should eliminate bus transportation and not open San Marin High School this year to provide raises. He represents the 25 members of the more militant American Federation of Teachers on the council.

In past years, the Novato school board has made up its budget and then put extra money into teachers' salaries. Last year the teachers were granted an 11 per cent increase, and the annual step increases for this year amount to 3.9 per cent, Bunker said.

Trustee Lenora Dougherty asked council members if current negotiations would be helped if the board agreed to set a salary schedule before adopting the budget next year.

De Tuncq said he was "tired of playing the game of shells and peas because the teachers never guessed what shell the pea was under. This year they (the teachers) are throwing it away and playing a new game — their game."

Bunker said the district is paying 85 to 86 per cent of its operating budget in salaries, and that De Tuncq knew that there were certain fixed costs which had to be met.

The teachers are scheduled to consider this weekend's pay proposals by trustees at a general meeting at 2:30 p.m. Monday in the Novato High School gymnasium. School will be dismissed earlier.

The negotiating council will meet again with administrators and trustees at 4 p.m. Tuesday in the school administration building, with a meeting of the trustees to follow at 8 p.m. in Marion School.

Gnoss Predicts 80 Pct. Vote

Election Day should produce a better than 80 per cent voter turnout, County Clerk George H. Gnoss predicted today.

Gnoss based his prediction on absentee balloting so far, which he said had reached nearly 4,000.

"There's quite a bit of county interest in the gun ordinance, and on the national level," he said.

An 80 per cent turnout of the county's 96,695 registered voters would send 76,356 to the polls.

The total vote in the 1964 general election was 77,263, or 88.8 per cent of registered voters.

20 years ago, the first owners had their pick of Belvedere's choicest sites. They picked two lots on the East side of the island with a fabulous view and sunshine almost all day long. It took eleven months to construct this fine home, much more time to complete the landscaping and extensive rock work. There are four bedrooms, 2½ baths plus maid's room and bath, a huge lanai or family room, dining room, and a choice of pool sites. A large view deck and a huge stone patio form a grand entertainment area.

Trustees Shelve Panther Decision

FRESNO (AP) — California State College trustees have delayed until late this year any further action on George Murray, Black Panther minister of education and a teacher at San Francisco State College.

Trustees learned yesterday that the campus faculty and administration are conducting a new investigation of Murray. A few hours earlier, Murray had received scattered applause in a militant speech to a Fresno State College rally.

"Burn the flag to a crisp... flush it down a sewer," Murray told an audience that dwindled from about 1,800 to some 600 before he finished speaking.

President Robert R. Smith of San Francisco State told a reporter yesterday that he plans to make a statement on Murray's status next week.

The first public announcement of the faculty-administration investigation of Murray came from trustees Chairman Theodore R. Meriam of Chico.

"It would be inappropriate for this board to take any action today which might interfere with the process of that investigation," Meriam told the trustees, meeting on the opposite side of of the campus from the outdoor amphitheater where Murray spoke.

Trustees voted last month to ask Smith to reassign Murray to duties other than teaching. Smith refused, and emphasized that Murray was entitled to the same due process of investigation and hearing granted any faculty member.

In other action yesterday, trustees voted to ask Gov. Ronald Reagan and the Legislature for $285.5 million in state operating funds for 1969-70.

The board also cast an indecisive 8-8 vote on controversial plans for a student union building at San Francisco State. Meriam said the plans, already modified, will be reviewed again.

In his talk, Murray called trustees "a racist board." But he made no effort to confront the governing board for the 19-campus college system.

"We are slaves," Murray told the audience. "The only way to become free is to kill the slave masters."

Among "slave masters" listed by Murray were "the board of education, the state house, the White House, the Pentagon, the Supreme Court and the Chase Manhattan Bank."

New Tragedy For Honored GI Mother

WUERZBURG, Germany (AP) — For the third time within a year, the U.S. Army has sent word of tragedy to Mrs. Pascal Poolaw Sr., chosen the 1968 Mother of the Year by the United Services Organization—USO.

A spokesman for the U.S. 3rd Infantry Division said today that notification had been sent to Mrs. Poolaw in Apache, Okla., of the death of her son, Pfc. Lindy W. Poolaw, 20.

The son died Wednesday at the Landstuhl Army Hospital of head injuries suffered when he was struck by an automobile last Saturday night, the spokesman said. Pfc. Poolaw reportedly had been walking along a highway near the south German village of Rottendorf when the accident occurred. He had been assigned to a 3rd Infantry Division unit at Wildflecken.

Lindy Poolaw had served previously in Vietnam where his father was killed and an older brother lost a leg.

The father, 1st Sgt. Pascal Poolaw, a wounded and decorated Veteran of World War II and Korea, died of wounds in Vietnam last Nov. 7.

His son, Pascal Jr., 25, lost a leg after being wounded by mine fragments near Loc Ninh.

Another son, Donnie, 21, also has served in Vietnam and a fourth son, Lester, is serving with an Army unit in Germany.

PITIES BRIGHT STUDENT

Assemblyman Peeks Into L.A. School

LOS ANGELES (AP) —A white assemblyman from wealthy San Mateo County masqueraded for two weeks as a substitute teacher at a predominantly Negro high school and wound up feeling sorry for the smart students.

Discussing the experience yesterday, Leo J. Ryan of South San Francisco said he was surprised at the handicaps which hold back able youngsters.

Ryan, a former teacher and school administrator, is chairman of the Legislature's Joint Committee on Teacher Credentialing Practices. Only top officials at Jefferson High School knew his true identity.

"Perhaps the smart ones could get through school anywhere," the assemblyman said. "But I found out they also are held back by the educational system because of handicaps they start out with and never overcome.

"Something is wrong with the education they are getting."

Ryan offered several suggestions for improving minority schools.

He said such schools must be identified and assigned teachers with special qualities. Such teachers, he said, should draw premium pay and be given more free time to improve themselves.

He also called for an improvement in teaching aids, reduced size of classes and for universities to have classes in Negro history.

He said he was expected to teach geography in a room that had no maps on the walls and no globes to teach latitude. Some of books. he said, "should be long gone from all schools or revised as soon as possible."

The assemblymen told newsmen his purpose in undertaking the two-week experiment was to obtain an understanding of the problems in minority schools. He said he wanted to be able to explain them to "the well-intentioned majority which remains in honest ignorance."

Driver Injured As Cycle Slides Into Parked Car

Cyril Hsu Sia, 24, of 22 Eagle Rock Road, Alto, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with a concussion and cut scalp received when his motorcycle slid into a parked car yesterday in Tamalpais Valley, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said the accident occurred at 1:50 p.m. on Shoreline Highway near the Fireside Inn when a car driven by Victoria Brady, 22, of San Francisco, started a left turn in front of Sia's oncoming motorcycle.

Sia braked, the motorcycle hit gravel and overturned, sliding into a parked car owned by Robert Neill of 665 Northern Avenue, Mill Valley.

The highway patrol cited Miss Brady for failing to yield the right of way and cited Sia for driving without glasses.

$50 Bike Stolen

A bicycle valued at $50 was stolen yesterday from a pickup truck owned by Carl S. Dover of 113 Mono Avenue, Fairfax, while it was parked behind Dover's American Family Steak House at 411 Third Street, San Rafael police said today.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

Mrs. N. writes: "My husband constantly rubs the end of his nose with his finger, hand, or forearm. Most of the time John is not conscious of doing this and gets upset when I bring it to his attention. He claims that his nose itches, but I think it must be a bad habit. Why does he persist, and how can the maneuver be controlled?"

PERHAPS Mrs. N. should believe her spouse when he says he is rubbing his nose because of itchiness.

But more important, why does it itch? The nasal membranes may be too dry or irritated by a mild infection.

The problem may stem from an unsuspected allergy. A variety of measures are used to alleviate the symptoms. Some victims scratch with the hand, others twitch the nose or facial muscles. Still others bat their eyelids or scratch their soft palate with the tongue.

A FOOD ALLERGY is likely, provided there is no local abnormality or disease. This type of allergy is common and perhaps the itchy nose is one of the more bizarre manifestations. Allergens include egg, wheat, corn, milk, peas, nuts, fish, onions, white potatoes, chocolate, and certain fruits. These are commonly eaten edibles, and it may be very difficult to detect the culprit.

Sensitivity to dust, molds, or medications may be causative. In other words, the itching resembles a mild form of hay fever.

OUR READER also may be correct in assuming that hubby's problem is a nervous habit. Some people tug an ear lobe or pick at their fingers or nails while conversing with others, watching TV, or reading a novel.

Nervousness must be considered, especially if this man rubs or twitches his nose when tense or under stress. By the same token, it should disappear when he is relaxed or sleeping. As an alternative, she might give him a Chinese rubbing stone to keep his fingers busy.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

BLUE BABY'S FUTURE

Mrs. B. writes: If surgery on a blue baby has been successful, can the family plan on a normal life for her — or only nearly so?

REPLY

This depends on the nature of the defect. Ask the surgeon if the child will be normal. If not, plan a modified regimen for her. She should be allowed to grow and develop with the fewest possible restrictions. Thus, she will not go through the emotional trauma of thinking she is different and will not become a cardiac cripple.

CLEANING TEETH

I. I. writes: Is it possible to clean every nook and cranny of the teeth with a toothbrush?

REPLY

Food particles that lodge between the teeth are difficult to remove with a brush. It is here that dental floss and the new irrigating devices are most useful. These sprays are especially effective when used after thoroughly brushing the teeth, either with a regular type of brush or those that are electrically operated.

MENOPAUSE TIMETABLE

A reader writes: At what age do the majority of women go through the change of life?

REPLY

Today, 50 is the average. In the past 47 was commonly quoted. Better nutrition, fewer serious illnesses in childhood, and better health deserve the credit.

BEER TO ALCOHOLISM

A. C. writes: Could drinking five bottles of beer Monday through Friday, and 12 each on Saturday and Sunday lead to alcoholism?

REPLY

Yes, because it is easy for a heavy beer drinker to switch over to hard liquor.

Today's Health Hint — The youngster should brush the teeth regularly.

CHARGES 'SECURITY GAP'

Nixon Pledges Pentagon Reshuffle

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, indicting Democratic handling of national defense, pledges a major reorganization of the Pentagon, more influence for top military officers, and more missiles, warplanes and nuclear submarines, if elected.

The Republican presidential candidate, in a nationwide CBS radio broadcast last night, accused the administrations of John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson of "creating a security gap for America"—a phrase reminiscent of Kennedy's 1960 contention that the presidency of Dwight D. Eisenhower had created a missile gap. (See another story, page 1.)

In his most extensive discussion to date of defense policy, Nixon argued that the military decisions of the Kennedy and Johnson teams have put the nation in such straits that by 1970 or 1971 it might even face a "survival gap."

Unless he's elected on Nov. 5, Nixon says, Americans might discover "that we are irretrievably behind in the most critical areas in a few years."

Nixon flew to New York last night after touring 157 miles through eastern Pennsylvania, making four formal appearances and eight impromptu stops.

The GOP candidate will be in New York three more nights. Tonight he makes a live television broadcast to 10 states and the District of Columbia. Tomorrow he will be driving to rallies in suburban New Jersey. And on Sunday he will appear live on the CBS-TV "Face the Nation" program—his first appearance before a panel of reporters on television since 1966.

In his radio speech Nixon said that "in recent years our country has followed policies which now threaten to make America second best both in numbers and quality of major weapons."

The nominee said that the United States under Democratic administrations has gone from first to second in bombers, first to second in tactical aircraft, has virtually lost a 50 per cent advantage in intercontinental ballistic missiles and is steadily losing its advantage in nuclear submarines.

He also pledged to:

Initiate a major reorganization of the Department of Defense to correct its overcentralization and streamline its top-level overstaffing."

"Restore ready access of our top military professionals to the president of the United States."

WALLACE

NEW YORK (AP)—George C. Wallace, protected by the heaviest police detail assigned any candidate this year, received thunderous cheers in Madison Square Garden from supporters who drowned out the boos of hecklers in a tumultuous rally last night.

Unbothered by the dissidents inside, and apparently unaware of several thousand demonstrators outside, the third-party presidential candidate, appearing with his running mate, Curtis E. LeMay, listened with obvious relish to waves of cheers from a less than capacity crowd.

The evening was easily the emotional highpoint thus far in the Wallace campaign and the crowd was one of the most responsive Wallace has attracted.

Whisked into the arena through a side entrance under a heavy police guard, Wallace did not see the scuffles between pickets and police outside.

At one point, mobs pushed through barricades and pelted police with eggs, tomatoes, rocks and bottles. Police said 25 persons were arrested inside and outside and charged on various disorderly conduct counts. One policeman and four other persons were treated for minor injuries.

An estimated 3,000 police were deployed to handle the demonstrators.

Those hecklers who managed to get into the arena were given tickets by Wallace aides when it became apparent the 20,000 seat arena would not be filled. The crowd was estimated at 14,000.

Wallace had planned to outline the national defense plank of his American Independence Party platform, but ignored the text and instead repeated now-familiar views on demonstrators, law and order and national security.

His pledges to restore law and order, and the Vietnam War militarily if negotiations fail, throw Communists out of defense plants, repeal open housing legislation and other promises brought the adoring crowd to its feet time and again.

LeMAY

NEW YORK (AP) — Gen. Curtis E. LeMay says he's been a Republican "all of my life," but became the American Independent party vice-presidential candidate because he believed the GOP "had changed at the top to a mere reflection of its Democratic opposition."

LeMay, who appeared with the third party's presidential candidate, George C. Wallace, at a Madison Square Garden rally last night, drew an exhuberant reception when he appeared with his wife on the platform

LeMay came here for the rally after a day spent campaigning in New England. In East Hartford, Conn., he denied charges by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy that the American Independent Party is directed by extremist groups.

MUSKIE

The Democratic vice presidential candidate made nine speeches in his 250-mile swing through towns affected by the decline of the coal mining industry.

He said the unemployment rate in the region was 12.5 per cent at the end of the Eisenhower-Nixon administration in 1960 and said the Democratic administrations in the years following cut unemployment in Pennsylvania.

Muskie said Richard M. Nixon "wasn't good enough then, and he isn't good enough now."

Nixon was campaigning in the same area but the two candidates never saw each other.

Muskie was to return to New England today, flying to Burlington, Vt., Manchester, N.H. and Portland, Maine.

AGNEW

ST. PAUL, Minnesota (AP) — Republican vice presidential candidate Spiro T. Agnew has begun a retreat from his optimistic prediction that a breakthrough in the Vietnam peace talks is imminent.

In an apparent effort to anticipate announcement from the White House of some agreement in the negotiations, the Maryland governor had told two separate rallies yesterday morning that "it's fully expected that some breakthrough in the Paris peace talks will be reflected, possibly later today or tomorrow."

Both Agnew and Richard M. Nixon have admitted that any major move toward peace in Vietnam would help the chances of the Democrats.

Shortly after President Johnson told a news conference yesterday afternoon that no Vietnam breakthrough was imminent, Agnew began to reverse his optimistic forecasts. He said his original optimism was based purely on speculation.

Agnew was to spend today in St. Paul before leaving for the West Coast tonight.

REAGAN

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — California Gov. Ronald Reagan went to bat for Michigan's Republicans at a $100-a-plate dinner last night and said GOP vice-presidential candidate Spiro T. Agnew has suffered at the hands of newsmen.

"I think kind of a job has been done of Ted Agnew," Reagan said.

"The Ted Agnew I know from governors' conferences is a darn good, sound straight person with good ideas."

Agnew was quoted recently as saying in a Detroit broadcast interview, "To some extent, if you've seen one slum, you've seen them all."

He also stirred controversy when he was quoted as referring to a newsman traveling with him as a "fat Jap."

Reagan said he was concerned with "this constant creating of an image of him, as if he puts his foot in his mouth and reverses himself."

The California governor said a personal check showed "he (Agnew) was not quoted as he should have been." He did not elaborate.

Turning to the attack, Reagan described Democratic presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey as similar to the "hot air machines" used to dry hands in rest rooms.

RAFFERTY

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Republican U.S. Senate candidate Max Rafferty last night said any state college or University of California official who offers amnesty to student protestors should be fired.

In a tough speech ranging from campus rebels to looters in riot areas, Rafferty offered no quarter to those who break the law.

And, looters who fail to heed a policeman's warning should be considered the same as those who commit "arson or assault," Rafferty told 250 persons at an Association of Industrial Advertisers dinner.

However, Rafferty stopped short of urging police to shoot any looters who fail to heed a warning to stop.

The state Superintendent of Public Instruction was scheduled to fly today to Omaha, Neb., for a speech to the Nebraska State Education Association. He planned to return to Sacramento tomorrow, where he will rest Sunday before resuming his campaign Monday in the Los Angeles area.

Rafferty's reference to amnesty for students came as a result of present disturbances on the Berkeley campus.

CRANSTON

SANTA BARBARA (UPI) — Democratic Senate nominee Alan Cranston's message to restless students is to keep their protests within legal bounds or expect to pay the penalty.

He told a statewide university radio audience yesterday he sympathized with some of the student goals but rejected the use of force to gain them.

The former state controller said University of California officials are acting "properly" in arresting students who occupy buildings on the campuses.

He gave his views in a question and answer program originating at the campus radio station here and carried by U.C. stations at Berkeley, Los Angeles, Riverside and Davis, and at the University of Southern California and San Francisco and Sacramento State Colleges.

After a series of appearances here, the Democratic candidate returned to Los Angeles to attend a dinner for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

He took a half day off from his campaign schedule today to prepare for appearances tonight in Contra Costa County.

MRS. SHELL

I-J Special Report

LOS ANGELES — Mrs. Barbara M. Shell, prominent Los Angeles Republican and wife of Joseph C. Shell, today endorsed Alan Cranston, Democratic nominee for the U.S. Senate.

Her conservative husband ran for the GOP nomination for governor against Richard M. Nixon in 1962, and in 1966 and 1967 worked for San Rafael cosmetics tycoon William Penn Patrick.

Mrs. Shell said she would vote for Nixon, but also for Cranston. She praised Cranston's "intelligence and experience," and said "he has a businessman's approach to governmental problems."

The announcement of her endorsement of Cranston, released by Californians for Cranston, did not mention his GOP opponent, Max Rafferty.

Shell and Patrick parted ways in August 1967, reportedly because Shell was embarrassed and unhappy over Patrick's extreme brand of conservatism.

Sky Weather Eye Works 24 Hours

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (UPI) —The name Nimbus, given to one of the nation's most successful series of weather satellites, comes from the Latin, meaning "rainstorm." Since 1964 U.S. space centers have launched three Nimbus satellites. Now being readied for scheduled launching in May 1969 is the Nimbus B-II, being built by the General Electric Space Systems organization here.

The new "weather eye," weighing 1,260 pounds, will be able to photograph the earth's surface day or night, using infrared sensors to "see" weather conditions on the darkness-shrouded side of the planet.

Rather Warm Day

DEATH VALLEY (UP)— At Greenland Ranch here, a shade temperature of 134 degrees Fahrenheit was registered on July 10, 1913. This is the second highest heat record in the world—the highest, 136 degrees, was at Aziaia, Libya.

FBI Fingerprint Expert Facing Slap On Ray Talk

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — George Bonebrake, a senior FBI fingerprint expert, has been ordered to show cause Dec. 6 why he should not be held in contempt for allegedly violating orders prohibiting out-of-court comments on the James Earl Ray case.

Judge W. Preston Battle of Shelby County Criminal Court said it was impracticable to hold the hearing before Ray goes on trial Nov. 12 for murder in the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Battle, who will preside at Ray's trial, has issued stringent orders sharply restricting discussion of the case by anyone connected with it. Bonebrake is expected to be a key prosecution witness.

The judge cited Bonebrake upon the recommendation of a committee of seven attorneys he had set up to watch over pretrial news. The committee had advised Battle it believed Bonebrake "has actual knowledge of the aforesaid orders, decrees and injunctions issued by this court . . . there is strong cause to believe that respondent George Bonebrake is in contempt."

Bonebrake was cited for comments he made about his fingerprint investigation. The comments were published in the Wichita, Kan., Beacon.

Battle earlier held Ray's attorney, a private investigator for the defense and two Memphis newspaper reporters in contempt of the pretrial orders on discussion of the case.

Soul Food Dinner, Parley Slated

A group of Marin City parents, tentatively named "Citizens for Marin City Unity" will sponsor a soul food dinner and conference at 6 p.m. tomorrow at the Manzanita Neighborhood Center.

Representative of other Negro communities in the Bay Area, including those in Oakland, Hunters Point, Western Addition and Mission District are scheduled to discuss community problems.

Harriet Smith, the national president of the Black Students Union organization, is among the scheduled speakers, as is Sulu Pelega, leader of the Mission Rebels in San Francisco.

Dependent Mothers Task Force Session

The problem of limited job training will be discussed at another in a series of meetings of the Marin County task force on welfare at 8 p.m. Monday in Room 400 of the Civic Center administration building.

The task force, studying ways for welfare mothers to become self-dependent, also will look at housing problems and absent father contributions.

Sentencing Set

Neils Hyrum Hansen, 46, of Petaluma, is to appear Nov. 18 in Marin Superior Court to be sentenced for attacking two San Anselmo bar patrons with a knife March 10, following an argument over a taxi bill. He pleaded guilty to felony charges of assault with a deadly weapon Tuesday.

Poll Finds Public Shuns Bay Sports

STANFORD (AP) — Because they fear pollution, a quarter of the 3.6 million persons in San Francisco Bay Area refuse to swim in the bay, a Stanford University professor estimated today.

Prof. Gene Willike based his estimate in a report of a public opinion poll he had taken.

Projecting the survey, he said probably at least one million persons believe that bay fish are contaminated by pollution and unsafe to eat.

Although there is serious pollution in some places, he said, "there appears to be no good reason why large areas of the bay should not be used more intensively for swimming—particularly the region between the San Mateo Bridge and the Richmon-San Rafael Bridge."

BART Financial Woes Worsening

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The financial deficit of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District has increased from $144 million to $146 million in recent weeks and is growing by $1.5 million each month, officials say.

If the situation continues into 1969, director H. R. Lange of Oakland said yesterday, costs will soar to $3 to $4 million extra per month.

This, he said, involves a "bare bones" estimate which includes no closed-citcuit television surveillance for passenger security at stations and no covered walkways at station entrances.

After receiving the gloomy report, the BART directors voted to authorize a committee to meet with Gov. Ronald Reagan about the financial problem.

Halloween Costume Parade Scheduled

The Peacock Gap Homeowners Association will sponsor a Halloween costume parade for children 12 and under at 4 p.m. Oct. 31.

The parade will begin at Riviera and San Marino drives and proceed to the clubhouse at the Peacock Gap Country Club, where prizes for the best costumes will be awarded and hot dogs served. The parade only will not be held in case of rain.

on Vietnam

The "Phase-in Phase-out Concept", developed by Don Clausen to solve our present dilemma in Vietnam is now receiving serious and favorable consideration from our responsible national leaders. Called by William Randolph Hearst, Jr. the "best blueprint for ending the war and winning the peace", the plan calls for the creation of Free Asian security forces that would be injected into the ground war to replace a like number of American fighting men . . . on a carefully conceived, methodical and realistic timetable.

As one editorial summed up Don's plan: "It changes our philosophy that the U.S. must fight brush fire wars all over the world . . . It would force countries taking our money and troops for protection to make substantial contributions of their own. It would ease the threat of a major war . . . It would bring American troops back home and ease the tremendous financial strain on our country. We would not be walking away from our commitments. Our compliments to our Congressman Don Clausen for taking the lead with a positive action program to solve the Vietnam dilemma."

U.S. Cagers Go For Gold; More Controversy

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The United States' rag-tag basketball team goes for the gold tonight, while new controversies and charges of fixed wrestling matches arose in these trouble-ridden 19th Olympic Games.

The American gold medal production slowed considerably yesterday—two in swimming — but the margin over Russia increased.

Carl Robie, Drexel Hill, Pa., scored an upset victory in the men's 200-meter butterfly and Debbie Meyer, Sacramento, collected her third gold medal with an Olympic record 9:24.0 in the women's 800-meter freestyle.

88 MEDALS

That pushed the U.S. collection of golds to 37 and a total of 88. Russia, meanwhile, managed only one gold, giving them 16 for the Games and a total of 53.

The United States will be favored in two of the three swimming finals tonight, but the attention will be riveted on the American basketball team's game with Yugoslavia for the Olympic title.

The game will be telecast live to the United States by ABC-TV (Channel 7, 8 p.m.).

The team, shunned by such collegiate standouts as Lew Alcindor, Elvin Hayes and Don May, has been forged into a tightly knit, precision crew by Coach Henry Iba.

The United States hasn't lost a game, much less the gold medal, since the sport was introduced into the Olympics in 1936, but Iba's team faces a major challenge in the Yugoslavs, who gained the finals by beating Russia.

Three new controversial issues broke yesterday.

Sweden was stripped of its bronze medal in modern pentathlon.

The Olympic Organizing Committee announced that only six representatives from each country will march in the closing ceremonies, a break in tradition.

The U.S. Olympic Committee continues to investigate rumors of under the counter payoffs by manufacturers to athletes to use and display the manufacturers' products.

ij Sports

FOURTH SECTION Friday, October 25, 1968 41

And a Dutch cycling team masseur, Sjeng Collard, was sent home to Holland for giving the cyclists vitamin pills against the orders of his national delegation.

"We found certain medicines in his room," said assistant Chef ce Mission Paulus Lut. "We held a meeting and decided he be sent home for going against orders."

Sweden had to give up its bronze medal in modern pentathlon because one team member, Hans Gunnar Liljenvall, was found to have exceeded his alcohol intake before the shooting event. France was awarded the medal.

The Organizing Committee gave no reason for its action in curtailing the number of athletes to march in the closing ceremonies, but it appeared the group wanted to avoid any disorders at the breakup of the ceremonies.

Many athletes objected vehemently.

Jesse Owens, who won four gold medals in the 1936 Games and here as a special member of the U.S. Olympic Committee, was equally dismayed.

"I haven't heard the reasons they made this decision," Owens said, "but I'm sure they must be good ones. Yet, I can't help thinking something important is being lost.

HIGHLIGHT

I've seen every Olympic Game since I participated and have always considered the closing ceremonies, from the human standpoint, the real highlight."

Evans said his charge of thrown wrestling matches "is not sour grapes, because freestyle wrestling is wrapped up. But things were done which never should have been done and something should be said about it.

"I don't mind bad decisions or inferior refereeing jobs, but throwing matches is too much."

Scoring in freestyle wrestling is built on a bad point system. A wrestler is awarded four bad points if he loses by a pin, three for a loss by a decision, two for a draw, one for winning by decision and none for a pin. Six bad points and he's out.

'MAKING DEALS'

"Countries—but I won't name them—threw matches to each other. Coaches were making deals in the third round to take care of each other in different weight classes," Evans said.

"Deals are made before the matches. In order to keep certain wrestlers alive and in competition, one would quit to the other so he wouldn't pick up his sixth bad point."

The United States picked up all its medals in the four swimming events, while Russia suffered a couple of disappointments. Their only gold came in women's team foil, and they were edged out of two others, by Japan in men's gymnastics and by West Germany in equestrian team dressage.

Robie, the 200-meter butterfly winner who labeled himself a "fringe member" of the American swimming team, said he "felt very confident about winning it after the U.S. trials because no one else seemed to be swimming that well." His time was 2:08.7.

JIM GILMARTIN

Jet-Age Football For Flying Father

PROUD POP — Robert Alvarado fo San Anselmo had a unusually hectic schedule today in order to watch his two sons play football.

Rapid Robert flew to Los Angeles this morning to watch son number one, Don, play for the Stanford frosh against UCLA.

The, rushing from Westwood to the L.A. airport, he was to catch a 5:30 p.m. flight back to San Francisco, followed by a hectic drive to Kentfield to catch son number two, Dave, play for Drake High against Redwood at 8 o'clock.

Incidentally, there was a double local angle to the Stanford-USC frosh encounter last weekend. First, it marked the coaching debut of former Redwood star Jim Troppmann at Stanford and the little Injuns treated him to a thrilling 30-20 victory over the Trobabes.

Scored First Touchdown

The victory was doubly satisfactory in that Don Alvarado, the former Drake High all-everything, scored Stanford's first touchdown on an eight-yard pass. Stanford completed only four passes, but all four were to Alvarado at flanker, good for 62 yards.

AMIGO—I received a Tarjeta Postal Lito en Mexico yesterday. I think that means post card.

Collins has witnessed many big sports events over the years—both indoors and out—but he rated American Bill Toomey's victory in the decathlon last Saturday as "The greatest sports spectacle ever."

Moved By Decathlon Event

Don was particularly moved by the final decathlon event in which Toomey clinched the gold medal. "It was dark and raining," he writes, "and two closest rivals right on Toomey's heels all the way to the end of the last race. Most people had left the stadium, but Joanne, our two kids and I stayed to the end. The Mexicans have been perfect. So friendly."

MARIN MISERY—Hey, our Chamber of Commerce had better look into the matter. Our picturesque hills here in the Bounty County are getting a bad reputation.

Coach Don Vick of DeAnza College in Cupertino, whose cross country team was meeting College of Marin here today, rates the Marin course as ". . . the toughest in our conference. It's a mountain goat course. You run uphill and when you feel you have it licked, you run uphill somemore."

Congrats To Young Champs

It marked the Drake team's first title in 15 years of Warner football. The team celebrated the occasion by dumping all eight coaches into the San Rafael High swimming pool after the game.

Drake plays the Tamalpais Junior Indians in the regular season finale tomorrow, 4 p.m., at Tam High, if you'd like to see the champs in action. But don't go near the pool.

Tigers Are Still Far Behind Packers

NEW YORK (AP) — The Detroit Tigers can buy fur coats for their wives out of their $10,936.66 winning World Series shares but they still are way behind the pro football players.

Each Green Bay Packer pocketed $22,950.96 for winning two games, the National Football League championship and the Super Bowl. There were 40 full shares of $15,000 each for the Super Bowl winner.

The variable factor in baseball's World Series pool has sparked a movement to set a guaranteed winning and losing share for each series, regardless of the size of the ball park.

For example, the St. Louis Cardinals got only $8,314.81 for winning over the Boston Red Sox last year when they played four games in Fenway Park with its limited capacity of 35,000. This year, with games at their own Busch Stadium drawing 54,692 and Tiger Stadium in Detroit with a capacity of 53,634, the Cardinals got $7,078.71 for a full losing share.

If the Red Sox in old Fenwary Park ever get into a Series with Philadelphia (33,608), Pittsburgh (35,000), Chicago (36,644) or Cincinnati (29,603), before they get new parks built in some of those cities, you will hear screaming and moaning from the players about their cut of the action.

The players, of course, participate in the money from only the first four games. Two per cent off the top, after the commissioner's 15 per cent, goes to the two fifth-place teams. The rest of the player pool—60 per cent of the receipts of the first four games—goes to the first, second, third and fourth place teams.

In 1969 when each major league will have divisional playoffs, a different formula probably will be adopted for sharing Series cash. It is possible this may be the time for the guaranteed winning and losing share. The records are held by the Los Angeles Dodgers, $12,794 for winning in 1963 and $8,189.36 as losers in 1966.

The splits for the clubs down to fifth place varied according to the number of shares and partial shares.

A full share of the San Francisco Giants' fourth straight runner-up finish was worth $1,969.14. Second money was $1,904.59 for Baltimore in the American League, including one-half share to ex-Manager Hank Bauer.

Third money was $1,290.48 for Cleveland in the American and $1,267.89 for the Chicago Cubs in the National. Fourth place full shares were $632.48 for Cincinnati in the National and $593.42 for Boston in the American.

The New York Yankees, who used to live it up every winter on full winning shares, happily settled for fifth place and $243.59. Fifth was worth $228.51 for each Atlanta Brave in the National.

Nicklaus Sets Course Record In Aussie Golf

PERTH, Western Australia (AP) — Big Jack Nicklaus carded a magnificent 64 to break the course record by two strokes in the second round of the Australian Open Golf Championships today.

The American star played well after a medicre 71 yesterday and the round included eight birdies and an eagle.

His performance today, eight under par, broke Australian Peter Thomson's four-year-old course record of 66 and put Nicklaus in a first place tie with Australia's Billy Dunk. Both are at 135, nine under par.

The next best is Gary Player of South Africa at 136 and Australian Ted Ball at 137.

Nicklaus went out at 33, picking up 3 birdies, and quickly went five under when coming home with birdies on the 12th and 13th holes.

While Nicklaus blasted his way around the course, Dunk fired another brilliant sub par round, recording a four-under 68 to add to his previous 67.

Thomson was the only leader to crash his round. He got a steady 36 going out but had a disastrous seven on the par four 15th to finish with 37 for a seventh place tie.

Seals To Host Unbeaten Canadiens

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Seals, who started a road trip in last place in the National Hockey League's West Division and ended it at least temporarily in first, are home tonight to face the formidable Montreal Canadiens at 8 o'clck.

Montreal has yet to lose a game and, with a record of 4-0-1, is second only to the Chicago Black Hawks in the league's East Division.

The Seals, who lost 6-1 to the New York Rangers Wednesday night, begin a six-game home stand against the Stanley Cup champion Canadiens.

"We played four games in five nights," said Seals' Coach Fred Glover after the road stand "but we won two of them and we beat supposedly the best teams in each division."

PARTY BOSS BREZHNEV NOT HAPPY

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's top leader, Communist Party Chief Leonid I. Brezhnev, expressed displeasure today over the performance of the Soviet Olympic team in Mexico City.

Addressing the Soviet Youth Organization, Brezhnev said, "The international standards of our sports must be improved. These days we all follow the Mexico Olympics, and we have watched the performance of our team.

"Our sportsmen," he added, "did not manage to achieve all they wished. The struggle was really very difficult and we welcome the winners who came back home with Olympic medals."

Woman Fires' Las Gallinas Hole-In-One

Mrs. Ted Steiger fired a genuine hole-in-one at Las Gallinas then went on to beat one of her own witnesses in the second round of the club handicap championspip tournament yesterday.

Mrs. Steiger got her hole-in-one on the 65-yard third hole using a nine iron while Mesdames Bernard Campbell, M. E. Schutte and George Yamamoto watched. Mrs. Steiger went on to defeat Mrs. Campbell on the 18th hole.

At Marin Country Club, Mrs. Hal White took hole-in-one honors with a shot 28 inches from the hole on the 15th. Low gross honors went to Mrs. Dick Warrington at 84 and Mrs. Robert Rich, with a 95-25—70, took low net honors.

The results:

Pro Golfers Smashing Par

COSTA MESA (AP) — Former amateur champion Deane Beman, who gave up a lucrative insurance business to take a fling at professional golf, may regard his new career as something of an insurance risk today.

The 30-year-old Bethesda, Md., pro of only a year led the way into the second round of the 110,000 Haig National Open Tournament with an initial flourish of 64—seven strokes under par and a putting mark of 19 which equalled the PGA record for 18 holes.

SLIM LEAD

But Beman was only one stroke in front. Challenging from four strokes or less back were such threats as Billy Casper, Chi Chi Rodriguez, Al Geiberger, Bruce Crampton, Bob Rosburg and others.

Play is over the short 6,650-yard, par 36-35—71 Mesa Verde Country Club course, where yesterday 61 of the 150 players fractured par.

Beman's 19 putts tied a record shared by Rosburg, Bill Nary and Randy Glover. He might have broken the mark but his ball went in and out of the cup on the final hole.

As Beman humorously put it talking later to Rosburg, "I almost got you but I lipped out on the 18th."

TIED

Casper, after playing straight par for nine holes, finished with 33-35—68 and a tie with six lesser known pros. Rodriguez' 67 put him in a tie with four others.

Beman, who won the U.S. Amateur crown in 1960 and 1963, and the British Amateur in 1959, knocked in putts that ranged from seven feet to a chip shot that flew in from 35 in his 33-31—64 effort. He had four birdies on each nine.

Rauch Fears Cincy Defense

OAKLAND (AP) — John Rauch, the Oakland Raider coach, says the Cincinnati Bengals are the best expansion team yet and he particularly fears their defense.

Rauch, whose Raiders host Cincinnati Sunday, said yesterday that "they've been getting very good line play, both against the rush and against the pass."

While not so high on the Bengal offense, he said Cincinnati quarterback Dewey Warren looked sharp last week. Warren is a rookie from Tennessee.

It's Same Story For Oaks: Barry Leads Way To Win

SANTA MARIA (AP) — What the Los Angeles Stars are trying to prove with a new name, new uniforms, a new home, a new coach and some new players, the Oakland Oaks are proving with just one new man on the team.

But to the Oaks, Rick Barry is more than just another player —he's the man with the key to the team's success in the American Basketball Association.

He proved it again last night, pouring in 37 points to pace the Oaks to a 137-126 victory over the Stars in an exhibition game.

Last year, as the Anaheim Amigos, the losers were a flop both on the scoreboard and at the gate. With their own regular season play not yet underway, the Stars have yet to prove themselves at the gate. But on the court they have hardly shown improvement, winning but one of seven preseason games.

The Oaks last year were even worse on the court than the Amigos. But Barry has reversed that trend, leading Oakland to a 3-0 record this year in regular season play. The Stars play their first regular season game Oct. 30, hosting the New Orleans Buccaneers.

Yugoslavs Miss Point With Happy Celebration

MEXICO CITY—It was the most disgraceful thing I have ever seen in sports. I mean, you can take Tunney's long count, the stripping of Jim Thorpe's medals, pushing Dempsey back into the ring, Schmeling winning on a foul. They were just forgivable pranks compared to this.

The Yugoslav basketball team had just defeated Russia, 63-62, for a sure silver medal. And there they were rolling on the floor, crying, laughing, pummeling each other on the back kissing, hugging, singing, dancing, waving . . .

THEY WERE HAPPY, for crying out loud!

Now, if there's anything we have learned about these Olympics, it's that Baron de Coubertin was only part right. It's not the winning, it's the taking part — in protest.

I MEAN, what about the political prisoners in Belgrade? What about the poor people? What about Trieste? What about Khrushchev? Tito? Mijhailovic? What about the Archduke Ferdinand? Is Montenegro getting a full break? What about the injustices of or to the Croats? The Serbs? What about the Hapsburgs? World War II? The partisans?

SHOULDN'T THEY have at least donned bloody gloves? Or held Puma shoes aloft? Isn't the Olympics a podium of protest? What's the matter with these guys? Whatta' they think they are — SPORTSMEN, for heavens sakes! Politicians, baby! That's the ticket today. The Olympics is a place to redress wrongs. Never mind beating Russia in basketball. Beat them in the newsreels, television.

THE OLYMPICS is a place where a guy might come out any day now wearing a bed sheet and saying, "I would like to say a few kind words on behalf of the Ku Klux Klan." Or where a German might show up on the victory stand and begin screaming "Heil Hitler!"

Of course, the Yugoslavs can be forgiven. God did not gift them abundantly in basketball skills. They make up in awkwardness what they lack in technique. The game was not really built for them. Their arms are too short, their feet are too slow. They don't have to be careful lest they scrape the ceiling when they jump.

UNDER THE circumstances, they're glad to be in the Olympic Games at all. They got very little help from nature. They won't be going home to any million-dollar contract. A couple of guys on the team are already 31 years old. Two others are 30. The silver medal they get (unless they beat the U.S. for the gold) may be the only metal of any worth ever to come into their families. They won't go home to be heroes if they protest. They'll go home to be dead.

The Olympic basketball competition, except for the U.S.-Russian games of late, has always looked like Saturday night at the YMCA — the skins vs. the shirts. Some countries look as if they recruit teams from streetcar conductors.

THE U.S. was hard-pressed by Senegal, for instance. Hard-pressed to stay awake, that is. They had to struggle to keep a straight face when Brazil showed up in canary yellow-and-green candy-striped uniforms, as heavily foliaged above the lips as Turkish cavalrymen. In strawhats, they would have looked like a barber shop quartet.

They played the game as it it was a scavenger hunt. They got the ball only every half-hour or so. Half their baskets were scored from the foul line. They were good at dribbling — except when they had the basketball. To them, the game was just Greco-Roman wrestling with a ball.

IT WAS feared, when this tournament started, that the U.S. teams would suffer from altitude—not the presence of it, the lack of it. Lew Alcindor didn't try out for the team — not because he was afraid he wouldn't make it, but because he was afraid he would. Besides, he has not yet recognized the country.

There was the additional peril that Lew Alcindor at 7,500 feet would go around with snow in his hair or have to fight off nesting eagles.

Well, I am sure it will come as a relief to Lew to know he wasn't needed. Spencer Haywood, Charley Scott, Calvin Fowler and JoJo White were sure as hell needed. And were here.

ANYWAY, IT would be an embarrassment to our lordly knights of the court, who have spent lifetimes hearing "We're No. 1!" to hear a sellout throng of Mexicans in paroxysms of delight as their basketball team vanquished a moderately ept Spanish team, 73-72, to move into the rarified atmosphere of the "5-to-8" bracket. "We're No. 8!" is not exactly the kind of a cheer to bring duck bumps to an American skin but the Mexicans think it is great.

THERE IS also the period that the Yugoslavs might win Friday night — and spoil it all by looking happy. Or, good God! Grateful.

MARIN BOWLING

137 Average, And Pow! A 264 Game

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Not when he started off one of his games with eight straight strikes and had quite a few of the bowlers craning their necks on his ninth frame. He hit on the Brooklyn side and the six-pin wobbled, but stood.

He picked up the spare and then spared again in the 10th frame for a 264 game, high league game of the week in Marin County Bowling.

Penny Conti, the gal who rolled her first 600 series last week at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael, a 614, liked the feeling.

She came back with a 257 game — which included 10 strikes — and went on to a 643 series in the Ladies 615 Classic. And she was only subbing! Her first game was 197 and her last one 189.

Walt Moreno, that former All American junior college basketball player (College of Marin, 1948), just about summed it up after rolling an even 600 in the 840 Scratch at Nave Lanes:

"I finally roll a 600 and six other guys beat me." That's the way it was, as there were seven scores over the 600 mark in that "fun" league, led by (yep) Terry De Young's 258-676 and Ron Baccei's 223-651. There were also Don Lane, 253-643; Tom Jensen, 226-611; Bob Leveroni, 257-607, and Bill Bernades, 236-606.

THIS AND THAT — Ray Miller of the 905 Classic had high series score at Country Club with his 679, and it included a 245 game and a 242. He came back with a 657 in the Lutheran Late League . . . Bob Quezada was top man in the 670 Scratch League at Country Club, 657 . . . Hilda Dednick came close to a triplicate in the Hi-Lo's League, 121-120-120 . . . Rich Bottarini, 173 average, rolled himself a 258 game in the Mixed Mates League . . . When Bill Kelly rolled a 604 in the Weekenders League at Country Club Bowl it was the first time over that mark . . . Anne Baccei had a 246 game (and 592 series) in the Sleepers League to show she wasn't ready for night-night . . . Phil Phillips of the 840 Scratch, after picking up the 4-6 split, came back the following week to bang down the equally hard 4-6-10.

STRIKES TO SPARE — The Women's 500 Club is holding its first tournament tomorrow, 2 p.m. at Country Club Bowl . . . In the Friday Nite Leftovers at Nave Lanes, Betty Halloran, 141 avg., bowled 581 series to help the Cagwin and Dorward team to a high game standing of 836, more than 200 pins higher than average . . . Nancy McPherson, 13, led the juniors at Country Club Bowl, 200-517 . . . Larry Gaffney's 635 series, high at Greenbrae Lane, was in the Mixed Mates League . . . Mitzie Brown converted the 4-7-10 split in the Marin County Mixed Travel League and Dave Malinoff did good on the 6-7 . . . In the Novato Sportsmen's Bowling League, Royal Druba had an all-spare game, 180, and Bob Lackford picked up the 5-9-10 split . . . Lester Wallace of the Monday Men's Handicap League at Nave Lanes picked up the 4-7-9-10 split.

DOWN THE LANES — Next game Mary Smiley bowls just couldn't be a 160, after rolling 157-158-159 in the Classy Lassies at Nave's, the same day Jean Twillman was picking up the 6-7 split . . . Pat Campblell rolled a 209 to headline action in the Agent's 1108 League . . . Over in the Washday League at Nave Lanes, first time over the 200 plateau went JoAnne Goldsmith, 211, and Lola Utley, 202 . . . It was first time over 500 for Enes Mager of the Bowlerettes League at Country Club, 505; trying for a record of sorts in that league was Clare Graham, eight (8) splits in a row . . . Nancy Greyerbiehl picked up the 4-7-10 in the Lutheran Early League . . . Lu Latson had a near-triplicate in the Mixed Mates at Greenbrae, 144-142-144, while Jackie Madden was showing 'em how to bowl, 234 game.

By DON CARTER

Goalie's Frightening Job In Arena Of Frozen Fear

By HERB MICHELSON

OAKLAND — The most frightening job in all of Christendom (next to driving an explosives truck) has to be tending goal in hockey.

Parents of any lad aspiring to major league sports success should instantly detract him from thoughts of puck-stopping. I am constantly amazed that anyone wishes to play this position. Those who do obviously have death wishes.

They chiefly come from Canada — as what hockey player in the pro ranks doesn't? — and most likely got their start because they couldn't afford skates to play in frozen pond pickup games in their youth.

"HEY KID, yes you without skates," one can hear the kids saying. "You play goalie today cause you won't have to move around much."

Hah!

It's also true that large, beefy fellows who lack skating speed and/or stick-handling agility find providence in minding the little net. And they wind up getting stuck with a professional goalie's job if they prove proficient.

They could, of course, refuse and take up a more flaccid post like sky diving, but by time of maturity the amateur goalie is trapped with the glitter and glamour of Stanley Cup talk.

YET, THE goalie never outgrows his basic fear: Being smashed on the noggin with a puck traveling about 100 miles per hour.

Worry? Most of them are scared to death.

THERE IS one aging, but still stout-hearted National Hockey League goalie who literally throws up in the dressing room moments before taking the ice for a game. And he does this before every game.

He does not have ulcers. He has not eaten bad food. He is frightened.

The time comes for many goalies when they have what we'd popularly call a nervous breakdown. It's really an enlarged fear syndrome — and they withdraw beyond conversation and commiseration. This happened to one NHL netminded a year ago. He simply vanished for a few days, turned up, talked of quitting and napped for a while before going back to an arena of frozen fear.

GOALIES ARE historically hockey's most superstitious characters. Charlie Hodge of our dear Oakland Seals is always the last off the ice between periods and at game's end. It's quite possible he wants to make sure he won't be alone when he reaches the dressing room.

Charlie, the Seals' most beloved figure by fans, was set down this week by new coach Freddie Glover. Glover watched Charlie fidgeting during early losses and decided his goalkeeper was a bit too nervous.

BUT HODGE, 35 and a veteran of 19 hockey seasons, is always nervous. He is still competent — but the fear is expressed in nerves, in pleas to defensemen for help. He is only 5-6, weighs only 160. He deserves help.

After Glover substituted Gary (Suitcase) Smith for Charlie, the Oaklands won a couple. Smith is 6-4 and weighs 215. He lacks Hodge's quick moves but manages to block more of the goalmouth area because of his bulk.

HODGE IS the better goalie, though. He has been the Seals' best piece of merchandise. He'll return — nervous and fidgety. But he'll return.

Cal Bears Host Syracuse; Stanford Treks To UCLA

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Football coaches in the Pacific-8 Conference were in unanimous agreement on at least one point before the season began, to wit:

The conference was one of the best balanced in years and so-called breathers might leave a favorite breathless.

Last week more than proved the point.

The pressure of the championship run for the Rose Bowl eases a bit this week with only two conference games on the slate.

Stanford is at UCLA and Oregon State visits Washington State.

In non-conference engagements California hosts Syracuse at 1:30 in Berkeley, Idaho plays at Washington, Oregon entertains Utah and no one has to worry about unbeaten Southern California, No. 1 in the nation. The Trojans take the week off.

Stanford, after throwing a tremendous scare into Southern Cal, walked into a supposedly underdog Cougar at Washington State and settled for a 21-21 tie at Spokane.

Stanford Coach John Ralston, viewing the contest with UCLA, warned that the Bruins could be expected to rebound from their 39-15 walloping by California's Bears.

California can expect a rugged afternoon against Syracuse, which was idle last week. For basis of comparision, Syracuse took care of UCLA earlier in the campaign, 20-7.

The independent game of the week finds San Jose State at the home of the nation's No. 1 college division team, San Diego State.

Duck Hunters: Got A Hankering To Hunker Down Among Rocks?

STEVENS

The morning's mail brought a note from a "regular reader" asking if it is a fact that it is illegal to hunt ducks from a moving boat—that it was necessary to detach the outboard and place it in the boat.

It is still illegal to shoot from a moving boat, but the law has been modified to allow the outboard motor as is. t must be turned off, however.

The "regular reader" asks where he can go without belonging to a club — a place where there is at least a 50-50 chance of getting a limit of ducks.

I could, of course, mention dozens of areas where the reader would be at some spot in the line of flight. But the writer asks where he can go to hunt not too distant from his home (he lives in Martinez) and that is funny, because he is only a half-hour away from an area I hunted for many years — inside the rock wall across from Rodeo or Crockett.

A couple dozen decoys and the ability to sit perfectly motionless among the large rocks that form the Rock Wall is needed.

It happens that a hunter is smack in the middle of a favored flight of ducks.

The hunter drives to Rodeo and attaches his outboard motor to one of Frank Joseph's big, comfortable skiffs. He's better scout out the area, because he will be leaving Rodeo while it is still dark. Also it may be very foggy. It is almost impossible to miss the Rock Wall if you hold a straight course from Rodeo.

You don't take a stance in the rocks on the open side of the wall; you drive around the point of the wall and drive along the INSIDE of the rocks. You will be in fairly shallow water. You fasten the skiff onto one of the rocks, set out at least 24 decoys then hunker down among the rocks. Always take your spot where it's not too uncomfortable and always stay below the bay side of the wall. The birds will fly over where you are ensconced. A small flight comes winging over your spot. You freeze; the birds will circle and come in; then is when you rise and take aim.

I hope some of my readers will get an urge to hunker down among the rocks and have an unusually interesting experience.

Cards Edge Giants, In Japanese Style

TOKYO (AP) — The visitinb St. Louis Cardinals blasted 12 hits, including a homer by Lou Brock, to beat the Tokyo Yomiuri Giants 9-8 as the 1968 National League champions opened their 18-game good-will tour of Japan today.

The Giants, 1968 Japan champions, collected 11 hits off three Red Birds' pitchers, including two home runs. One was off Cardinals' starting pitcher Bob Gibson and the second off winner Steve Carlton. Wayne Granger also worked for St. Louis.

The Cardinals play the Giants again at Korabuen Stadium tomorrow and Sunday.

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Miss Marie Litwa witnessed three holes-in-one at the Normandie golf course within six days. Golfer Harry Hess aced the 16 hole, and Jay Femmer aced No. 3, the same hole on which Miss Litwa got her ace.

Phillips To Fill In For Johnson

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — Mel Phillips may be filling in for Jimmy Johnson at cornerback for San Francisco Sunday when the 49ers play the Lions at Detroit.

Coach Dick Nolan said yesterday that because of injuries he may use Phillips instead of Jimmy Johnson to guard against the pass catching of Earl McCullouch, the Lion rookie from Southern Cal.

"Mel is excellent on man-to-man coverage," the coach said.

McCullouch, Nolan said "of course has great speed and also has great hands. He's a tremendously quick starter."

McCullouch was a world record holder in the high hurdles.

San Francisco is 3-3 in the National Football League and Detroit is 3-2-1.

New Controversy Hits The Olympics

SPITZ LAST

Martyn Woodroffe of Great Britain was second and John Ferris, Sacramento, was third. Mark Spitz, America's world record holder in the event, was suffering from a respiratory ailment and finished last.

Miss Meyer, who also won the 200- and 400-meter freestyles, scored by 20 meters over teammate Pam Krause, Pompano Beach, Fla., with Maria Teresa Ramirez of Mexico third.

Debbie, 16, said she would continue competing for at least one more year "and maybe four. I might compete in the Munich Games—if I can make the team," she said.

Ada Kok of Holland won the women's 200-meter butterfly in 2:24.7, followed by Helga Lindner of East Germany and Ellie Daniel, Elkins Park, Pa.

Australian Mike Wenden set an Olympic record at 1:55.2 in winning the men's 200-meter freestyle. Don Schollander, Jacksonville, Fla., was second and John Nelson, Pompano Beach, Fla., third.

CLOSER

It was even closer in men's gymnastics. Japan's Saweeo Kato scored a near perfect 9.90 in floor exercises, the final event, and took the men's all-around title with 115.90. Russia's Mikhail Voronin was second with 115.85.

Japan also took the men's team title with 575.90 points and Russia was second with 571.10.

The United States also put three boxers in tomorrow's finals. They are heavyweight George Foreman, Pleasanton, who will fight Russia's Ionas Chepulis, lightweight Ron Harris, Canton, Ohio, and featherweight Alberto Robinson, Oakland.

Middleweight Alfred Jones, Detroit, lost a wildly booed semifinal decision to Christopher Finnigan, Great Britain, even though he knocked Finnigan down once and battered him constantly in all three rounds.

Bulldogs Host Salesian; Novatans Face Toughie

Two Marin County Athletic League football teams head outside the league tonight. One will be trying to add to an already impressive record, the other hopes to come out of a four-game tailspin.

San Rafael 1-4 on the season, hosts Salesian of Richmond, at 8 o'clock tonight. Novato, the league's only unbeaten, untied team at 5-0, travels to Santa Clara's Buck Shaw Stadium to take a crack at usually powerful Bellarmine of the Catholic Athletic League.

San Rafael has a victory over Marin Catholic, but since then has lost to Montgomery, Terra Linda, Drake and Novato. The Bulldogs will have backup and long-throwing quarterback Bruce Nave out of action with a broken collarbone.

Novato, with a showdown match against Terra Linda coming up, will take few chances against Bellarmine. Slightly ailing fullback Tom Zechlin will be out and any starter who sneezes might wind up on the sidelines. But the Hornets also have the incentive of an unbeaten season to shoot for, with victories over Petaluma, Montgomery, Redwood, Tamalpais and San Rafael.

Redwood, Drake Vie Tonight

Two football teams on small downers try to rejuvinate their forces when they clash at College of Marin tonight at 8 o'clock.

Redwood, riding a two-game losing streak but reasonably healthy, and Drake, tagged with its first Marin County Athletic League loss last week by Terra Linda, collide in a Tamalpais District rivalry.

Despite the 20-0 loss to the Trojans, the Pirates will change very little against Redwood. Which means they'll throw a pack of backs and some hopefully good throwing by quarterback Ed Harrington against the Giants, mixed in with what is statistically the best defense in the league. Only this time they're hoping it will run smoother.

AT HELM

The Giants, with quarterback Jim Peters at the helm and fullback Pete Richter in the starting lineup, could present problems. At 0-2 in the league, they have little to lose except pride.

The Pirates can't afford another loss if they hope to repeat as co-champions or any kind of champions. Out for the Giants this week is top scorer George Adams and tackle Phil Simpson.

"Richter is the back I most fear in the league," Pirate coach Bob Franceschini said. "They're big, and they're strong and they may be due. But we're not down after last week. We were just beaten, and that was that."

"We're ready to explode," Redwood coach Bob Franceschini said. "They're big, and they're strong and they may be due. But we're not down after last week. We were just beaten, and that was that."

Terra Linda Tests Tam's Explosiveness Tomorrow

It will be an ancient, traditional football struggle — explosive offense, big line against ice-solid defense and quick, hard-hitting linemen.

It will be Terra Linda High School against Tamalpais and you get only one guess which is which. Tomorrow at College of Marin at 1:30 p.m.

Quite surprisingly, after a season in which they lost all their league games, the Indians (1-1) find themselves right in the middle of a football race. And a loss tomorrow would put them right out of it again.

The Indians will throw an impressive and varied offensive challenge against the Trojans, the likes of which they haven't faced since their 21-21 tie with South San Francisco.

LEAGUE LEADER

Tam quarterback Don Mackin is probably the best in the league at his position. He performs well under pressures, can throw crossfield, long and short, in the pocket or on the run. He leads the league in every department and has thrown for nine touchdown passes. And he can run, as witness his 80-yard run from scrimmage that iced Tam's victory over Redwood last week.

The running attack centers around Luther (one-step-he's-gone) Brown, a 9.9 runner with beautiful moves, and Dave Hector, a shifty, solid fullback.

The big question for the Indians will be their line, which will have to hold up to protect Mackin. It's certainly big enough with 255-pound Verdean Herbel at tackle for starters.

"They haven't got that many outstanding individuals," he said. "But they work real well together as a team. If they have a weakness, it's hard to exploit or find."

The Trojans, after an uneven start, seem to have found themselves in their old shutout fashions, winning their last two starts via the shutout route, staying mostly on the ground and reverting to the championship style of last year. It's a style that's been very successful in two and one half years, resulting in a 19-3-1 record so far.

The defense is probably the best in the league with hardly any real stickouts, except possibly for tackle Carl Hicks and linebakcer John Dohn. But they will have to get to the Indians quick and early.

"Mommy! The clock in your bedroom is ringing! Should I answer it?"

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Oct. 25, the 299th day of 1968 with 67 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1854, in the famed "Charge of the Light Brigade," 670 members of the British Cavalry, fighting in the Crimean War, attacked a heavily fortified Russian artillery post and were wiped out.

In 1936, the fascist governments of Germany and Italy formed the "Rome-Berlin" axis.

In 1963, the government of the Dominican Republic was toppled in a bloodless coup.

In 1966, 33 men were killed when fire broke out aboard the American carrier Oriskany off Vietnam.

A thought for the day—American author Ridgley Torrence once said: "God gave them youth, God gave them love, and even God can give no more."

EAST'S TRICKS

East took the first two tricks with the queen and ace of hearts and continued with the king of hearts. South ruffed with the king of spades, and West threw two low clubs on the second and third hearts.

South drew two trumps, and West discarded the deuce of diamonds, South came to the obvious conclusion: West, with 11 cards in the minor suits, had discarded first from his longer suit. Therefore West had started with six clubs and five diamonds.

Preparing for a possible squeeze of West, South led a diamond. East refused the first diamond but took the next diamond and then led a third diamond to remove any possible threat in that suit.

COMPLETE COUNT

By this time South had a complete count on East's hand. East had started with six hearts since West had been unble to follow suit to the second heart; East had precisely three spades, since West had started with only one; East held either three or four diamonds. This left room for only one club at most in the East hand.

RUFFS ROUND

South ruffed the third round of diamonds in the dummy and drew the last trump. Then he led the ace of clubs, hoping that East could follow suite with the ten or the queen.

As it happened, East followed with the ten of clubs, which South knew to be a singleton. South could then lead the jack of clubs for a marked finesse making his game contract.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

The hand is not quite worth an opening bid (although some experts would bid one spade bcause they like to open light). The jack of hearts is not really worth counting (although it is better than a deuce). If you had A-Q-6 of clubs and two smaller hearts, your point count would be the same but you would open the bidding with one spade rather than pass.

Book, Popcorn Sent

NEW YORK (UPI)—Herbert Kastle, author of a new novel about Hollywood, "The Movie Maker," sent copies of the book to friends, along with a bag of popcorn. The book's action centers around the production of an epic film.

Marin's Construction Rises In September

Marin County construction activity continued to gain in September, according to the Marin County Chamber of Commerce, with the total value of building permits issued reaching $5,298,715.

The figure represented only a 3.6 per cent increase over August permits, but showed a gain of 14.8 per cent when compared with September of last year. For the nine months of 1968, total permits of $41,369,583 were 22.9 per cent over the corresponding period of 1967.

Biggest September gains over August were shown in commercial construction ($1,318,865 against $764,487). Residential construction ($3,376,406) and miscellaneous permits including those for public buildings ($604,444) were down slightly from August figures.

More than one-third of residential construction value was in the San Rafael incorporated and adjoining incorporated areas to the north ($1,333,294). Novato incorporated and unincorporated areas provided $847,800; Larkspur, Greenbrae and Kentfield $525,124; Tiburon $499,300; Mill Valley $373,000; Sausalito $75,000; Ross $45,000; and West Marin $88,800. All residential construction except for $742,629 was for single family homes.

Principal commercial construction was in San Rafael: $926,250. Corte Madera had $150,000 and San Anselmo $126,900. Novato figures totaled $53,100. Larkspur $36,000. Sausalito $1,815. Tiburon $1,100 and unincorporated Mill Valley $200. West Marin had $23,500 in commercial construction.

Market Shuts Higher After Active Trading

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed higher today. Trading was active.

The final level was the best of the day as a spurt of buying followed rumors of a possible move toward Vietnam peace over the weekend. The rumors, though nebulous, were enough to persuade many to be "long" on the market rather than "short," as a precaution.

Early softness in blue chips was gradually overcome as selective buying, buoyed by new hopes that over the weekend some positive peace news might develop, got under way.

Phelps Dodge, whose shareholders approved a 2-for-1 stock split, advanced about 2½. The company also raised its dividend.

Higher third-quarter earnings boosted sentiment.

Gains of a point or so were made by Swift, Uniroyal, Commonwealth Edison, Du Pont, Polaroid, Royal Dutch, Standard Oil of California, Standard of Indiana and Texaco.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Multiple Watches

NEW YORK (UPI) — The one-watch man appears to be going the way of the one-car family.

A nationwide market profile of individuals who acquired Accutron electronic timepieces in 1967 discloses that better than three-quarters of them own two or more watches in running order.

THE WEEK IN BUSINESS

Famed Nieman-Marcus To Join With Big Broadway-Hale Chain

An agreement has been reached between Broadway-Hale Stores, Inc., of Los Angeles and Neiman-Marcus Co. of Dallas to join forces.

Under the agreement, Neiman-Marcus would become a wholly-owned subsidiary of Broadway-Hale but would continue to function as a completely separate entity with its present management and its own board of directors.

It is proposed that Neiman-Marcus stockholders receive approximately $50 per share at present market value in a tax-free exchange involving Broadway-Hale securities. Total price on the 784,000 shares of Neiman-Marcus stock would amount to about $39 million.

Broadway-Hale, comprising 46 stores is the West Coast's largest department store operation and owns a majority interest in the Emporium Capwell Co. Neiman-Marcus operates high-fashion specialty stores in Dallas, Fort Worth and Houston.

FORD MOTOR CO. consolidated net income for the third quarter was $72.1 million or 66 cents a share — compared with a consolidated loss of $73.9 million or 68 cents a share for the 1967 period. Consolidated net income in the first nine months was 462.6 million or $4.23 a share, compared with last year's $193.2 million or $1.67 a share.

CARPENTER OFFUTT PAPER, INC. is the new name resulting from the recent merger in which Commericial Paper Co., San Francisco acquired the assets, inventory and receivables of Wilson-Rich Paper Co., formerly a division of Potlatch Forests, Inc.

PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC CO. operating revenues reached $241.5 million for the third quarter of 1968 — 7.7 per cent above last year. Earnings per share of common stock were 62 cents, compared to last year's 60 cents. Revenue for the 12 months ended in September reached $978.6 million, up from $942.4 million a year ago.

TELEDYNE, INC., Los Angeles and Trinity Universal Insurance Co., Dallas, Tex., have agreed in principle on Teledyne acquiring Trinity in exchange of Teledyne convertible preferred stock for Trinity Universal common. Teledyne manufactures electronic products. Trinity Universal specializes in property and casualty insurance.

PACIFIC SOUTHWEST AIRLINES is acquiring ValCar Corp. in an exchange of an initial issue of 33,160 shares of PSA's common stock for all of the outstanding stock of ValCar. ValCar is engaged in the automobile rental business and serves all the California cities served by the airline.

GULF OIL CORP. has reported a 9.9-per cent increase in its consolidated net income for the first nine months of 1968. Earnings of $463.6 million compared with those of $421.7 last year and set a new Gulf record for the period. Earning are equal to $2.23 a share, based on a two-for-one stock split in September. Comparable earnings for the 1967 period were $2.03 a share. Gulf directors have declared a quarterly dividend of 37.5 cents per share payable Dec. 10.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I bought several stocks to increase my capital but as yet no luck. Are these worth holding: Cities Service costing 45; American Hospital Supply, 35; Consolidated Natural Gas, Campbell Soup and Del Monte, each 28½? — A.S.

A. All are worth holding. You've started a growth portfolio at attractive purchase levels.

Cons. Natural Gas may remain slow because its high yield — over 6 per cent — is incompatible with the growth you want. There's potential here from offshore gas developments (Louisiana) but earnings reflect government regulation of gas rates.

Cities Service should benefit from a moderate stake in the Arctic Slope oil fields, a somewhat larger interest in California offshore drilling and diversification into chemicals.

Am. Hospital Supply has been temporarily slowed down marketwise by an increase of 1.8 million common shares from a secondary offering to finance new construction and retire bank loans.

Del Monte and Campbell Soup have been contending with higher prices for fruits and vegetables but each is gaining in its effort to counteract rising costs by improved operating efficiencies.

Q. Now 80 years old, I'm living in a residence club costing $300 a month. My $160 pension must be supplemented by regular withdrawals from $20,000 in a savings and loan institution. I want to leave something to a kind relative. How can I stretch what little I have? — M.M.

A. Are you sure your living arrangements are the most economical available to you? If you can't cut this expense, you should temper your thinking about an inheritance for your relative. Your needs take priority.

Some long-term bonds yield 6.5 per cent, but this return would not fill the gap. My final suggestion is a refund annuity. The guaranteed return would be higher than from any other safe investment because it includes part of your principal. Any unused portion would be paid to your beneficiary. I'd leave $5,000 available for emergency and consult an insurance salesman about the guaranteed return from a $15,000 contract.

Incumbent Congressmen Both Deserve Re-Election

Reapportionment last year placed most of the county in the Sixth District, represented by Republican William S. Mailliard of San Francisco. Mailliard is now seeking re-election, and opposing him is Democrat Philip H. Drath of San Rafael, who lost his party's nomination to Thomas T. Storer in the old First Congressional District two years ago.

RESIDENTS of West Marin, North Marin and South Sonoma are still in the First District; and they also have one familiar candidate: the incumbent, Republican Donald H. Clausen of Crescent City.

There appears little doubt of the outcome in either district. The incumbents look like shoo-ins, though Drath may give Mailliard a better run for his money in the Sixth District than Graham is likely to give Clausen in the First.

This is, we think, as it should be.

MAILLIARD HAS performed creditably for his district during 16 years in the House of Representatives. His greatest interest is in the merchant marine — which has at least peripheral bearing on Marin County. He also serves on the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Mailliard (who, incidentally, was born in Marin County) has mostly gone along with the administration in his votes on Vietnam — but not entirely happily. He describes it as "a very unpleasant situation which we probably should never have gotten into."

This is rather typical of Mailliard's moderate approach to most issues. He reserves his strong words of condemnation for administration spending programs, which he feels have dissipated the nation's wealth to little purpose.

Drath is thoroughly dedicated to peace — a dedication with which we certainly cannot quarrel. This has carried him, however, to some extremes in willingness to concede almost anything to North Vietnam to get the war over.

In his current campaign, Drath has made extreme statements also on other issues, seeming to follow more and more the highly questionable line of the "New Left."

CONGRESSMAN CLAUSEN has been Marin and Sonoma's representative since he won a special election following the tragic death of Rep. Clem Miller.

He has concentrated his attention principally on local matters of benefit to his district — Point Reyes National Seashore, Redwoods National Park, the Tiburon Oceanographic Research Center, etc.

He, also, has gone along with the administration on Vietnam — to a point that causes his opponent, Graham, to label him a "superhawk."

Just what Graham stands for is hard to determine. His campaign has consisted principally of attacks on Clausen. He wants a negotiated peace in Vietnam — but Clausen has said he does, too.

Mailliard and Clausen both have the experience. Neither has been a "rascal" who should therefore be turned out. The Independent-Journal endorses both for re-election.

The Most Important Factor

Assuming that Marinites wish to continue to live in a county where nature is at their doorstep, amid a multitude of wild animals and birds, it might be well for them to remind themselves from time to time why we are so blessed with wildlife. Then we can take the necessary steps to insure that the situation continues.

Habitat is the most important factor in maintaining a wild animal population. This means that adequate cover in the form of rarely disturbed bushes, shrubs and trees must remain, that fields where grasses grow waist high in the spring must be permitted to remain to provide nests for many wild creatures. The bushes, trees and grasses provide a basis of food and a breeding ground for the wildlife.

Marin may become much more densely populated by humans, but this need not squeeze out the birds and other animals.

Santa Cruz Incident May Bring Change In University Control

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The display of bad manners, heckling, and actual physical assault displayed by a group of students and professors at the University of California regents meeting in Santa Cruz recently is virtually certain to result in strong repercussions when the state Legislature meets next January.

Already there have been indications that a drive will be made in the Legislature for a new constitutional amendment for submission to the people in 1970. Although this proposed amendment has not as yet taken concrete form, it is assumed its purpose will be to revise completely the structure for government of the university. Under the present structure, it is a law unto itself, with the board of regents answerable to no one.

GOV. RONALD REAGAN has added his voice to the growing concern over the disturbances, declaring:

"The people have not turned this institution over to the faculty to rule by insubordination, or the administrators to rule through appeasement and capitulation, or to the students to rule by coercion.

"The regents show disdain and deliberate unconcern for the interests of the people, some through timidity, some with an apparent lack of understanding of the urgent nature of the university's problems, and by some who clearly feel accountable to no one at all.

"Our very cultural values of good taste, fair play, freedom to speak, and academic freedom are being distorted, turned upside down, and even destroyed."

IT IS REASONABLY clear that the cancerous growth of dissonance won't be halted as long as administrators temporize with the problem and apply minor slaps on the wrist instead of positive action.

Consequently, many legislators feel that the time for a change is overdue.

It would appear that the time is long-past due when the university administration should say to the handful of dissidents that if they want to remain in the institution and acquire an education, they are welcome if they obey the rules of society, and if not, they can get out and stay out. Such action would redound to the benefit of the vast majority of students who attend the university for the purpose of acquiring an education, and also make a lot of taxpayers happy.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Storer Record On Tax Saving

I think the following comments need to be made about your editorial of Oct. 14 regarding Supervisor Tom Storer, who is up for re-election:

1. Marin County's budget is up just 5.5 per cent over last year, whereas the San Rafael city budget, about which Storer's opponent has had something to say, jumped 9.6 per cent.

2. You failed to mention that Storer was instrumental in getting his fellow supervisors to make a formal pledge to freeze the county's tax rate at this year's budget hearings. They did this, and stuck to it, because of constant pressure from Storer.

3. The county planning department budget, which you cited, is just about the only one where Storer did not wield an axe. This was because of the large cut proposed by Supervisor (John F.) McInnis would have saved an owner of a $30,000 home in Marin precisely $1.58 a year. Storer believes that Marin residents want good planning and are willing to pay $1.58 a year for it. This belief is one of Storer's value judgments which most Marinites share.

MICHAEL R. PEEVEY
San Rafael

(Editor's note: Reader Peevey does not give the source of his figures on budget increases. Official figures prepared by County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell show the Marin County budget for the current fiscal year is 6.6 per cent above last year's. Figures prepared by City Finance Director James H. McCown show the San Rafael budget is up 10 per cent over last year's. As to tax rates, the county reduced its tax rate this year by 3 cents; the City of San Rafael reduced its rate by 4 cents.)

Conservation League Role Questioned

Would the Marin Conservation League please explain why they bypassed the Nowell plan meetings and hearings on Richardson Bay, held before the Marin Planning Commission and the Board of Supervisors, only to send Mary Summers, former Marin County planning director, to shoot down the plan when it came before the Bay Conservation and Development Commission?

What was the Conservation League's purpose in allowing busy county officials to devote months of careful consideration to the Nowell plan and give it their blessing, if the conservationists were opposed to it? Why didn't they register their protest promptly, where it should have been registered — before our planning commission and the supervisors?

Many columns of newspaper space in your paper and other Marin publications have been given to the Nowell Richardson Bay Plan and certainly the Conservation League knew what was going on. . . .

To what extent do the conservationists believe they represent the thinking of the general public of Marin County? It would be interesting in these days of poll taking to learn the reaction of Marin voters. . . .

It is my understanding that this Nowell development will be carefully controlled by Marin County authorities; will clean up Richardson Bay; will help create deep water in the bay and will add materially to our assessment rolls with resultant tax benefits to all of Marin.

Basically the choice belongs with the residents of Marin, but individual property rights must be respected. Thus Richardson Bay becomes an issue of money. Do the taxpayers assume the burden of buying it and take it off the tax rolls, or do we encourage the owner-developers to do an outstanding job and profit along with them?

Motorcycle School Not As Expected

I recently had the misfortune of attending a motorcycle training school conducted by the Marin County Motorcycle Association. I say misfortune because it was not at all which I had been told to expect. I expected to see slovenly disheveled people, the kind we all hear about, but in actuality there were doctors, lawyers, dentists, people from normal walks of life; people like you and I. I expected to see long hair streaming over black leather jackets. I could find no long hair and found leather jackets are clothing recommended as protection against the elements and not necessarily a symbol of hostility. I fully expected to be charged an exorbitant fee so they might be better able to finance their often read about orgies and beer busts but there was no charge and I found they held wiener bakes and chicken fries as club outings. Now I ask you, what's left if you go to a motorcycle meeting and don't see what you are told to expect? I guess what's left are the few renegade and outcast clubs such as the Hell's Angels and rather infamous Grim Reapers who seem to receive all the publicity.

I was appalled to find the association members were dedicated people contributing their time and machines to further what I found is a clean, stimulating sport both on the highway and in the field. . . .

I feel these people are a fine credit to society and that their efforts should receive general recognition.

REMEMBER WHEN?

Marin County's lawsuit to abate the alleged nuisance at the property of Justice Jesse W. Carter in Sleepy Hollow was dismissed after four engineers testified Carter's dam did not constitute a hazard to life or property.

Nine police cars converged at the College of Marin football stadium to quell rioting which ended the Drake High-Napa High football game five minutes ahead of schedule.

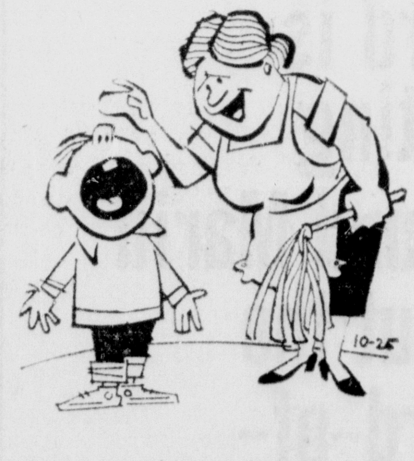
In a straw ballot vote of high school students in Marin, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York garnered 29 per cent more votes than President Harry Truman for the presidency.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A RUGGED LITTLE light weight pugilist was asked if his parents had a hand in toughening him up when he was a youngster. "Did they ever!" chuckled the pugilist. "My ma used to whomp me with a cat-o'-nine-tails till I hollered for mercy. Then she'd pat me on the head and say sweetly, 'Now just you wait till your pappy gets home!' "



H. Allen Smith recalls the time a reform mayor of Gotham initiated a big clean-up campaign. One of his stints was to set up a special trash can in Times Square and wire it for sound. A small transmitter-receiver was hidden in the can, with an operator with a mike stationed in a window over-looking the square.

Several intrigued reporters were watching when a lady threw an old newspaper on the sidewalk. The trash can admonished her, "That's not the way to keep New York clean, lady. What's your name?" The lady shot one startled look at the can, then snapped, "I don't talk to trash cans" — and strode away.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Nixon Campaign Rolls Smoothly —But Is It Going Anywhere?

CAMPAIGNING WITH NIXON IN NEW YORK — Richard Nixon's campaign is a marvel of perfection. It is organized down to the last Nixonette, the last round of cheering and applause, the last press release put out precisely on schedule.

That may, in fact, be its greatest weakness. The apparatus is so large, so impressive, so costly that the man himself tends to be obscured by the machine. Seeing him plain is like peeling away the leaves of an artichoke to be rewarded at long last by the small, tender heart.

It is a lengthy process and whether the voter will pursue it in these last two weeks of the contest is an unanswered question on which a lot turns.

IN THE CURRENT jargon, Nixon may have peaked. That is to say he has gone on for so long cautiously treasuring his large lead over a rival whose campaign has been diffuse, confused and uncertain that almost everybody has had enough of the balancing act. And it is too late for an abrupt change of pace and style.

But, granted a still-substantial Nixon lead, to one observer this does not seem to be the Nixon problem. Even more than the polls show, it appears at this point, voters are undecided. You hear people saying, "I don't really like either one of them." Whether they will vote for Nixon or Hubert Humphrey or stay home on election day, this last push will determine.

FOR THE NIXON managers the most sensitive point is that the candidate is saying nothing or next to nothing on the issues. In refutation they have put out a book of 194 printed pages carefully indexed and collated, a triumph of organization such as the Humphrey campaign could not dream of achieving. This encyclopaedic volume covers nearly 300 issues or sub-issues on which Nixon has spoken, beginning with the announcement of his candidacy in February in New Hampshire.

He has said a great deal. He has made sweeping promises. The word transform recurs again and again in this campaign bible. He is for building up America's missile power in order to negotiate from strength with the Soviet Union; for a bigger nuclear navy; for an anti-ballistic missile system; for educational programs such as Head Start and Follow Through, expanded if that seems wise; for Social Security benefits geared to go up with rising prices; for educational development and vocational training for the urban and the rural poor.

But with all this, as he says over and over in what has inevitably become "the speech," he is for lower taxes. In relation to the incredibly difficult tasks the next President faces it could be that he has said too much rather than too little. Expectations among his followers will be raised too high as he flies over the mountain peaks of trouble, putting the blame, in the oldest campaign tradition, on the party in power.

FOR A REPUBLICAN who expects to be President there is a terrible object lession in this great, groaning city. A Republican mayor, John V. Lindsay, televising like a dream, bright with promise for the future, is being destroyed by circumstances that seem entirely beyond his control. A witch's brew of racial hatred has come out of the issue of control of the school system and a third strike by the teachers' union has closed down the schools with no end in sight.

A police slowdown in a dispute over wages puts the rudiments of law and order — merely keeping the clogged streets partially open — in jeopardy. The taxing power divided between the state and the city is stretched almost to the point of diminishing returns. A Republican governor, Nelson Rockefeller, having brought down a torrent of abuse on his head when he intervened to avert disaster in the garbage strike last winter, is silent.

IT WAS IN New York that Nixon made his education speech. He advocated returning control over federal aid to state and local governments through bloc grants. Understandably he did not involve himself in the morass threatening to engulf Lindsay. That would be asking too much of any candidate.

Yet in the face of the ordeal of New York the simple formula of local control, with one a glancing reference to alienation and tension in city school systems, seemed hardly adequate. It is a formula that has little relevance to what threatens in America's largest city — not merely a breakdown in the school system but, as Lindsay fears when he expresses in private his black pessimism, street fighting growing out of the hatreds boiling up around the school conflict.

The object lesson is, above all, in what this crisis suggests about how — and by whom —the United States can be governed in the years ahead. It suggests that a little humility from both candidates might be in order.

Local Polls Of Interest As Campaign Nears End

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Local polls in some areas show Vice President Humphrey beginning to move up in the presidential race, but they continue to show GOP candidate Richard Nixon with a commanding lead.

Sponsors of local polls and surveys are the first to stress that they produce "raw" statistics from random sampling of voters which may lack the sophistication of the professional polls. Generally speaking, however, the local polls do collect a much larger number of votes.

SCRANTON, PA. — Since late September Humphrey has been moving up in the telephone poll conducted for the Scranton Sunday Times by a market research firm. Last Sunday's results, showed Nixon with 47 per cent of the vote and Humphrey with 40 per cent.

Over the seven week period of the Scranton poll, Nixon has been getting a little more than 58 per cent of the vote. Humphrey has averaged a little less than 35 per cent, and the Wallace overall vote has averaged about 3 per cent.

One of the surprises in last week's results was that the undecide vote, which has averaged only 4 per cent over seven weeks, jumped to 11 per cent.

YPSILANTI, MICH. — Following up on its survey of local political leaders, which showed Wallace as a "formidable" candidate just before the campaign's mid-point, the Ypsilanti Press has been interviewing voters in its own poll. The paper has also been asking readers to mail in a printed preference ballot.

In mid-October the paper's personal polling, conducted at a different location each day and at a different time, showed Humphrey almost even with Wallace, who had run second to Nixon in the early interviewing. Nixon continued to lead comfortably with not quite 45 per cent of the voters interviewed.

In the newspaper's mail poll, however, Wallace was the leader, with a large lead over Nixon and Humphrey in that order.

Problem For Bay Watchdogs: In What Sense Is Fill For Birds?

The Mill Valley City Council's discussion Monday of the Nowell plan for 17 acres of fill and development in Richardson Bay again points out the complexity and confusion inherent in the Saucelito Canal dredging project.

The deep water channel, which will run from south of Waldo Point to Mill Valley's small craft harbor in the Project 17 marshlands, is vital to the development of upper Richardson Bay as a yachting area. Mill Valley's two proposed yacht harbors as well as those of the Bothin development and the Shelter Bay apartments are dependent on the dredging of the canal.

Involved in the project are the city, the adjacent property owners, the county, the state (indirectly), the Army Corps of Engineers and the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, among others. Assorted developers and conservationists have also become entangled, mainly by way of the various schemes proposed to dispose of the more than 700,000 cubic yards of bay mud which will be dredged up to create the channel.

THE NEED for fill areas is desperate. If the Saucelito Canal Assessment District cannot find adequate areas within the bay perimeter for the dredging spoils the whole project may go down the drain.

The crucial point is cost. The Army Engineers estimated project cost at $1 million (to be shared by the corps and the assessment district) will be doubled at least if the spoils have to be barged out to sea as suggested by BCDC.

Thus the sudden popularity of the Nowell plan with both the city and the county. It will provide 17 acres for fill, which will accommodate some 70,000 cubic yards of mud. Another 100,000 cubic yards is to be placed on the Bothin property in Richardson Bay, started before the BCDC fill moratorium, and another 100,000 cubic yards at Alcatraz, a BCDC-approved fill area.

ANOTHER PROPOSAL, much less talked about but one that reappears periodically, is the creation of a 35-acre bird island in Richardson Bay on the west side of the Strawberry Peninsula.

The island, which would barely protrude above the water level at high tide, thus creating a sort of marsh area, could accommodate 500,000 cubic yards of spoils.

The proposal was first dreamed up several years ago by the county and has been well publicized. Apparently Marin conservationist weren't listening, however, because only a few weeks ago a mention of the island sent the Mill Valley unit of the Marin Conservation League into a tizzy.

Conservationists, including the National Audubon Society which runs the Richardson Bay wildlife sanctuary, are opposed because the island would set a precedent for further filling of the bay.

It is generally assumed that BCDC is also opposed, although the organization has been careful not to take a stance on the island until it is formally presented as part of the county's Richardson Bay master plan.

ANOTHER VIEW of the island comes from Robert W. Lassen, wild life management supervisor for the state Department of Fish and Game.

Lassen would like to see the island created as a noble experiment in providing new habitats for migrating and local birds. He says it is a great chance to see if such a scheme would really work because, if it does, it might be the answer to the continuing destruction by developers of bird nesting and feeding areas around the bay.

It's an interesting dilemma: The channel will provide the long-sought recreational use of the bay and its shoreline, but in doing so it also may fill a portion of the bay. Will the bird island be merely more bay fill or bay fill for a conservation purpose?

But as another county official involved said: Lassen is a bird man; we have yet to hear from the fish men. The channel fill battle will be a long one, folks.

ART BUCHWALD

Pseudo Campaign Sends Forgotten Man Into Spiral Over Spiro

WASHINGTON — As part of his hard-hitting campaign, Republican vice presidential candidate Spiro Agnew has been attacking the pseudo-intellectuals in the United States and blaming them for most of the country's woes.

This has caused a great deal of bitterness among America's pseudo-intellectuals, and it's possible that Agnew's strategy might backfire on him.

Mr. Hillary Hazeltine, president of the Pseudo-Intellectual Antidefamation League, held a press conference last week where he defended the role of pseudo-intellectuals in the United States and warned that if Governor Agnew continued his attacks, he would lose millions of votes.

"WHILE PSEUDO-intellectuals do not usually vote as a bloc," Hazeltine said, "they are very sensitive to criticsim and certainly would not vote for a man who treats them with so much contempt."

Asked how large the pseudo-intellectual vote was in the United States, Hazeltine replied, "It's hard to say, but we're the ones who subscribe to Time magazine, belong to the Book of the Month Club and watch Leonard Bernstein on television.

"We drive Volkswagens and go to foreign films and buy bullfight posters and, sometimes, drink wine with our meals. Agnew is crazy to mess with us."

"Why would he?"

"He probably doesn't even know what a pseudo-intellectual is. We attend filmed lectures on Tahiti and buy tickets to Edward Albee plays and write letters to the editor of our local newspaper and never miss a PTA meeting and listen to records by Henry Mancini."

Hazeltine contined, "I don't know who Agnew thought he was attacking, but he's stepped on the toes of everyone in this country who quotes David Susskind, who owns a hi-fi stereo record machine and plays contract bridge on Thursdays. We may not watch Ed Sullivan but we do watch the Smothers Brothers and Laugh-In, and whenever Marlene Dietrich sings, we buy the house out."

"THEN WHAT you're saying, Mr. Hazeltine," a reporter said, "is that Governor Agnew unknowingly has made fun of the same people that Richard Nixon is appealing to."

"Exactly. We're the forgotten Americans that Nixon is always talking about. We pay our taxes. We work for our money. We don't get involved in crime. The only thing we're trying to do is improve our minds. We might have gone for Nixon if Agnew hadn't given us all that jazz."

"Why do you think he did it?"

"He probably got all mixed up. What he wanted to do was attack the intellectuals, but he was afraid to do it, so he picked on the pseudo-intellectuals instead. If he had attacked the intellectuals in the United States, he might have lost 53 votes. But when he went after the pseudo-intellectuals, he took on about 10 or 15 million Americans."

"WHAT DOES the Pseudo-Intellectual Antidefamation League plan to do about it?"

"We're going to be fair about it and give Agnew a chance to retract what he said about us."

"Do you think he'll do it?"

"Why not? He's retracted practically everything else he's said."

"And if he doesn't?"

"Then we shall notify our membership through the New Yorker, Atlantic Monthly, Harper's and Playboy that Spiro Agnew is an antipseudo-intellectual and we will warn them that a vote for Agnew is a vote for Lawrence Welk. We'll let our members take it from there."

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Is Supervisor's Pay Justified If Hired Help Makes Decisions?

Fusselman

The gremlins were at it again last Friday. They jumped the Halloween date and put the heading for this column (Discussion of Transportation Problem Started Long Ago) on the Art Buchwald column and the heading for his on mine. Then they put two lines in twice—once where they didn't belong. There is no explaining the gremlins. They're just a pain.

I have been filing a stack of clippings this afternoon (Wednesday); some news stories and some I-J editorials. One story related the recommendation of the Marin County Grand Jury to raise the supervisors from $9,600 a year to $10,800, beginning with 1971. This induces considerable contemplation. When I left the board, we had been getting, for four year, $500 a month. The first of January '65 this was increased by $300 to $800. Now, this recommendation to the Legislature, which undoubtedly will be endorsed by this board before submission, means a jump of $400 a month to $1,200.

The total for all five goes like this: for four years—1961 to '65 it was $30,000 per year then 1965 to '69 it is $48,000, and then beginning with 1971 the shell out for the five will be $54,000. Pretty nice, what?

THESE FIGURES would not be out of line, if the board really worked at the job instead of operating in the grand manner, abdicating and permitting the administrator, with his costly layout, to run the county.

All one has to do is to read the weekly agenda for the board meetings, to see plainly who is making policy and who rubber stamps.

Jack Craemer wrote a strong editorial ("The Editor's Notebook") for the Oct. 5 issue. It painted a pretty pat picture of the grand manner which prevails. Here are some excerpts: "Ivory Tower solutions come easy in a place like Marin County supervisors' chambers. The seats are comfortable. Air conditioning insures fresh air at just the right temperature. Accoustical treatment provides a library-like atmosphere conducive to reflecting on profundities. And the Frank Lloyd Wright surroundings lend to reassure you of the absolute certainty of your conclusions

"In these surroundings the answer to the 'welfare problem' is plain. The way to reduce the heavy burden of relief handouts is to spend some of the money training people to become self-sufficient. Presto! Reliefers go to work and get off welfare. The problem is solved.

'You can't say that the elegant and costly surroundings of the supervisors' chambers haven't paid for themselves."

HE SHOWED the shallowness of their thinking, by taking us down to the other end of the hall, where the air conditioning doesn't work so well and the seats aren't so comfortable and get less so as the night wears on while a "task force" tries to see just how the brilliant conclusions of the other end of the hall could be brought into being. The trouble is that the elegant thinking just doesn't groove.

The final budget covering July 1, '68 to June 30, '69 is printed and available. It's a heavy one—weighs over 2.5 pounds. In just a few weeks they will start preparing the one for the '69-'70 fiscal year.

The music goes round and round and it doesn't come out too sweet.

HALLINAN'S CHARGE

Tactical Squad Held A Brutality Vehicle

By ROSS DAVIS

Terence Hallinan, San Francisco attorney injured during a May 21 confrontation with police, yesterday lambasted that city's police tactical squad as a vehicle of brutality rather than enforcer of law.

Speaking before about 70 College of Marin students at the school's weekly Controversy '68 Series, he said San Francisco Police Department's 34-member squad — organized to deal with riots — has abandoned the traditional presumption of innocence until proven guilty.

TRAINING CITED

They are all military veterans, declared he, trained intensively in the arts of judo, karate and baton-wielding. "They ride around looking for an opportunity to use this training," he added. "If they can't find an opportunity, they'll create one."

Hallinan, nicknamed "Kayo" and facing a charge of felony assault on a police officer in the May incident during a sit-in at San Francisco State College, said he knows first-hand about their brutality because he had 16 stitches taken for a head blow from a police weapon.

"Most people in California aren't aware that it is a felony to beat a police officer over the club with your head," he said with a show of humor.

Hallinan, in legal action arising out of the incident, unsuccessfully sought to have San Francisco's Mayor, Joseph Alioto, held in contempt of court recently for calling him a "street hoodlum" and "right-wing extremist."

Hallinan, 31, and formerly of Ross, said San Francisco's error came in permitting a well-functioning police-community relations bureau to be placed under the control of the police department and its precinct captains.

"It went from being the watchdog of the police department to a public relations spokesman" for it, said he.

He said the tendency to form tactical squads using "a military approach as opposed to a law enforcement approach" is spreading across the nation and is already used in Detroit, Chicago, and New York, as well.

The solution to handling riots should be through normal use of police departments and during riot causes such as poverty and discrimination, Hallinan added. "The tactical squad and community-relations approach are opposite," he said, and cannot be compatible.

OTHER CHARGES

He said there have been instances of San Francisco's tactical squad beating women and children without cause, that members have come to regard themselves as opposed to the citizenry. Their procedure, said he, is to pick the first agitator of a gathering, use maximum force in that area, "and, bluntly, beat the hell out of them."

"Who polices the police?", he asked.

Registrar Sees Heavy Turnout

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Approximately 85 per cent of the city's 374,335 voters will turn out to cast votes Nov. 5, according to a new estimate by Registrar of Voters Basil Healey.

"I sense a resurgence of interest, indicated by the large number of persons who have come in to cast absentee ballots or who have written in to request ballots," he said.

Previously Healey had estimated a voter turnout of 83.5 per cent. Yesterday he said the pre-election requests and inquiries for absentee ballots was 50 per cent higher than it was for the June primary.

College Journalism Parley In East Bay

More than 200 journalism students from 24 area colleges will attend the Nor-Cal Conference of the Journalism Association of Junior Colleges tomorrow at the San Pablo campus of Contra Costa College.

Cartoonist Charles Schulz of Sebastopol, creator of "Peanuts," will address the students. The program also will consist of discussions and contests. Bryce W. Anderson, executive city editor of the Independent-Journal, will be one of the Bay Area newsmen serving as a contest judge.
